prosecuting attorney stepped in and took charge of the suits in good earnest. Then followed the voluntary closing up of hotels and saloons, by the keepers nailing boards across their windows and doors, discharging boarders, stopping hotel-runners and omnibuses, and a general embargo on the travelling public declared, while citizens looked on to see the sport. The ladies not at all disconcerted at this, immediately opened their houses for the reception of travellers, gratis, until public temperance houses could be started; hired carriages, and in person met travellers at the cars and invited them to their houses, where they unexpectedly received superior fare accomodations and attention. The hotel-keepers saw their game was blocked and began to "climb down," as soon as possible. Two days passed and at night the boards were removed from the hotel doors and windows, and vehicles began to run as usual. In conjunction with these occurrences, a petition circulated by the ladies, signed by some 300 ladies and gentlemen, asking for a suppression of the tippling and gambling saloons, was presented to the Common Council, a majority of whom are supposed to be in favor of carrying on the wishes of the citizens. The movement is fast increasing in friends, and finding sympathy with the sterner sex. Coteries of ladies are seen gathered here and there in apparently earnest consultation. It is the ladies vs. tippling and gambling. It is the earnest determined woman at work. —Ex.

New York papers begin to devote attention to peach statistics. Already one hundred cars are employed in transporting this fruit from Delaware and Maryland into New York. Great preparations are making by the railroads for the heavy work of bringing the fruit to market. Delaware it is believed will yield fully two million baskets, of which two-thirds will go to New York. In the height of the season one hundred and fifty cars, containing perhaps 67,500 baskets of peaches, pass over the Camden and Amboy road. New York looks with suspicion on the movement to ship fruit directly from the growing districts to Boston, and fears that it will not succeed. The price of fruit this year is a matter of much speculation. That there is to be a very abundant supply cannot be questioned, but there are whispers of an effort among the dealers to keep the price up even if it must be done by throwing away large quantities of fruit. As the entire yield of large districts has been contracted for at a fixed and not very low price, it is evident that it is some one's business to have the price kept up. The New Jersey harvest hardly begins before the Delaware supply is exhausted. The scene at the New York markets in the early morning during peach season is very lively, and deserves the attention of some of the illustrated newspapers of New York.

TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION IN SWEDEN.—Late advices from Sweden report a most disastrous fire as having occurred in the town of Gefle. It took place on the 10th ult., and originated in a carpenter's shop in the centre of the town. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and the result was that a large part of the town was destroyed. 700 houses and buildings were burned, and 8,000 houseless persons, out of a population of 13,000, having lost almost everything they possessed, are now camping in the open air. The loss is estimated at above £500,000.

The annual report of the London Missionary Society says: "In the Island of Madagascar the religious progress made during the past year is not only the most rapid that has occurred within a similar period in any field of the Society's labors, but it finds no parallel among any people in modern days. The report of the mission speaks of 20,000 hearers added to the congregations during last year; and returns the converts at 37,000 persons, including 7000 members."

The Hottentots living in Cape Colony, South Africa, number in all 79,966. Many of them are rising in the scale of education, civilization, and religion. In one of their towns, having a population of over 1000, they have lately built a Christian chapel which will accommodate about 600 hearers, and it is generally crowded with sober and attentive worshippers.

In Seville Spain, one of the largest Romish churches has been rented by Senor Cabrera's congregation. It is in the form of a Greek cross, and when the altars are removed will seat about 2000 persons. In the same city a class of promising candidates for the Reformed ministry has been formed, and the Reformed congregation has resolved to establish a Theological Seminary to train them.

HOW THE CALIFORNIA CHINESE GO TO CHURCH.—The congregation is composed principally of men, and boys, dressed in their every day clothes. Some of them stare about them, or talk with each other. Instead of sitting down and paying attention to what is said, many stand up and walk about. Perhaps some will come up to the speaker and try to look over his book, if he reads from the Bible, or they will examine the foreign stove if it is cold weather and there is fire in it; or they will stand in front of the clock and watch it for awhile. Others have with them parcels of merchandise, or a fowl, some vegetables, &c., they have bought or wish to sell; and if it is warm weather very many will strip the upper part of their bodies naked, and fan themselves so as to be as cool as possible.

Oftentimes, unless forbidden to smoke, several engage in smoking little pipes full of tobacco, having first struck a fire by means of a flint and piece of steel, and some very dry paper. Almost every Chinaman carries about with him his pipe and tobacco, and materials for striking fire. Sometimes a beggar woman will enter the chapel and bawl out lustily for cash. It is a very common practice for most of those who come to stay but a short time, and when one of them goes out all of his mates and friends usually follow. If an idol procession, or a mandarin and his retinue are passing along the streets, or some sudden or unusual noise is heard, the boys and most of the men rush out to see what is to be seen, after which some of them will perhaps come back. Very few are regular hearers of the gospel, and fewer still come in for the purpose of hearing about Jesus. Almost all who come are prompted by curiosity.

THE NEWS and THE PRESS.

AUGUST 13, 1869.

