ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 11, 1869

The English Baptist Union.

The autumnal session of this body was held, d the first week in October, in Leicester, and, the report given in the London Freeman, we that it was a grand success. The Leicester C cle calls it a "Parliament of Baptists." Six hu ministers and other professors of the faith, onc by John Bunyan, were in attendance, and disc questions of vital importance, not only to the de nation, but to the British nation and to the w The Chronicle says:—"It would have done spirit of the immortal tinker of Bedford good, it have witnessed the assemblies this week in P Street Chapel. He might then have asked, ' the Leicester Street, where on that eventfu when I ought to have stood sentry on the wa comrade took my place, and was suddenly dis to eternity by a bullet, and I was aroused to sciousness of my spiritual perils?' The aut 'Grace abounding to the chief of sinners,' have been, without doubt, astonished, had h the gatherings and heard the speeches delive the Belvoir Street Chapel."

The Midland Free Press, in reporting the m says: "We have had an influx of black-coated, cravated gentlemen—the Baptists, General and ticular, of the United Kingdom of Great Britai Ireland, with Dr. Brock of London, at their Amongst them have come, Hugh Stowel Bro Liverpool; J. The Freeman says: "All the proceedings carried on with great vigor, and from first to the prevailing spirit was one of mingled sole and joy, gratitude and hope."

The place chosen for this meeting is rich i nominational reminiscenes. Leicester was the at one time, of William Carey, of immortal re and of Robert Hall, who, as the chairman wel "blended the sublimity of a seraph with the sin of a child."

Rev. Dr. Brock, of London, President of the U nobly filled the Chair, and delivered an openi dress of wondrous pathos and power. He se for his theme, "Enquiry after one another's we This enquiry extended—1st. To reverence for divine word. 2nd. To reliance upon the divi demption. 3rd. To trust in the divine Provi 4th. To conformity to the divine will. Last solicitude for the divine glory."

Clara's Secret.

Mamma had not been very well all the morning, and a great many things had happened to trouble her. Frank had been rude and careless, and mamma was anxious about him. And then Lucy had given way to her naughty temper. She had pouted and fretted and made herself very unhappy, and poor mamma very sad. Baby had been restless and required much attention. Papa came at dinner time, and taking baby out of the cradle, tossed and romped with the little fellow until he laughed and crowed in very joy. Papa put baby in his high chair at the table, but he was not quite well and began to cry. Mamma tried to supply all his little wants, but he would not be comforted. Mamma did not want to have the pleasant dinner hour disturbed by baby's crying, and said she must take him away.

But good sister Clara said pleasantly, "Let me take him, mamma. I think I can keep him." Nobody liked a nice warm dinner better than Clara, but she left the table cheerfully, and passing to brother's chair, lifted him gently into her arms, saying, as she did so, "Dear little fellow, come to me, sister will keep you."

She carried him to the sitting room, and took such good care of him he soon forgot his troubles. Clara did not watch the dinner room door and wonder if mamma would never come, but gave her whole attention to baby. When mamma came to relieve her, she placed the little fellow very tenderly in her arms, bent over him for a kiss, and bounded away to the dining room, and looked so happy that it did one good to look at her.

Now Clara was naturally a selfish girl, liking her own ease, and caring very little for the comfort of others, but of late she was very much changed. She was thoughtful and unselfish in her conduct towards others, and many times mamma said: "Clara is a great comfort to me, especially in the loving care she gives to her little brother."

I will tell you Clara's secret. The little girl had learned that she could not do right unless God helped her; and when she felt naughty feelings rising in her heart, and angry, unkind words were on her tongue, she prayed to God to keep her from evil, and make her like Jesus.—Child's World.

Room for Another.

"Have you room for another boy in your class?" asked the superintendent, as he led a bright lad to a class seemingly full.

"Yes, indeed; he's welcome here," said the teacher; "we can make room, can't we, boys?"

"O, yes; we'll sit closer together," said one.

"Sit beside me," said another.

In a few minutes the young stranger felt that he was gladly received into his new Sabbath home.

The lesson for the day was recited, and then the teacher said:—

"Boys, when the superintendent came with our new friend here, and asked if we had room for him, suppose each had answered, both by looks and words, 'No, he can't come in here; we don't want him.' How do you think he would have felt?"

"I guess he would have thought we were very rude and unkind, and never have wanted to come near Sabbath school again," said Charles B.

"He might have felt so, and I was glad to see you give him so cordial a welcome; but (though you are usually polite) I should not have been greatly surprised if you had acted differently. I remember you were very unkind to another who wished to enter our class."

"Unkind? Why, teacher! Who was it wanted to come in and we would not gladly let him come?"

"I was not here," said Henry, "Nor I;" "Nor I;" cried several lads at once.

"I'm afraid you were all here," continued the teacher. "I fear you all said, by words and acts,—

"'No room in our class for you.'"

