at least some of the New Brunswick Delegates will return before the end of the month. Our English papers go very fully into Confederation, and report at length the speeches of the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Delegates.—Journal.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

From English papers received by last mail, we glean the following:

A FEARFUL ACCIDENT.—In addition to the various disasters attending upon the present severe weather, there was a fearful accident in the Regent's Park on Tuesday afternoon. Over two thousand persons had assembled at the ornamental water, and there was so general a belief that the ice had become quite strong, that half that number ventured upon it, not a few of them being ladies. At four o'clock it is computed that at least five hundred people were on the ice together, when, suddenly, with only a few minutes warning, it became loose at the sides, and split up into thousands of pieces, precipitating from two to three hundred skaters in the water. Their screams for help, and the frantic cries of the crowd upon the banks produced a scene of the wildest and most appalling description. All means were made to rescue the drowning people, but many lives were lost. The exact number is not known at the time we write; but the computation is, that no less than twenty or thirty have perished. It is earnestly to be hoped, however, that this is an over estimate. All the bodies recovered in the course of the evening were those of young men of high social standing. Those who saw the spectacle say, they can never forget it while life lasts, so horribly agonizing was it to witness hundreds of men, women, and children struggling in the water, and sinking one after another where help could not reach them. One lady saw her husband sink and lose his life, while two sisters were sending forth piercing screams and calling on the people to save their brother. He was drowned, however, and the two young ladies were taken away in a cab in the most pitiable state. A gentleman just rescued from the jaws of death exclaimed wildly, "Where's my boy?" He had sunk to rise no more, and the agony of the father found vent in loud and most painful sobbing.

Knowing that our readers are anxious to know what progress the Confederate delegates are making in the prosecution of the business they have in hand, we furnish an extract from a private note received from one of them by the last mail, having reference to this matter.

Speaking of the able advocacy of the London Saturday Review in favour of the proposed Scheme, our correspondent says:—

"I believe nothing but some such course can save the Empire from dismemberment; but I regret to say that there is a large party, consisting mostly of the manufacturing and trading classes, who take a much lower view, and think that Colonies are merely a bill of expense, and the sooner England is rid of them the better; that the North American Provinces more particularly are a source of weakness, and that if any difficulty occurred with the United States, they could not be protected. At all events, the first thing to be done is to unite them, and I think all parties in New Brunswick will be satisfied that the terms agreed upon by the delegates here, is as fair to the people of our Province as we have any right to expect. * * * * We shall have our Intercolonial Railway secured. Our shipping and shipbuilding interests considerably relieved from existing burdens; the administration of justice simplified and economized; and, I trust, a banking system inaugurated, that will give a stimulus to the industry of our people that will rapidly develope our great national resources. * * * * There have been fearful accidents by sea and by land, plunging many families in sorrow and mourning. Vast numbers of people in this country are wanting the ordinary necessaries of life, the depression of trade owing to the late monetary panic has thrown hundreds of thousands out of employment, and the want and misery is very great. It appears doubtful whether the government are prepared to deal with the question of Reform; if they do not, they will be unshipped from office. This may delay us for a while longer; yet, at the same time, I look upon Confederation as a settled fact."—Visitor.

The London Saturday Review, in remarking on this subject, says: "If the Derby ministry do not cut short their career by want of tact and judgment in handling the Reform question, they seem likely to reap the credit of completing the much canvassed union between the North American Colonies. The session of 1867 will not fail to leave its mark on his tory, even if it does nothing else besides passing the Bill which has been prepared by the labors of the Delegates from British North America, who are now in this country. The precise provisions of this compromise—for a compromise it is, and could not but be—between the rival Provinces, have been veiled in mystery, and at the banquet given to the Delegates by the Canadian Club, not a hint was dropped as to the mutual concessions by which the contracting Colonies have been brought into harmony. It is enough, however, to know that a cordial agreement has been arrived at, and that the Quebec Scheme has been materially improved in some of its weakest points."

The Review adds: "No step so large as this which is about to be taken can fail to lead far beyond the point immediately attained; and it perhaps will not be long after the federation of British North America, before the still more momentous question of the general relations of the scattered members of the British Empire forces itself into the prominence which its importance deserves."

