Poetry.

THE VOICES OF THE PAST.

The voices of the past
Come o'er my spirit yet,
The dreams of other days
That I can ne'er forget.

A glance, a thought, a tone,
Oft bringing back by-gone scenes,
That passed away from earth
Like shadows in our dreams.

The holy twilight hour
Speaks of the shrouded past,
It speaks to me of hopes
That were to fail to last.

The little flowers of earth
That bloom in lowly guise,
Tell tales of long ago,
Of bright unclouded skies.

When life was young and gay,
And free from care and strife,
And the golden dreams of youth
With happiness were rife.

The songs we heard in youth
Will cheer life's darkest hour,
And smooth earth's dreary path
With soothing, magic power.

In the lone hour of night,
When stars their vigils keep,
The thoughts of other days
Come o'er me, and I weep.

Adown the stream of time
How swift our pleasures go,
They're hastening away
With never-ceasing flow.

They'll never come again,
Those golden days of yore,
The pleasures of the past
Return to us no more.

VARIETY.

The Whole World contains many forcible strictures on the habits and customs of the age. Among the pithy paragraphs we find the following:

FOOTWORN THE FASHION.—In thickly populated communities, to be fashionably attired is the desire of a great portion of the people, who generally plume themselves to be guided in the selection of their apparel by tailors, or mantua makers, and milliners, who are ever on the alert to profit by the foibles of thoughtless simpletons. Dressing with taste, and, in the fashion, are widely different considerations. A fashionable dress is deemed by the mass of people the surest mode of securing the admiration of their neighbors. It is therefore advisable that those desirous of appearing to the best advantage in the eyes of their fellow kind, should consult taste in preference to the latest fashion. We often see persons decked out in the "latest styles," who look in every respect as nice as fine clothes could make them, but we more often meet with others clad in garments similar, who look for all the world like so many tailorized apes or baboons. What looks charming on one, may be ludicrous when worn by another. "Dressy people" ought therefore to study their own figures and complexions—the size and developements of their bodies, and also the expression of their faces, and not be too stupid to know that a becoming suit of the cheapest kind will show them off to greater advantage than an unbecoming one that might cost its weight in gold. It is, furthermore, indicative of a deplorable want of mind, to dress in a certain style because Mr. So-and-so, or Miss Such-a-one does, and because tailors and mantua-makers pronounce it the "latest fashion," in other words, the latest—absurdity. A sixpenny calico dress has made many a young lady look almost divine, when even the court dress of the Empress Eugenia would have made them laughing stocks for folks of good sense. Dress to suit the peculiarities of your person, and you will always look well; adhere to, or even try to follow every new fashion introduced by the "leaders" of folly in London, Paris, and in New York, and be laughed at for your pains.

"YOUR PAPER DID NOT COME, SIR."—The Scientific American recommends a careful perusal of the following plain statement, both to post-masters and to subscribers; and we can safely say that it is equally applicable to New Brunswick. It is from a paper called The Advance, published at Hernando, Miss.:

"The uncertain arrival, or uncertain delivery of papers at country Post Offices, is often the ground of complaint against publishers and editors. Many of the offices are poorly supplied with conveniences for taking care of papers, no matter with what certainty they arrive. The papers are jumbled into a few little pigeon holes, or piled upon a desk, box, or barrel, to await the call of subscribers—in the midst of boots, hats, bridles, horse collars and other coarse wares, which may be called for during the day by customers. Country Post masters in most cases being engaged in some mercantile business, many newspapers find their way into some obscure corner, where they are hid for a time from human eyes, as completely as if buried in a mountain cave. In comes the man for his paper, and as it can't be found, of course it did'nt come. The indignant subscriber consequently abuses the really editor, and, perhaps, calls for pen, ink, and paper, to write a letter of complaint about not sending his paper punctually, when, if the said paper was endowed with speech, it would cry out "Here I am, squeezed to death behind this box, or under this barrel. We have seen just such things at many country Post Offices elsewhere as in this country. These remarks have no reference to any particular office, but are meant for all where they will apply.

CURE OF HYDROPHOBIA.—1. An English journal says that an old Saxon has been using for fifty years, and with perfect success, a remedy for the bite of mad dogs, by the agency of which he has rescued many fellow beings and cattle from the fearful death of hydrophobia. The remedy is, to wash the wound immediately with warm vinegar and cold water, dry it, and then apply a few drops of muriatic acid, which will destroy the poison of the saliva, or neutralize it, and the cure is effected.

2. A cure for hydrophobia, discovered by Mr. Cessar, a French physician: Take two spoonsful of fresh chloride of lime, in powder, mix it with a half pint of water, and with this wash keep the wound constantly bathed. The wash should be applied as soon as possible after the infliction of a bite.