"I don't remember it," said Willy R.

"I'm sure I'm always glad to see a new boy come. I like to have our class full. When was it? Who wanted to come?"

"The same who has said, 'Behold, I stand at the door and knock.' You have all answered 'No room in my heart for Him.' And yet, forgetful of this knocking, you ask, as will many at the last day—'Lord, when saw we Thee a stranger and took Thee not in?'"—S. S. Times.

Little Mabel.

In a prayer meeting in Boston, a middle aged man rose and said: "I have been thoughtless and impenitent till within a short time, and I will tell you how it came to pass that I am now, as I hope, a disciple of Jesus.

"One Sunday evening I was lying on the sofa in my parlor. My wife had gone out, and no one was with me but little Mabel, a sweet child about six years old, who was making a visit to us, and who sat by the centre-table amusing herself with pictures. At length, getting tired of them, she came up to the sofa, and began caressing me in her winning, childlike way.

"'Uncle,' said she, putting her soft little hand in mine, 'dear uncle, I want you to tell me something about Jesus: mamma always does on Sunday nights.'

"I was struck by the question, but evaded it, talking of something else. But the little creature would not be put off. Again and again she came back with the same request, 'Uncle, tell me something about Jesus.' Finding I did not comply, she at last said, opening wide her clear blue eyes, 'Why, you know about Jesus, don't you?'

"That question awakened thoughts and feelings such as I never had known before. I could not sleep that night; the dear child's wondering words, 'You know about Jesus, don't you?' haunted me through the long silent hours. I felt that I did not know about Jesus, that I had not wished to know; and a sense of my ignorance and guilt weighed too heavily upon my soul to be shaken off. I was distressed for days. I read my Bible with an inquiring, anxious heart, till at length I found the blessed Saviour, and could say in humility and faith, 'Now I know about Jesus,' that Jesus of whom little Mabel so eagerly wished to hear."

CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION!

THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, if you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale.
It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.:—It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c.; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teaspoonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eating it by mistake, will not be injured.
If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time—saves your clothes—saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and fine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improve them—by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flannels become white and soft like new. White things are much improved, and keep their color, even if put by for months. Thousands of Families made happy! No misery on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal.
Sold by most respectable Grocers and Chemists, in Packets Three Cents Each, sufficient for 20 Gallons of water, or Twelve for Thirty Cents, also in Boxes containing 144 Packets, price Three Dollars each. ☞ Be sure to ask for Pickstone's Washing Crystal, as there are spurious imitations. Do not condemn it untried. Make one trial! Protected by Act of Parliament.

FELLOWS'
COMPOUND SYRUP.

To Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS,
Manufacturing Chemist, Saint John, N. B.

We, the undersigned, have much pleasure in recommending your Compound Syrup. After a fair and protracted trial of the same, we consider your preparation a very valuable nervous tonic, far surpassing many others of considerable repute, and well worthy the confidence of the profession generally.
We beg to remain, yours, very truly,
A. H. CHANDLER, M. D.
H. A. JACOBS, M. D.
Moncton, N. B., November 9, 1867.

Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS, Manufacturing Chemist.
Sir—For several months past I have used your Compound Syrup in the treatment of Incipient Phthisis, Chronic, Bronchitis, and other affections of the Chest, and I have no hesitation in stating that it ranks foremost amongst the remedies used in those diseases. Being an excellent nervous tonic, it exerts a direct influence on the nervous system, and through it invigorates the body.
It affords me pleasure to recommend a remedy which is really good in cases for which it is intended, when so many advertised are worse than useless.
I am, Sir, yours truly,
S. Z. EARLE, Jr., M. D.
St. John, N. B., January 1868.

Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS, Chemist, St. John, N. B.
Dear Sir—Having used your Compound Syrup for some time in my practice, I have no hesitation in recommending it to my patients who are suffering from general debility, or any disease of the lungs, knowing that even in cases utterly hopeless it affords relief.
I am, Sir, yours truly,
H. G. ADLY, M. D.
St. John, N. B., January 1868.

Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B.
Sir—Having, while at your Establishment, carefully examined your prescription, and the method of preparing your Compound Syrup, I felt anxious to give it a fair trial in my practice. For the last twelve months I have done so, and I find that in Incipient Consumption, and other diseases of the Throat and Lungs, it has done wonders. In restoring persons suffering from the effects of Diptheria, and the cough following Typhoid Fever prevalent in this region, it is the best remedial agent I have ever used. But for persons suffering from exhaustion of the powers of the brain and nervous system, from long continued study or teaching, or in those cases of exhaustion from which so many young men suffer, I know of no better medicine for restoration to health than your Compound Syrup.
If you think this letter of any service you are at liberty to use it as you see fit.
I remain, yours, &c., EDWIN CLAY, M. D.
Pugwash, N. S., January 14, 1868.
