SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

FREDERICTON.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Fredericton at the book-store of W. T. H. Fenety and by James H. Hawthorne.]

MARCH 20.—On Friday morning last a very merry party left town for a picnic day at the sugar camp of Mr. Byron McNally. Leaving town about 10 o'clock they arrived at the residence of Mr. Benj. Long, Kingsclear, in time for dinner, where they were welcomed by mine host Long, and after regaling the inner man started for a tramp across the ice to the sugar camp of Mr. Byron McNally. They soon had a large pot of the sap boiling and each of the party being armed with a "lick-stick," as I believe it is called in sugar camp parlance. Those present were the Misses Randolph, Miss Blair, Miss Bessie Babbitt, Miss Winslow, Miss Poweys, Miss Clark, Miss Street and Miss Milliken; the gentlemen—Messrs. Geo. Blair, W. Chestnut, W. Porter, A. Porter, Schofield, Van Thorne, Smith, and Prof. Hatt.

The return to the city was accomplished by 8 o'clock, all speaking in the highest praise of Mr. McNally and mine host Long. Mr. McNally's sugar camp is, I understand, the largest in York county, containing as it does 1,600 trees and when in operation with all the trees decorated with tin sap cans, glancing in the morning sun, it is really a sight worth seeing.

A mandolin solo by Miss Blanche Tibbits "Estudinatina" received an encore, and she responded with "Blue Bells of Scotland." Mrs. Harrison, who made her first appearance before a Fredericton audience, sang Mattie's "Grand Valse de Concert," which simply brought down the house. MARCH 29.—The managers of the C. C. rink managed to carry through a very successful skating carnival on the evening of the 24th inst., when the greatest variety of costume ever seen in Campbellton was displayed, and the monotony of the skaters was relieved by the exciting race between Messrs. Dingee of St. John, and Fred Copeland of Miramichi, in which the latter was proud to carry off the honors. The rooms were beautifully arranged, and the red shades of the many lamps cast a rich glow on the forms promenading to the music of the orchestra. Among so many fair ladies it would be invidous to particularize, but I could not fail to notice the handsome dresses of the Misses Hattie and Jennie Black, and Miss Mabel Ayer of the town, and Miss Jean Bruce, Miss Lena Keith, Miss Alice McEvan, Miss Mary North, and Miss Nellie Palmer, of the College. The event which has long been looked forward to with dread by the young ladies of Sackville has happened at last. DORCHESTER.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Dorchester at George M Fairweather's store.]

MARCH 29.—Dorchester is looking up. I hear that some of our public minded citizens, styling themselves the "Town Improvement association," are now engaged in establishing an enterprise which is to furnish us with water and fire service, electric light, public park, and free lunch counter, at least, and all entirely free of expense to the towns folk! This is verily a commendable undertaking, though I understand that the means to this desired end will be of a nature that piously minded people may disapprove. The enterprise is, I believe, to take the form of a gigantic lottery, with money drawings, as in the similar concern in Quebec; one half the gross receipts to be returned in prizes and one half the net profits to be handed to a committee of citizens for the purpose above mentioned Tickets will be placed on sale in Canada and the United States, and already the promoters have received assurance of a large demand.

Apart from all questions of morality, the greatest objection to the scheme seems to be that unless the lottery is authorized by parliament, the managers are liable to heavy fine for each ticket, a fact which might lead to a serious shrinkage in the profits. However, our town is sorely in need of improvement in many respects, and now that the hotel is likely to be au fait accompli there is more need than ever for fire services, and the other blessings of civilization. I, for on , shall not be too hasty to condemn any undertaknig which may supply our needs in that respect, even though some may consider it a trifle "shady."

There are a few strangers in town, but owing to Lent and other reasons there is an utter dearth of parties or anything in the social line. The guild of Trinity church meets every Monday night, and that is the greatest height of dissipation to which we attain.

I omitted to say last week that Mrs. Shreve had returned from her long visit to Boston. Miss Laura's many friends will be glad to hear that she returns to Dorchester in May or June.

Mrs. C. F. Hanington, of Moncton, with her two children, is visiting Mrs. Hanington.

On Sunday afternoon the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Teed was baptized by Rev. J. Roy Campbell, receiving the name of "Hugh Mariner." After the ceremony the immediate friends and relatives returned to the house where coffee, cake and the baby—were passed around.

Rev. J. Roy Campbell went to St. John on Monday to return this evening.

Mr. H. C. Hanington of Moncton, spent Sunday at home.

Mr. A. H. Hanington of St John, and Mr. J. H. Murray of Shediac, were here yesterday on business.

Mr. T. B. Lavers, of St. John, was also in town.

Mrs. Hanington's friends were congratulating her on Monday, upon the supposed appointment of Mr. Hanington to the Bench, but the rumor seems to have been slightly previous. This is a world of uncertainty, and you can't always tell from where you sit! THYSME.

SUSSEX.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Sussex by R. D. Boal and S. H. White & Co.]

MARCH 30.—Like as the ripples caused by a stone's fall in a still pond recede and become fainter, so the wave of gaiety has gradually diminished till this week I am left without a single party to describe or social event of any kind to note. But this quiescent state has its own advantages, as it is the best time for reflections both in the pond and also our lives. However, it does not last long, for already I hear rumors of approaching festivities after Easter, one of which, if report speaks true, will be a ball given by the young men.

