be wondered at. The prospect of the remainder of the work being proceeded with under the same conditions as the portion already taken in hand is, however, sufficiently discouraging."

The new sections of the Intercolonial road have been let at ruinously low figures. Section 8 has been awarded to Duncan McDonald, of Montreal, for $4,878 per mile; section 10 to A. Elliott & Co., Petrolia, for $15,419 per mile; section 9 to Bertrand & Co., Quebec, for $16,880; section 11 to Davis, Grant & Sutherland, of Halifax, for $13,714; and section 12 to Sumner & Somers, Moncton, for $24,392. The general impression is that the work cannot be done at these figures.—Globe.

A FEARFUL CALAMITY

at Pugwash, N. S., is described in a communication to the Amherst Gazette, from the pen of Dr. Clay, under date of the 18th inst. The writer says:

On Friday night last, Mr. Cornelius Crowly retired with his family to rest, a little after dark. About ten o'clock they were aroused by the sound of fire somewhere in the building. On springing from his bed, he found the whole body of the house in flames. His first thought was to get help, so he ran at once to the barn to arouse two of his sons who were sleeping there. On his return he found it impossible to get up stairs, where five of the family were sleeping, or to his father's room, where the old man and a little son were sleeping together. But Mrs. Crowley with her babe succeeded in arousing some of those up stairs; her brother and sister threw themselves out of the window, forgetting the three children that were still asleep in another bed. The mother's screams awakened the eldest daughter, and she came to the window and asked what she would do, when her mother urged her to throw herself down from the window, but she replied, "No; my brother and sister must be saved." She then returned through the heat and smoke and took her sleeping brother, a little younger than herself (9 years), in her arms and carried him to the window, from which he sprang with no injury, except a slight scorching of his face and hair. She then returned through the flame now coming through the floor and brought a still younger sister (7 years) to the window, and here the dear girl had more than she could do, for her sister in her fright, refused to be thrown out, and with the flames coming up around her, she struggled with her until she put her out of the window, and the child dropped helplessly to the ground. After hanging a moment or two upon the window sill, she dropped down herself, a distance of nearly sixteen feet. When she rose from the ground, she said, "I am done, mother; but I have saved my brother and sister from being burnt up."

While this was going on at the end of the house, Mr. Crowley was at the back getting his father out; but he did not know that a little boy was still in the old man's bed until the whole building was in flames. With nothing on but his shirt, he rushed through the flames and saved the boy. The little fellow's arms and face being outside of the bedclothes were badly burnt. The mother, with her burnt children, then walked a distance of six hundred and seventy yards (I had it measured), to the first neighbor's house, in a state of nudity, for they had not saved any clothing.

I was soon sent for, and in about three hours after the fire, was attending to the wants of the suffering children. I saw there was no hope of saving the dear girl, for, from her forehead to the bottom of her feet, she was one mass of burnt flesh. This with the fearful shock received from jumping so far, and walking such a distance in the cold (the night being very chilly) caused her to sink rapidly, and at six in the morning she died—aged eleven years and eight months—a martyr to the love of her brother and sister. I never before saw so much courage and firmness in one so young; and while dressing her bruised and burnt limbs she uttered no complaint. Her sister died in the evening, and the uncle suffered fearfully from the effects of his jumping out of the window. The rest, I hope, will all recover. It was a sad sight to see the parents broken-hearted, weeping over their suffering loved ones.

May God preserve us from like fearful calamities, and under all circumstances, grant us grace to say, "Thy will be done."—I remain yours, in Christian love, EDWIN CLAY, M. D.

DEXTER'S WONDERFUL TROT.

Mr. Bonner drove to a road wagon with himself, weighing 319 pounds. With this load and four wheels behind him, Dexter trotted the first quarter in 34s.; and the next was trotted in 34½s; making the half mile in 1 m. 8½s. He now had a dead muzzler from a strong wind straight in the teeth, and the third quarter was 37s. The last quarter was trotted in 36½; making the whole time 2m. 51½s., which was truly a marvellous thing to a road wagon and the weight. As he neared the score, Mr. Bonner called upon Dexter with a shout and a stroke of the whip, whereupon he made a dart of electric speed and finished in a 2m. gait. The timers of this extraordi-

In this prodigious performance Dexter wore no boots, stockings, nor bandages, and never touched a hair. It is now believed that pro-

A SCHOOL HOUSE was set on fire and burned down at Wallace Harbor, N. S., on the night of the 8th inst; and the rate payers of the Section, at a public meeting, authorized the Trustees to offer a reward of $300 for information concerning the incendiary. Burning School buildings is a favourite amusement of incendiaries in the sister Province.—Tel.

