Premier Blair has carried the elections for the New Brunswick assembly. The candidates in Kings, were both supporters of the government, but Pugsley was the one most favored by the administration. Young Hazen, who had the pluck to fight Blair in his own county, has been badly beaten. He made a stiff fight, but the local government influence, together with that of Gibson the lumber king, was too much for him. These two elections and the one by acclamation a few days ago, do not change the position of parties in New Brunswick. The seats were previously held by government supporters.—Halifax Mail.

York Co. Teacher's Institute.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The Annual Meeting of the York County Teachers' was held in the Hall of the Normal School, on Thursday and Friday, June 25th and 26th.

There were 52 teachers present, all of whom enrolled as members. Eldon Mullin, M. A., Principal of the Normal School, was elected President, Miss S. G. Wandlass Vice President, J. Meagher, Secretary-Treasurer and Miss L. J. Gregory, Messrs. Rogers and Kilburn, members of the Executive Committee. Meeting then adjourned till 2 P. M., when the subject for general discussion, viz "Difficulties in Teaching and School Management," was very interestingly and profitably ventilated, Mr. Meagher, Secretary, explained to the meeting, the scope and direction it was the aim of the framers of the programme, that the discussion should take. He said Miss Brown of Spring Hill had asked for example, "how best to conduct a school of many grades," say 1 to 7 or 8. President after making a few interesting remarks, called upon F. B. Meagher, M. A., of Bathurst Grammar School, who gave his views, advising, principally combining of grades, when at all possible, in part or in whole. Keeping all the grades at the same or kindred work, at the same time. He thought himself perhaps not the best man to be called upon at the beginning of the discussion. He was far from the centre of educational activity, not so far, however, but that some of the rays from the central orb had reached him, if therefore he had any light to offer, it was due to the just law of reflection. Mr. Cliff, A. B., of York Street School, made some happy remarks, also admired combining of classes, and added that Monitors might advantageously employed.

Mr. Young of Eel River, advised simultaneous work, monitors and combining of classes. Miss Pickard, Miss Burpee, Miss Alice Meagher and Miss Thorne and Mr. Perkins, each had some valuable suggestion to offer, and then adjourned till Friday morning 10 A. M. After reading of the minutes, the subject was "what are we doing and what further can be done for the moral training of our pupils." Mr. Parkin opened the discussion, by remarking that he believed it to be the experience of every teacher, that there was far less lying, profanity, and infinitely less fighting practised than there was some years since, when fights were of frequent occurrence. Now they are rarely heard of. And so far the outlook was encouraging, he yet thought they should have religious teaching in the Schools. He graphically discribed how in mixed schools the contaminating passion of immodest thoughts actions and words, even with the greatest circumspection, might work to the lasting injury of young girls educated at home within an atmosphere of purity and affection, young girls in whose breast all was purity, and whose cheek had never blushed in shame, might receive the first impression of vice. He had noticed the meaning glance when a word capable of a double meaning, occurred in a lesson, and he told how he dealt with such cases. It would be impossible to do anything like justice to the earnest thoughtful analysis to which Mr. Parkin subjected school life. Few teachers possess more personal influence with his pupils than Mr. Parkin, and those who listened, must have felt both from his methods and conscientious convictions, that moral principles were not neglected in his school.

Mr. Creed had some hard words, but not the less truthful, about smoking, lying, and drinking.

Mr. J. Meagher spoke of the influence of cleanly habits on the moral nature of pupils as also of the good effects of good clothes as contrasted with bare feet and tattered coats; raise the pupils self respect, cultivate a love of truth, for its own sake, rather than from fear of corporal punishment, and you had the key notes to all that lies within the teachers province. After all that might be said, the school was but secondary and not the first in moral culture.

Miss Gregory spoke of the evil effects of immoral or trashy literature, and gave some happy hints in showing how she strove in her own field to cultivate a taste for the pure and the good in literature, and gave instances of her success in this respect.

The Chief Superintendent having entered, accompanied by the Surveyor-General, he was requested to address the Institute, which he did in an instructive manner.

Miss Thorne, Miss Duffy, Miss Ross, Miss Meagher, Mr. Everett and Mr. Young had also useful suggestions and happy illustrations to offer. After which Institute adjourned till 2 P. M. When the Institute took up the subject of History, which was exhaustively dealt with, Mr. Young of Eel River, read a very able paper on "How it should be taught. An animated discussion followed, in which President Mullin, Mr. W. T. Day, Mr. J. Meagher, Mr. Scribner, Miss L. J. Gregory, Mr. Parkin and others took part.

