ARRIVAL OF THE NIAGARA.

(By Telegraph to News Room.)

The "Niagara" arrived at Halifax on Wednesday evening with dates to the 27th ult. from Liverpool. Quebec and Philadelphia steamers from Liverpool on the 24th carried out intelligence that the Spanish constitution had been promulgated—that O'Donnell had tendered his resignation, which, however was incorrect—that an Anglo French fleet is really destined for the Bay of Naples, and that Russia remains firm in her intention to possess the Isle of Serpents. The British fleet remains in the Black Sea; all of which created anxiety and depressed the funds

Since the sailing of the Steamers Italian affairs have continued to excite attention, but beyond the intention to send a fleet to Naples, nothing definite has transpired. The Anglo French ultimatum being retained a few days in Paris to allow opportunity for the Neapolitan Government to make the required concessions. The contemplated expedition is of formidable character—eight steamers are provisioning at Spithead and seven British auxiliary steamers are ready to sail. The expedition is said to be very unpopular in France. Sardinia takes part in the expedition, and will send ships for the protection of Sardinia there.

Vienna letters state that English and French ministers had notified Austria of an intended expedition against Naples, to which the Vienna Cabinet interposes no obstacle. This is, however, doubtful. The Neapolitan Envoy at Vienna had resigned, cause not stated. It is understood that when the French minister leaves Naples, the Neapolitan minister will withdraw from Paris to Brussells, meantime hopes are entertained of receiving such an answer from Naples as would supersede the necessity of the fleets sailing.

The London Star of the 26th says:—"Something serious has certainly occurred to stay the Anglo-French mission to Naples, for it has not yet sailed. There is a statement that King Ferdinand has fortified his coast, and is likely to secure the enthusiasm of his army. There is another report, that if compelled to yield he will proclaim the constitution of 1848, and then present his compliments to Palmerston and Napoleon. It may be that these two eventualities are foreseen by the two men who rule France and England, or they may have heard that Naples would be supported by Austria and Russia. At all events, the game whatever it may be, does not go on well.

BRITAIN.—Lord Hardinge, late Commander-in-Chief, is dead; age seventy-one. Mr. Dallas, as guest of E. Bulwer Lytton, dined with Herts Agricultural Society, and made a speech in return to a toast of lasting concord between England and America. At a meeting of the Court of Directors of the East India Company, Mr. Sarvin moved that the annexation of Oude was an unjustifiable act of spoilation. The motion was negatived. The Gazette publishes a treaty of peace between Britain and Siam. British subjects may trade freely with all ports of Siam, but may reside only at Bangko.

FRANCE.—The Emperor and family are making the most of rural enjoyments, including bull fights.

The Paris correspondent of the "Times," alludes to the report of its being the intention of the United States to form an alliance with those who may be disposed to adopt as an article the immunity of merchant vessels and merchandise from capture in time of war, even by men of war.

SPAIN.—Madrid letters of the 19th, mention the resignation Seignor Canorer, from which probably arose the report that O'Donnell had resigned. It is announced that a council of ministers and the entreaty of the Queen's, have stopped the sale of Church property, consequently the ministerial crisis has ceased. The new Spanish Minister to France is to go to St. Petersbug on a Secret Mission, and will return to Paris in a month.

PORTUGAL.—By order of the Board of Health the Brazilian ships were sunk at quarantine, because infected by yellow fever. Cholera at Lisbon is declining.

ITALY.—The Vintage in Italy is generally satisfactory. Mace, a good crop, and rice abundant, but still unfavorable.

SWITZERLAND.—Berlin papers state that Napoleon has entered into communication with the Swiss federal Government respecting affairs of Newfchatel. Napoleon leans towards the Prussian side of the question.

BELGIUM.—International free trade Congress has been in session at Brussels.

PRUSSIA.—Bank of Prussia had raised rate of discount to 6 per cent.

DENMARK.—M. Andrage, Minister of Finance has resigned, cause not stated.

TURKEY.—The Frontier commission was at Belgrade on the 8th ult., it was expected the survey would be competed by October. The frontier line is marked off by a forrow with a plough. The Turks are fortifying both sides of the Danube with it is said, the consent of Austrian. Turkish troops have also moved from Widin to Kalafat on the left bank of the river.

GREECE.—An Athens letter says that English and French ministers had drawn up lists the new ministry, which they commanded should be appointed. The Queen refused to accept, alleging the absence of the King.

