The Edmundston branch of the New Brunswick Railway, having been rendered impassable by recent storms, is closed for the winter.

There is to be a social, musical, and literary entertainment, in connexion with the Methodist Church, at Mr. John Edgecombe's tomorrow evening.

A little child of Mr. James Hayes, Jr., of St. Mary's, stepped its bare foot upon a rusty tack the other day and died in two hours afterwards from lock-jaw.

Mr. J. A. Vanwart is to move in the Supreme Court for a new trial in the case of Rev. S. E. Currie vs. Israel Stairs, in which the plaintiff got a verdict.

Judge and Mrs. Fraser, were among the passengers on the snow bound train near Rusagornish, Monday night. They were compelled to remain on board the car all night.

Messrs. Harry Beckwith and Harry Braithwaite, who returned the other day from a hunting trip in the wilderness of Miramichi, were successful in capturing one moose and two caribou.

The latest news from the Soudan, are given in detail elsewhere. The British forces are now concentrating around Metemneh, which is strongly garrisoned by the rebels. Its fall will possibly be the next important event of the campaign.

PHOSPHORIZED EMULSION is particularly adapted to DELICATE FEMALES in those low states of the system that manifest themselves in so many of the ailments peculiar to their sex. Always ask for PHOSPHORIZED Emulsion, and be sure you get it.

The Curlers are making preparation for their annual ball to be held in the Court House on Thursday evening, the 12th inst. The ball room will be superbly decorated for the occasion, which will doubtless be as successful as former events of the kind.

The I. O. G. T. Dramatic Club of this city, are to give an entertainment in the City Hall in about ten days. They are preparing an attractive programme, and having the reputation of being the best amateur combination appearing in Fredericton, the company may confidently count upon the liberal patronage of the public.

The Intelligencer says that Rev. J. Gunter is quite sick. Beginning with a severe cold, it has developed into jaundice. He has suffered much, and is greatly reduced. The many who know him—and being one of the oldest ministers of the denomination, he is widely known—will regret his illness, and make prayer for his recovery.

A Holiness Convention will be held in Fredericton, commencing on Tuesday the 17th inst., and will continue at least, three days. It is expected the Revs. Joshua Gill, H. N. Brown, G. A. McLaughlin J. N. Short, and Deacon Geo. M. Morse, Cotton Manufacturer, from the United States will attend, and Revs. G. N. Ballentine, W. B. Wiggins Aaron Hartt, from Woodstock, N. B. are expected.

Mr. C. J. R. Kerr, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia Agency in this city since its opening, has been transferred to the St. John Branch, and is succeeded by Mr. D. R. Forgan. Mr. Kerr's removal is much regretted by the large circle of friends he has made during his residence here, and they will unite with the FARMER in wishing him future success. Mr. Kerr will leave for St. John on Friday.

The Bazaar in St. Dunstan's Hall, for the purpose of raising funds for the erection of an Orphanage in connection with St. Dunstan's Church in this city, was opened Monday afternoon, and is the attraction of the week. The Hall is very nicely decorated, and a magnificent display is made of fancy goods from the fair hands of the St. Dunstan's ladies. The receipts so far, have been very satisfactory.

A Coffee Room has been established in connexion with the Infantry School Corps Temperance Club. Sergt.-Major McKenzie, the president, who has had much to do in the founding of the club, has already received several donations for the Coffee Room from prominent merchants. For a very small sum the men of the Corps are able to purchase a square meal at the Coffee Room, the influence of which will, no doubt, counteract that of the canteen.

☞ We are voicing the sentiments of everyone present last night in saying that a better ministrel entertainment has never been presented in this city, than that given by Hi. Henry's Minstrels. While these mastodon companies which travel about the country contain on an average of about one perfomer of excellence out of three, there was scarcely one who took part in last night's show who did not rank above the average, while a large proportion were really of rare merit.—South Bend (Ind.) Daily Tribune.

