[FOR THE CHRONICLE.]

Bend of Canada, 17th Sept. 1855.

Mr. Editor.—One short year has not yet rolled its round since the present Government came into power, and never did a new Administration enter on its duties with apparently brighter prospects, on the promise of a longer tenure of office. The old Government, having a remnant of the family compact, so far weakened the public confidence and at its helm an unsteady hand, and one in whom no party could place any dependence, fell from its high position; but although there were various reasons why a change of administration was desirable, there was no wish on the part of the people of New Brunswick for a totally Radical Government. I believe that out of the present House of Assembly you could not select, taking them as a whole, a more incompetent or weather-cock set of politicians. They appear to have no fixed principles, excepting in looking after their quarter salaries. They individually protested that they did not want office or emolument—they merely threw themselves into the gap to save the country from the reckless extravagance of Messrs. Fatclow & Co.—and behold they have added tenfold to the public burden. We with many others regret, and deeply regret that the high and honorable appointment of a seat on the Bench should have fallen into the hands of Messrs. Brown, Smith, Steves & Co.; but shocking and serious as the matter is, we see it would out. We see an individual who could not again have been returned for his County—an individual who, I am afraid, will allow his prejudices to blind his judgment—who never commanded the respect or love of his colleagues, political or professional—and who from the commencement of his career determined that nothing should prevent the accomplishment of his base purposes, viz: to place himself in such a position that when his political profligacy were found to be a delusion and a snare, he would be out of the reach of punishment. But, Mr. Editor, does it not seem very singular that Mr. Charles Fisher, the Attorney General, and on whom constitutionally the ermine should have fallen, waived his right? Have the antecedents of Mr. Charles Fisher a tendency to cause people to suppose that he (Mr. Fisher) willingly and smilingly gave up his right to the Bench without taking into account any promises or bargains previously entered into? I say, will any sane man, who knows Mr. Charles Fisher, believe this? No, Mr. Editor: there is not an individual in the County of York, or in any other County, who is at all acquainted with Mr. Charles Fisher, who will for a moment believe it. I believe that, at the Barker House, a bargain and sale in anticipation was entered into—I believe that it was as wretched and unlawful a conspiracy as traitors were ever guilty of—I believe that for the base purpose of putting money into the pockets of some, and the desire of being raised above the punishment richly deserved (by them) an unholy compact was entered into, and the different great political parties in the Province made the cat's-paws for the moment. But the scales are now beginning to fall from the eyes of their dupes. The Orangemen have nailed their colours to the mast—the Protectionists have declared no Free-trade Government for New Brunswick—the Conservatives no Radical Executive—the Temperance men no sacrifice of our principles in order to sustain Mr. Tilley in the receipt of some £800 per annum—and last, not least, every loyal subject no terms with Annexationists and Papists. Now, Mr. Editor, to shew the high and unsullied character of Mr. Charles Fisher, I would mention one little matter that I have heard stated, and if is not true, the Courier, or Mr. Fisher himself, or some friend of his can clear it up, viz:—That Mr. Chas. Fisher, at the time of the change of Government, was Registrar of King's College, at a salary of £100 per annum; that upon Mr. Fisher becoming Attorney General, knowing that his being a member of the College Council and holding the appointment of Registrar were incompatible, and that he could not continue to hold it constitutionally, he wished to have his brother (Edward, I think,) appointed; but finding that there was another applicant for the berth, and also finding that this applicant stood a better chance than his brother, this honorable and high-minded gentleman, being at the head of a Government that could carry everything in the Legislature, and were as a combination all-powerful in everything else, managed to put off the meeting of the College Council. No meeting has ever since taken place; no business has to be done; and Mr. Charles Fisher, Her Majesty's Attorney General, is still Registrar of King's College, with his hundred a-year. If true, this little fact speaks volumes.

I remain, your obedient servant,

Dr. Neill's Invigorating Balm.

THIS admirable preparation is the most effectual remedy known for Baldness and falling off of the Hair, giving it a rich glossy appearance, unequalled by anything of the kind. It contains no alcohol or alkaline substance, (as all the washes do which are now used,) and will restore the natural colour after those articles have deprived the hair of it. We can refer enquirers to persons, both old and young, many of them who have been bald seven or eight years, and have had their hair stored by this preparation. It acts by assisting nature and will in no way prove injurious. Prepared and Sold by FELLOWS & CO.

LIKENESSES TAKEN IN THE LATEST IMPROVED STYLE.

THE Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of this City to his Rooms, which have been tastefully fitted up, and he would remind the public that if they desire to procure a perfect PICTURE, it would be to their advantage to patronise his Establishment, as he flatters himself that he can produce Likenesses equal, if not superior to any Artist in North America.

Having served a regular apprenticeship at the Profession, (not having to abandon a former business, as some who are now practising the Art have done) and also having at a great expense obtained the latest improvements in Daugerreotyping, as well as the newest and most improved Apparatus, he is willing to challenge for $100 or $250, any Daugerreotypist in this City or America, to produce a picture, equal in tone, beauty, finish and appearance to that taken in his Establishment. The challenge to be decided by two of the most experienced Daugerreotype Artists in the United States.
