The Eyes of Children.

"I met," says a gentleman, one of our scholars, a ragged little fellow, with a pipe in his mouth, and smoking. I stopped and began to talk to him about the filthy and foolish habit he was getting into. He quickly turned upon me and said,

"Why, some of our teachers smoke!"

"I should think not," I answered; "what makes you think they do?"

"Because I seed one of 'em" at the same time describing him, "one day, go into a cigar shop and buy a cigar."

"But very likely you were mistaken, for the other day I myself was in a public house on business, and when I came out, there stood a little way off, two of our boys, who, if they saw me, would perhaps think I had been drinking, which I had not; and I had a great mind to go and tell them so, for fear they might get a bad example from me!"

"Oh, no," I wasn't mistaken," answered the boy, with an arch and confident look, "for I stood and watched him, and seed him come out wi' it lighted in his mouth, and I think he seed me too, for he turned his head another way and looked shyish!"

FUTURE WIVES OF ENGLAND.—My pretty little dears, you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens. The truth is, my dear girls, you want, generally speaking, more ignorance and less pedantry, more exercise and less sofa, more making puddings and less piano, more frankness and less mock modesty, more breakfast and less bustle. I like the maidenly, bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, full-busted, bouncing lass, who can darn stockings, make her own frocks, mend trowsers, command a regiment of plots, and shoot ... Duchess of Marl-

...duck as well as the ... Borough or the Queen of Spain, and be a lady with all in the drawing-room. But as for your pining, moping, screwed-up, wasp-waisted, putty-faced, music-murdering, novel-devouring daughters of fashion and idleness, with your consumption soled silk stockings and calico skirts, you won't do for the future wives and mothers of England.—[Mrs. Ellis's Lectures.

PRINTERS PRINT GOOD THINGS,—do they improve them? Do the good articles constantly before their eyes leave a saying, salutary impression? While setting type for the best books, the best periodicals, and correcting the proof sheets for the same, do they apply to themselves, practically these gospel truths? If not, what is the penalty? "Where much is given much is required." "He that knoweth his Master's will and doeth it not, shall be beaten with many stripes."

"Tell me, ye angelic hosts,
Ye messengers of love,
Shall suffering pinner here below
Have no redress above?

The angel bands replied—
To us knowledge given—
De inquents on the printer's books,
Can never enter Heaven!"

The sneers and laughter of the crowd,

And harder still it is to hear
The censure of the good and wise,
Who, ignorant of what you are,
Or blinded by the slanderer's lies,
Look coldly on, or pass you by
In silence, with averted eye.

But, when the friends in whom you trust
As steadfast as the mountain rock,
Fly, and are scattered like the dust,
Before misfortune's whirlwind shock,
Nor love remains to cheer your fall,
This is more terrible than all.

But, even this, and these—ay more,
Can be endured and hope survive;
The noble spirit still may soar,
Although the body fail to thrive;
Disease and want may wear the frame,
Thank God! the soul is still the same.

Hold up your head, then, man of grief,
Nor longer to the tempest bend,
Soon or late must come relief—
The darkest, darkest night will end;
Hope in the true heart never dies;
Trust on—the day star yet shall rise.

Conscious of purity and worth,
You may with calm assurance wait
The tardy recompense of earth;
And, e'n should justice come too late,
To soothe the spirit's homeward flight,
Still heaven at last the wrong shall right.

HINTS TO PARENTS.

TROUBLES ON TROUBLES.

There are few who the signs of the times can discern,
While the wisdom of earth they do easily learn,
Although they're admonished ag in and again,
They ...d not the warning though never so plain."

Trouble have you, Parents? Trouble on trouble?

No doubt of it. And you will have trouble, more and more, sorrow on sorrow, even to the grave's mouth, except you repent, do the first works, obey God in the discipline of your family, comply with his just, equal, and reasonable requisitions.