RUSSIA.—Brussells Nord has telegraphed from St. Petersburgh, stating that a net work of railways throughout Russia are granted to a mixed company, among whom are French and English capitalists. Concession is for eighty-five years, the Russian government guaranteeing 5 per cent. interest, and lines must be completed in 10 years.

PERSIA.—Differences between England and Persia are not likely to be promptly adjusted, Latest by Telegraph.—Friday.

Rise of rate of Discount in the Bank of France, and further fall of three quarters per cent. in French funds. Money in active demand. It was believed that rates of Discount would be immediately raised by the Bank of England to from 4½ to 5 per cent., at least.

LONDON, 27th, 8 30, A. M.—It is rumored at Vienna, that some Austrian ships-of-war are ordered to Naples, as a squadron of observation. The news that Sardinia intends taking a part in the expedition to Naples, is not confirmed. Breadstuffs unchanged. Deals, £9. 15s. to £10.

Christianity in the Chinese Revolution.

In the Chinese Herald, published at Shanghai, June 7, 1856, we find a very extended and elaborate letter addressed by one of the Missionaries, Mr. W. A. P. Martin, to the attorney General of the United States, setting forth the condition and principles of the great Chinese rebellion. He regards the movement as eminently Christian in its inception and progress, and on its success he founds strong hopes of the spread of true religion in China. Mr. Martin says that "latterly it has been hinted that the Insurgents are laying aside their profession of Christianity. This is however a groundless conjecture, thrown out with a design to disparage the revolution. Such an event is next to impossible in the nature of things. Christianity is so interwoven with the entire consitution of the party, that they cannot exclude it without hazarding its dissolution. The chief claims the throne by virtue of a commission from the Heavenly Father, and publishes to his people that he has achieved his most splendid victories by the help of Jesus. And it is by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost that the Eastern king pretends to guide his counsels. They cannot therefore drop these pretensions without forfeiting the semi-idolatrous reverence, with which they are regarded by their followers—they cannot abjure Christianity without invalidating every decree issued since the commencement of the revolution, and abrogating their whole political system. Indeed so zealous have the Insurgent leaders to have been in diffusing a knowledge of the rudiments of Christianity among their own followers, and so successfull in imparing their zeal, that there is not now on the face of the earth any other military body, which is so fully pervades with religious enthusiasm.

"Here on the borders of the contested region, we have frequent opportunities of meeting with those who have been with the rebels. One of my Missionary colleagues copied a hymn which contains a beautiful summary of Chrisian doctrine, from the recitation of a Ningpo man, who had been for a time detained among them; and I have myself obtained the same from two others, one a native of Nanking and the other a refugee from Chin-Kiang. The account of the practices of the Insurgents given by the latter, is so interesting that I shall relate a few particulars. Immediately on entering the city, religious tracts were put into his hands, after reading and approving of which he recieved the rite of baptism, by kneeling (in company with others) repeating the above mentioned hymn, with a doxology to the Trinity, renouncing his sins, swearing fidelity to the cause, and then washing his bosom with a towel, which they call 'cleansing heart.' The sabbath though not strictly observed, owing to the interruptions incidental to the state of war, was still distinguished from other days. On the evening ing previous, a banner was hoisted bearing the inscription 'the morrow is the day for worship, beware of disregarding it.' At day break on Sabbath morning the troops were called together for prayer, at a late hour they assembled in places called 'worshipping halls,' to hear a discouse from some officer, on their course, the certainty of success, the wickedness of idolatry and the oppression of the Tartars; or in lieu of such service, which was always accompanied by prayer, to be examined as to their acquaintance with the religious manuals of the party. Those most esteemed were, the ten commandments with notes, the ode for Youth, commencing with a brief but correct statement of christian doctrine, and concluding with the duties of the social relations; the Trimetrical classic, which after giving an epitome of the book of Genises, and a detailed account of the deliverance from Egypt, speaks of the coming of Jesus Christ to save the world, and then proceeds to describe the Mission of the 'Celestial king' to deliver China from the Tartars. Of these the narrator repeated from memory considerable portions: together with a hymn and prayers, which each soldier was expected to recite daily as a devotional exercise. Those whose hair had grown long in the service were generally the most devout, and were often seen on their knees repeating their morning prayer, while putting on their clothes; but their latter adherents, who had learned those forms by constraint, would slip away to their breakfast without prayer, unless they were observed by some officer. They were even required to say a seperate grace before meat. In times of peculiar danger they are accustomed to fall down, at any time, and in any place, and implore the Divine assistance."

