deal; they can't carry away more than they can drink, but when they are asked to smoke, sir, they usually put a handful in their pockets to every one they put in their mouths, and when they smoke again, they go to the boxes for another handful, not their pockets for a cigar."

AMONG EXCHANGES.

The Methodist: Nearly all family and neighborhood troubles originate in bad manners. Some one gives way to irritation and says something that is harsh either in substance or manner, and this provokes a reply in kind. Thus the peace is broken and after that the influences that work to intensify and spread the quarrel develop themselves with wonderful speed. Or, one meddles with what does not concern him, asks too many questions about it, or makes remarks that it is not his business to make and he has no right to make, and arouses jealousies and resentments. Nine-tenths of the difficulties that occur would have no beginning if every one would make the effort persistently to be courteous at all times, and would always honor the principle of keeping strictly within his own line of business—not forgetting to give a soft, if indirect, answer to those who may venture to intrude over it.

ALL SORTS.

[BY PEN AND SCISSORS.]

The Sultan has refused to permit Hebrew exiles from Russia to make settlements in Palestine. Two hundred Jewish families are on the verge of starvation in Constantinople.

The late James Vick, the Rochester seedsman, is said to have given over $10,000 yearly for charitable purposes. During the grasshopper plague in Kansas he sent the sufferers $25,000 worth of seeds.

Mr. Linton is to receive 1,000 guineas from Queen Victoria for his painting of the marriage of Prince Leopold. There is a regular series of pictures of every similar event in her Majesty's reign. Most of them hang in a grand corridor in the private apartments at Windsor.

The Nashville Advocate says, refering to the "collection for the saints" which St. Paul proposed to the Churches of Asia Minor: "There are some in the Churches now who had they been in Corinth when his letter was read would have said that he had spoiled a good thing by 'talking about money.'"

The folly of absolutism receives another illustration in the action of the Russian Government prohibiting the publication of reports of attacks upon Jews, or of any discussions of the subject, in Russian newspapers. Crimes are not covered up in that way, and, besides, the government is about a year too late.

A curious attempt at oyster culture has been made by a rich lumberman in Northern Michigan. He has salted a small lake and planted it with the tempting bivalves; as the lake has no visible outlet he claims he can keep the water salt and raise as fine oysters in his artificial ocean as can be found along the coast.

Dr. Dobbs, the great man of the National Baptist, says that the man who complains of paying $10.00 a year for pew rent, went to the Barnum show last week, and took his wife and his five children, paying $1 each for reserved seats. He is going to take a cheaper pew, and is in favor of reducing the salary of the minister.

The Chinese minister at Washington appears at official receptions in a garment of plum-colored satin, with collar of blue velvet, worn over a robe of white silk, brocaded with circles and dragons, and the black satin cap always worn in-doors. He keeps his hands hidden in the folds of his great sleeves, and surveys the crowd through his spectacles with an impassive and heavy dignity.

People who do not live near the Great Lakes may gain some idea of their great size from the fact that the crew of a schooner, while making a stormy voyage across Lake Michigan, exhausted their provisions and nearly starved to death before they could reach port. They kept themselves alive by eating the grease from the buckets used in greasing the masts.

King George I. of Greece is not very popular among his subjects and he is regarded with less favorable eyes than almost any monarch of Europe, always excepting the unfortunate Czar of Russia. He seldom visits any public institution or manifests any interest in affairs, but gives almost undivided attention to his farm and horses. His subjects think he regards Greece merely as a rented estate.

The Sacramento Record-Union says that not less than twenty thousand Chinamen are employed in California as house servants, being preferred to any other class of servants that can be obtained. This a very singular fact, if the Chinese be those leprous and dangerous wretches that the "hoodlums" and the dishonest politicans represent them to be. The fact gives the lie to this sort of talk.

Recent investigations in regard to the effects of smoking upon the heart tend to show that it produces irregular action, palpitation, and other troubles of that organ. It would be well for those who indulge in this habit to study its effects, as revealed by the latest researches, and to ponder, also, upon the probable result to their posterity of a persistence in that which produces so many evil results.

The watch and clock trade is on the verge of ruin, if it only knew it. The American Society of Civil Engineers is arranging a scheme for a standard time for the whole world which will involve the following:

It is proposed to have only one series of hours in the day, extending from midnight to midnight and numbering from 1 to 24, without interruption; to number the hours between midnight and noon (1 to 12) precisely as at present, and to denote the hours between noon and midnight by letters of the alphabet.