THE ATLANTIC CABLE RECEIPTS.—It is stated that the receipts from the working of the Atlantic telegraph up to the present time have averaged £813 a day, including Sundays and forty days of stoppage of the land lines. Since November 1st, however, when the price of the message was reduced from £20 to £10, the average receipts have been £874, or at the rate of £205,133 per year.

An English journal says: "The success of the Atlantic telegraph has, we are informed, led to the revival of several schemes for establishing telegraphic communication by other routes. Arrangements are nearly completed for commencing at once the manufacture, at Liverpool, of the cable intended to be laid for the North Atlantic route by way of Iceland and Greenland."—N. Y. Observer.

DEATH IN THE BALL-ROOM.—A melancholy event occurred last week at a ball-room in Vienna. The accomplished young wife of Ernest von Teschenberg (the editor of the Wiener Zeitung), was leaving the supper-room with her husband, intending to return home. Whilst crossing the ball-room where a waltz was being played, a friend asked her to take a single turn round the room. The temptation was too great to be resisted; but she had scarcely got round the huge circle when she fell from his arms, as though struck by a thunderbolt, dead. They raised her from the ground gently, and carried her into another room. A dozen doctors were in attendance, and every expedient that science could suggest was tried to restore consciousness to the fair young form lying so strangely still in its gay toilette. All was in vain. She was dead.

ITALY.—We gather, from a letter of the Times Correspondent, "that, among the Christmas festivities observed in Naples, no one has been more interesting and impressive than that of the Evangelical Schools." Four hundred and thirty children, educated on Evangelical principles, and well and soundly grounded in the ordinary subjects of instruction, met together." We also read—"The meeting was opened with prayer, and was followed by the 38th Psalm, sung in beautiful harmony by the children, the whole assembly joining." What a pleasant picture to look upon—what a beautiful theme for meditation, when we remember the sad, dark, and benighted state of Italy but a few years ago! What a grave offence it was then considered to read the Word of God; and, as to holding a public meeting for the purpose of Christian worship, it would have resulted in the imprisonment, not only of the promoters of such meeting, but in all taking part in it. We have to look back a very short period, when education, amongst the middle and poorer classes, was discouraged in every way which priestly rule and Romish despotism could devise; when a multiplicity of stumbling blocks were placed in the path of those who desired, not only to elevate and give tone to the intellect, but also to introduce those glad tidings, through which alone a saving knowledge can be imparted. Is not this liberty which has been obtained, a signal triumph of intelligence over ignorance, and of mental freedom over spiritual despotism? There is still much to be accomplished, as there are 17,000,000 persons who can neither read nor write. Italy has been long enough in the dark. Now that popular education and Christian worship may be introduced without fear of molestation, let us hope that the bright morning, which has just dawned, will prove a yet brighter day.

THE INDIAN FAMINE.—The Calcutta correspondent of the Times, writing on the subject of the famine, says he has not seen the report made by Mr. T. Ravenshaw, Commissioner of Orissa; but he is informed by those who have seen it, that a picture more heart-rending, facts more hideous, could not be given. That officer, who up to June believed in the mythical stores of grain, cannot be suspected of exaggerating horrors which, to some extent, reflect on his own want of foresight, and still more on the apathy of his superiors, after he was fairly roused; yet even he estimates the deaths in Orissa alone at from 500,000 to 600,000 and in some places he admits that three-fourths of the population have been carried off. Orissa had five millions. Add the mortality of Midnapore, which was as severely visited; of Ganjam and Chata Nagpore, which were terribly, yet more mildly, dealt with; of Calcutta, whose hospitals still tell so sad a tale; and of the other districts, where the sequelæ, at least, of starvation carried off many, and remember that the deaths are still going on at the rate of a hundred a-day, and you will agree (says the writer) with the rough estimate generally accepted here, that the number of victims will not be under a million.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—It is stated that members of the British Cabinet freely express the hope that peace of Europe will be preserved in spite of threatening appearance of affairs in the East. Search of baggage of foreign travellers in England and France will, hereafter, be merely nominal.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—It is thought here that the mission of Kallerges to the United States is a Russian intrigue to involve American Government in Eastern question.