The success of the insurrection, Mr. Martin contends may be useful to the cause of Christianity, but its suppression cannot be otherwise than pernicious.—N. Y. Observer.

About two years ago the Papal paper in France, the Univers, lamented that there had not been faith enough in the Papacy at the time of the Reformation to burn Luther, Calvin, and the other Reformers, as was done with Huss, Zisca, and others; and has ever since maintained that all Protestants ought to be exterminated by fire and sword; and that Popish Sovereigns were bound so to act. In the course of last year application was made to the Prefect of Montauban by the Papists to put up a statue of the Virgin, in honor to the immaculate conception, in front of the Protestant Church. The Prefect replied that if he did so it would be considered as an insult to the Protestants, and would give rise to disturbances whenever the Protestants came out of their church; and that there was no necessity for the Papists selecting that site, inasmuch as they had an eminence of their own not far off, with which they might do as they pleased. Upon this being reported to Paris that Prefect was dismissed from his post.

More Home Testimony.

BOSTON, April 18, 1852, No. 48 Union-st.

MR. SETH W. FOWLE—DEAR SIR:—A sense of gratitude prompts me to make the following statement, which is at your disposal. Your invaluable medicine, I can truly say, has literally snatched me from the grave. Last July, I was attacked by a sudden cold, which resulted in a very severe cough, with violent pains in the side and chest. From that time, I began to waste away, notwithstanding I was under the treatment of skilful physicians. I become so much reduced, that my friends frankly told me that I must die. At this crisis I heard of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and immediately sent for a bottle. The effect produced was indeed wonderful. My physician, one of the most respectable in Boston, who had previously told me that a cure was hopeless, came in, and I informed him what I had taken. He examined the Balsam, and advised me to continue the use of it, since which time I have continued to improve daily: and the same physician who had given me up, told me a few days since that I might yet live many years.

Respectfully, MARY ROWE.

We can cheerfully testify to the truth of the above statement, Mrs. Rowe having been an inmate of our family for some months past.

Many who suffer from Headache and Nervous Debility, are ignorant that the real cause, in most instances, is a deranged state of the stomach and digestive functions. The Oxygenated Bitters are peculiarly adapted to the cure of these symptoms.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN OUTDONE.—Mrs. M. N. Guardner, whose biography lies open before us, has certainly been a Good Samaritan on earth, and the Indian maiden, Nahmeonitah, can never be forgotten as the compounder of the celebrated Indian Balsam of Liverwort and Hoarhound which is saving thousands in our midst, doomed victims of Consumption or sufferers from severe Colds and Coughs, Asthma, Croup and Bronchitis. This pleasant medicine has great and sovereign virtues, and should be early employed in all cases of Lung complaints. It is for sale everywhere. Physician's Testimony in favour of Fellows' Worm Lozenges.

SALISBURY, 30th July, 1856.

MESSRS. FELLOWS & Co., St. John.

Gentlemen:—I have examined your Worm Lozenges, and have become acquainted with their effects as an anthelmentic, and have much pleasure in recommending their use, as a safe and effectual remedy for Worms, and I fully believe that their employment as such will give satisfaction.

Your's respectfully,
W. S. FOSHAY, M. D.

☞MORE PROOF!—The REVEREND MR. JACKSON, Baptist Clergyman, writing from St. Martins, in reference to the Worm Lozenges, says:

MESSRS. FELLOWS & Co.,—Gents.—It affords me great pleasure in saying that I have known in my own family and in the families of others, wonderful effects produced in the destruction of worms, by your Worm Lozenges, and I can certify most conscienciously that I believe them to be the most effectual remedy that has ever been invented for the removal of worms from the human stomach, and I hope, Gentlemen, in presenting such a valuable medicine to the world, that you may receive large patronage from the public in general.

I remain, Sirs, Yours Truly,
WELLINGTON JACKSON.

St. Martins, N, B., August 15, 1856.

P S.—If you would write to Deacon ROBERT FLOYD, of Tynemouth Creek, he would give you a most thrilling account of their effects in his own family, and also those of his neighbors. It would be well worth your trouble to ascertain just what he knows of their effects. Yours, &c.,
