THE HERALD.

FREDERICTON, FEBRUARY 2, 1895.

THE SAME OLD DOSE.

The puerility of the Opposition mind was never better displayed than in the Assembly debate which closed last night with another wipe-out for the aggregation led by Dr. Stockton. The opening speeches in the debate and Dr. Stockton's amendment to the address will be found in our legislative report. The Opposition leader sought to cram it down the members' throats, that his little amendment was a very harmless affair, not by any means a want of confidence motion, but just a little resolution to set the Board of Works right. But the men he was talking to are not so green as Dr. Stockton seems to be, and they knew he was simply trying to deceive them. Mr. Phinney wrought himself into quite a state of excitement over the Carleton county election, apparently failing to recognize that it is possible for a government to display an amount of magnanimity to a disabled foe. Possibly Mr. Phinney would not have done so.

But it is not our purpose to follow the different speakers in the debate. It was idle and absurd for Dr. Stockton to ask the Assembly to pronounce on the suspension bridge business when the house is not in possession of one iota of the evidence taken in the investigation. When the Chief Commissioner's report is submitted would have been the proper time for the opposition leader to bring his resolution up, but the learned Doctor was so swelling with it, that he could contain himself no longer. We hope he's satisfied with his attempt to mislead the house. When the vote was taken last night, he had eight supporters, a little over one-fifth of the house. Dr. Stockton is a great leader, Mr. Phinney is a great lieutenant, and altogether the opposition is a wonderful party, leading nowhere, and getting there with both feet.

AFRAID TO FACE HIS CONSTITUENTS

The Liberals of New Brunswick have drawn first blood in the Dominion contest, which may now be regarded as fairly opened. The announcement is made that Hon. G. E. Foster will not seek reelection in Kings county, being unwilling to face certain defeat in his old constituency. The excuse is given that the Finance Minister's health is so poor that he is not able to canvass so large a constituency as Kings, and that he may seek a seat in either York or St. John. The hollowness of this excuse is apparent to everybody. The fact is Mr. Foster has made such a miserable representative that his friends in Kings have become tired of him and want another man. Besides this only gross corruption of the electorate saved him from defeat last election, and he knows that another contest would mean his extinction. If Mr. Foster comes to York he will discover it to be a large county and a harder one to canvas than Kings. Possibly he is counting on election by acclamation, but THE HERALD thinks it can promise him as lively a time as he has ever experienced in his life. Mr. Foster's desertion of Kings is a confession of Conservative weakness all over New Brunswick, and ought to nerve the Liberals to an active, aggressive and successful campaign. They have won a victory already in scaring Mr. Foster out of Kings, and let this advantage be promptly followed up by organization and nomination of candidates in every constituency in the province.

MOWATT ON TOP.

Since the general local elections in Ontario in June last there have been three local bye-elections in that province, and Sir Oliver Mowatt's party has won every one of them, redeeming the three seats from the Conservative opposition. London was vacated by the appointment of Hon. W. R. Meredith to the chief justiceship, and Mr. Hobbs, Liberal, carried the seat for Mowatt by a good majority. In Kingston, Dr. Smythe, Conservative, was unseated, and on Monday last Hon. Mr. Harty, Mowatt's minister of public works, who was defeated in June, carried the election by nearly five hundred majority. In Algoma, Savage, Conservative, was also unseated, and now that constituency returns Conmee, a Mowatt supporter, by a large majority. These substantial gains place the Ontario Premier safe beyond the machinations of the Conservatives and Patrons. He has a clear majority of straight Liberals over all other parties, and will rule the roost in Ontario for another four years.

THE judical committee of the privy council have allowed the appeal of the Manitoba Roman Catholics which, to put it briefly, means that the Dominion government are possessed of power to grant the Roman Catholics of Manitoba remedial legislation for the support of their separate schools, abolished in 1890, when the Manitoba school act was passed, doing away with all but state schools. The scene of the conflict in this connexion will hereafter be on the floor of the house at Ottawa, and the government sincerely wish that they had the matter off their hands.

