THE COMMERCIAL CRISIS IN NEW YORK.—The New York Observer of the 8th inst. alludes to the great commercial panic in that city in the following terms:—

"There has been no such far-reaching financial panic for many years; indeed, in some respects, this is the most intense ever witnessed in this country. The crash of 1837 was more complete than the present, but it had more mitigating circumstances. The expansion which preceded that crisis was based entirely upon credit, and the short-up of food which led to the importation of grain from abroad, for our own consumption, established some ground for apprehension; but our expansion was upon a solid specie basis, and the panic has occurred amid unlimited plenty, in every department of productive industry. During the troubles of 1837 there were some whose credit was unshaken, and at some price, with tangible security, money could be obtained; now, the strongest men as important as the weakest, and money not easily obtained, even upon real estate security; in fact, there is no rate, however high, at which a borrower can be sure of obtaining the money, although the security may be amply sufficient. Thus far, however, there have been fewer protests than in the former crisis, and the failures have occurred days, instead of ex nunc. Still it is impossible to look on unmoved, while those who have battled for years, with an undaunted front, and, in the language of the world, have achieved a fortune, are compelled to unclasp their fingers and let go their hold of all this world, without being able to see their enemy, or strike one strong blow in its defence. Still rather is it to see the thousands of people thrown out of employment, and the poor laborers wandering idly up and down, in the vain effort to hire their willing hands in exchange for daily food. There have been, in our last, several failures, which have engaged large mills, in various parts of the country, while a multitude of smaller establishments have closed their doors, awaiting better times. The most gloomy fears seem to pervade every department of labor, and if the pestilence and famine were at the door, the future could not wear a more appalling aspect.

☞ Twelve Banks had suspended in New York on Tuesday—and on Wednesday evening, it was announced that all the Banks in New York, Boston, Portland and Bangor had suspended.

FAILURE OF HARPER AND BROTHERS.—New York Oct. 9.—Messrs. Harper & Bros., publishers, have suspended. They have a report, surplus of nearly one million.

Bowen, McNamee & Co. show a surplus of $1,200,000.

The New York "Independent" of the 8th inst. publishes a list of over one hundred and twenty firms which have suspended, assigned or failed.

BUCHAN'S TRIUMPHS BEFORE WINTER.—Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—A letter received to-day, at Fort Kearney, Sept. 5th, states that companies of troops arrived there on their way en route to Salt Lake, and that the 10th and 18th regiments had reached Fort Bridger. Col. Hoffman has seized 600 kegs of gunpowder in a Mormon train. Returning Californians informed the writer of the letter that the Mormons were making preparations for a fight, and did not conceal their hostile movements. Elder Kimball, in a sermon which he delivered in the Tabernacle at Salt Lake, half said he could, with his sons, whip the 2,500 troops, and afterwards had a good day's work on his farm in the evening. He further remarked that the provisions for the army would reach the valley, but that the troops would never enter Salt Lake City.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—The Atlantic Telegraph Company have decided to take the cable on to the Niagara and Agamemnon forthwith, and the British Government have given their permission to store it in Plymouth Royal dock yard, until it is again needed for practical operations next year. Measures have been adopted by the Company for raising as much as possible of the submerged cable, and the work is to be immediately commenced.

A large engineering firm, of high standing and great wealth, have expressed their readiness to undertake to lay the cable on the following conditions: That for a stated price and at their will, with the aid of government vessels, they will take all the trouble and risk out of the hands of the company, and have the cable laid from Ireland to Newfoundland by June or July next; or failing this, they will claim no compensation, but will pay to the company the entire cost of the cable. In the event of the cable being laid before June, the stipulated price to be increased, at so much per month for each month gained. It is understood that the offer is a bona fide one, and that the firm in question stand ready to furnish undoubted security for the performance of the undertaking.

In Boston last week, the Supreme Judicial Court, in the case of Mrs. Sarah E. Shaw vs. the Boston and Worcester Railroad Company, which has been on trial for some time, awarded the plaintiff $18,000. The suit was for damages, the plaintiff's husband having been killed by an accident on the road.