The newest freak of the daughter of necessity is a patent "book of soap." Each leaf is enough when torn out for one good wash. The books vary in sizes: the smaller are for the hands only—they are no larger than pocketbooks. The leaf is soaked in a basin of water for three seconds, then it floats and is placed in the center of the hand, where it soon, with gentle friction, froths. A page of soap sounds strange; and stranger yet, the soap is excellent; it is not unlike an ivory tablet. Austria has the honor of producing this invention.

London receives more than 140,000 tons of fish in a single year. The whole of it is not consumed in the metropolis, however, the central and southern counties of England, and even some foreign countries, drawing largely from the London stock. During 1881 it is estimated that 440 tons of fish were received at the London central market for every working day of the year, and 440 tons of fish are equal to a drove of 1,106 oxen. The chief source of supply is the North Sea, from which three-quarters of the annual catch is taken. At a recent meeting of the London Arts Society Mr Spencer Walpole, late Inspector of Fisheries, agreed with Prof. Huxley that the prevailing idea that trawling was destroying the fisheries is a delusion, and that if anything were done to stop trawling it would no longer be a question of complaining of the price of fish, but 99 of every 100 people in Great Britian would not be able to taste fish at all, except herring and the like.

It would be well if all divorce suits would come to as happy an ending as one which was before the Court at Mt. Vernon, Ill., recently. The parties were a wealthy farmer and his wife, of Walnut Hill, who had lived together for forty years, and been blessed with thirteen children; and who had at rather a late date discovered that their tempers were incompatible. While the trial was in progress the lawyer, undertook to reconcile the aged couple, and the afternoon session witnessed a very unusual scene. Each lawyer made a speech declaring his client possessed of kindly feelings, and ready to do all that was possible to restore harmony. The Judge followed with an exhortation full of pathos, when the plaintiff and defendant rose and clasped hands, received the congratulations of the Court, and went off happily together. This seems like the story of "Betsey and I" actually enacted before our eyes.

LITERARY NOTES.

WORTH LIVING; OR, THE OLD FINCHELY PLACE. By Lilian F. Wells. 12mo, cloth, pp. 272, illustrated. $1.25.

The poorest and most barren life, if adequately written, it has been well said, would be of interest to the most gifted minds of the world. The lives portrayed in "Worth Living" are neither poor nor barren of interest. Florence the heroine, possesses rare beauty of character; but it unfolds in such a natural and life-like way that no young critic need say, "She is too good for any place but a story-book."

The "Old Finchley Place" is a charming country mansion, whose broad lawn and overhanging elms, as shown in the frontispiece, invite the reader to peruse the book under summer shades. Another picture shows the "Campus" of Yale College, where three of the personages in the book gained a knowledge of some things not set forth in the curriculum of study. The great civil war contributes thrilling incidents. A gifted and erring girl, brought home at last, magnifies the wonderful love of God. The story ends in a way not common to fiction, but most true to actual life.

The book can be cordially commended, not only for the interest of the plot, but for the sound sense of its religious teachings. Infidelity is rooted out of hearts where it had held firm possession; and the only life "worth living" is portrayed in winning guise for ambitious young readers. The Telegraph is informed by Inspector Hoben, that gaspereaux have not been so abundant in the inland lakes of Queens and Sunbury, during the past fifty years, as at present. Enormous quantities are being caught and sold, prices ranging from 12½ to 25 cents per hundred. The catch of shad is likely to be very large.

The water in a well on the premises recently purchased by Capt. E. S. Towse, became so impure of late that the cattle would not drink, and on Monday it was cleared out, when the dead body of a newly born infant was found, that had lain there some three or four months. An inquest was held by Coroner Bell, and a verdict found in accordance with these facts.—Sackville Post.

The fountain is to be of granite. There will be mugs attached and troughs for horses and dogs. It will cost $250.

A lamentable case of death by drowning occurred on Monday of last week in Johnston, Queens. A fine young man named Geo. Perry was bringing down a raft of logs for Mr. T. Hetherington, on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Washademoak. In handling the logs he seems to have missed his footing, fell over and was drowned. The body was recovered. Mr. Perry was unmarried. His family have the deepest sympathy of all who know them.

The corner stone of the new cotton mill was laid by Mayor Jones on Tuesday. The foundations of the cotton mill are now completed. About the 1st of September it is expected the buildings will be entirely finished, and in November it is expected the machinery will be in place and the mill in operation. All the contracts for building materials, etc., have been let. It is proposed to secure the supply of water which the mill requires by drainage from the pond in front.

The Royal Gazette announces the incorporation of the New Brunswick merino factory, which is proposed to be erected on the Adelaide Road, in the town of Portland. It is said that the construction of the work will begin shortly, the plans and specifications being ready. A meeting for the election of directors and organization is to be held on the 11th of this month. Application for shares will not be received from persons engaged in the dry goods business, so the writer was informed. Thus far $50,000 has been subscribed.

