A series of experiments with Nordenfelt guns against ten picked men armed with the Martini rifles were lately carried out at the Armstrong Butts, Bangalore. Two Nordenfelts were used—one ten-tube and one five-tube. The distances were from 300 to 800 yards. The men fired volleys against one discharge of the gun. The total hits were:—men, 70; guns 67.

The crypt in the Church of St. Laurens, at Rome, in which lie the mortal remains of Pius IX. is soon to be opened. The mausoleum is of magnificent appearance, the most precious marble having been used in its construction. There are some splendid mosaics, and three bassirelievi represent the memorable acts of the Pope, including the Æcumenical Council in which he promulgated the doctrine of infallibility.

IT IS GENERALLY ADMITTED THAT THERE cannot be anything more exquisitely delicate for perfuming the handkerchief than MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER; but its great distinctive property is its adaptability to the uses of the bath. It is the only perfume that we know of especially and particularly suited to use in this way. The power it has of imparting to the waters of the bath great soothing, refreshing, and invigorating effects, is peculiar to itself.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes: I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to ulcers, causing entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in ten minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflammation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, cuts and bruises, etc., in fact it is our family medicine.

At the recent manœuvers of the German fleet the enormous quantity of powder burnt caused both ships and fortifications to be again and again so completely veiled in smoke that the gunners had nothing to guide them in aiming but the flashes of the enemy's guns. For the ships this circumstance greatly enhanses the danger of mutual collisions, and still more of surprisal by torpedo boats. One great lesson taught by these manœuvres is the necessity of inventing smokeless gunpowder.

The Kingclear Exhibition

The Annual Exhibition of the Kingsclear Agricultural Society, was held on the grounds of the Society at Central Kingsclear on Wednesday, the 15th inst. The Fair attracted a very large gathering of people, not only from all parts of the Parish, but from the surrounding Parishes and from the city. Among others present might be named, Thomas Temple, M. P., Geo. J. Colter, M. P. P., Julius L Inches, President of the Society, J. J. Weddall, C. A. Sampson, F. B Edgecombe, G. H. Davis, J. W. McCready, James W. Jewett, John McKeen, Thos. H. Colter. The exhibitors began to arrive early, and by ten o'clock nearly everything in the exhibition building and show yards was arranged. The stock departments were not quite up to average exhibit, from the fact could not be got from the Islands, that a number of neat cattle entered What stock was there, however, showed that among the farmers of Kingsclear, there were not a few who took pride in stock raising. This is true, especially of the stock shown by the Murray Brothers on the proposed new Stock Farm. They showed some excellent spring calves, some fine young colts and heifers and steers; but most of their older stock which was on the Island could not be got off for the show. The exhibit in roots and grain was excellent, and acceded by all to be the best department in the exhibition. The potatoes, turnips, carrots, mangle wourtzels were all very fine. The work of the ladies was also much admired. Without their department the show would be wanting of its chief attraction. The butter and cheese looked exceedingly tempting, while the knitting and fancy table, were on a par with a city bazaar. A large quantity of homespun cloth, of an excellent quality, were on the tables and gave the judges no little difficulty in determining the prize winners.

THE DINNER.

The Society's dinner was given at the residence of John A. Campbell, Esq. Here the members of the society, the judges and guests, partook in abundance of the good things provided for them by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, about eighty persons had dinner. In the afternoon, "Bozarro" with his medicine chest arrived, and began his tricks directly in front of the exhibition building. He was soon invited to retire, and afterwards took up his stand in a wagon by the road side. In his train came a wheel of fortune, and some other swindles followed by a number of roughs in ballast. Some of these soon succeeded in getting into a row, but they were left alone and did no damage but to themselves.

Much might be written of the exhibits produced by the different competitors, but the prize list which will be found below, will perhaps furnish sufficient information to all interested readers. The Judges in the different departments were as follows:

Annual Exhibition of the Queen's Central Society.

The annual exhibition of the Queens Central Agricultural Society, was held at Upper Hampstead, Queens County, on the 14th inst. On account of the threatening weather the attendance was not large, and a good deal of stock that had been entered by parties from the opposite of the river could not be brought over for exhibition on account of the high winds that prevailed throughout the day. There were 22 exhibitors and about 400 entries. The show of horses was better than on any previons occasion; of cattle, sheep and swine, though creditable, was hardly such as might have been expected in a section of the country where so much attention has been given to their breeding.

Of wheat and rye, there were no exhibits, the season's crops as yet being unthrashed. The show of grains, vegetables, fruits and domestic manufactures, though small, was of a high character. About 300 people, mostly residents of the county, were in attendance.

THE JUDGES WERE:

Stock—Stephen Hamm, J. McDonald Belyea.

Of agriculturel produce, the products of the dairy and domestic manufactures—R. D. Akerly, Thos. Allingham, Fred McDonald, John Holder.

The awards of the judges were entirely satisfactory to the exhibitors.