EARTHQUAKE AT ST. LOUIS, &c.,—St. Louis, Oct. 8. About four o'clock this morning, a slight shock of an earthquake was felt here. Five minutes later, another shock less severe was felt. They made the most substantial buildings tremble, and overturned several chimnies in dwellings. The shock was also felt at Springfield, Ill.

CINCINNATI, Ill. Oct. 8. Three distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here at four o'clock this morning. Several chimnies were demolished, and all our citizens awakened.

THE GROWING STATE OF MORALS.—A work has recently been published in Paris, which shows that from 1834 to 1845 inclusive there were 25,951 suicides in France, of which 1,595 were in Paris. It has also been noted that in that city of gayety and sin, one of every 2,000 persons contracts syphilis; that two thirds of the population cannot afford the expense of burial; that a third of the births are illegitimate; that 100,000 persons, not including those assisted by regular charities, are without known means of support; and that there are 17,000 habitual drunkards.

Indian News.

The London "Patriot" of the 22nd ult. gives the following summary of Indian news.

THE very latest news from India is reassuring and tends somewhat to allay the fears which the telegrams of Friday created. General Havelock having cared for the sick and disabled of his little army, which is as much the part of a good commander as to conquer, and received a small reinforcement, has once more set forward. Prudent as well as brave, may be sure that he does not do so without well-grounded assurance that he is able to sweep the rascaille which has collected in his path, and save our beleaguered countrymen at Lucknow. The prayers and good wishes of all Englishmen attend him. May he soon return in triumph and in safety, long to enjoy the annuity which the Commander-in-chief has so fitly bestowed upon him.

Scarcely less important is the intelligence that Major Eyre had come up with the Dinapore mutineers, and, more fortunate than the former expedition against them, had succeeded in dispersing them with considerable loss, thus relieving the little garrison at Arrah, which, though only consisting of twelve Europeans and about fifty sikhs, had most gallantly held out for eight days against the swarms of rebels that surrounded them. Behares will thus be delivered from its apprehension, and the communication up the country from Calcutta, we trust, reopened; for it is said that the remnant of the mutineers have started off towards Oude.

Our troops before Delhi were still holding their ground, in spite of continued attacks from rebels in the city. If the account of disorganisation amongst the mutineers, and their want of ammunition, be true, we may reasonably hope that our forces may be able to hold their position before the city, though they would yet have to wait a weary while before reinforcements in any considerable number reached them. Lord Elgin had brought to Calcutta 1700 troops and marines, but we do not hear of any yet having arrived there from the Cape, and of those sent from this country, we just now learn that "some of the first-named had reached the Mauritius in safety about the middle of August.

To set against the good news we have the ill things that another Bombay regiment had revolted at Dharwar. We trust, indeed, that this will not spread in the south; we have enough already on our hands.

Elsewhere we print the plain spoken petition of the inhabitants of Calcutta to the Home Government. The indictment which it brings against the authorities at Calcutta is a formidable one. They were warned, say the petitioners, of what was likely to take place; they shut their eyes to events occurring around them; they were culpably ignorant; they rejected the loyal offers made to them in May; the result found them totally unprepared, and they still persist in stolidly rejecting all volunteer aid, but resort instead to the irritating measures of gagging the press, while the English papers were all warmly supporting the Indian Government. The East India Company, say the petitioners, are thus chargeable, in a great measure, with this formidable mutiny. At this moment they have "neither men, money, nor credit, therefore they pray that the East India Company may be summarily set aside, and the country henceforth be governed directly from home. The petition is to be brought to this country by Mr Henry Mead, the editor of the Friend of India, whose occupation is gone. The East India Company once before sent an editor home and found it costly; if the parallel should be completed, the justice would be poetical indeed.

The Massacre at Cawnpore.

