THE PRUDENT MARINER WILL BE VERY CAUTIOUS

Comment of New York Paper on the Stock Market Situation ---Many Factors That Enter Into the Consideration of the Future.

(New York Commercial.)

Next in point of encouragement to the demonstration of commercial strength by the United States and Europe and the seemingly well-founded expectation that President Roosevelt will throw new light upon the path in which he is treading is the improvement in monetary conditions in New York. Although the bank statement, Saturday, did not show an increase in surplus reserves so emphatic as looked for, these stood at more than $13,000,000. The cash gain was almost as much; and the experts had some warrant for figuring out totals for this week and next which would be tempting to speculators for the rise after the middle of the month. Surplus reserves a year ago were only slightly in excess of $5,000,000. Advices from reliable sources in Washington represent Mr. Cortelyou as determined to give the country the full benefit of the Aldrich currency law and as taking quite an optimistic a view of the trade outlook as his predecessor. That he will act with as much vigor as did Mr. Shaw, should developments call for further Treasury "relief," goes without saying among all who know the secretary intimately and have heard his views confidentially. For the moment there is no special need of gold imports, though moderate engagements are likely to be made. The chief uncertainty abroad is as to the intentions of the Bank of France; and as the exigencies of that institution may bring about an increase in its discount rate it is not the purpose of our bankers to add to London's embarassment by taking gold in large amounts for a while.

None of these influences singly are capable of effecting a general transformation in the security market. Nor could such a result be secured by all combined. Their usefulness is as ballast rather than as steam. They serve to steady the craft, rather than to drive her forward. Moreover, there are reasons why the prudent mariner will take unusual precautions during the spring months and will not become a voyager in new waters until weather conditions become settled. The menace of further state legislation against railways, due to the belief that they are over-capitalized, is more serious than the hare-brained project of government ownership. Until the public has been enlightened on the question of capitalization, a sword hanging by a single hair remains suspended above every railway company in the land. Here's is a veritable Pandora's box of evils, compared with which the dispute between the western railway managers' association and the trainmen and conductors is insignificant. Until the constitutionality of the two-cent fare laws shall have been tested in the state courts the holders of rails will remain in an unenviable frame of mind.

Beyond such considerations, relevant principally to railway securities, is the uncertainty as to how far general business will be contracted by the determination of the railway companies to suspend costly improvements until money is cheaper and the violence of the public clamor against railway evils are abated. Many of the leading industrials are directly involved. Possibly months must elapse ere a clear notion can be obtained of the lengths to which will go the reaction in business that we are told to welcome—the frost which, according to Mr. Hill, is to nip the automobiles and diamonds, but to leave the coal and grain untouched. In the background, but approaching, is the presidential election next year; and all experiences has taught us that the twelvemonth preceding that event spells dullness. If there is a period of comparative quietude ahead of the security market, it may prove to the speculator a blessing in disguise. To the investor it furnishes an exceptional opportunity to reach the bargain counter.

THE MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

A Firmer Feeling This Week---Money Market Shows Stringency.

(Montreal Witness, Tuesday.)

The local market made an effort to shake off the depression existing prior to the holidays, and from one to two per cent. advances were made throughout the list. Canadian Pacific took a wider range in its movements, but that stock has lost all sense of affinity with the Montreal and Toronto markets.

In the stocks that more correctly belong to the local speculative clique, there was a distinctly stronger tone than on Thursday, although it is questionable if even the small advances can be held in view of the impending difficulties in the money market.

Instead of an improvement in the Canadian monetary situation, as expected on the turn of the mouth, matters are gradually drifting into a more pronounced state of stringency, and, as is shown elsewhere in this issue bankers are compelled to advance even the minimum rates for commercial loans. This, it must be confessed, is an extreme measure, and will affect the immediate course of market prices to an extent that cannot be too seriously considered by investors and speculators.