Master Percy Hallett spent a few days in Hampton last week.

Miss Carr, who has been spending the winter in Montreal, is now at the Knoll.

Mrs. Steeves, of Coverdale, with her son, Master Bourque, spent two or three days last week with her sisters, Mrs. F. E. Morton and Mrs. Vaughan.

MONCTON.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Moncton at the bookstore of W. H. Murray, Main street, and on the streets by J. E. McCoy.]

MARCH 30.—If the way of the transgressor is hard, surely the way of the society correspondent is not only rocky in the extreme, but beset with pitfalls, since professors of rhetoric, elocution, grammar and English literature are rising up on all sides, who seem to consider the Moncton correspondent of PROGRESS sufficiently important to justify them in spending a large portion of their time, which cannot be very valuable, in copying out long extracts from it for some of the local papers. I have not yet been assailed, but my esteemed contemporary "Astra" has already suffered the extreme penalty at the hands of people who are unversed in the mysteries of quotation points, and who do not know a latin phrase when they see it; so it is impossible to tell whose head may be the next to fall upon the block, and it will be wise for me to tread in an exceedingly straight and narrow pathway, lest I too fall into the hands of the Philistines. There is very little to report in the shape of social gaiety, no one seems to have time for anything of the kind just now, but matters will "look up" by Easter I hope.

I have only heard of two entertainments during the past, one the cantata of Ruth the Moabitess which was given by the baptist choir in the Frst baptist church on Wednesday evening, and which was most successful, the attendance being very large in spite of the storm. Mr. J. D. Steeves, conductor and manager of the entire entertainment, is to be congratulated upon the success of his arduous undertaking. At the close of the cantata the choir received an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. S Crandall to an oyster supper at their residence on Pleasant street, where the evening was very pleasantly concluded

The other entertainment was a concert given in the Opera house on Monday evening, by the pupils of the Halfax School for the Blind. As the concert was free, it is needless to say that the Opera house was crowded to the doors long before the hour of opening, because Moncton people are celebrated for their liberality in patronizing free entertainments. But everyone who attended was delighted, not only with the musical part of the programme, but also with the wonderful display of knowledge in the most intricate branches of arithmetic, as well as in geography and reading, made by these children of perpetual darkness.

Amongst the many changes that have been made in the Moncton branch of the Bank of Montreal during the last few months, the most recent has been the transfer of Mr. A. E. Taylor, son of Mr. Ezekiel Taylor, to the Halifax branch. I regret to add that Mr. Taylor has been prevented by a very severe attack of grippe from assuming his new duties, but hope that he will soon be convalescent. We shall be sorry indeed to lose another of "our boys" and so popular a one as Mr. Taylor, but still it is promotion for him, so it would be selfish to repine too much and we will all join in wishing him every happiness and prosperity in his new home

Mr. L. Stubbing of Halifax, who has been appointed to the vacancy in the Moncton office, arrived in town on Friday, and entered upon his duties at once.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Archibald left town on Saturday, to spend a week or ten days in New York.

Miss McMonagle of Sussex, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Borden, returned home on Thursday.

Rev. W. B. Hinson, whose health has been failing lately from too close attention to his work, left town yesterday morning for Halifax, to take steamer for England, where he will spend a three months' vacation. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Clifford Robinson. Mr. Hinson preached a farewell sermon to his congregation on Monday evening, the church being crowded almost to suffocation. His Moncton friends hope most sincerely that his trip may result in a complete restoration to health.

The numerous friends of the Hon. D. L. Hanington, in Moncton, as well as elsewhere, will rejoice very sincerely over his appointment to the vacant judgeship. Mr. Hanington has served his country well and faithfully for years, and I think the general opinion will be that he has only received his just reward.

On Monday Dr. C. A. Bradley received the sad news of his father's death, which took place at the homestead in Haverhill, Mass. Dr. Bradley left town by the evening train to attend the funeral.

Mr. Sanderson, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at St. John, was in town Saturday.

Mr. Edward May, mechanical foreman of the I. C. R., and Mr. David White, master car builder, left town for Ottawa on Thursday night, having been summoned on official business.

Speaking of the I. C. R. reminds me that very encouraging accounts of Mr. John Galt's health came from Florida, where, it will be remembered, he is at present sojourning on account of bronchial trouble, which had threatened to become serious. I am very glad to say that the present indications point to a speedy recovery and return.

I regret to say that the Hon. James Ryan, president of the legislative council, is reported to be so seriously ill that his friends are greatly alarmed. Miss Ryan left on Monday evening to nurse her father.

The churchgoing people of Moncton had a most unpleasant surprise on Monday evening when they found, on coming out of church, that all the electric lights were out, and the city wrapped in darkness and mud. A broken wire was the cause, and the effect was most unpleasant, as the streets were unusually muddy and the gutters filled with very slightly frozen water. The damage was speedily repaired and the lights burning again by nine o'clock, but unfortunately that was too late to be of much comfort to the worshippers who had all reached home by that time. CECIL GYWNNE.