Despatches from the East state that plot of Cretan clergy against Mustapha Pacha had been discovered.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—It is asserted that Lord Derby's administration will fall to the ground, if the forthcoming Speech of the Queen at the re-opening of Parliament should not recommend reforms. John Bright has made a speech at Rochdale, in which he said the recent reforms announced by the Emperor Napoleon should be interpreted in a liberal sense; that the authority for suspending newspapers would be abandoned; that public meetings could be held twenty days before an election, and the tribune would be restored.

Dispatches from Constantinople announce that a fleet of twelve American war vessels was daily expected there.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—It is announced that the Austrian troops in Mexico do not leave that country with the French forces.

ATHENS, Feb. 1.—It is impossible for the government of Greece to prevent volunteers from leaving for Creta; 1500 soldiers have just departed to aid their struggling brethren in that Island.

MADRID, Feb. 1.—More than one hundred arrests have been made in this city recently of persons believed to be connected with revolutionary schemes.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Garibaldi discountenances any rising at Rome, and has written a note discouraging the scheme for the present.

It is now said that the plans of the Government do not embrace the introduction of a Reform bill. The subject of Reform will be merely recommended.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The following is a portion of the Queen's speech at the opening of Parliament on the 5th inst:—

MY LORDS—In again recurring to your advice and assistance, I am happy to inform you that my relations with Foreign Powers are on a friendly and satisfactory footing.

I hope that the war in which Prussia and Austria have been engaged may lead to the establishment of a durable peace in Europe.

I have suggested to the United States a mode by which questions pending between the two countries arising out of the civil war may receive an amicable solution, and which if met, as I trust it will be, in a corresponding spirit, will remove all grounds of possible misunderstanding and promote relations of cordial friendship.

Resolutions in favor of a more intimate Union of the Provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, were passed by their several Legislatures; and Delegates, duly authorized and representing all classes of Colonial party and opinion, have concurred in the conditions upon which such a Union may be best effected.

In accordance with their wishes a Bill will be submitted to you, which by the consolidation of Colonial interests and resources, will give strength to the Provinces as members of same Empire and animated by feelings of loyalty to same Sovereign.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The Duke of Flanders, heir apparent to the Belgian throne, is soon to marry the Princess Hohenzollern.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—During the delivery of the Queen's speech to-day, the people cried out "Reform! Reform!!"

Ross Winans has received a contract from Russia to build cars and locomotives for that Government.

UNITED STATES.

A petition was presented in the Senate by Mr. Sherman, asking Congress to prohibit any person addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors from holding office under the United States Government. The Examiner & Chronicle remarks on this as follows:—

This is a little too much, for we should have no government left if it were to pass. But there is no danger. The Republican party is not near so strong in Congress, powerful as they have shown themselves, as the whiskey party. The members will not vote their own heads off, and therefore we need not fear the loss of our government.

THE IMPEACHMENT question is still before the Judiciary Committee. It makes less stir than it did a week ago, though the Senate has occupied some of its time in a wordy attack upon the President. Mr. Sumner took up part of two days with a speech against Mr. Johnson, which was the bitterest assault he has yet suffered. It recalled the old boldness which brought upon Mr. Sumner's head the cane of the cowardly Brooks.

THE SNOW which fell last week is the heaviest known in New-York city for ten years, and presents the peculiarity, rare to city snow, of staying on the ground for several days. Sleighing has been finer than for several years before, and the previous cold made skating so good that the people, young and old, enjoyed that health-giving sport to the full. In the country, mails and trains have been delayed and considerable damage done. In Boston, Commodore Blake, an old officer of the Navy, sixty-two years of age, went out into the storm, and has not yet been heard of.

