

led at Gavid, (on the south side of the Tagus) opposite to Abrantes, commanded by Major General Hill.

Gen. Beresford's head-quarters was at Vizan, [in the province of Beira] his force, all Portuguese, consisted of 24,000 foot, and 40,000 horse, regulars and about 16,000 militia.

The French and combined armies, on the 10th June, were about 6 leagues distance from each other, separated by rivers and mountains.

The head-quarters of Massena, three leagues distant from Ciudad Rodrigo, the whole French army now on the frontiers of Portugal, is said to consist of between 70 and 80,000.

Massena, General in Chief. The other Generals are Loison, Junot, Ney, and Regnier, the latter is before Badajoz with a division of the Grand Army consisting of 12,000 men.

The day the Herschel came to sea, part of the convoy of British transports (with troops on board) arrived, the remainder were hourly expected.

We have accounts from Cadiz down to the 11th June. The Isle continued to be defended with vigor and skill; and the shot of the French were returned with spirit. The allied defenders were not in want of any thing. The city was crowded, and some of the useless mouths had been shipped off. No fears of the subjugation of the city for many months were entertained. The old Marshal Duke of Danzig (Lefebvre, a most excellent engineer) commanded in front of Cadiz.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of this town, dated Smyrna, February 16, 1810.

"About midnight I experienced a considerable shock of an earthquake, and while at dinner next day the shock was twice repeated. I have since learned that the same earthquake was felt in all its terrific force, in the Island of Candia (the ancient Crete)—That the greater part of the city of Candia, and all its fortifications, are entirely destroyed, and a destructive fire raging at the same time, added to the miseries of the wretched inhabitants—that eight villages in the neighbourhood of Candia are but heaps of rubbish, and many thousand people buried in the ruins of their own dwellings, drowned in the rush of water, or perished by the fire, for it seems as if all the elements had conspired in vengeance against this unhappy Island. The olive fields are destroyed, and the most luxuriant part of this beautiful Island exhibits at present but one wide waste of ruin, devastation, and death. The earthquake has been (as letters which are received mention) felt in Cairo, Alexandria, Malta, Sicily, and in all the Islands of the Archipelago, in many of which it has thrown down houses, and done other damage."

KINGSTON, (JAM.) JUNE 9.

The very heavy rains, which have fallen during this week, have done material injury to the streets and lanes of this city; many piazzas have been completely undermined and carried away; a range of negro houses, near the gully at the east end, was almost entirely swept away on Tuesday, but the negroes who occupied them happily escaped unhurt. A negro man, in attempting to cross the gully on the Rock Fort road, was, by the strength of the current, forced down as far as Hardy's brick-kilns, a distance of at least 40 yards, and although accompanied in his dangerous voyage by large stones, branches of trees, &c. he providentially got safe out without receiving the slightest injury. The Spanish Town road, we understand, was impassable in some places on Tuesday to foot passengers, from the great quantity of water upon it.

JUNE 16.

His Majesty's brig Elk, Capt. Coghlan, from the Havannah, arrived this day. The Elk brought in with her the ship Holland, one of the Hyperion's convoy. This vessel was run away with by the crew and carried into the Havanna, they having previously murdered the Captain and mate; five of the mutineers are on board the Elk.

SAINT JOHN, August 13, 1810.

ARRIVALS SINCE OUR LAST.

Brig Margaret, M'Lauchlan, New-York; Snow Thetis, Davis, Liverpool; Brig Pandora, Ward, New-York; Schooner Messenger, Thomas, Windsor.

CLEARED—Ship Atlantic, Clarkson, London; Brig
British Union, Robson, London.

We were this morning favored with New-York papers to the 3d inst. containing London dates to the 21st of June; from them the following extracts have been hastily made.

From BOSTON, August 1.

Latest from Portugal.—The Brig Corporal Trim, Capt. Elwell, arrived yesterday at Gloucester, from Lisbon.—She sailed the 27th June.—No new events has occurred; but a general engagement between the allied English and Portuguese, and French armies, was still daily expected. She arrived just as the mail was starting, and no papers have been received in town. The English and Portuguese troops occupy stations extending from the Douro to the Tagus. The whole line is under Lord Wellington, who also commands the centre; in which the main body of the English troops are posted. The right is commanded by General Hill, whose flank extends to the Tagus, and who communicates with the Spanish force, under the Marquis Romana, at Badajoz.—Marshal Beresford commands on the left, and is flanked by the Douro, and has under him the main force of the Portuguese troops.—A French account stated, that Marshal Ney had taken Ciudad Rodrigo.
But in a Lisbon paper of the 12th June, we find a copy of a dispatch from the Spanish Commander of that garrison, to the Marquis Romana, under date of the 11th June, which says, "According to all the advices which have been given me, it appears, that the enemy is preparing to carry on a formal siege of this place which they are surrounding; for Marshal Ney has been before the city since the day before yesterday; and on the 28th all the troops from Salamanca, and adjoining places, marched with 23 pieces of heavy artillery for this place. In fact, we observe movements in their camps which indicate unusual dispositions; and they are marking a line of circumvallation from one side of the river to the other. The only passage which remains open to us is over the bridge to the fields of Arganhan and Robledo. I have made necessary arrangements to prepare this place for a siege, and freeing it of all useless mouths and cowards who might be detrimental. I trust every thing will go well; and that we shall defend ourselves with the vigor becoming so just a cause, and the honor and patriotism by which we are animated."

