Another carnival will be held in the rink probably on Friday evening February the 11th inst. Mr. F. B. Edgecombe has generously offered as a prize for the best snow shoer or toboggan suit, the choice of a pair of blankets or a toboggan. Mr. J. A. Edwards of the Queen Hotel has also intimated that he will give a handsome prize.

In his description of a visit to Marysville, the editor of the Wesleyan quotes Mr. Gibson as saying with reference to Charles Wesley's immortal hymn "Jesus lover of my soul," "I would like to have that hymn of refuge sung once every Sunday as a part of congregational worship. I regard that hymn as worth more to christianity than all the works of controversial theology that have been published from the time of Henry VIII until now."

Mr. J. W. McCready's Insurance advertisement in another column, will be of interest to property holders. He represents two leading Insurance companies. The "Citizens" which has done business for a long time in this city, and enjoys a high place in public confidence; and the "Connecticut" Insurance company of Hartford, which has just enterred upon the 71st year of its successful business career. Mr. McCready also issues accident policies, on the most liberal terms. We bespeak a large patronage for these two five companies.

"Never too late to mend," was given by the I. S. Corps Dramatic Club on Friday and Saturday evenings in a manner that was creditable to each individual performer and satisfactory to the audience. Notwithstanding the bad weather, on both evenings there was a good attendance. Owing to the want of space, we cannot give that extended notice we would like to, and to which the club are entitled, but we will remark, that as amateurs, they are pretty hard to beat, and as we have before remarked some members of the club are equal in many respects to some of the professionals that visit our city. We must mention Miss Carney of St. John, who took the leading lady character in the play. Her acting was in every way creditable and pleasing to the audience. The scenery painted for the occasion by Pte. Champion was remarkably good. The orchestra played some nice music during the evening.

Another of those pleasing episodes which do so much to cement old friendships and leaven the lump of life with a dash of youthful romance, occurred at the West End, Saturday evening, when a large number of friends, mysteriously emerging from the outer darkness, filed into the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Yerxa, to celebrate the "China Wedding" of that worthy and hospitable couple. A great variety of beautiful and useful souvenirs were presented to the lady of the house, and a bewildering number of baskets containing all sorts of choice edibles were deposited on the premises, for reference in the very near future. The evening was passed very pleasantly in various social recreations, supplemented by a [illegible] substantial as to entirely preclude the reporter from using the term "hasty dejeuner," which the foreman and most of the hands insist is the proper expression to insert. That ensuing years may in added blessings revive and intensify the happiness of the past, is the FARMER'S sincere wish to Mr. Yerxa and his esteemed consort.

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Temple and his Friends everywhere received with Enthusiasm.

A Hint to Mr. Gregory's Friends.

Excellent campaign work for Mr. Temple has been done during the past week, both in city and country. Mr, Temple himself has visited various parts of the county, and everywhere has been received with the greatest enthusiasm He is assured the hearty support of his old friends, and of many new ones who previously opposed him. In the city, the campaign is progressing most favorably. Mr. Temple's committee rooms are nightly packed with earnest men, young and old, who will leave no stone unturned, to roll up a splendid majority for our candidate In Fredericton.

The campaign in the parishes was opened Friday evening at Gibson, when White's hall was crowded to hear Mr. Wetmore, Mr. Hazen and Mr. Gaunce discuss the issues of the contest. They were splendidly received by a most representative meeting. Since then these gentlemen and Mr. Jordan have held enthusiastic meetings at the Mouth of Keswick, Burtt's Hall, McGinley's and Hammond's, all of which were well attended.

Mr. Gregory, and his lieutenants, Mr. Mc Dade and G. A. Hughes, are retailing Grit campaign fictions along the river, but their reception is decidedly cool. Mr. Gregory devotes much of his time in ridiculing the propossd railway bridge intimating that it is only a plan for Mr. Temple to capture a subsidy to put in his own pocket. Mr. Gregory represents Mr. Temple as the head and front of the bridge company, conveniently forgetting that Mr, Alexander Gibson is the President of the Company and its leading promoter. We hear that the Honorable Fredericton Pemberton Thompson, M. L. C., has also taken to the stump in Mr. Gregory's behalf. We advise our friends to let the little fellow alone; he will do no harm. He will make a big noise but that is all there is to him.

There is one point upon which our friends the enemy, may need a gentle hint. They have already in their local organ, introduced personalities into the contest, and in this they have mede a grave mistake. If Mr. Temple and his friends are to be personally attacked, why they will have to strike back, If Mr. Gregory and his organ want gore they can have it, or, as Mr. Hazen put it at the Conservative meeting last night, Mr. Temple's friends are prepared to carry the war to Africa. Whether this campaign shall be conducted decently, and simply on political issues, the course pursued by Mr. Gregory and his organs shall determine.

MISS HUNTRESS MARRIED.

A Social Event in which a young lady well known in Fredericton was a Participant.

(From the Mount Pleasant Michigan Tribune.)

One of the most pleasing social events that occurred in Mt. Pleasant in some time was the marriage on Wednesday of Miss Ella Huntress, of this village, and Mr. Henry A. Smith, of Duluth, Minn. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs, S. A. Huntress, in the presence of a few immediate friends of the happy couple, Rev. J. A. McGlone officiating. The bride wore a handsome traveling costume. The wedding presents received by the bride were rich and elegant, among them being a very beautiful gold watch, the gift of the bridegroom. After the ceremony the happy couple and their friends partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which they departed for their future home in Duluth, by way of Chicago. Miss Huntress was one of the most estimable young ladies in Mt. Pleasant, enjoying the friendship and regard of all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Refined, talented and cultured, her modest and unassuming demeanor only served to render more attractive that sweet disposition and the lady-like characteristics with which she is so liberally endowed. Deeply regretting her departure from our midst, her Mt. Pleasant friends rejoice in the happiness of Mrs. Smith and in the fact that she appears to have bestowed her affection on a most worthy gentleman. Mr. Smith is one of the leading business men of Duluth, identified in many important respects with the business interests of the "Zenith City." At present he is cashier and one of the directors of the Merchants' National Bank, of that city. Socially, Mr. Smith is one of the most popular young men in Duluth; in commercial circles his integrity of purpose and correct business principles are highly appreciated and he is honored as a worthy representative of the business energy, enterprise and industry of that flourishing city. He takes his wife to a most elegant home, overlooking Lake Superior, and that he and his accomplished bride may find it a peaceful haven of happiness and prosperity is the sincere wish of her many friends in Mt. Pleasant.