The Scientific American recommends washing of such a bite with clean water, and then applying a leaf of tobacco; but advises that a physician be called at once.

A medal has been struck at the Paris mint, within the last few days. On the obverse, Napoleon III. is represented giving his right hand to Queen Victoria, and his left hand to the Sultan Abdul-Medjid. Over the head of Napoleon he inscribed the word "Catholicisme;" over that of the Sultan, "Islamisme." Over all, and in large characters, so as to make the group into one whole, are the words "Dieu les protege (God protects them), and below the figures is the word "Civilisation." On the reverse of the medal are the words, in French "In the reigns of Napoleon the Third, and that of Victoria, England and France united themselves to secure the peace of the world."

CHIMNEYS.—In building Chimneys, put a quantity of salt into the mortar with which the interstices of brick are to be laid. The effect is, that there never will be any accumulation of soot in the chimney. The philosophy is this, briefly: the salt attracts moisture from the atmosphere every damp day. The soot thus becoming damp falls down to the place.

Relief for the Ears.—A proposal has been under consideration in the magnetic circles here to use an expedient for the purpose of moving the ears.—[illegible]

The Renowned Remedy!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST ASTONISHING CURE OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS.—A CASE CERTIFIED BY THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

Copy of a Letter from J. Noble, Esq., Mayor of Boston, Lincolnshire.

To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—Mrs. Sarah Dixon, of Liquorpond-st., Boston, has this day deposed before me that for a considerable period she was severely afflicted with Scrofulous Sores and Ulcers in her arms, feet, legs, and other parts of her body; and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she procured a small pot, and a box of the Pills, and before that was all used, symptoms of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules as to diet, &c., she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,
August 12th, 1852. (Signed) J. NOBLE.

SIX EXTREMEMELY AND RAPID CURE OF ERYSIPELAS IN THE LEG, AFTER MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Yeates, of The Post Office, Aldwick Road, near Bognor, Sussex, dated Jan. 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I suffered for a considerable period from a severe attack of Erysipelas, which at length settled in my leg, and resisted all medical treatment. My sufferings were very great, and I quite despaired of any permanent amendment, when I was advised to have recourse to your Ointment and Pills. did so without delay, and am happy to say, the result was eminently successful, for they effected a radical cure of my leg, and restored me to the enjoyment of health. I shall ever speak with the utmost confidence of your medicines, and have recommended them to others in this neighbourhood, similarly afflicted, who derived equal benefit.

I am, Sir, your obliged and faithful servant,
(Signed) ELIZABETH YEATES.

A DREADFULLY DISEASED ANKLE CURED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP BY THE FACULTY AT MALTA AND PORTSMOUTH HOSPITALS.

The following important communication has been forwarded to Professor Holloway for publication.

Mr B. Dixon, Chemist, King-st., Norwich.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Smith of Great Yarmouth, dated January 19th, 1853.

To Mr. Dixon,

Dear Sir,—I send you the particulars of a cure effected by Professor Holloway's invaluable medicines: Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service, in the British Fleet at Malta, had a very bad ulcerated ancle, and after having been in the Malta Hospital for six months, was sent to England as an invalid to Portsmouth Hospital, where he remained an inmate four months, there, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable. He then came to Yarmouth, and was under a medical gentleman for about three months, but his ancle became so much worse, that all hope was lost. At this period, by my advice he tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which by unremitted application, healed all the ulcers, and restored him to perfect health and strength.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours very truly,
(Signed) JOHN SMITH.

Albert Hotel, Great Yarmouth.

SURPRISING CURE OF A BAD BREAST, NERVOUS DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL-HEALTH.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. T. F. Ker, Chemist, &c. Lower Moss-Lane, Manchester, dated February 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in forwarding to you the particulars of a very extraordinary cure of a bad breast, effected solely by the use of your celebrated Ointment and Pills. Mrs. Martha Bell, of Pitt-street, in this town, had been for a considerable time labouring under nervous debility, loss of appetite, and general ill health, occasioned by ulcerated wounds in the breast. She had had much experience in the use of all the known remedies for the cure of ulcers, but without any beneficial result, in fact, she had nearly lost all faith and hope of a cure being effected. In this distressing and painful condition of body and mind, she was persuaded to have recourse to your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which she immediately did, and in the course of a very short time the effect produced was most astonishing; her appetite was speedily improved, the sores and ulcers in the breast gradually healed, and the nervous excitement of her system was wholly removed.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours faithfully,
T. FORSTER KER.
