Poetry.

TRY AGAIN.

There is always something in the breast,
Which whispers clear and plain,
"There's work to do; why idly rest?
Up, up, and try again."

There's magic in these little words,
Which have a greater power
Than leveled guns, or flashing swords,
In danger's darkest hour;
And when they're used to prompt the right;
To soothe distress and pain,
They bear a tone of glorious might—
"Up, up, and try again!"

The little flower which lifts its head
Up to the sunlit sky,
Bowed down beneath the heavy tread,
Does not lie there and die;
There is a voice, borne by the winds,
Which vibrates o'er the plain,
And says, unheard by passing hinds,
"Up, up, and try again!"

The student, poring o'er his books,
By the dim midnight oil,
With wearied eyes and haggard looks,
Fails, but renews his toil;
The man of science, searching out
Great truth, with throbbing brain,
Says, 'mid confusion dark, and doubt,
"Up, up, and try again!"

And that should be the watchword cry
Of all the good and wise,
Together banded, sworn to dry
The mourner's weeping eyes;
To set up Love and earnest Work
Where Vice and Sloth now reign;
Though long they toil, still let them cry—
"We'll conquer—Try again!"

Selected Miscellany.

Shade Trees.

One feature which strongly characterises the American cities is shade trees—generally the soft and sugar maple—along the principal streets, giving the place in summer a cool, quiet, garden-like appearance. Ogdensburgh, Cleveland, Baltimore, and other American towns present a beautiful appearance in the summer, with their splendid great and little palaces, and private dwellings, amid the most beautiful trees. The forest birds, the robin, the Baltimore oriole, wild canary, linnets, and dun warblers there sport and sing on the trees. It is not desirable to have trees too thick, so as to keep the sun entirely from dwellings, but houses, and streets, and walks may be partially shaded. "Dinna forget to plant young trees wherever you can set them," was the last a vice of a shrewd Scotch landholder to his heir, "for they will grow while you are sleeping." So think and act thousands of individuals, who, with eye and ear attentive, are watching for gain, and thousands more who are blessed with taste and means to gratify it. Thanks to these, many a rod of the tiresome highway is metamorphosed into a pleasing scene, and many a cosy and shady home is dotted down upon the checkered and sun-burned face of nature. If private individuals find it profitable and pleasurable thus to adorn their residences, why should not the land which is jointly ours—the street and the lane—be beautified and improved? Good old forest tree! it is fast passing away, and the best tribute of regard we can pay to its decaying grandeur is to give it a thousand heirs to whom it may bequeath its graceful outline and stately base. It has been truly said that any upstart can build a fine house but he cannot build the old oaks. Every year that we neglect to adorn our pent-up squares, broad thoroughfares, and suburban drives, we are wasting the time that the vigorous shoots might be rooting themselves more and more firmly in the ground: we are leaving ourselves to endure one more season of sun-scorched walks, and are suffering in our own judgment, that which condemns our wanton neglect. We may defer the decorative buildings which, like Aladdin's palace, shoot up in a single night, and repair our neglect of the mush-room ornament at our will or our leisure—but who will manufacture the stately shade trees? Who will invent a grateful coolness and refreshing air, which shall envelope our houses and invigorate ourselves. —[Building News.

THE "ANGEL GABRIEL" DEAD.—John Sayers Orr died in prison, in Demarara, in November, aged 35 years. Orr was an Englishman by birth, but spent many years in this country. He imagined himself the Angel Gabriel, and went about with a small horn, the sounding of which gave the signal for the assembling of his congregation. In Demarara, by his fierce abuse of the Portugese, and artful appeals to the passions of the blacks, he succeeded in stirring up an insurrection among the negroes, which soon assumed so serious an aspect, as to demand the active interference of the government. In February of last year, troops and vessels of war were despatched to the scene of the disturbance, and the revolt was suppressed—but not until the blacks had destroyed large amounts of property belonging to the Portuguese, besides several Roman Catholic Churches, and were on the point of proceeding to the commission of further acts of violence. Orr was arrested, tried and sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor. He endured this lot until November last, when disease attacked him, which ended his life.