We clip the following from the Insurance Society for January, 1885:—

THE IMPERIAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—The London Insurance World says: the balance sheet of the Imperial puts the paid-up capital at £700,000, but of this amount no less than £400,000 is capitalised profit, so that the dividend of £8 per share is, in fact, not 12, but 32 per cent per annum on the actual amount (£25) paid up. No wonder the shares sell at six times their nominal value.

ÆTNA OF HARTFORD.—The total income of this fine old institution for the year 1884, waas $2,887,570, Its total assets on January 1st, 1885, amounted to $9,013,519

The Fredericton Curlers are to play the Truro Club at St. John on Friday next. The forthcoming match between these two clubs, recalls their meeting at the Pictou Bonspiel, January 30th, 1878, in which Fredericton won by 23 points. The competing rinks then were constituted as follows:—

To GEO. B. NORTON,
Manager Norton's Opera House,

The Hi. Henry Minstrel Troupe played in Empire Hall, this city, last evening before the largest audience brought together by any Troupe in this hall for some time. The Programme was new, while the songs and jokes are of a higher order than Minstrels in general. In a word, I must say that they are by far the best Troupe that has visited our city in a long time, and we think that your people who miss seeing them will lose a treat.

York S. S. Convention.

The conclusion of the report of the recent meeting of the York Sunday School Convention is given below.

REV. KENNETH MCKAY'S ADDRESS.

By "Evergreen" Schools is meant schools which kept open all the year, winter as well as summer. From our statistics presented at the organization of the N. B. S. S. Association, it appears that of the 569 schools heard from, but 186 are "Evergreen." Thus two-thirds of our schools are open not more than half of the year. In Carleton County, ten years, ago, but seven schools were Evergreen. Is it necessary to close country Sabbath Schools in winter? Many think it is. We think it is more from habit than necessity. Wherever an honest attempt has been made to keep the Sabbath School open in winter it has proved successful. In Carleton County, the number of Evergreen Schools has increased from 7 to 43. There are now from 8 to 10 such schools in the Parish of Richmond—all country schools—while last year there was not one. What is possible in that parish is possible, as a rule, in every parish. It cannot be done without an effort. Habit is not easily overcome. But if this is a bad habit it ought to be overcome. How?

1. Realize the true worth of the Sabbath School. Our day schools are kept open in winter, because parents realize the importance of education. More children, as a rule, attend our schools in winter than in summer. Now the children may, or should be carried to the Sabbath Schools, while they cannot always to the day school. The parents ought to be scholars in the one, while they cannot be in the other. In the one case the parents can but say "go," while in the other they can generally say "come." It is often more convenient to carry the whole family to the church or school in winter than in summer. The family sled is more comfortable than the family waggon.

2. Generally speaking, the Sabbath School session in the country ought to be in conjunction with the regular church service. The pastor should be at least part of the time in the school. All who attend the one should attend the other. The whole service should not exceed two hours.

3. Let the pastor or superintendent say, I will be here every day at a given hour, and he will be sure to have a school.

REV. T. F. FOTHEINGHAM'S ADDRESS.

The great object of Sabbath School teaching is to reach the conscience and the affections. The public school regards chiefly the intellect, yet it is through the mind, that we must reach the heart, and the appliances of the secular instructor ought to be adopted by the Sabbath School teacher, so as to convey truth to the heart through the mind and memory. One of the most important of these aids, is the blackboard, and for its profitable use there is no more necessity that the Sabbath School teacher should be a skilled artist, than that the common school teacher should be so. If you have an artist in the school, use him, and thank God for him, but carricatures on the blackboard are neither respectful to God's truth, nor edifying to the school.

The simple uses of the blackboard are, (1) to arrest attention. The advertisers of patent nostrums, who profane nature with their staring white letters on a black back ground, give us a hint in this respect. (2) As a bulletin board. School notices would thus be read and reread, and implictured on the memory. A cheery greeting on the board would spread sunshine over the whole school-room. (3) Outline maps, although rudely drawn, would impress the memory better than, one containing every place.

