CRIMEA.

e Daily News correspondent, on the 5th, s an account of some harmless skirmish- n the snow :—

esterday and this morning the troops have amusing themselves by snowballing other, and really, without exaggeration, tary tactics are displayed by the contend- parties that would not have disgraced our iest generals. Before a battle com- es, it is usual to construct a redoubt, or or three batteries, on each side, about 100 s apart. In this open piece of ground een the works the fight is most furious; istinction is made or shown during the est between the officer and the private. es are made, rifle pits established, and etimes flags of truce are hoisted, all for the pose of taking each other's works, on which erally are fixed two or three flags of diffe- colours. Some of these flags have Alma, aklava, Sebastopol upon them, and are of- captured, but the chief standard, on each , is always a make-shift Union Jack. This ever fixed into the snow, but always waved r the work by a soldier as long as it is able. The principle challenges given are company against another, or the right g of a regiment against the left. But, sterday evening in the Light Division there s a hot contest between the 1st and 2nd igades. The Middle Ravine was the great ut in dispute. As one brigade charged wn, the other retired; and then, as the for- r came almost to a stand still, though be- blown while ascending the ememy's side the ravine, it was sure to be charged down on, losing in all probability several men ken prisoners. This great, still unsettled tle, was at last stopped by the Brigade- jor, but not until he had got well slated nself. Amongst the prisoners taken by the d Brigade, who were, in most cases, drag- d by their legs down and up the sides of e ravine I noticed Colonel Wellesley, 7th siliers, Captain Thynne, Rifle Brigade, and veral other officers. Although it was ru- oured that the 1st Brigade threw stones in- de their snowballs in some cases, still I saw man hurt. There might have been, as at school fight, a few bloody noses and cut ces.

The English Engineers have blown up the ottom of the centre dock, which is at top 236 et long, and 95 feet 4 inches wide, and at ottom 191 feet long, and 40 feet wide. here were 13 charges in all—11 of 60lbs. ch, and two of 300lbs. each—total 2,360lbs. f powder. The enemy took no notice of the xplosion, nor had they been firing much ately from the north side.

It is understood that, as soon as practicable, teps will also be taken to blow up and com- pletely destroy the ships which were sunk by he Russians at the time of the evacuation of he south side of Sebastopol. The masts of ome of the line-of-battle ships remain visible bove the water, just as when the vessels were irst submerged.

On the 7th, a gale had been blowing from he south-west all day across the camp. The huts had withstood the high wind well, and sufficient warning was given to secure all the ents which remained on the ground against overthrow. By an after order, Sunday, the 6th January, had been arranged for this army to subscribe to the Nightingale Fund. The Commander-in-Chief, as an example, gives a day's pay. There was very little doubt that almost every officer and soldier would follow his example. By the last accounts drunken- ness was still on the decrease, and this was attributed to the fact that most of the drunk- ards have been tried by court-martial, and consequently the chances are that they have lost their field allowance, 6d. a day, with another 1d. a day, for the next six months or two years to come, in addition to which there is no more working pay.

Letters from Kinburn, of the 5th, state that there were rumours of a Russian attack; but although several reconnaissances were made in the direction of Otchakoff, no enemy's force ould be discovered.

PRINCE GORTSCHAKOFF'S FAREWELL TO HIS ARMY.—The Invalide Russe of the 22nd publishes the following order of the day, addressed by Prince Gortschakoff to the army of the South and to the troops in the Crimea:—

Head-quarters, Bakichi-Serai, Jan. 12.

In leaving, by the Emperor's order, for new duties, I bid you farewell, brave com- rades!

I give to my worthy successor an army inured to battles, and which has been for the Czar and the country a defence and a joy.

Your courage and your devotion, brave warriors, will remain graven for ever on my heart. I sincerely return you thanks for the confidence you always reposed in me in the midst of the bloody and terrible struggle of 1855,—that eternally memorable struggle in which you defended the peninsula of the Crimea against numerous foes, who had in their power means of warfare unknown and Leviathans unknown in the annals of war.

The order of the day will be read in every company, squadron, sotnia, battery, and body of marines.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times states, that after the fall of South Sebastopol, the Russian army was in such a terrible state of demoralisation and distress, that the whole of the Crimea must have inevitably fallen into the hands of the Allies if they had fol- lowed up their advantage.