FATHER MATTHEW'S FUNERAL.—The funeral of the Rev. Father Matthew, "the apostle of temperance," took place in Cork, on the 12th ult., and was, perhaps, the the most remarkable one ever witnessed in that city. The cortege was more than three miles long and took an hour and a half to pass any particular point. It was attended by the corporation and city officers, in mourning, by several dignitaries and clergymen of the Established Church, as well as by a vast number of the Roman Catholic clergy, with their bishop at their head, and all the Roman Catholics and a great many of the Protestant gentry of the surrounding country. It was estimated that not fewer than 50,000 people were assembled in and around the cemetery on the occasion; and the deepest sympathy was expressed by the greater number of those present, many of them shedding tears. The Roman Catholic Bishop and seventy priests officiated at the obsequies in the Catholic Church of the Holy Trinity.

SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE.—Lieutenant Maury of the National Observatory at Washington, in a lecture in New York, said, "I have always found in my scientific studies, that when I could get the Bible to say anything upon the subject, it afforded me a firm foundation to stand upon, and another round in the ladder by which I could safely ascend."

FASHION.—Fashion is a poor vocation. Its creed, that idleness is a privilege and work a disgrace, is among the deadliest errors. Without depth of thought, or earnestness of feeling, or strength of purpose, living an unreal life, substituting the fictitious for the natural, mistaking a crowd for society, finding its chief pleasures in ridicule, and exhausting its ingenuity in the expedients for killing time—fashion is among the last influences under which a human being, who respects himself or who comprehends the great end of life, would desire to be placed.—Channing.

ORDERLY PEOPLE.—There are persons who are never easy unless they are putting your books and papers in order—that is, according to their notions of the matter—and hide things lest they should be lost, where neither the owner nor anybody else can find them. This is a sort of magpie faculty. If anything is left where you want it, it is called litter. There is pedantry in housewifery, as well as in the gravest concern. Abraham Tucker complained that whenever his maid-servant had been in his library, he could not sit comfortably to work again for several days.—Hazlitt.

The New York Tribune learns from a private source that the celebrated Guizot has finally married the Princess Lieiwes, a lady not less celebrated in diplomatic and social circles. It is stated that the affair is kept secret, or rather that it is a public mystery. The princess still wears her former name, and the happy couple do not live under the same roof.

An eccentric clergyman, lately alluding in his pulpit to the subject of family government, remarked that it is often said, "That now-a-days there is no such thing as family government. But it is false, all false. There is just as much family government now as there ever was—just as much as in the days of our fathers and grandfathers. The only difference is, that then the old folks did the governing, whereas now it is done by the young ones!"

A WORD TO THE UNCLOUDED.—Never learn to smoke—shun tobacco in all its forms. It stunts the growth, when taken at too early age; it is a great promoter of indolence and inziness; it causes nervous trembling of the hands and nervous debility; it has nothing nourishing or stimulating in it, but it is merely narcotic, of which the moral and physical effects upon those who use it are of a very dubious character.—[The Builder.

MASONIC.—We are informed that letters have been received by the English mail, giving information that W. H. White, who for the past fifty years was the Secretary of the Grand Lodge of England, has resigned his office.—Kingston Whig.

A Marvellous Remedy for a MARVELLOUS AGE!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

The Grand External Remedy.

BY the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflamation of the Lungs, Asthmas, Coughs, and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes well through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.

Erysipelas, Rheumatism, and Scorbutic Humours.

No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. Scurvy, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, cannot long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its applications and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds and Ulcers.

Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumours. Professor Holloway has despatched to the East, large shipments of this Ointment, to be used in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of twenty years' standing.

Piles and Fistula.

These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

Bad Legs	Gout
Bad Breasts	Glandular Swellings
Burns	Lumbago
Bunions	Piles
Bite of Moschetoes and Sand-Flies	Rheumatism

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chief diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: YOUR CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.
HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 8, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing until Dr. Stroup, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they are unprecedented among the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, and yet sure to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the everyday complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed. For children, being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted positions and character as to defend the supposition untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of the afflicted, suffering full so much.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Habitual Constipation of the Bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Liver ills and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not seem possible they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial blindness, Chronic Inflammation of the Liver and Kidneys, Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Urinary Organs, Gravel, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ayer's Pills are sold by all dealers in surrounding cities. No other they can give for the same money have the intrinsic value or curative powers of Ayer's Pills, and if there is for them, and they should have