ANNEXATION.—Sir William Young, Chief Justice of Nova Scotia in reply to an address spoke as follows of Annexation:—

And what does Annexation mean? I will say nothing of the sentiment of loyalty, however warmly it may appeal to my own heart, and as I am well satisfied, to that of the vast majority of Nova Scotians. Nor of the enormous taxation, transcending that of any European power, which is the fruit of the late fearful struggle in the United States, and has paralyzed their ship building and manufacturing industries. I state only one simple fact—that, with Annexation, every pound for the support of our Local Legislature and Government—of our Colleges and Schools and other institutions, and of our roads and bridges, would have to be raised by direct assessment. There would be no subsidies then, and no public aids, but so many thousand a year imposed on every County in the Province. This has never been fairly stated to the people, or if stated, it has not been believed; yet it is unquestionably true, and it reduces the very idea of annexation to an absurdity. I had almost said to a crime."

He states that he has everywhere noted a visible and wholesome change in public opinion on political questions. He looks forward to a brilliant future for the Provinces.

PRINCE ARTHUR VISITED BY A VERY OLD WOMAN.—During Prince Arthur's visit to Toronto, an old woman named Mary Hurley, residing in St. Joseph Street, 90 years of age, and the widow of a soldier, called early in the morning at the residence of Lieut. Governor Howland, and stated that she had come to see Prince Arthur, the son of her beloved Queen; that she was the widow of an old soldier who had fought for the Queen's family, and that she was very desirous of seeing her Majesty's son. The circumstance was immediately reported to the Prince, who was then at breakfast, and he immediately arose, and went into the hall to see the old woman, and shaking her warmly by the hand told her he was glad that she had called to see him. He then put a sovereign into the old woman's hand, and told her he would not forget her. The aged woman was naturally highly delighted with the result of her visit, and after bidding the gallant and kind hearted Prince good-bye, she proceeded to a store and purchased a warm quilt to keep her comfortable during the winter. The old woman is very poor, and is mainly supported by contributions from a few kind hearted ladies of the neighborhood. She takes much pleasure in directing the attention of her visitors to Prince Arthur's quilt.—News.

A gigantic scheme has been set on foot in London, no less than to unite the Telegraph system of the world in a single company. This body proposes to take over the business of the International and other companies, and, establishing responsible agencies in London, Liverpool, Manchester and New York, as well as throughout Europe, India, China, and the Colonies, to supply to newspapers, news-rooms, Chambers of Commerce, and the public generally, intelligence regarding all events, wherever happening, commercial and general. The company (which by-the-by, is to be called the Home and Foreign Telegraph News Companies) expects to be able to furnish original and early news on a greater scale, and on a more efficient plan, than has hitherto been attempted. The capital is to be £20,000.

A CONSOLATION.—Consumption has been, and can be again, cured by Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It is the only certain remedy, and no remedy has before been discovered that will certainly cure consumption. The most strongly marked and developed cases of pulmonary consumption have been cured by this wonderful remedy, and are now as well as ever. It is composed of medications which are peculiarly adapted to and essentially necessary for the cure of coughs and consumption. We would advise our readers to seek early Dr. Wilson's Balsam. It is a genuine remedy indeed.

The stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system, abused or debilitated by excess. Indigestion, offensive breath, and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headache, mental depression, and unrefreshing sleep. The liver becomes affected, and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, and the bowels sympathize with costiveness or diarrhœa. Dr. Wilson's Family Antibillious Pills act on the stomach, liver, lungs and bowels, and regenerate their operation.

Clark's Derby Condition Powders are alike applicable to all domestic animals. They make fatting cattle thrive, and working cattle perform much better. There is nothing better for new milch cows, as they cleanse and regulate the system and appetite, and improve the quantity and quality of the milk.

The beneficial effects of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment in relieving and subduing inflammation, bruises, sprains, &c., in all their various forms, and the unsolicited testimony in its favor from those who have used it, is its best advertisement.

☞ A friend who has travelled in Germany, reports the following incident, for which he vouches: During the summer, Dr. J. C. Ayer spent some weeks at Dresden, in conference with the chemists of Central Europe, where he was heralded as the inventor of the world renowned medicines that bear his name, and considered one of the American celebrities. While riding, one day, his open carriage fell in with the cortege of the King of Saxony, on a drive from the review. The Doctor soon became the chief attraction, and received the marked attention of the people, who were even more demonstrative in their courtesies to him than to the King himself, whom they see so constantly. King John, observing this, wrapped his military cloak around him and reclined upon his seat, while our great American medicine man did the honors for the royal retinue, graciously bowing, hat in hand, on every side, until wearied by his excessive condescension to this old monarch's people.