As regards the use of the blackboard in lesson reviews. The preparation of such an exercise, requires first, thorough study of the lesson, so as to be perfectly decided as to the plan of teaching be followed. Let the aim of the lesson be, to present some aspect of the person and work of Christ, in relation to our present duty. The search lesson helps for hints, particularly it notes to the primary teachers, Let this review follow the line of teaching on the lesson leaf, and gather up into unity its more minute analyses. Taking the lesson for last Sunday, (Jan. 11th,) the title is "Paul at Miletus," and the lesson leaf gives, as the lesson plan, "A Noble Record," "A Heroic Spirit," "A Confident Appeal." Under each of these develop by questions and the salient points, and apply, filling up the design as you proceed, and the competent exercise will stand as follows:—

P. M.

N. B.	H. S.	C. A.
Humbly.	Courage.	Conscience.
Faithfully.	Self Sacrifice.	Men.
Personally.	Joy.	God..
How to speak for.	How to work for.	How to live for.

JESUS.

How to preserve these outlines, maps, etc., for review Sunday, or future use. Get a roll of manilla paper, as wide as your board is deep, and cut off each week a sheet as long as your board is wide, (4 ft. x 3½ ft., is abundantly large,) procure a carpenters square, a lead pencil, a pair of scissors and a few thumb tacks for fastening the sheet to the board. Dissolve a quantity of rosin in say, a pint of alcohol, put in all that the alcohol will take up. A perfume distributor, sold by druggists for 25 cents, is used for spraying this over your work, and so "fixing" the chalk that it will not rub off. Charcoal and chalk crayons complete your outfit. Now for the work. Lay the sheet on a large table, and with your square and lead pencil draw the parallels of latitude and longitude, if it is a map, or the lines necessary for writing upon if a review, plain script, one inch between the lines, can be read in almost any schoolroom, if the strokes are broad and heavy. Use colored chalk as your taste dictates, but only sparingly. When completed, pin against a wall, spray the lettering with the solution of rosin, let it remain till dry, and then only violent rubbing will blur a single letter. Your sheet to-day will be good for your annual review next December. Good sea coasts may be made on maps by first drawing with the lead pencil the general bend of the shore, then drawing outside a line with the dark blue chalk. Then outside of this another with the light blue, then blurring these together with the finger so as to shade it off, and finally making the land side definite by a distinct black line, with the corner of the crayon.

Teachers' Rewards was introduced and discussed by Rev. Jos. McLeod. He classified the rewards thus:

1. Consciousness of rightdoing.
2. The helping to form young lives according to God's place. Under this head, he argued the importance of early conversions, and the duty of teachers to always aim at wining the children to Jesus.
3. The personal development of the teacher.

The speaker discussed these these three points in an interesting and convincing manner. His setting forth of the truth, evidently impressed the audience, and doubtless made many a teacher see the character and effects of his work as never before, and take heart.

Mr. McLeod, as those who have heard him speak know, is not an easy man to report when he speaks as warmly as on this occasion. He has not had time, amidst his many duties to comply with the committee's request to write out his address, and so we have to be content with the bare leading points as given above.

Every observer who walks the streets of a great city, and scans with intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such drafts upon the working energies of the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust constitution. Nature, in this stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of itself, but requires some stimulating tonic, to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in cases of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never fail, if properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

First Class Engish Fire Insurance Companies.

The North British & Mercantile, Commercial Union, Liverpool & London & Globe, London & Lancashire, and other Companies as equally high standing, are represented here by Julius L. Inches.

The rates are as low as any, and some special advantages are given to the best class of business.

Farmers and others having detached buildings, can insure for 3 years, at very low rates. Office foot of Queen Street, nearly opposite the Bank of British North America.

A Wise Conclusion.

If you have vainly tried many remedies for rheumatism, it will be a wise conclusion to try Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It cures all painful diseases when other medicines fail.