The Bombay Times, in describing this horrible atrocity, says, that 88 officers, 190 men of Her Majesty's 84th foot, 20 ladies, 120 women and children of Her Majesty's 32nd Foot, and the whole European and Christian population of the place, including civilians, merchants, shopkeepers, engineers, pensioners, and their families, to the number of 900 persons, fell victims. The courtyard in front of the assembly rooms, in which Nana Sahib had had his head quarters, and in which the women had been imprisoned, was swimming in blood. A large number of women and children, who had been "cruelly spared after the capitulation for a worse fate than instant death," had been barbarously slaughtered on the morning to have Gen. Havelock entered—the former had been stripped naked, beheaded, and thrown into a well; the latter having been hurled down alive upon their butchered mothers, whose blood yet reeked on their mangled bodies. We hear of only four who escaped—a Mrs. Greenway, wife of a merchant, and three Indo-Britons. The diary of a lady is said to have been found at Cawnpore, written up to the day on which she was killed, and containing information of great importance, on which the General is acting.

The conclusion of one of the letters received, says:—

"Only fancy our horror on hearing that the same night we gave them such a beating at Futtehpore, they killed, or rather massacred, all the ladies whom they hitherto had spared in Cawnpore (except five or six who were concealed by their native servants;) Miss Wheeler, the daughter of Sir H. Wheeler, they say, killed five of these fiends with a revolver before they could get near her. What a heroic spirit she must have had. The sight of the place where these poor ladies were murdered is indeed awful. Long tresses of hair—dresses covered with blood—here and there a workbox or bonnet. All the bodies are in a well. I hope we shall be able to bury them, and pay the last honors to their remains. The few that are yet living are more or less ill, and deadfully weak. You may imagine their delight on seeing us. They were all along in a dreadful state of mind, as they were afraid that their servants might be tempted to betray them; but, for once, these natives did not. Ought they not to be rewarded?

To our great regret we heard yesterday that Sir H. Lawrence died about a week ago.—We go on to morrow to Lucknow, which is about fifty miles from Cawnpore. We cross the river Ganges to-——, after first taking an entrenched position which the enemy occupy at Bhitoor, about three miles up this book of the Ganges. This is the Nana's own village; he is entrenched with twenty-four guns, of which we shall make short work to-morrow, and then go on direct to Lucknow, which we hope to reach in three days. The barracks which were occupied by Sir H. Wheeler are regularly riddled with shot, so you may imagine how well he held out."

Four Days Later from Europe.

LATE AND INTERESTING FROM INDIA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12th.—The Atlantic arrived this morning.

The intelligence from India is two week's later. The latest Delhi dates are to the 12th Aug. The rebels still held the place. The European reinforcements were arriving, and a general assault was expected to be made on the 20th.

Gen. Havelock, after severe fighting, had reached Lucknow, but from weakness, his force was compelled to retire to Cawnpore.

The Garrisons at Lucknow and Agra are reported as still holding out, but in a precarious condition.

Admiral Seymour has proclaimed a blockade of the Canton River.

The European news is unimportant.

A meeting of Parliament was talked of.

MARKETS.

A NEW AUTHOR.

ONE THAT NEVER APPEARED IN THE WORLD BEFORE. A book of one hundred and forty-two pages, on good paper, and in clear type, entitled:

Truth Defended. Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, against the World, the Flesh, and the Devil. And Apostolic Succession contrasted with the opposite. By John C., from the wilderness of New Brunswick.

For sale at the "Religious Intelligencer" Book Store, price one shilling and ten pence each.

St. John, Oct. 10th, 1857.

EVERY FAMILY should have a Suit of the "PROVINCIAL LADIES' DRESS SCALE." I have reduced the price from Five Dollars to Two Dollars and a Half.—(See Advertisement. MARTHA KENNEDY.

Mrs. Hanner, No. 600 Fourth Street, says of Dr. McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, Prepared by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK, May 18, 1857.

☞ A child of mine showing symptoms of worms, I gave it a bottle of Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge, which brought away a branch of worms, numbering, I should judge, fifty inches. The child was very sick during the operation, but is now well and hearty.