Then followed a very profitable discussion on the best method of securing good spelling.

The President then proceeded to answer questions found in the question box and all were impressed with the readiness and ability with which he gave off hand answers to all sorts of questions. The Institute was a great success to which the tact and professional knowledge of the President very largely contributed.

Prompt Payment.

The death by accident or suicide of Mr. M. B. Harwood, at Halifax River, Fla., has caused a flutter in insurance circles. He carried policies to the amount of $200,000, distributed as follows: Equitable, $100,000; United States, $25,000; Northwestern, $20,000; Manhattan, $20,000; Penn Mutual, $15,000; New England Mutual, $10,000, and Maryland Life, $10,000. Since 1883 the most of the $200,000 of insurance on his life has been placed. The companies interested will examine into the cause of his death, and if the report of the inquest held, which stated that it was the result of concussion of the brain, caused by falling off his horse, is found to be correct, the amounts of the policies will be promptly paid. The Equitable, we are told, has paid already.—Monetary Times.

Wedding at Harvey.

[Albert Maple Leaf.]

The marriage of J. Burpee McAlpine of Fredericton and Josephine M. Kinnie of Harvey, briefly noticed in our last issue, took place in the Baptist Church at Harvey Corner on Wednesday evening of last week. Rev. T. A. Blackadar of Keswick, N. B., officiated. The bridesmaids were Georgia Wood and Hattie Oliver of Albert, and the groomsman was N. Littler of St. John.

The bride wore a peacock blue, velvet and silk dress, white veil and wreath with gold ornaments. Miss Oliver wore a navy blue silk and brocaded velvet dress, and Miss Wood wore a cadet blue, French collarette and garnet velvet dress.

After the ceremony, the large number of friends gathered at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Stevens, where a number of handsome presents were handed to the bride. Among the presents were: A silver cake basket by Georgia Wood, a silver cake basket by Violet Casey, a gold dessert spoon by Mrs. Alonzo Smith, a silver ice pitcher by Mrs. Gideon Vernon, a silver sugar spoon by Janie Smith, a plush bracket drapery by Nettie Steeves, a macrame bracket drapery by Miss Young, and a book of poems by Mrs. John Reid. The groom gave each of the bridesmaids a handsome gold ring.

The happy couple left Thursday morning for Halifax, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

RHEUMATISM manifests itself in various ways and results from various causes. In a changeable climate like ours, few are exempt from its attacks. It is migratory in its habit and transfers itself from the shoulders to the hips, or from the wrist to the ankle in some instances in a few hours. "SCIATICINE" cures it permanently by neutralizing the RHEUMATIC POISON in the blood. For sale by all Druggists and general Dealers.

Five of the wholesale pickle dealers of Brooklyn, N. Y., admit that they use copper for the purpose of imparting a fresh and inviting appearance to their commodities, and one of them describes the process by which the fictitious coloring is imparted as follows: The pickles ar placed in a vat and subjected to a steam heat of 140 or 160 degrees Fahrenheit. In the vat a quantity of alum and copperplates are added, and the innocent cucumber or onion subjected to contact with these harmless ingredients for a term of from three to nine hours. The pickles are then carefully washed, and are ready for the palates of the public. One dealer said he discountenanced the use of copper-plates, and said that he only used crystal of blue vitrol, a most appetizing adjunct. This highly agreeable method of "greening" the pickles and poisoning the public will not be further permitted by the health officer. He prefers his pickles straight.

The English billion—a million millions—has set Sir Henry Bessemer calculating. He reckons that a billion seconds have not elapsed since the world began, as they would reckon 31,678 years, 17 days, 22 hours, 45 minutes, 5 seconds. A chain of a billion sovereigns would pass 736 times around the globe, or lying side by side, each in contact with its neighbor, would form about the earth a golken zone twenty-six feet six inches wide. This same chain, were it stretched out straight, would make a line a fraction over 18,328,455 miles in extent. For measuring height, Sir Henry chose for a unit a single sheet of paper about 1-333 of an inch in thickness. A billion of these thin sheets, pressed out flat and piled vertically upon each other, would make an altitude of 47,348 miles.