Mark Godin of Bathurst, was instantly killed on the Sydney and Salisbury railway Wednesday. He jumped on the foremost flat car for the purpose of pulling out a pin from the coupling on the engine in order to connect it with the car, lost his balance and fell in front of the locomotive, which passed over him, severing his head from his body.

Six hundred women appeared before the judiciary committee of the Maine legislature Thursday afternoon, to plead for woman suffrage in municipal elections. It was the greatest concourse of femininity ever known in the state, and the state house was filled to overflowing by the throng.

The adult suffrage bill has been carried for South Australia, giving all women the right to vote on the same terms as men, and with no barrier to a seat in parliament. The bill now only wants the Queen's consent.

The cab which conveyed Sir Mackenzie Bowell to the station at Belleville, Monday morning upset in a drift. Sir Mackenzie's head was slightly cut with the glass.

The Nova Scotia legislature opened Thursday and F. A. Laurence, of Truro, was elected Speaker.

HAZING IN TORONTO.

A Freshman Tells of an Extraordinary State of Affairs in Trinity College.

A startling revelation of affairs at Trinity College, Toronto, has been made and hazing is said to be carried on in that seat of learning to a disgraceful extent.

A freshman was humiliated by a senior on the college grounds the other day in presence of a newspaper man, and after the senior had passed on the freshman unburdened his mind.

"Why didn't you punch his head?" asked the scribe, as the senior walked off.

"And get the tar knocked out of me tonight," was the rejoinder. I guess you don't know Trinity. If I knocked that pup down do you know what would happen? I would be fired into a cold bath or have to run the gauntlet, or beg his pardon kneeling on a table before the whole outfit, or something just as pleasant. You outsiders look upon Trinity as a hall of learning. So it is, a freshman learns what it is to be bullied by a gang who would make the place too hot for him if did not submit. If you think that Kingston is the only place in Canada where they haze, you are wide of the mark."

A few questions brought out the story of a condition of things at Trinity of which the authorities are evidently unaware. "You see," said the youth, "a fellow does not have any chance of rebelling. All the pluck is knocked out of him the first week he is in the residence. The first night I got there, I was in my room with a couple of other freshmen, when a howling mob of hoodoos came rushing in and raised Cain. They hustled and hammered us first, and then began to ask fool questions and made us make asses of ourselves. They thought it funny. 'What is your name?' asked one. I told him. 'You're a liar,' he said, 'that is my name. How dare you call yourself by my name. Beg my pardon.' I told him to go and hang himself, but I was sorry for it. I was kicked, cuffed and jostled until I did not know myself. Then I was told to get on a table and sing. I saw it was no use, there were a dozen of them, so I got up. They yanked the table and I came down hard and was told I was beastly drunk and was hustled some more. I stood it as well as I could—far better than one of the other fellows. He had opened his trunk and one of the brats turned it upside down and went through his things, throwing his clothing right and left. The fellow put up with it until the cad got hold of a photograph of the freshman's sister and made an indelicate remark. That made the freshy mad and he hauled off and knocked the senior down. Then there was a row. Two or three piled into the freshman, while the others held us back, and when they got through with him he was a pretty sight.

"Two of them held him down and the man he struck poured water on him to cool him off. When they left us they soaked every bed in the room."

Other indignities were related as having been heaped upon the freshmen. On being asked why the authorities did not interfere, the speaker said "They're asleep. The don't think it is as bad as it is. If a man can't study they put it down to laziness. Besides they are always out of the way. It will go on till some fellow gets seriously done up and then there will be a Plummer case.

THE OTHER SIDE.

The authorities of Trinity college say there is no truth in the hazing story. The dean of the college when seen said to a Star correspondent: "I may just as well say at the commencement that it was an indignant young freshman who first brought the story to my notice. He was indignant that any such statements should be made regarding his seniors.