Your children trouble you, give you pain and anguish of spirit, wearisome days, and sleepless nights, on account of their waywardness, disobedience, neglect of duty, their fondness for gaiety, fashion, pride and folly, to the neglect of their spiritual good, their immortal interests. Every parent who has any just sense of right, justice, truth, God's mercies and God's judgments the fearful, awful consequences of parental delinquency, must be greatly tried on seeing his offspring wending their way thoughtlessly and heedlessly to the pit of woe everlasting. But why is it thus, parents? Why these tears of anguish? Why are your children thus wayward, proud, selfish, disobedient, fond of worldly pleasures, sinful amusements? novels and romances, the ball-room and the dance; vain things, sensual things, devilish things! Why are they thus forgetful of God, his mercies, and his judgments? Why trample they on bleeding love, spurn offered salvation? Why this stampede hellward in noonday sunshine of gospel glory? Is there not a cause? Is there any remissness on your part? What is wanting to turn this channel of death and damnation into the current of life, life eternal? "A pure heart," say you? Yes, a pure heart, no thing less, no thing more. This pure heart, a heart of love to God, is the cure all. Children born of the Holy Spirit, sanctified through the truth, what now? Any trouble with such children on the score of gewgaws, gay, costly, and fashionable adornments, evil associations, novels, romances, pleasure parties, of things earthly, sensual, devilish? The work is done, well done. Holiness of heart is death to idolatry, ... worship, and satanic influence. God, ...rth, is the God, the God of gods. ... Spirit in the soul, faith working ... the desire for sin and worldly ...

Conversion to God, sanctification and life is the short work, the ... finishing work, the top stone, the ... Amen! Parent, do you believe it? Does not God say it—come and ...? Why not take this short, safe, easy, convenient, blessed, God-directing course. Obey in the outset. Train up your little ones ... they should go; save your tro... grief, your bitter tears. God so ... use. We must be courteous, agreeable, civil, kind, gentlemanly and womanly at home, and then it will become a kind of second nature to be so everywhere. A coarse, rough manner at home begets a habit of roughness which we cannot lay off, if we try, when we go among strangers. The most agreeable people we have ever known in company are those that are perfectly agreeable at home. Home is the school for all the best things."

Young friends, you hear this? Will you heed it?—[Golden Rule.

Population of the Grave.

From extensive calculation, it seems the average of human births per second since the birth of Christ to this time, is about eight hundred and fifteen; which gives about thirty-two thousand millions; and after deducting the present supposed population of the world, 960 000 000) leaves the number of thirty one thousand and forty million that have gone down to the grave; giving death and the grave the victory over the living to the number of forty-thousand and eight millions. Of the number in the grave, about 9,000 000 000 have died in war;

7 920,000 000 by famine and pestilence;
500,000,000 by murder;
580,000 000 by intoxicating drinks;
12 000,000 000 natural and otherwise.

Thus it will be seen that war and strong drink have sent nearly one-third of the human race to a premature grave.

The calculation on this subject might be extended to an almost indefinite length, and perhaps, too, with propriety, it thought an meditation would dwell upon them, and deduct the moral from each and every avenue. If strong drinks has had its 580,000 000 of victims, how many more must it have before the moderate drinker will put his shoulder to the pledge of reform. Suppose thirty days of intense agony and misery to be the lot of each drunkard's family of five each, what is the amount in the aggregate? Suppose it required even no more than fifty bushels of grain distilled to make a man a drunkard. How long would it last a famishing Europe? nay, even the whole universal world. It would amount to fifty eight millions of barrels of flour. Suppose, again, that the drunkard loses or wastes only ten years of his life at three shillings per day, how many solid globes of the size of our earth would it (six hundred and fifty three billions of dollars) purchase. Make your own calculations, not only upon these supposed cases, but any others of which the subject is susceptible, and the result will astonish you, and perhaps lead to a somewhat different course of life. Many of these estimates are below the reality.—[Rising Sun.

Joining the Church.

People sometimes say "I do not consider it essential to my Christian life that I should join the Church. I can live just as well by myself."

What if a company of emigrants, divided into bands for the convenience of travelling, were going over the plains to California, and one man among them should say, "I prefer to take my own route," and he should go scouting off three hundred miles north of the party, making his way alone through swamps and forests, over streams and across mountains and prairies, with no one to defend him if he were attacked, or to nurse him if fell sick, or to speak a cheering word upon the road?

We are pilgrims, travelling in bands and companies toward heaven, and the Christian who refuses to join us and goes on his way alone, loses all those joys which make the day short—all the sweetness of camp-fire conversations—all the strength and support in trouble which his brethren would give.