It goes without saying that if a universal advance in the rates for trade paper is made, it will only be after the most strenuous efforts have been made to curtail the volume of cash now held on stock market account. This account has been greatly lessened since the beginning of March. In February, according to the government statement, there was a sum of $53,000,000 held on call in Canada, and $55,900,000 elsewhere than in Canada. A comparison with last year's returns at this season, shows that, after all, the brokers have not received such bad treatment of the banks as they would have the market followers believe. In February of 1906 call loans in Canada were $55,591,000, and those outside $62,353,000. The decrease is, therefore, less than $10,000,000, that of call loans in Canada declining only $2,500,000.

The stringency in the money market and the depression of stocks have caused the local banking institutions to demand an increase in the rate of interest on loans for commercial purposes.

The new rate is said to be seven per cent.

The objects of the banks in placing a higher rate on commercial loans, is said to be to check extravagant outlays or reckless trading, and bankers say that the decision has already proved beneficial. On the other hand business men assert that the banks have taken advantage of the opportunity to 'bleed the merchants.

HARRIMAN TO BUILD FIFTH AVE. MANSION

Pays $650,000 for a Plot at Fifty-second Street in Vanderbilt Colony.

NEW YORK, April 3—E. H. Harriman is going to make this city his permanent home. He has bought a site in the centre of the Vanderbilt colony for a mansion that will rival any of the magnificent structures now on Fifth avenue. He formerly lived at No. 1 East Fifty-fifth street, directly opposite the St. Regis Hotel. He will occupy the W. Rhinelander Stewart house, at No. 11 East Sixty-second street, until his new home is completed.

The site selected by Mr. Harriman, through his broker, John N. Golding, is a plot 50 x 130, at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Fifty-second street, for which he paid $650,000 to Frederick G. Bourne. The mansion of William K. Vanderbilt and his son, Willie K., Jr., are directly opposite. The Morton F. Plant home stands on the southeast corner, while the W. D. Sloane and the George Vanderbilt "twin houses" occupy the block on the west side of the avenue, between Fifty-first and fifty-second streets.

The plot was sold a few years ago by W. D. Sloane and William K. Vanderbilt to John Henry Smith, who died recently in Tokio, for $650,000. Soon after Mr. Smith bought this plot he purchased the Whitney mansion at Fifth avenue and Sixty-eighth street. Subsequently he sold the Fifty-second street land to Commodore Bourne for $600,000.

Realty experts declare Mr. Harriman got a bargain.

The United Baptist Foreign Mission Board met yesterday afternoon when it was announced that Rev. R. Sanford, who has been laboring in India under the auspices of the maritime province foreign mission board, since 1873, is coming home on furlough, accompanied by his daughter. Rev. Mr. Higgins and wife are also expected. Mr. Higgins will take up the duties of field secretary of the foreign mission board. Rev. Mr. Gullison and wife are preparing to return to India next fall. Miss Harrison, Miss Newcombe, and Miss C. B. Elliot, of Clarence, N. S., will also be in the party.

The freight agents of the Atlantic division of the C. P. R., who have been under the jurisdiction of J. N. Sutherland, yesterday expressed their appreciation of his administration during the past twelve years by presenting to him a handsome oak tantalus and half a dozen cut glass tumblers and a tobacco jar standing on a mirror tray. J. R. Gilliland read the address, which accompanied the gifts, and Mr. Sutherland feelingly replied, thanking the donors.

LONG WHARF DREDGING FINISHED ON EAST SIDE

Dredge Beaver has completed to the satisfaction of Fred Condon, C. E., of Moncton, representing T. C. Burpee, Esq., of maintenance of I. C. Ry., the dredging at east side of Long wharf.

A great deal of work has been done in the short time since the Beaver went there, and under great difficulties, as the steamers were coming and going about all the time. During the three weeks that the dredge was working, the berth was only vacant three and a half days, and most of the work had to be done at near low water. The whole of the length of the dock, 552 ft., was deepened about four feet and widened about twenty-five feet. The entrance, which was a menace to the docking of steamers, is now in fine condition; also, when holding scows alongside of steamers, there is ample width for two abreast without catching on the bank. Steamers of the Empress and Victorian type can be at the wharf without any fear of touching bottom.

