From the LONDON GAZETTE, September 18.

DOWNING-STREET, SEPTEMBER 18.

A Despatch, of which the following is an extract, was on Sunday morning received at Lord Liverpool's Office, addressed to his Lordship by Lieutenant-General Lord Wellington, K. B. &c. &c. dated Celatico, 29th of August, 1810.

The enemy opened their fire upon Almeida late on Saturday night or early on Sunday morning, the 26th instant, and I am concerned to add that they obtained possession of the place in the course of the night of the 27th. I have no intelligence, upon which I can rely, of the cause of its surrender. An explosion had been heard at our advanced posts, and I observed on Monday that the steeple of the church was destroyed, and many houses of the town unroofed. I had a telegraphic communication with the Governor, but unfortunately the weather did not allow of our using it on Sunday, or during a great part of Monday, and when the weather cleared on that day, it was obvious that the Governor was in communication with the enemy.

After I was certain of the fall of the place, I moved the infantry of the army again into the valley of the Mondego, keeping a division upon Guarda, and the out-posts of the cavalry at Alverca. The enemy attacked our picquets twice yesterday in the morning but feebly, and they were repulsed; in the afternoon, however, they obliged Sir Stapleton Cotton to draw in his posts to this side of Fraxedas. Captain Lygon, of the 16th Light Dragoons, was wounded in the morning, and two men of the Royal Dragoons were wounded in the afternoon.

A picquet of the regiment made a gallant and successful charge upon a party of the enemy's infantry and cavalry, and took some prisoners.

The second corps under General Regnier has made no movement of any importance since I had the honour of addressing your Lordship last. A patrol, however, belonging to this corps, fell in with a squadron of Dragoons, consisting of one troop of the 13th British, and one troop of the 4th Portuguese, belonging to Lieut-General Hill's corps, under the command of Captain White, of the 13th, and the whole of them were taken, with the exception of the Captain and one man, who, I since understand, have been killed. I inclose the copy of Brigadier-General Fane's report to Lieut-General Hill of this affair, which it appears was highly creditable to Captain White, and the allied troops engaged.

No movement has been made, and nothing of any importance has occurred in Estremadura since I addressed your Lordship last.

In the north, the enemy moved a small body of infantry and cavalry on the 20th to Alcanegas; but General Silveira moved towards them from Braganza, and they immediately retired.

Escalhos de Cima, August 22, 1810.

SIR—I have the honour to report to you, that the troop of the 13th Light Dragoons, and one of the 4th Portuguese Dragoons, forming the Squadron under the command of Captain White, of the 13th, at Ladocra, this morning fell in with a patrol of the enemy's Dragoons, consisting of one Captain, two subalterns, and about sixty men. Captain White fortunately succeeded in coming up with them, when he immediately charged and overturned them; and the result has been, the capture of two Lieutenants, three sergeants, six corporals, one trumpeter, and fifty privates, and about fifty horses. The Captain was also a prisoner, but escaped during the bustle, on foot.

I am happy to say, this has been performed without the loss of a man on our side. Six of the enemy are wounded. Capt. White expresses his obligation to Major Vigoreux, of the 38th regiment, who was a volunteer with him, and to the Alferes Pedro Raymundo di Oliveira, commanding the Portuguese troop (which he states to have done its duty extremely well, and to have shewn much gallantry), and also to Lieut. Turner, of the 13th Light Dragoons, to whose activity and courage he reports himself to be indebted for several of his prisoners. I trust the whole will be considered to have merited the approbation of the Commander in Chief.

I have the honor to be, &c.

H. FANE.

SAINT JOHN, November 12, 1810.

POST-OFFICE, St. John, 12th Nov. 1810.

A MAIL will be made up at this Office for Great-Britain, to go by His Majesty's sloop Driver; which will be closed on Friday evening at 6 o'clock. No Letters will be received after that hour.

Last Monday arrived safe in the harbour from Sheffield in Sunbury-County, where she was built, a Ship of about 400 tons burthen, belonging to Messrs. B. Gilbert & Son. The probability of the removal of the Split Rock having afforded for some months past, a subject of so much conversation in the City, and we believe in the Country too, obliges us to notice a circumstance which happened relating to this Ship's passage through the Falls. We are informed that several persons were desirous of Insuring upon the Ship at the small premium of half per cent, and one person wished to take a risk of 300l. at a quarter per cent only. The owners declined accepting of either from a confidence they had in the safety of the passage in its present state, with the Rock in its place: This certainly is one convincing proof, that not much danger is to be apprehended in bringing Ships through; and we are led to believe an appeal might be made in favor of the Rock, to the candour of all who have had a hand in conducting through very great quantities of Timber, which have been brought to Market this season. Would the passage be equally safe if the Rock was removed is the question? and a very important one it is. This Ship draws 10 or 11 feet water, and we may expect many much larger will find their way down, from a Country, which so much abounds in fine Timber.

FREDERICTON, 1st November, 1810.

Tertullus Dickinson of Woodstock, in the County of York, was convicted on the 22d day of October last, upon the complaint of Major M. Carthy, commanding the New-Brunswick Regiment, before Garret Clopper and Peter Fraser, Esquires, two of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the said County, of having persuaded and procured Isaac Hill, a private in the said Regiment, to desert from and leave the same, and was sentenced, under an Act of the General Assembly of this Province, to pay a fine of twenty pounds. The offender, in this instance, ought to consider himself very fortunate in not having been proceeded against under the Act of Parliament made for the punishment of Mutiny and Desertion, by which much more severe and ignominious pains and penalties are directed to be inflicted; it is however to be hoped, that the spirit of loyalty, and attachment to the British Government, which have so conspicuously characterized all ranks of His Majesty's subjects in this Province, will in future render it unnecessary to have recourse to the Laws, for the prevention and punishment of a crime so disgraceful to the party offending, and in its consequences, so injurious to the cause of our most gracious King and our glorious Constitution.