"There may be little things it," the dean continued, "grossly exaggerated, but I can say the general feeling in the college between seniors and freshmen is of the friendliest character. I should be sorry to see the subject become one of general newspaper discussion, because it calculated to misguide and prejudice people against this university. It is hard to give a direct negative to the whole of the story, because it would seem to me, to have been compiled from anecdotes told in the corridors of Trinity for the last five years and not written from the statement of a student.

"Of course, in Trinity we do not encourage tale bearing, but I am confident that if such disturbances as described occurred, I would have heard of them, and if any freshman were to make his grievances known, I am sure the whole opinion of the college would be against any such conduct as described. As a matter of fact the most friendly relations exist between the seniors and juniors."

Springfield.

JAN. 21.—The weather is exceptionally fine and the roads good.

Quite a few of our neighbors are lumbering. Howland Brothers are doing excellent work, as is also C. Love.

Mrs. Alexander and son, of Fredericton Junction are visiting Mrs. Alexander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Timmins.

Mrs. Jas. Whited and Miss Dora, of Staple Settlement, were visiting friends here last week.

A number of our young people, taking advantage of the facilities the recent crust afforded for coasting, formed a party one evening last week. They spent a most enjoyable time with their sleds until a late hour, when they adjourned to the home of J. Howland. There another hour was whiled away with music, after which refreshments were served, and all went home, contemplating a repetition of the enjoyment.

We are sorry to hear that John Timmins lost a fine four-year-old colt last week. It died from the effects of a bad cold.

Lower Prince William.

JAN. 29th.—A missionary concert will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday evening.

Rev. T. S. Vanwart of Carleton county made a short visit to his friends here last week.

Wm. Body's family, who have been ill with scarlet fever, are better. Mr. Body has improved his grist mill by putting in steam during the winter, by which he will be able to accommodate the public at any time of year.

Josiah Lawrence is confined to the house through illness.

J. W. Smith, of the Prince William House, is shipping bark from Harvey to Boston.

Miss Minnie Hoyt has returned home from the city.

Miss M. Wheeler is spending the winter in Calais, Me.

Brockway.

JAN. 21st.—The weather is all that could be desired, and in this vicinity the sleighing is beautiful.

R. C. Barnes, travelling in the interest of Messrs. Geo. S. DeForest & Sons of St. John, spent Sunday as the guest of Wellington Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Vail are feeling happy over a certain recent event. It is a boy.

Miss Lucy Reid of Oak Bay has been visiting with Mrs. A. H. Libby the past two weeks. She returns home today.

T. A. Sullivan, of Bonny River, paid us a flying visit last week.

Mrs. S. Vail is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Theodore Nutter, at Oak Bay.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Social, Personal and General Occurrences of the Week.

CRISP AND TO THE POINT.

L. A. Currey and his bride, of St. John, were among the guests at the Queen this week.

The Queen hotel and Barker house have been crowded with visitors all the week.

James Keliher, father of John Keliher, butcher, died Tuesday at the advanced age of 82 years.

City Council meeting, next Tuesday evening; curlers' monthly meeting, Wednesday evening.

M. McDade, the efficient official reporter in the legislature, is in his place again this session.

D. W. Hoegg and Co. have decided to rebuild their canning factory here, and will soon commence work on it.

Miss Belle Crowe, of Truro, who spent some weeks here in the autumn, has gone to Hamilton, Bermuda, for her health.

Dr. Stockton, Dr. Alward and A. C. Smith, M. P. P's., of St. John, are stopping at W. W. Long's, St. John street.

The bachelor's dance at the Springhill hotel Tuesday evening was a great success, Mr. and Mrs. Gunn catering to the party in their usual excellent style.

M. Tennant's many friends are pleased to see him around again after his painful attack of rheumatism, which confined him to his home for more than a week.

John Edgecombe & Sons, carriage and sleigh manufacturers, have received an order from Antigua, West Indies, for a Gladstone carriage, to be shipped from here via Halifax on the 1st March.

Mrs. John J. Fraser has had sent to the Victoria hospital a general supply of towels, and the King's daughters have donated $10 to the funds of the same institution. They also sent the matron a supply of jelly.

