LIVERPOOL AND LONDON AND GLOBE INSURANCE COMPANIES.
Incorporated 1836.
Incorporated by Special Act of Parliament.
Capital, Two Millions Sterling.
Unlimited liability of the Shareholders of the Company.
Subscribed Capital, £1,500,000.
Instalments called in, £187,500 0 0
Accumulated funds, 556,875 0 0
£744,375 0 0
Annual Income £400,000.
THE 18th annual General Meeting of this Company was held at Liverpool on the 2nd ult. when the following Report of the Proceedings of the Company during the past year was submitted:—
"The increase in the Fire Insurance Business must be satisfactory to the Proprietary, considering the rapid and safe progress that has been making. The receipts for fire duty have increased considerably over those of 1852, while the losses have materially diminished.

	1853.	1854.
Receipts,	£378,654	£412,812
Loss 4,	58,091	42,049
Profits,	£320,563	£370,763

These results show, notwithstanding the many numerous and destructive fires that have occurred both in this country and especially in America, that great caution has been exercised in taking risks, on the part of those on whom responsibility Directors must necessarily rest a great deal of confidence. The reserved fund now amounts to £142,712.
The Officers for the current year at Liverpool are:
TRUSTEES:
Sir Thomas Hesketh Bibby, Bart., M. P.

THE BATTLE OF THE ALMA.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

The Correspondent of the London Times gives the following account of

THE RUSSIAN TO THE BATTLE FIELD.

Heights of the Alma, September 19.

Late night dispatches were sent by Lord Raglan that the Guard Brigade would land at day-break, and that all transports to be sent on board the ships of the fleet. Our distance had been determined upon, and it was understood that the Russian light cavalry had been keeping the country of all descriptions up to a short distance of our lines and outlying picquets.

At three o'clock in the morning the camp was roused by the bugle, and till the 8,000 Guards landed they kept up a constant stir. The boats from the ships lines had been to remove the sick, and the French had been to remove the wounded. The French in perfection are quick, and they had arrived at the Bulgarneh camp, and had taken up their position in the rear of the allied army, extending for miles along the valley and mingling with the lights of the ships, almost anticipated the morning.

7,000 Turkish infantry under Suleiman Pacha moved along on the sea-side; next to them came the division of General Bouquet, Canrobert, Forey, and the Prince Napoleon. Our guards had landed at about four, and by the light of their left wing, and in fairly marched to covering of the fleet, which moved along with it in magnificent order.

It was nine o'clock in the morning ere the wheels of our army was prepared for marching. The country beyond the salt lake, near which we were landed, is perfectly destitute of tree or shrub, and grass alone is in abundance, and parched little were to the men whenever they halted, and several were hurry hunted down among the lines of men. All men, horses, or cattle had been driven off in the Cossacks. The sun is hard and elastic, and with excellent effect for the artillery.

After a march for an hour's half took place for fifty minutes, during which Lord Raglan, accompanied by Sir Harry Jones, Mr. Adye, Mr. Arnaud, General Bizot, Fleury, and a number of French officers, took up the foot of the column. The ground was perfectly flat, from the ground, rather elevated, and clothed from column right and left, with Russian English cheers, for the first time since. As the Russian guards the 55th Regiment was distinguished, "English, boys, you will have work to-day!" "Hurrah!" was the answer, and "Hurrah!" was the cheer of the 55th. "Hurrah!" was the cheer of the 55th. "Hurrah!" was the cheer of the 55th.