IN NUMBERS there is safety; it was upon this principle that the formula of Judson's Mountain Herb Pills was prepared. It was not the result of one man's knowledge. Dr. Judson intending to spend a fortune in advertising his Pills, consulted the most intelligent and learned physicians of the age, and the result was the production of a simple but efficacious medicine, the Judson's Mountain Herb Pills. These pills cure Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Female Irregularities, &c. They have now been used many years by the Public, and thousands of testimonials bear witness to their virtues. As a family medicine they are unrivalled. Give the Mountain Herb Pills a trial. Sold by all Dealers.

MARSH BRIDGE, St. John, April 6, 1869.

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS:

Dear Sir—Although personally unknown to you, I take the present occasion to testify to the benefits to be derived by taking your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, by all who are troubled with a Bronchial disease or Consumption.

In April, 1867, I was attacked with a terrible soreness in my breast and chest, and a severe pain at the back of my right lung. I toiled through the summer to find myself very much emaciated, so that in October I was reduced nearly nineteen pounds. I consulted many physicians to know the nature of my disease, but was kept in ignorance.

In November I was attacked with inflammation of the Lungs, which was so severe that it effected both my mind and body, causing me to pass an ordeal, which called forth the sympathies of all my friends. After laboring for three months in this state, I partially recovered under the care of my good Doctor, but only to find that I had Bronchitis. This attacked me so violently that I could not rest in bed, owing to the fearful cough and the mucous obstructions in my chest, and for several weeks was obliged to sleep in a chair. In fact, I looked upon this world as if I could not share its joys, all happiness with my family was at an end, and life itself would trouble me but little longer.

Having taken many of the advertised Medicines which were represented as certain remedies for my troubles, without relief, I became discouraged, if not disgusted, so that I had given up all as useless. When my Doctor, who is an eminent Physician of this city and one in whom I placed every confidence, and for whom I entertain the highest respect, told me to try your "Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites." As the price was greater than I had been in the habit of paying for medicines, with the greatest reluctance I got a bottle. After taking about half of it my appetite began to improve and as long as I kept taking it I felt its benefits. To be brief, about five weeks since, the cough and spitting ceased entirely, and I am to-day in better health than I have known for over two years, can prosecute my business as well as ever I did, and am perfectly restored to my health and its enjoyments. Therefore, my Dear Sir, I have every reason to be thankful to a merciful and Divine Providence, and to you for being the instrument which he used in restoring me sound and happy. Believe me, Your obedient servant,

THOMAS CONNOR,

STAMMERING AND STUTTERING

TREATED UPON A

Newly Discovered Principle.

DR. J. H. LEWIN, of the Valley of Virginia, has taken Rooms at Mrs. Andrews' House, No. 11 Horsfield street, St. John, N. B., where he may be consulted until the 8th of November, positively no longer.

Dr. Lewin has particularly directed his attention to this affliction, and has made it a specialty, and would inform those thus afflicted that he has discovered the origin, the local cause and effects of stammering. Also, a remedy by the application of which the patient (in a majority of cases) is enabled to speak and read with distinctness in the short space of two hours, without distress or pain to the patient. In other cases longer time may be required for the remedy to produce the same result, yet, it is only a matter of time. No case, but what must, of necessity, receive great benefit by said remedy, yet, in either case, the remedy can be given within two hours, which is sufficient time for the patient to remain with Dr. Lewin. The patient will be convinced both of the grandeur and beauty, as well as the efficacy of his remedy.

Should this invaluable remedy not be accepted, no charge will be made.

Those who do not call on Dr. Lewin at St. John, N. B., can do so at Fredericton, where he will be from 10th Nov. till 24th Nov.

[Read the following certificate from Judge Weldon's son of this city, and also others:]

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 18th, 1869.

Having been treated by Dr. Lewin for Stammering to my entire satisfaction, I do, with pleasure, recommend his remedy and treatment to all who may be thus afflicted. His remedy must, of necessity, result in a cure in a large majority, if not in every case. Given under my hand.

HALIBURTON WELDON.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 18th, 1869.

Having witnessed the effects of the system of treating Stammering by Dr. Lewin, of Virginia, we have pleasure in expressing our entire approval of his theory and remedy, and recommend those afflicted to apply to him.