The absent members of the legislature are Hon. Mr. Tweedie, who is laid up, Hon. Geo. F. Hill and J. W. Y. Smith, who are travelling abroad, and Mr. Sievewright, who it is said is making preparations to be married.

Miss Marion McLeod, who for some time has been a teacher in the Model school, has resigned her position to be married, it is said, to a Dr. Taylor, and it is succeeded by Miss Clara Bridges, and Miss Grace Porter takes the latter's place.

James Kelly, of St. John, Grand Master of the Orangemen, Major Armstrong and other prominent members of the order, officially visited Graham Lodge, in this city, last night, and were afterwards banquetted by the local brethern.

Collector Street has taken rooms at W. F. Fowler's, Regent street, and his late residence, belonging to the Montgomery Campbell estate, has been sold to His Lordship the Bishop, presumably for the use of Rev. Cannon Patridge, the new sub-dean of the cathedral.

The Girl's Mission Band in connexion with the Church of England, propose holding a tea and concert in the church hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 13th, and at the close there will be a good night drill by eight little girls. Admission, ten cents; tea, twenty-five cents. An attractive programme will be presented, and the young ladies deserve a good house.

Harry Morris, a well known citizen and son of the late Thos. Morris, died Monday morning after a brief illness from internal abscess. Drs. Coburn, Crocket and McLearn performed an operation on him Sunday, but it was impossible to save his life. The deceased leaves a wife and two children. The funeral took place Wednesday and was largely attended, Rev. Dr. Brecken and Rev. Mr. Tippett conducting the services.

The Right Rev. J. A. Newman, D. D., Bishop of Moosonee, N. W. T., who is to preach at the Cathedral in this city tomorrow evening, ministers to a very large diocese. It embraces the whole of the basin of Hudson Bay, bounded on the north by the Diocese of Algoma and Ontario, and extending northward as far as human beings exist. The population may be estimated at 10,000, and consists of a small number of whites, in the service of the Hudson Bay Company, half-breeds, Eskimo and Indians. The area of this extensive diocese diocese is 600,000 miles.

Word has been received at Upper Maugerville that Ward, second son of the late John S. Brown of that place, and brother of the late Dr. T. Clowes Brown of this city, died suddenly at Mugee, New South Wales some time in October, 1894. The deceased was engaged in mining, and his death was occasioned by a fall. He and his brother John left Maugetville Aug. 3rd, 1852 when he was 26 years of age. They sailed from St. John in the brig Australia, direct for Australia, and were six months making the trip. Two brothers, Charles and Hanford, and one sister, with the brother who went with him, survive the deceased, who was unmarried.

The death occurred Thursday evening, of Mrs. George Thompson, at her home on Brunswick street, after quite a lengthy illness. The deceased lady's maiden name was Charity Slason, and she was the daughter of a former prominent Fredericton business man. Her husband, dead several years, was Geo. Thompson, for a long time a respected official in the educational office, and a citizen who held the esteem of all who knew him. Mrs. Thompson was a popular and loveable lady, a faithful wife and affectionate mother. Her death is a great blow to her family. She leaves one son, A. Slason Thompson, a well known Chicago Journalist, Mrs. Blair, wife of the Hon. A. G. Blair, premier of N. B., and the Misses Helen and Mary Thompson at home. The sincere sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

Concert at Lincoln.

In the recent concert at Lincoln to raise funds for the new Orange hall the following attractive programme was presented:

Chorus—Eight voices.....Sailing
Reading—The Deacon's Cow...J. D. Mitchell
Vocal solo—Love's Sorrow.....Miss Mitchell
Duet—Piccalo and organ.....Miss Miles and Mr. Hawkins
Reading—Tam o' Shanter.....Lewis Bliss
Instrumental.....Miss Harrison
Solo—Monte Carlo.....J. D. Mitchell
Duet—The quarrel.....Miss Miles and J. D. Mitchell
Reading.....Mr. Bliss
Song—When Shall We Meet.....Helen Miles
God Save the Queen.