Advices from Miramichi states that there are now fifty vessels in port at Chatham, all of which are loading or discharging. All the mills on the river are sawing, and men's wages are pretty fair all through. Last Saturday night was the first pay night at the mills, and there was a regular throng of people on the streets from six till nine o'clock that evening. There was a strike at Snowball's mill last week, and the men went to work again on the promise of getting as much wages as last year. —News.

About 6.30 oclock Wednesday evening, fire broke out in the planing factory of Mr. Geo. Todd, situated on Brunswick Street, Fredericton. The fire was quickly communicated to the buildings of Messrs. Todd, Dykeman, Patterson and Wynn, all of which were destroyed, except that of Mr. Dykeman, which, however, is badly damaged by fire and water. The only insurance was that on the building owned by Mr. Dykeman, which was insured in the Western for $1,400. Mr. Todd was uninsured, and figures his loss at $10,000. The total loss is estimated at about $14,000. The firemen worked well.—Telegraph.

The Goverment has made a grant of $800 towards repairing the road to the gold field and the owners of property there intend subscribing a large sum besides.

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN.

ROME, June 4.—All the Liberal journals appear in mourning and publish eulogies of General Garibaldi. The action of the French Chamber of Deputies in adjourning, as a sign of mourning for the deceased general, has produced an excellent impression. Preparations for the cremation of the remains have been suspended for the present.

LONDON, June 5.—The Standard's Rome correspondent says on hearing of the death of Garibaldi the Pope remained silent awhile, then raising his eyes to heaven he said: "There has gone another figure of the revolution. On God be merciful to him.'

At Senaar he massacred 1,100 persons and forced all European inhabitants to abjure Christianity and become Mahommedans of pain of death. The insurrection is spreading. It is to throw off the yoke of the Sultan as the head of Mahommedan church.

REST AND COMFORT TO THE SUFFERING

"BROWN'S HOUSEHOLD PANACEA" has no equal for relieving pain, both internal and external. It cures Pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, Lumbago and any kind of a Pain or Ache. "It will most surely quicken the Blood and Heal, as its acting power is wonderful." THE ALEMBIC OF THE BODY.—The stomach is the alembic of the human system. In it those wondrous medical changes take place which result in the transmutation of food into blood. When it is vigorous the necessary processes of digestion and assimilation go on uninterrupted, and the system is suitably nourished. When it is feeble or disordered, they are obstructed, and being in consequence ill supplied with blood of a vitalizing quality, the physical organism becomes weak and feeble, the nerves suffer, the liver and bowels are semi-paralyzed, and appetite and sleep fail. These disastrous consequences may, however, be prevented or remedied with the supreme stomachic and aperient, NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY AND DYSPEPTIC CURE, a medicine of rare purity and efficacy, which reforms a disordered and repairs a weakened state of the digestive organs, overcomes biliousness, relieves the bowels when obstructed without straining or weakening them, and promotes the exit from the system of impurities which infect the blood, which cause serious organic maladies. No objectionable mineral contaminates it, and its value is not marred by a subsequent re-action prejudicial to the general health. Far preferable is it to the ordinary nauseous drugs used to produce a similar effect, but which are frequently ineffective as well as unpleasant; nor is it a cheap and valueless medicine, puffed into existence. It is used for dyspepsia, biliousness, affections of the blood, kidney complaints, female weakness, lumbago, &c., and in all blood diseases it is unequalled. Price, $1.00. Sample Bottle, 10 cents. Ask for NORTHROP & LYMAN'S Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac-simile of their signature. Sold by all medicine dealers.

WELL SUSIE, MY DEAR, how is your Grandmama's Rheumatism this winter? Does she suffer as much as usual? Why, no! Did you not know she is entirely cured. You know she has for years walked with a cane, and at times her limbs were fearfully swollen. She used "Penetrating" Liniment, and is now as smart as any of us. IT MATTERS LITTLE by what name we designate such complaints as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and all skin eruptions, their origin is in the blood, and by the use of no outward application can a cure be effected. The blood must be purified and the stomach kept in a healthy condition. To do this use Hanington's Quinine Wine and Iron, and Tonic Dinner Pills. Beware of imitations. GOOD FOR MAN AND BEAST.

MR. WM. G. GREGG, Millville, N. B., writes: "Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment cured my horse which was injured while ploughing. In trying to step over a stump it cut one of its hind legs almost in twos. I have used it in my family also ever since it was introduced, and it is the best remedy for cuts, sprains, rhumatism, etc., that I have ever used." The wide extent of cures made by this remedy often causes astonishment, but a moment's thought will show that the diseases it cures are closely allied. The liniment is a very powerful one, so powerful in fact that it cannot be used internally as are so many, so called, remedies which are so week that a bottle full may be swallowed without injury. Being sufficiently powerful to eradicate the most stubborn case of the severest disease it makes but short work with the serious cases.