A New-York paper says:—Our readers will be sorry to learn that the little New England colony at Jalala is a total failure. The colonists have been disappointed in the country where they cast their lot, and sickness and death have been busy among them. To crown their misfortunes, the Sublime Porte has entered a solemn protest against the colony, and refused to sanction the project. Disappointed and sorely reduced in numbers, health and pocket, the survivors have petitioned that a national ship of war may be sent to take them home. So ends the story of one of the strangest freaks of modern times. We are sorry for the misfortunes of the colonists, and sincerely wish they might have had better luck. But theirs was a crazy scheme, and from the first, persons acquainted with Palestine predicted that it would end in failure. The East is not yet ready to welcome colonies from the West, nor is the West ready to send them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.

The Mexican Consul in this city has received official information of the capture of the important town of Carnarvez, 40 miles from the city of Mexico, together with the Imperial forces commanded by Col. Madina, who was shot by order of a court martial.

Gen. Paliaccio routed the Imperialists at Morelia, in the State of Mechocon, and captured the city.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Gold 136.

Sarsaparilla, in itself, it is generally conceded, does not possess that power over disease which at one time it was credited with, but combined with other and more powerful remedial agents its use is often followed by astonishing results. It is acknowledged by the medical faculty that Dr. Larookah's Sarsaparilla Compound is not only the best but the cheapest combination of Sarsaparilla ever made available to the public. As a remedial for Scrofula and kindred complaints we know one bottle of this to equal two of any rival preparation in the market.—Monthly Journal of Science.

Dr. A. Johnson, in an extensive practice of over twenty years, invented and used Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It has now been in use more than forty years, and has established a reputation unsurpassed by any other medicine.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits," or Worm Lozenges, are simple and effectual.

Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders are recommended for sheep in loss of appetite, rot, murrain, and all diseases of the skin.

IT WORKS TO PERFECTION.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, is perfectly harmless. It produces natural, quiet sleep, by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It cures wind colic, regulates the bowels—gives rest to the mother and health to the child. Offices, No. 48 Dey Street, New York, and No. 205 High Holborn, London, England.

CATARRH.—The origin of Catarrh is in most cases A Neglected Cold, which can be relieved by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches," by soothing the irritated and inflamed membrane extending from the nose to the throat. For Coughs, and Throat Diseases the Troches are of great service.

Sickness is an affliction that waits on us all. None are exempt, and there are none but need relief from its attacks. Whoever can furnish this becomes our benefactor. A conviction prevails that Dr. Ayer does it. Disorders of the blood have been healed by his Sarsaparilla, and affections of the lungs by his Cherry Pectoral, too frequently and too distinctly to be disputed. His Ague Cure is said, by those who use it, to never fail. Reader, if you must have medical aid, take the best of medicine. Poor remedies are dear as good are cheap, at any price you have to pay for them.—[Charleston Courier.

AYERS CHERRY PECTORAL

RIS a Soothing expectorant prepared to meet the urgent need of a safe and reliable cure for diseases of the throat and lungs. A trial of many years has established the fact, that it is more efficacious in pulmonary affections, than any other remedy. Its efficacy has now become so generally known, that it is justly regarded in many countries as a medicine of indispensable necessity. In Great Britain, France, and Germany, where medical science has reached its highest perfection, it is prescribed in domestic practice, and constantly used in the armies, in hospitals and other public institutions, where it is regarded by the attending physicians as the most speedy and agreeable remedy that can be employed. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found where well known cases of diseased lungs, which had baffled the efforts of the most skilful and experienced doctors, have been prematurely cured by it. These results are the most convincing proofs of the superior curative properties of this preparation; and to them the authors point with peculiar satisfaction. While it is most powerful against confirmed diseases, it is extremely gentle as a medicine in infancy and youth, being quite harmless to even the youngest, when administered judiciously.

This health-restorer accomplishes even more by prevention than cure. If taken in season it heals all irritations of the throat and lungs, whether arising from Colds or Coughs, or from other causes, and thus prevent that long train of painful and incurable diseases, which would arise from the neglect of them. Hence no family should be without it. Influenza, Croup, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Pleurisy, Incipient Consumption, and other affections of the breathing organs, give way before this preeminent combination of medical virtues.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass, and sold by all Druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere.