Soundings were taken nearly each day during progress of work, by Mr. Condon and his assistant, Mr. Campbell; the final being taken by them on Tuesday afternoon, after the Beaver finished, and their report was: "Everything in A. 1 order." This is good news, and all connected with the work deserve great praise for rushing it, especially as the weather has been very stormy during the time that the work was going on.

THE THEATRES

LYCEUM STOCK CO.

Many theatre goers who have read with interest the announcements of the coming of the Lyceum Stock Company at the Opera House next Monday night, naturally will wonder how it is that the company will be able to keep their promises and still adhere to the published announcements that these splendid plays will be presented at popular prices. The management guarantee that these productions will be equal in scenic magnificence and staging, to the original, which enjoyed long and prosperous runs on Broadway in New York City. It was the intention of the Dominion Amusement Company, at the time that N. L. Jelenko was induced to organize the stock company, to secure the very best company obtainable regardless of salary, and to present the highest class plays at prices ranging from twenty-five cents to one dollar per seat. The fact that each big production involves the expenditure of hundreds of dollars before the curtain rises on the first act, means that the gross receipts must be ample, otherwise the venture would be a failure. The salary list of the Lyceum Stock Company is reputed the highest of any company sent out of New York this season. H. C. Aiken, who designs and paints the gorgeous scenery required, is said to be the best paid scenic artist in the country. Nevertheless A. O. Skinner, of the Opera House, was of the opinion that what the patrons wanted was the highest class of productions at prices ranging from fifteen cents to fifty cents, and the Dominion Amusement Company agreed to his views, and consequently theatre goers will be given an opportunity of witnessing "The Charity Ball," one of the greatest plays ever written, at these low prics on Monday evening.

DEVIL'S AUCTION COMING

G. A. Kennedy, the preliminary agent of Chas. H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction," arrived in town today on business appertaining to the early announcements of the forthcoming engagement of that famous spectacle at the Opera House, April 16th and 17th.

PICTURE SHOW TONIGHT

The world-famed English Cineograph Co., moving pictures and illustrated songs, will be the attraction at the Opera House tonight, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon. The company bring a whole array of new films and popular songs.

THE VAUDEVILLE THEATRE

A visit to the "vaudeville" last evening would have convinced the most sceptical that vaudeville has come to the city to stay. The show, as already reported, is first class and is attracting unusually large crowds at both performances daily. It is somewhat hard to draw attention to any one act that calls for special praise. Every "turn" deserves the hearty receptions given. If vaudeville is missed this week a good show will be missed indeed.

BOURASSA'S MOTION RULED OUT OF ORDER

OTTAWA, April 4—Mr. Bourassa's motion calling upon Mr. Fowler to name the members referred to in his wine, women and graft speech, and to either specify or withdraw his charges with the alternative of standing censured by the house was ruled out of order in parliament yesterday.

Mr. Bourassa appealed from the ruling of the chair which was sustained by 104 to 37. The government voted for the decision, and the conservatives against it. The following conservatives voted to sustain the chair: Lancaster, Hughes, Morin, Crocket, Wright, of Muskoka.

BIG DEMAND FOR HELP.

The calls for office helpers are being received at the Employment Bureau of The Currie Business University, Ltd., at the rate of five per day with offers ranging from $300 to $1000 salary.

If there are any ambitious trained helpers who would like an advance in salary the opportunities are now open. This school has a reputation for delivering a higher standard of help than has hitherto been obtainable. Its system of training the student to account for every minute of time cannot be excelled.

HAMM AND CAMPBELL.

Frank N. Hamm wishes to state that as far as the second of the series of races to have been held between W. H. Campbell and himself being called off is concerned, he knew nothing whatever about it, until he read The Telegraph of April 3, and wishes it stated that there was no disagreement last Thursday night that he is aware of. Campbell's idea of there being a scratch race in a series, he says is absurd, as all lovers of roller skating prefer a race from opposite sides. Hamm says he will be pleased to meet Campbell in the Queen's Rollaway, April 6, Saturday.