Mrs. Wright, No 16 Avenue D, writes under date of August 30, 1857, and says she had been troubled with worms for more than a year, and that she took one bottle of Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros. which brought away from her over three hundred worms, big and little. She now believes herself to be entirely free from disease.

Mrs. Sagrist, a German woman, residing at 26 Livingston street, says she is offering one bottle of M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge, she passed two large tape worms.

The above certificates are all from parties well known in this city. If there are any who doubt, they have the names and addresses, and can satisfy themselves by personal inquiry.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of PITTSBURGH, Pa., All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

☞ We are glad to learn that Perry Davis Pain Killer is having no large sale in our city. We have every reason to believe it to be an almost never failing cure for pain, and as such as a medicine so family should be without—Chestnut Print.

Davis' Pain Killer—from the reports of dealers in this city, we think its proprietary notice just, that it is a larger sale, a valuable preparation, as a speedy cure for pain, cannot fail to be generally appreciated, and no family should be without it, in case of accident, or sudden attack of dysentery, diarrhea, cholera morbus, and every bowel disorder, it yields to its magic power, as we see by reports from those sections in the northwest where the disease has been particularly virulent the past Summer.—[National Democrat.

Messrs. Perry Davis & Son:—Permit me to acknowledge the benefit of your valuable medicine—the Pain Killer. I have been afflicted for two years and a half with a severe pain in the stomach and bowel, and never found any relief until I used Davis' Pain Killer, to which I cheerfully attribute my restoration to good general health. I consider it the best family medicine in use, for restoring and imparting a debilitated system to the natural vigorous and vigor of life.

BOWMAN'S GUM-ELASTIC AND FELT.—Neither caustic nor the knife can ever be required in the treatment of wounds, ulcers, tumors, or chronic swellings to which Bowman's Ointment has been applied in time. The effect of the Felt is the digestive application to all but corrosives. Sold at the manufactories, No. 60 Maiden Lane, New York, and Kirkland Street, London; and by all druggists, at 25., 4s 6d., and 6s per pot or box.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

Sir James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and one of the most learned and skilful men of the age, in his "Treatise on Consumption, says,—"That Pulmonary Consumption is curable at a time, is no longer a matter of doubt; it has been clearly demonstrated by the researches of Laennec and other medical Philosophers."

The same fact that such a disease is ever curable, effected by such unsophisticated authority, should inspire hope, and encourage fellow-sufferer in the death of every sufferer hope this disease.

The remedy which we offer has cured thousands. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry and only guarantee from a regular physician, but has been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended.

None genuine without signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

DRESS-MAKING.

THE most perfect system for CUTTING and FITTING Ladies' and Children's Dresses, is the Provincial Ladies' Dress Scale.

Which entirely does away with the necessity of FITTING ON TRYING ON! The old method of "Pinning on Lining," and refitting once or twice, always was and is harrassing to the Ladies; and oftentimes the most costly materials are utterly spoilt. And again, ladies, if their Dress-Makers are very busy, have to call again, or remain until the hurry is over, before they can be fitted, as it takes time to fit by pinning on, and cannot be hurried or slighted without making mistake. This is entirely obviated by the "Provincial Ladies' Dress Scale." With this a Lady's measure can be taken in less than two minutes. She has no further trouble: her dress can be made and sent to her, fitting perfectly. And why not? A gentleman can go to a Tailor and leave his measure for a coat; why cannot a lady leave her measure for a dress with a Dress-Maker? The gentleman does not fit on his Coat after it is basted to see where it should be altered; why should a Lady fit on her dress for that purpose? No reason whatever; if the "Provincial Ladies' Dress Scale" is used. By it all mis fits and vexations is impossible (providing the directions are followed strictly) as it is a simple, scientific rule, easily learned in about one hour!

Agents Wanted! in all parts of the Province. Persons who have learned the "Am. Ladies' Dress Charts System," can teach this. Agents supplied on the most liberal terms. DANIEL MORRISON, Teacher, Carleton, General Agent, for St. John and vicinity. Letters and orders to be addressed to