I have compared a Christian trying to live alone, to a fruit tree growing in a highway. Every ox and cow reaches up to browse upon the lower branches. When the road widens from the deep ruts in the spring, the carriage wheels cut off the roots. The cattle rub themselves against the trunk.—The hubs of cart-wheels graze it. It is bruised and scarred and barked; and though when it does have cherries they are real Black Hearts, large and sweet, yet it has to spend most of its time in taking care of itself—in keep-

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY
OF THE AGE.
MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, Mass., has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOUR, from the worst scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except two cases (both thunder humour). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within thirty miles of Boston.
Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing mouth.
One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.
Two to three bottles will clear the system ...
Four bottles are warranted to cure the worst ... mouth and stomach.
Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the ... of erysipelas.
One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humours in the eyes.
Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.
Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.
One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.
Two to three bottles warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.
Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.
Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.
Five to six bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.
A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.
Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. I am as sure as water will extinguish fire so sure will this cure be. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another after trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appears to me surprising; first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and its value has never been known until I discovered it; second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.
In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day: in April I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.
Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the line of patient medicines was ever like it. There is no dispute of it from all quarters.
In my own practice I always kept it strictly for numbers of years since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.
Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.
I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in diseases of the Kidneys, &c., the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known.
No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can, and enough of it.
DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults, one table spoonful per day. Children over ten years a dessert spoonful. Children from five to eight years, a tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.
The PRINCIPAL OFFICE for the STATE OF MAINE and the BRITISH PROVINCES is at the Drug and Medicine Establishment of H. H. HAY, 15 and 17 Market Square, Portland, Me to whom all orders should be addressed. Sold by respectable Druggists throughout the United States and British Provinces. Price, $1.

A SUPERIOR AND GENUINE
VEGETABLE COUGH CANDY
DR. H. Y. MACER'S Vegetable COUGH CANDY, for curing Coughs, Colds, Croup, Irritation of the Throat, Asthma, and is particularly adapted to relief the Whooping Cough, and all Consumptive tendencies leading to Consumption.
It is particularly recommended to the attention of Public speakers, singers and all persons who use the voice freely. Its efficacy for Clearing the Voice is truly astonishing!
There has been so much practiced under the pretence of furnishing the public with superior medicines that the inventor of a GENUINE ARTICLE only begs that each one would try for himself, for society demands that should be made public. Even those which do possess some virtue are held at such exorbitant prices that they do not come within reach of the poor; while they, above all, are the most liable to suffer from the consequence of neglect and exposure.
Do not the poor suffer daily? It is true they do, for the want of a medicine which they are unable to purchase.—The proprietor of the Vegetable Cough Candy has obviated this difficulty by inventing a Medicine compounded of twenty-nine different ingredients, extracted from the Vegetable Kingdom, and sold at a price which will place it within the reach of all. It is well known that many agreed ent, when used singly are inefficacious, but when combined with others are highly salutary.
Macer's Vegetable Cough Candy
contains the most essential ingredients of which other Cough Candies are composed, with several additional kind; the combined power of which is sufficient to heal, in part, every malady to which the human system is liable (which does not require the aid of a surgeon,) if attended to in season.
The numerous ingredients composing this Candy have been recommended by many physicians of eminency, some of whom are among the most celebrated in the United States. The pleasantness of this medicine gives it an advantage over others, while it is unnecessary to use any persuasive to induce children to use it.

THE
OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY,
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat, below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must be conclusive of its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, useless puffery from the press:
BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1856.
Professor O. J. Wood & Co.:
GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving all I had wished, and used it about twice a week ever since procured another bottle, of which I have used none. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has grown as natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with same effect.
The above notice I direct due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will slightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly everyone in this and adjoining towns. Any use you make of the above serve the benefits of nature to others as well as myself. I am truly, yours,
A. C. RAYMOND.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 29, 1858.
Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the low fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to try a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, no words can express my obligations to you in arresting the afflicting such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.
The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.
Brookfield, January 12, 1858.
WM. DYER.
Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Long ago I made trial of your Hair restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that it has been excellent in removing dandruff, which was troubled from childhood; and has restored my hair which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have no other article with anything like the same pleasant profit.
Yours truly,
J. K. BRAGG.
The Restorative is put up in Bottles of 3 sizes, viz: in medium and small, the small holds ¼ a pint, and retails one dollar per bottle; the medium holds ½ a pint, and retails cent more in proportion than the small, retails for twenty-five; the large holds a quart, and retails for twenty dollars a bottle; the large holds a quart, at per cent, more proportion and realize for as a bottle.