The state of things was so alarming, that it was at first resolved to evacuate the Crimea immediately, but the Allies remained inactive, and two divisions of the Grenadier Corps had time to make their way to the theatre of war. On the arrival of these prime troops the Russians again took courage, and in a council of war, at which the Emperor was present, it was resolved to maintain possession of the Crimea. The world is much surprised that Russia is willing to conclude peace on such terms, but it will perhaps be less so when it has read the following singular intelligence, which has the merit of being perfectly authentic. No language can describe the sufferings of a part of that Russian army to which was intrusted the defence of the coasts of the Baltic. The body of it was composed of militiamen, who were not only miserably clothed and equipped, but literally half- starved. The poor wretches were effected by a singular malady. Vast numbers of them had the tobsucht (raving madness, or perhaps delirium tremens, is meant,) and they were not relieved from their sufferings until the cruisers of the enemy disappeared. 'The Allies, who are the greatest blunderers on the face of the earth, raised the blockade too soon, and the consequence was that vast quantities of stores and provisions arrived from Memel and Dantsic as soon as their backs were turned." While the unfortunate militia were left to suffer the pangs of hunger, the greatest care was taken to supply the Imperial Guard with everything that it could desire.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

[By Telegraph to the News-Room.]

FREDERICTON, Feb. 15.

The House was principally occupied with routine business during the morning. The usual Committes were appointed. Mr. Street moved the usual Road Committees; consider- able discussion arose as it was (alleged) that the Great Roads should be under the con- troul of the Board of Works. The resolution was finally carried, to refer Bye Roads only to a Committee.

Mr. Hatheway laid on the table a series of resolutions to transfer the Initiation of the Money votes from the Assembly to the Executive, and gave notice that he should move them on an early day.

Nothing else important. House adjourned early.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 16.

Several Bills and Petitions presented. Har- ding and English's Scrutiny Committee re- ported the death of Mr. Taylor—Mr. Har- ding's nominee—and of Mr. English, the member returned, and requested to be dis- charged. After some discussion, the House resolved to go into the matter on Monday morning, immediately after the Journals are read.

Reports of Executive resignations are utterly groundless—Government's friends say they were raised to injure their position at this crisis.

The question of paying Reporters was only incidentally alluded to on Thursday; many members are now said to be in its favour.

House adjourned early.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 18.

This morning Mr. Gray laid on the table an amendment to a section of the address, in- volving a vote of "no confidence." If car- ried, the Government will dissolve imme- diately: but friends of the Government claim a decided majority in the House. Rumours of Executive resignations false. The report of the committee in the Carleton scrutiny case discussed for several hours. Efforts made to get Mr. Harding, the petitioning candidate, the seat without further scrutiny. This failed; the discussion was somewhat affected by party feelings. On motion of Mr. End, the discussion is referred back to the committee. This afternoon the House went into consideration of the address in answer to the Governor's speech. Mr. Gray moved his resolution, and spoke about an hour and a half when the House adjourned. The Attorney General is to reply in the morn- ing, and the discussion will probably last se- veral days. Not much excitement.

Mr. Gray's amendment is to Section 4. of the address, and is "strike out 'same,'" and insert, "We agree Your Excellency, we are fully alive to the advantages to be derived from the introduction of Railways into this Province. The Legislature has repeatedly and steadily given its aid, both by pecunia y facilities, and Legislative enactments, to every well devised scheme for that purpose, hitherto brought before it, and is still prepared so to do, particularly towards the construction of Railroads intended to unite the different sections of the Province, and connect the Province itself with Nova Scotia and Canada: but we feel bound to state to Your Excellency, that Your Excellency's present constitutional advisers, do not sufficiently possess the con- fidence of the House and the country to justify this House in entrusting to their care works of such magnitude and importance."

FREDERICTON, Feb. 19, 1856.

The House was occupied with receiving Petitions, &c. during the morning.

At twelve o'clock the Attorney General began his reply to Mr. Gray's motion, and spoke until half-past three. It was then de- cided to adjourn the debate until to-morrow at twelve. The question will not be taken up for several days.

The House was afterwards occupied with receiving Petitions, &c.

Mr. End inquired if the Government de- signed to go on with the Law Commissio Report this winter. The Solicitor-General replied that they did.

Mr. End also inquired whether they de- signed touching the Revised Statutes. An swer to be given to-morrow.

The Attorney-General in his speech abso- lutely denied that there were any dissentions in the Government, and said that thus far there had been entire agreement.