ITEMS.—The Paper Mills at Penobsquis will commence operations this day.—The Hotels in this city are filled to overflowing with strangers. The want of enlarged Hotel accommodation is very much felt.—The Circuit Court was opened on Tuesday. Judge Weldon presided. There was no criminal calendar, and the Sheriff presented his Honor the Judge with a pair of white gloves. The Judge congratulated the Jury on the absence of criminal cases, and reiterated the arguments in favor of a Juvenile Reformatory.—A large number of distinguished visitors are now scattered over the Province enjoying the scenery, fishing, etc.—Arrangements are being made for the reception of PRINCE ARTAUR.—The Paris crew won the race in the Regatta at Toronto with ease.—The steamers are still running between Fredericton and Woodstock.—The steamers of the Express and Union Lines have exchanged days.—The Pic-Nic of New Dominion Lodge to Grand Bay, on Wednesday, was a very pleasant affair.—The track for the Horse railroad is now being laid along Prince Wm. street.—A verdict of "Found drowned in Johnston's Slip, &c., whether death was caused from violence or by misfortune the Jurors say not," was rendered by Coroner's Jury in Bridget Rooney case.—On Friday night last a collision occurred between the steamers "Princess of Wales" and "St. Lawrence," off Cow Bay, Gulf St. Lawrence. The damage done the "St. Lawrence" was very serious, and caused her to leak freely. The "Princess" had her bow stove in, but no damage to lower works. She took the "St. Lawrence" in tow to Summerside. Damage to both boats about four thousand dollars.

UNSATISFACTORY TRIP.—Mrs. O'Neil of Duke street, has returned from Portland, where she has been in order to secure some fourteen pounds, which she alleges was stolen from her by Mary Cunningham. From the following statement by the girl, which we find in the Portland Press, it appears that the Police authorities of that city think Mary is'nt such a bad girl after all:—

According to Mary's story, when she was about two years old, she was given away by her father to this women, who has claimed all her wages since she was large enough to earn anything, and abused her in every way. Since she has been out at service she has earned good wages and this woman has seized them, and therefore Mary determined to get out of her clutches. Mary was consequently permitted to go her way unmolested.—Tel.

The Governor General, his family and suite, are now making a tour of the Maritime Province. They arrived at Dalhousie by steamer Napoleon on Monday, and have since visited Newcastle, Bathurst, and Charlottetown. Halifax will probably be visited next, and then St. John.

The facts, such as they are, which transpired at the inquest on the body of the unfortunate girl Roonay yesterday, serves to add to the mystery of her death, and renders it absolutely necessary that the investigation should be most searching. There is a very important gap in the testimony yet wanting, and, it is to be hoped that the man Day can supply this. It is now quite certain that the girl did go a second time to Mrs. Alexander's house, on the night on which she met her death, but she left almost immediately afterwards, that she was again in Day's company; and that is all that is known of her until she was found in the water. The inquest will be resumed tomorrow, a constable having, in the meantime, been sent to Quaco for Day, on whose evidence the whole story seems now to hang.—Globe.

The Liverpool Courier of the 21st ult. says,—The Marquis of Westminster has sent £1,000 to the British Colonial Emigration Fund. This will enable the committee to despatch to Canada from 200 to 250 emigrants before the end of the present month. Nearly 3,000 persons have been assisted to emigrate through the agency of this fund.

The crops of Nova Scotia as a whole were probably never better than they are this year. The weather throughout the season has been universally favorable. Hay is more than an average yield.

It is said that all the resources of the Acadia Iron Mines will be called into requisition to provide rails for the Intercolonial Railway. It is expected that 24 miles of this road, extending from Truro to Folly Lake, will be put under contract immediately, and will be pushed through with the least possible delay.

Report says the Windsor and Annapolis Railway will be opened on Wednesday the 18th inst.

The question is often asked us by sufferers of pulmonary disorders "what treatment of my complaints is safest and surest." The unsolicited testimony of thousands who have used Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, point it out as the most effectual of all curative means. The ingredients of which it is compounded are in the highest degree beneficial, very strengthening, and altogether uninjurious. Many of the worst forms of Lung Complaint have been stopped in their course by this invaluable remedy, and many apparently hopeless cases of Consumption have been cured by it.

No other formula combines, in so compact and concentrated a form, the active and essential properties of medicine, and is so well adapted to family use, as Dr. Wilson's Family Anti-Billious Pills. Devoid of Mineral and Vegetable Poisons, simple but efficacious in operation, they may be administered with equal safety to the infant as to the adult. No family should be without a box.

We are not in the habit of puffing patent medicines, but believe in this case we are justified in calling attention to Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. This Liniment invaluable for the complaints for which it is recommended.

If your horse is dull and languid, and shows a disinclination to eat so freely as usual, Clark's Derby Condition Powders are just the remedy required.

☞ In one of Doctor Ayer's Lectures he states that Chemistry confers more practical benefit on mankind than any other science, yet from no other source could more be so easily obtained. The arts and economies which chemistry would teach, if more thoroughly and generally studied, would speedily exercise a most beneficent influence. He freely confesses that he is indebted to this science for the virtues of his remedies, and advises that the practical application of chemistry to medicine, the arts, manufactures, and agriculture, be enjoined upon our colleges and schools.—[Wrightsville (Pa.)