Hundreds of men, women and boys in New York, are engaged in collecting old boots and shoes which they take to the wallpapers factories. Calfskin boots bring the best price, while cowhide ones are not taken at any figure. These boots and shoes are first soaked in several waters to get all the dirt off, and then the nails and threads are removed and the leather is ground up into a fine pulp. Then it is pressed upon a ground of heavy paper, which are to be used in the manufacture of "embossed leather." Fashionable people think they are going away back to medieval times when they have the walls of their libraries and dining-rooms covered with this, and remain in blissful ignorance that the shoes and boots which their neighbors threw into the ash barrel a month before now adorn their walls and hang on the screens which protect their eyes from the fire.

CLOSE CONFINEMENT in poorly ventilated work rooms, and want of proper exercise, are often unavoidable, but tend to produce Dyspepsia, want of energy, and loss of appetite. Riel looked healthy and quite self-possessed.

England's latest magnificent addition to her navy, launched a few days ago at Blackwall, and christened the Benbow by Mrs. Gladstone, was named after the famous John Benbow who died in 1702 from the effects of a wound received in the West Indies while he was fighting a vastly superior French fleet under Admirial du Casse. The Benbow with its ten thousand tons burden is a larger ship than the whole of the British navy at the time of Queen Elizabeth.

A Salt Lake jeweller has invented a novel timepiece in the shape of a steel wire stretched across his shop window, on which a stuffed canary hops from left to right, indicating as it goes the hours of the day by pointing with his beak at a dial stretched beneath the wire and having the figures from 1 to 24. When it reaches the latter figure it glides across the window to 1 again. There is no mechanism that can be seen, it all being inside the bird. The inventor says he was three years in studying it out.

The latest theory concerning Bright's disease and other affections of the kidneys is that they are due to the immoderate use of ice water and other chilled beverages. Thirty or forty years ago, a physician asserts, when people slacked their thirst with fresh water from the well or pump, kidney disease was virtually unknown. Now, however, the general use of ice in every household and saloon and the multiplications of soda fountains cause thousands of persons to abruptly shock their heated internal organs with freezing draughts, and kidney troubles are prevalent.

The recent volcanic disturbances in Java were not unaccompanied with the loss of life. A great coffee plantation which stood on the side of a mountain was destroyed. The manager removed his wife and family to a place of safety, and, with 80 workmen, was endeavoring to make a passage for the lava should it reach the plantation. In the night an upheaval of the upper part of the mountain took place, and an avalanche of stones, ashes, and sand, mixed with lava and water, poured down. In the morning all traces of the plantation and its people had disappeared.

Strange things have been done in recent years in the way of moving buildings and large masses of stone and brick, but none has been more curious than the moving of a brick factory-chimney in Salem, Mass., a few weeks ago. The chimney was ninety feet high and only six and one-half feet at the base. By the aid of six workmen this clumsy structure was lifted, moved a distance of 100 feet, and safely deposited upon a new foundation. A sway of only three inches would have been enough to bring the whole mass down like so many bricks in a Buddenseick building. The load weighed 130 tons.

Few are the remedies whose beneficial qualities and real merits have made them so popular with the public, and increased from year to year their consumption, which, whilst possessing the most valuable remedial properties, are yet so simple in their compound, and so easy to take, as the Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto. This article is prepared from the pure Sulphate of Quinine, combined with fine Sherry Wine, and choice aromatics, which relieves the Quinine of its bitter taste, and does not impair in the least degree the efficacy of its action upon the patient; while small doses, frequently repeated, strengthen the pulse, increase muscular force, and invigorate the tone of the nervous system, and thus, by the general vigor which it imparts, creates an appetite, which gives to the stomach tone and energy, and fortifies the system against all infectious diseases. WOODILL'S GERMAN BAKING POWDER, is said by W. F. Best, Dominion Analyst, St. John, to be "Fresh and Pure, same composition as usual."

BUT

It contains Carbonate of Ammonia,
Is Unfit for Human Consumption,
Is Injurious to Health in Food,

Is the report of F. L. BARTLETT, State Chemist of Maine, of a Baking Powder now being pushed into the Provinces. He says it contains one ingredient that should not enter into the composition of any Baking Powder, namely, a strong Alkali, and he is surprised that this chemical should be used when it is so well known to be Injurious to Health in anything used for food.

Carbonate of Ammonia,

Ask your grocer for Woodill's German Baking Powder, for sale in tins and in paper.