It will be of interest to note that William J. Magee, the popular Charlotte street butcher, has opened a fish department in connection with his already extensive business and the new premises, which are next door to the meat department, are of an elaborate and up-to-date nature. Mr. Magee, who at one time for six years was employed in Patterson's fish market, is entirely familiar with all the requisites for the carrying on of an up-to-date fish business. All the facilities in the new store are of the most modern type, and Mr. Magee has left no stone unturned to satisfy fully the demands of the public. Mr. Magee has secured the services of a competent assistant in the person of Thomas Merriman, and has two teams continually engaged to deliver the best of goods to any part of the city. His telephone number is 1290.

The last of a series of entertainments being given by the Women's Art Association, will take the form of a tea and reception to be held tomorrow afternoon at 140 Union street, from 4 until 6, instead of in the evening. A programme has been arranged in which Miss Franklyn Gale will give a reading. Those holding course tickets will be admitted without cards of invitation.

The Nonplus Vaudeville Company that has been giving entertainments in St. Philip's church, are going to give one of their best selections tonight in their church. Admission 10 cents. Come one, come all.

The Strolling Tramps from the Empress of Britain, consisting of Messrs A. Korff, W. Graham, L. Johnston, D. McKenzie, G. Prentice, W. Meadows, B. McGarry and J. Quinn, gave an excellent entertainment in the Seaman's Mission last night. Upon the next trip of the Britain the Strolling Tramps will give a concert in Carleton City Hall in aid of the Seaman's Mission building fund.

THE HIGHWAY ROBBERY CASE

Adjournment Taken to Consider Admissibility of Policeman Crawford's Evidence.

Some important evidence was brought to light in the highway robbery case which came up in the police court yesterday afternoon, when the examination of William Golding and Joseph London, charged with stealing a satchel from Mrs. J. Hamblet Wood, was taken up.

John Beckwith stated that Golding told him he had a watch, a satchell and a $10 bill belonging to his father. David O'Keefe and Dennis Murphy were also sworn and told of London spending money on Saturday and of a trip out the road on that night.

Policeman Crawford was still under examination when adjournment was made, that Judge Ritchie might consider the objection of counsel to the portion of Crawford's evidence relative to Golding's alleged confession. Mr. Mullin objected on the ground that inducement had been held out to Golding to confess as shown by Crawford's evidence and he cited authorities in support of his objection.

Adjournment was made until Monday afternoon when his honor will announce whether Crawford's evidence as to the alleged confession is admissible.

THE CARPENTERS' STRIKE

As has been heretofore stated the carpenters' trouble has taken the form of a struggle between the carpenters' and boss carpenters about the closed shop, and at last night's meeting the union took means to enforce their interests.

Tuesday's issue of this paper stated exclusively that a business agent would be appointed at $2.50 per day, whose duty it would be to visit personally all the carpenters and also to report union men who worked with non-union men. Last night W. L. Fraser was appointed to that position and he began work this morning. Fines will be imposed on all union men who work with non-union carpenters.

President Breen speaking of the stand taken by Clark & Adams said that as long as no union men worked for them they would not interfere with them in any way. He said, however, that the work would have to be finished by the contractors in a short time and they will have to hire union men and then they will make their own terms. Mr. Clark, however, said, when asked, that he can get all the non-union men that he will require.

THE ELLIOTT MURDER

TORONTO, April 4—(Special)—Four Italians, who were to meet Edward Elliott, the murdered man, with a handcar at Port Credit, were examined yesterday but their evidence threw no light on the murder. They said they had nothing to do with it and the inquest was adjourned without getting much information.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE

FREDERICTON, April 4—When the house resumed yesterday afternoon Mr. Maxwell continued his address in the debate. He dealt with the financial position of the N. B. Coal and Railway co. He claimed that the government should call a halt in the giving of railway subsidies and said that Nova Scotia, with a greater population and richer mining resources, had given a smaller amount in railway subsidies than New Brunswick. Turning to the schools of the province he made an eloquent plea for more money for school teachers.

He also dealt with the public debt. The debate was continued by Messrs. Copp, Burns, Morrison and Murray, and the motion to go into supply without a division, was carried.

The man who pities himself always is pitiable.