THAT RETALLIATION BILL.

The New York Sun in commenting on Senator Frye's "Retaliation Bill," which passed unanimously in the United States Senate last week, and which was intended "to notify Great Britain, that a continuance of the course of Canada, must be at her peril," makes the following sensible remarks:—

"Our coasts are defenceless. Our harbors are unprotected. Our great cities are at the mercy of the first comer. We have no forts no guns, no ships fit to withstand the attack of an enemy equipped with the appliances of modern warfare. The enemy that comes may be a ruffian among nations, a coward, a bully, selfish and rapacious, and nevertheless may bring guns capable of raking Manhattan Island from deep water beyond Brighton Beach. It is not the right or wrong, the justice or injustice of the cause that determines these disputes between nations; it is the calibre and range of the rifled guns, the thickness of the armor plating, the speed of the ships of war. War talk has its responsibilities as well as its privileges."

Senator Hill during the debate declared that the passing of this Bill in intention and effect is a challenge to one of the greatest power of the earth. He said;—"The American nation and seaboard stands to-day, with all its millions of prosperous people, with all its great aggregation of property, with its multitudinous cities lining our shores, as defenceless, as unprotected as were the islands of the Spanish main or the coasts of North and South America, when the voyageurs and adventures and plunderers of the 16th centuro were let loose upon them. There is no such spectacle in all the world's history."

The general impression among all military men is that Congress has been altogether too rash under the existing condition of the United States. A naval officer, high up in the service, in commenting upon the debate said:—"That might mean war, and I don't believe that one of them realizes what would be the result of a war with Great Britain in the present unprotected condition of the country. With no defences, no navy, and but a small army that would be utterly powerless, we would be at the mercy of an enemy not half so powerful as England. Just imagine, a declaration of war. A British squadron could come up the Potomac as far as Alexandria and blow everything in sight to perdition. The gentlemen at the Capital would be among the first to make a move westward. The big vessels couldn't get up higher than Alexandria, on account of the bar there, but that would be plenty far enough. A million men along the banks of the Potomac could not prevent the complete destruction of Washington, and other cities could be treated in the same way. There never was a greater fallacy than the belief that torpedoes would protect us. Defensive torpedo warfare, keeps pace with offensive torpedo warfare, just as the improvement in the protection of war vessels keeps pace with the improvement in guns. If torpedoes are sunk, devices are invented for their removal. As we stand now we haven't the protected ships, the improved guns, or the torpedoes.

Admiral Porter has directed the attention of the United States Government to the fact that twenty-seven of their principal cities are at the mercy of the British fleet.

What True Merit will do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, and the severest lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians [illegible] not de[illegible] [illegible] does up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary, removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected, and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts., large bottles.

And yet the wild havoc of disease startles no one. Sad to relate, women suffer from year to year with chronic diseases and weakness peculiar to their sex, knowing that they are growing worse with every day, and still take no measures for their own relief. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is the result of life-long and learned study of female complaints. It is guaranteed to cure.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF YORK.

GENTLEMEN:

The House of Commons having been dissolved, I have, at the request of many of the Electorate of this County, again consented to place myself at your disposal.

Since I have had the honor to be your representative, I have always endeavored to do my utmost for the County of York, and to act in the best interests of the Province and Dominion generally.

I have, as you are aware, secured the aid of the Dominion for the construction of several public works of much interest to this County and the Province at large, and there are others for which I have succeeded in obtaining partial aid; and, if again elected, I have no doubt I will be able to secure such further assistance as will ensure their successful completion.

Should you consider my past course in your interests, I hope I may ask with confidence a renewal of your support.

During the present canvas I shall endeavor to visit as many of you as possible, and explain more fully my acts since you last honored me with a majority of your votes.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant

WONDERFUL!

BETWEEN eight and ten years ago, a medicine was introduced to the public, and suffering humanity was invited to try the same.

The proprietor knew from experience, that success was certain, but the human breast so imbued with prejudice that it forms one of the strongest barriers to break down and the greatest enemy to overcome before any headway can be made towards the mansion of success. Truth has often proved itself to be "stranger than fiction," and it is a fact as solid as truth that have now become one of the leading Patent Medicines of the present day, from north to south, and from east to west, they are to be found in the homes of the rich and poor. All classes of society use them, and they are by thousands declared to be Worth their Weight in Gold.

For a Weak Stomach, Impaired Digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like "MAGIC," and a few doses will be found to work wonders on the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long-lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the rose-bud of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of society; and one of the best guarantees to the nervous and debilitated is, Smith's Chamomile Pills have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the Dominion.

Directions for taking Smith's Chamomile Pills.

If the bowels are costive, the countenance sallow and the tongue furred, take 3 or 4 pills on going to bed; if they do not operate in ten hours, then take two more afterwards. Take one pill every (or every other night), just enough to keep the bowels gently moved. For ordinary Billious Complaints one or two doses are sufficient. These pills act on the system very similar to blue pills, or blue Mass, but do not contain the least particle of mercury or calomel.