FREDERICTON, FEB. 20.

House occupied with ordinary business until half-past twelve o'clock, when the debate on Mr. Gray's motion was resumed by Mr. Connell, its seconder, who spoke against the Government. Some explanation between Connell and Attorney General.

Mr. Hatheway replied to Connell, com- menting on his inconsistencies since 1851, and strongly opposing Gray's motion.

Mr. Street then followed, and spoke against the Goverament until adjournment.

House adjourned a quarter before 3 o'clock, to enable members to attend Mr. Gaynor's funeral.

FREDERICTON, February 21.

The House was occupied with receiving Petitions, &c. during the morning.

At half-past 12 o'clock Mr. Street resumed his speech and continued until 3 o'clock.

Attorney General then explained a state- ment of Mr. Connell's yesterday, to the ef- fect that he could have gone into the Go- vernment, and said that he knew nothing about it.

Provincial Secretary then began a general reply, and entered into a confidential exposi- tion. He spoke until 5 o'clock, and is to re- sume to-morrow morning. Nothing else done.

The following Committees have been ap- pointed in the House:—

On Agriculture.—Messrs. Hatheway, Landry, Kerr, Lunt, Ferris, Armstrong, McLeod, Connell, and McClellan.

Destructive Fire.

Seven Houses Burned.—Between two and three o'clock, yesterday morning, a fire broke out on the South side of Sheffield street, which, before its progress could be stayed, laid seven houses in ruins. The fire origin- ated, as near as could be ascertained, in a dancing hall, situated in the rear of a house owned by James Crockford, and is supposed to be the result of design, as there were no- thing in that part of the premises which could lead to such an accident. Four of the houses destroyed were owned by Michael Cenniff, two by James Crockford, and one by James Matthews. Crockford was insured on each house to the amount of £200, and £150 on his goods and chattels. Matthews, we be- lieve, had £250 on her property. Cunniffe is without insurance. There was a great many persons unhoused by this disaster; but they are of a character which, we are sorry to say, will not command very largely the sympathies of the community. The locality is considered the most disreputable one in the city, and the houses were, for the most part, occupied by prostitutes of the vilest descrip- tion. An accident occurred in the course of the morning, whereby a young woman lost her life. She was endeavoring to light her pipe at a piece of burning timber near the base of a tottering chimney, when the struc- ture fell, nearly burying her in bricks and lime. She was rescued in a dreadfully cu and bruised condition, and, we understand expired in a short time after.—Courier.

Death of a Good Man.

Our Fredericton correspondent informs us of the death, on Sunday morning last, of Jo- seph Gaynor, Esq., an old and respectable merchant of that place. Few men acquired more esteem and confidence than Mr. Gaynor, and perhaps none would be more missed in the community in which he resided. His generous disposition and liberality of mind endeared him to a wide circle of friends and acquaintance, and the poor and needy always found in him a sympathising benefactor.— We learn that he was in his 62d year. It may be truly said of him that—"He has rested from his labors and his works do fol- low him."—New Brunswicker.

Fire at Buttermilk Creek.

The extensive new buildings at Buttermilk Creek, lately erected by Mr. John Bradley, containing store and dwelling house, together with barn and outhouses, were totally con- sumed by fire on the morning of Saturday, 9th inst. We understand that of the large stock of goods, furniture, and other effects, scarcely any part was saved, so that the loss —although, we believe, partially covered by insurance—must fall very heavily upon Mr. Bradley. The premises had been occupied but a few months, and were erected at a heavy cost.—W. Jour.

PRESBYTERIAN ZEAL.—The Presbyterians of Philadelphia have raised $25,000 to relieve their weak churches, and to originate new en- terprises in that city. A judicious movement, which might be safely imitated by other sects in most of our large cities. Ought not the strong to assist the feeble?

ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

We learn that an attempt was made yesterday morning on the life of Mr. John Welsh, the lessee of the Suspension Bridge, by a man named McCarron. It is reported that McCarron at- tempted to rob Mr. Welsh who resisted him, when he fired two or three pistol shots at him, one of which entered his mouth and lodged in the back part of the head. Mr. Welsh held on to McCarron until a boy in an adjoining room alarmed some persons in a house near by, by whom he was apprehended. He was examined yesterday at the Police Court in Portland, and committed to jail. Great excitement prevailed. Mr. Welch's life is despaired of.

King's County Shire Town.