LONDON, JUNE 18.

Government, it is said, have come to a final determination on the subject of the exchange of prisoners of war.—
A communication from the Transport Board was sent by a Messenger yesterday, to Plymouth, to be forwarded by a flag of truce, to Mr. Mackenzie, at Morlaix.

June 20.—Advices from Lisbon were received last night, by an arrival in sixteen days. Every thing on the frontiers appear to be in a state of quiet and inactivity.— Lord Wellington maintain the same position in Beira; and General Hill occupies, undisturbed, his advanced line of posts in the Alentejo, being within eight leagues of Badajoz, where Romana had his head quarters. The troops are in general healthy, and in good spirits. The army is obliged to depend entirely upon the supplies sent up from Lisbon and Abrantes, as the country can afford nothing.

Letters were yesterday received from Holland, dated the 16th inst. which state that licences had been granted by the Dutch Government for ships to clear out for neutral ports, on giving bonds to the amount of three times the value of the vessel and cargo.

There is a report that Swedish property has been sequestered in France and Holland, in consequence of French consuls having been refused a residence in some of the ports of Sweden, and facilities having been afforded for the admission of English merchandise into those ports.

JUNE 21.

Price of Stocks this day, at one o'clock, 3 per cent consuls shut—Omnium 3-4 to 1 prem.

The business of Parliament was finished yesterday, and this day the prorogation took place.

Yesterday Government received dispatches from Lord Wellington. No engagement had been fought so late as the 31st ult. nor had any military movement of consequence taken place on either side.

A Gottenburgh mail brings accounts from Stockholm to the 7th inst. A decree has been issued, prohibiting the importation of all colonial produce, except in vessels direct from America, into Stralsund.

LIVERPOOL, JUNE 25.—Flour from 65 to 68s. wheat
17s. and in London 18 and 6 pence.

NEW-YORK, August 2.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

On Tuesday afternoon, the fast sailing brig Tamaahmah, Capt. Story, arrived at Hurl-Gate from Liverpool, which port she left on the 24th of June, and has brought advices about 3 weeks later than before received.

George W. Erving, Esq. late American charge des affairs in Spain, came home in the above vessel, and is the bearer of dispatches from our Minister at the Court of St.
James, to the Secretary of State, and we understand will proceed with them this morning.

On the 19th of June Parliament was prorogued: Sir Francis Burdett was on that day liberated from the Tower.
There were great rejoicings amongst his partisans, and it is said a most numerous assemblage of people in the streets of London than took place when he was committed.

We do not learn whether any change in our affairs with Great-Britain had taken place: But it has been rumoured that the Emperor Napoleon, has issued a decree for the capture and condemnation of all the American property he can get hold of.

The Editors of the Mercantile Advertiser have been furnished with the following partial extracts from a file of London papers to the 22d of June.

The Tamaahmah did not bring any letters or newspapers as we are informed, excepting for the owners.

LONDON, JUNE 15.

Dutch papers arrived this morning to the 10th. They are not important. We hear of much activity in all the ports of which France has possession.

JUNE 20.

The town is now all bustle. It has been increasing since twelve o'clock, and promises an immense crowd in the course of the day. The people in the line through which the procession is to pass are shutting their shops, and the company already assembling to take their stations on the balconies and at the windows. Bands, with marrow bones and cleavers, with blue cockades, and mottoes, complimentary to the Baronet, are parading the streets. About one o'clock, a party of about 500 from Soho, with blue cockades and colours flying, proceeded down Catherine-street and the Strand, for the city. They marched two and two, and invited every passenger whom they met to join them. At Catherine-street they were met by the 12th Light Dragoons, on their way to Hyde Park corner. The music of the former was playing St. Patrick's Day. The band of the Dragoons immediately struck up "God save the King."—The 24th Light Dragoons have followed the 12th; both regiments mustered very strong. The Bloomsbury, and other Volunteers corps, have been out this morning, but have been dismissed, with orders to be in readiness to muster again in the evening if necessary.

The firemen belonging to the several Insurances, are also parading the streets, with music. They act as Constables.

The crowd at the Tower, and at Sir Francis Burdett's house, in Picadilly, is immense.

JUNE 21.

Some of the letters by the Lisbon mail state, that Massena on being sent for to forward the French troops destined to act against Portugal, was ordered to conquer that country which was in future to be his kingdom.

Prices of stocks, 3 per cent Consols reduced, 69 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 70.
Omnium, 1 per cent premium.

PLYMOUTH, JUNE 15.

Dispatches arrived on Wednesday from London, which were immediately sent on board a Cartel for Morlaix.— They relate to an exchange of prisoners, and probably contain a final answer of government. There is every reason to believe that a Cartel will be immediately arranged.

GOTTENBURGH, JUNE 1.

The whole Baltic fleet has passed the Belt with a fair wind, without making a single prize.

By a private ship we have communication from Ham-burgh dated first inst. stating the capture of a French privateer, and her prize (an American ship) cut out of the port of Rollock.

The Portland Club will meet on Saturday next—Dinner at three o'clock.
13th August, 1810.