Mr. Bliss was encored and responded, also Mr. Mitchell, both in his song and reading, and cheerfully gave the other selections. The duet was the star of the evening and was called for again. Miss Miles, from Amherst, N. S., rendered her solo beautifully and was called for again and again, responding by singing "Supposing" and "The Cows are in the Clover." Miss Mitchell's song, "Love's Sorrow," was a beautiful thing, and she was at her best. Taking it all through, it was a bright concert and was much enjoyed by all.

Cloverdale.

JAN. 26.—Not having seen any items in THE HERALD from this section for some time, your correspondent thought it best to drop a few lines that the outside world might know that we yet exist.

Our school has closed for the winter; whether it is the wish of the people we know not.

We have had a very pleasant winter so far, not very much snow and the roads are in fine condition.

Miss Sophy Jones, of Keswick is visiting friends here, the guest of John Orser.

Mrs. Herbert Hanson is also spending some weeks with her father, at the same place.

Mr. McKenny and Mr. Canada, of Milville, paid this place a short visit, the guests of C. Wallace.

Miss Edith Wallace, who has been spending a few weeks with friends in Caverhill, has returned home again.

There was quite a musical entertainment at John Orser's one evening this week; C. F. Jones, violin; Albert Jones, German accordian, and a blind lady from Nova Scotia, harp. There was quite a number present and all enjoyed themselves well.

There are still lots of peddlers; the latest was F. Morgan from Caverhill, with a load of tea.

Charles Wallace had the misfortune to lose a fine hog last week.

A very pleasant party found their way into James Good's camp a short time ago. Of course Charlie was along with his violin and cheered the boys by his music. The ladies think Mr. Good lucky in finding such a jolly cook, who did his share of entertaining by supplying the hungry crowd with such good beans, and afterwars some molasses candy. A very pleasant evening was spassed, when the party returned home, feeling that there are worse places than a lumber camp, and wishing them every success.

Griffith's Camp.

JAN. 22.—At present there is about two and a half feet of snow here, but we are nearly done taking out of the snow and will then commence hauling off the yards.

We have been favored with very good luck, no serious accidents to report. One man had the misfortune to give his knee a slight cut, but our worthy Dr. W. was on hand and one or two applications of his wonderful ki. ki. cure restored the wounded limb, and he is now able to be about his work as usual.

Two of our boys, thinking that there is no place like home, have departed to seek shelter under their mother's wings.

William, with his heavy weight of fourteen hundred, and two men besides himself, claims he has handled one third of the lumber, and we presume he has.

The stumpage scaler, C. Miles, made us a friendly call not long ago.

R. Blackmer, from Fredericton, was here a few nights ago with a fine display of jewelry. Some of the boys made themselves happy by purchasing a Waterbury. Our cook, who is a jolly good fellow, has hung his watch in a conspicuous place, so that every one possessing a Waterbury may correct his time at will.

Several caribou crossed the portage near our camp the other day; but the fine being in their favor, were let go scot free.

Judging from the amount of letters that are written here, some of the boys must have sweethearts at home.

For telling big ones, the boys think Ephraim claims the hat, and he is expected by spring to graduate with honors.

x

Gaspereax Station.

JAN. 29.—The weather has been much milder as a rule this winter than last.

On Saturday we had quite a snow storm. The snow is not very deep this season, but is about sufficient for lumbering.

Coun. J. H. Washburn has been attending to his municipal duties at St. Andrews.

James Lynn, caretaker of the departmental buildings, has purchased from the bridge company, the Sills property on George street immediately below the Canada Eastern track for $1,000.

A. H. Comeau, M. P. P. for Digby, has been appointed a member of the Nova Scotia government in place of Hon. Colin McIsaac, who resigned to run for parliament in Antigonish.

Ottawa has a sensation. Tuesday evening T. J. Watters, acting commissioner of customs, was arrested for misappropriating government funds to the extent of $543. He belongs to St. John.

New spring goods will soon arrive at Anderson & Walker's; be on the lookout for them.