At a Public Meeting held at the Post Office Sussex Vale, King's County, on the 16th February 1856, pursuant to notice, to ex- press an opinion upon the proposed removal of the Shire Town of the County of King's

Mr. John McLeod was called to the Chair and Mr. James E. White was requested to act as Sec- retary.

The Chairman briefly explained the object of the meeting; and after some remarks upon the subject from persons composing the meeting; the following resolutions were adopted:—

Moved by Mr. Robert McLeod, seconded by Mr. Isaiah McLeod.

That, whereas a Petition has been circulated for signature, generally throughout the upper part of this County, praying for the removal of the Shire Town to or near Hampton Ferry in this County; and whereas, many persons have with- out due consideration subscribed said Petition,

Therefore Resolved, That this meeting consid- ers such a course suicidal to the best interests of the upper portion of the County of King's, and in- expedient at the present time, and beside would be the means of sacrificing the present County buildings and necessitate a heavy tax to erect new ones at a place but nine miles removed from the present buildings which would not accommo- date the upper portion of the County to the extent desirable; and which tax would have to be borne more especially by the upper part of the County, as they are the majority of the inhabitants of said County.

Moved by Mr. Hugh McMonagle, seconded by Mr. William Smith.

Resolved, That the decided preponderance of population of the upper portion of the County of King's, calls at no distant day, for a division of the County, numbering as it now does some 20,000 inhabitants, to be amicably arranged; and thus the present County buildings will ac- commodate what is now the lower part of the County, and new buildings could be erected to accommodate the upper part at much less ex- pense than would be incurred by the proposed re- mal; and by this means no sacrifice need be made, and the people would be completely ac- commodated.

Moved by Mr. Joe Bran, and seconded by Mr. George McIntyre.

Resolved, That a Petition be pepared by the Chairman and Secretary embodying the above resolutions, and be circulated for signature. And that a copy of the proceedings of the Meeting be forwarded to the Editors of the "City Papers," with a request that they will kindly publish the same.

On motion of Albert T. W. McElmer, Esq., the Chairman left the chair, and Mr. William Smith being called thereto, the thanks of the Meeting were presented to Mr. John McLeod for his able and efficient conduct in the chair.

PETITION.

To His Excellency the Honorable JOHN HENRY THOMAS MANNER SUTTON, Lieutenant Gover- nor and Commander-in-Chief of the Province of New Brunswick, &c., &c., &c.,

To the Honorable the Legislative Council and the Honorable House of Assembly, in Session at Fredericton, 1856.

The Petition of the undersigned Freeholders of the Parishes of Sussex, and Studholm in King's County.

SHEWETH,—That in the opinion of your Peti- tioners it is not expedient to alter the Shire Town of this County at the present time.

That such an alteration as has been proposed would unavoidably sacrifice the present County buildings which are in a good state (the Court House having lately been thoroughly repaired) and would necessitate a very heavy expenditure in order to erect new buildings. That but nine miles in distence would be gained to the inhabi- tants of the upper part of the County, and the proposed site would still be from thirty-eight to forty-eight miles distant from the upper parts of the County, and but sixteen miles from the lower end on the Main Post Road.

That your petitioners are of opinion that in a few years, provision will have to be made for the better accommodation of the inhabitants of King's County, and that from the late rapid increase of the upper part, and its preponderance in popula- tion, two Shire Towns will be required, and con- sequently, a division of the county must necessa- rily take place, and then the present County Buildings will accommodate the lower part, and others can be erected to accommodate the upper part.

Your petitioners, therefore, pray that the ac- tion of the Legislature in this matter, may be for the present, postponed.

And as in duty bound, your petitioners, &c.

The Liver Pills.

☞ The Liver Pills of Dr. M'Lane were first used by him exclusively in his own practice. So efficacious were they in all cases of Liver complaint, that they became famous, and attracting the attention of the medical faculty, passed into general use. They act with great certainty and regularity; the patient al- most immediately feels the dispersion of his disease, and is gradually restored to health. With some the effect is almost miraculous, frequently experiencing immediate relief, after having for months resorted to drugs and medicines of another description in vain. Diseases of the Liver are very common in this coun- try, and are often frightful in character. Those who experience any of the premonitory symptoms of this dangerous and complicated disease, should at once procure a box of Dr. M'Lane's Pills, and perhaps, thereby, be saved a world of misery.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'- Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, manufactured by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Liver Pills, also the celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.