That latent force or fluid, which permeates all matter and which bears the conventional name of Electricity, is widely appreciated and recognized as a means of cure in various diseases. Its effects in the form of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil are shown by the relief of pain, both Neuralgic and Rheumatic, as well as the throat and lungs, and in various other healing ways.

Great age carries with it a certain respectability whether it attaches to a person or thing. This is seen particularly in the case of Johnsons' Anodyne Liniment, which is the most marvelous internal and external remedy ever discovered. It ought to be in every house.

If farmers and others continue to buy dust and ashes put up in big packs and sold for condition powders it won't be our fault. We have exposed the swindle time and again. Sheridans' Powders are the only kind we know of worth carrying home.

WHY SAUL THREW HIS JAVELIN AT DAVID.

An old Scotch lady who had no relish for modern church music, was expressing her dislike for the singing of an anthem in her own church, one day, when a neighbor said.

"Why that's a very old anthem. David sang that anthem to Saul." To this the old lady replied: "Weel, weel, I noo' for the first time understand why Saul threw his javelin at David when the lad sang for him." Any one who wants a never missing javelin to destroy throat and lung disease can find it in Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. Air tubercles, blood vessels and all other tissues feel its power. It relieves the overcharged lungs thereby promoting the free circulation of the air. It soothes the wearied chest, subsides inflammatory cough and all is well once more.

M. Sheeham, of Oscoda, Mich., writes: "I have used "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil on horses for different diseases and found it to be just as you recommended. It has done justice to me every time, and is the best oil for horses I ever used."

"BECAME SOUND AND WELL."

DR. R. V. PIERCE, M. D.: Dear Sir—My wife, who had been ill for over two years, and had tried many other medicines, became sound and well by using your "Favorite Prescription." My niece was also cured by its use, after several physicians had failed to do her any good.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. METHVIN,
Hatcher's Station, Ga.

Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills are adapted to all ages, conditions and climate. They contain nothing hurtful, and yet are powerful to remove all obstructions from the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, and correct their irregular action.

FOR CANKER IN THE MOUTH, THROAT AND STOMACH.—For a wash for the mouth and a gargle for the throat, make a strong mixture of Perry Davis' Pain killer in milk and water, sweeten with loaf sugar; and take, internally, three times a day, a teaspoonful of Pain-Killer mixed with a gill of milk and water, sweetened with loaf sugar.

PAIN CANNOT STAY
Universal Liniment
IS USED.

Universal LINIMENT

Is warranted equal to any article for all Diseases of Man and Beast.

Universal Liniment.

An external application for Sprains and Bruises, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Pains and Soreness in the Bones and Muscles, Paralysis or Numbness in the Limbs, Pains and Stiffness of the Joints, Swellings and Tumors, Rheumatism, Gout, Tic Doloureux (Neuralgia), or Pains in the Nerves, Milk Leg, White Swellings, Chilblains or Frost Bites, Ringworm, Pains in the Chest, Side and Back, &c., and useful in all cases where Liniments, Rubefacients, Blisters, Sinapisms, &c., or any other kind of Counter-Irritant is required.

Directions for Using Universal Liniment.

This Liniment should be liberally applied to the parts affected, three or four times a day (and even more frequently in severe and dangerous cases), and rubbed well into the skin with the hands and fingers, or with a small piece of flannel, saturated with the Liniment, so that more or less irritation or smarting is produced in the parts to which it is applied.

CHILBLAINS.—They are inflammatory swellings of the feet, especially about the toes and heels, with painful itching and burning; and are caused by exposure to cold. Sometimes blisters form which become bad ulcers.

Treatment.—Wash with castile or tar soap, and apply UNIVERSAL LINIMENT freely. Wrap them in lint saturated with the Liniment and keep it on during the night. Keep the feet warm and dry during the day.

LAMENESS.—It is the result of over use. There is soreness, accompanied by pain on exertion, in the affected part. The celebrated UNIVERSAL LINIMENT is unequalled in curing lameness. Bathe the tender portion with the Liniment at night, and on going to bed, and again in the morning.

BUNIONS.—They consist of enlargement or thickening of the sack about a joint, usually that of the big toe of the foot. Caused by tight boots.

Treatment.—An easy boot or shoe is essential. Bind on lint soaked with the UNIVERSAL LINIMENT and cover with oil silk every night.
