...Lord Pa... ...d a despatch and it... ...e following are copies, addressed... ...dship by Field-Marshal Lord Raglan, G. C. B.:—

BEFORE SEBASTOPOL, April 10.

My Lord,—In accordance with the arrangement made between General Canrobert and myself, the batteries of the French and English armies opened upon Sebastopol soon after daylight ye... ...ning.

The weath... ...extremely unpropitious. Much rain had fallen in the course of the night, and it continued during the day, accompanied by a tempestuous wind and a heavy mist, which obscured everything, and rendered it impossible to ascertain with any degree of accuracy the effect of the fire, which has been continued with little or no interruption from the commencement, and has been superior to that of the enemy, who were evidently taken by surprise, and, except upon the extreme left, did not respond to the attack for nearly half an hour.

This morning has been hazy, and for some time there was a drizzling rain, but it is clearing this afternoon, and there is again a prospect of fine weather.

The country yesterday was covered with water, and the ground was again very deep. The trenches were likewise extremely muddy, and their condition added greatly to the labours of the men employed in the batteries, who consisted chiefly of sailors, artillerymen, and sappers.

They conducted their duties admirably, and I am sorry to say that the two former, particularly the navy, sustained considerable loss.

I have not yet received the returns of the casualties beyond the 9th instant, which are herewith enclosed; but the death of Lieutenant Twyford, of the Royal Navy, a most promising officer, and greatly respected by all, has been notified to me; and Captain Lord John Hay, who has taken a most active part in the gallant and distinguished services of the Naval Brigade, was wounded almost at the very moment, I believe, by the same shot. I hope the injury he has received is not very serious, but the loss of his assistance, even for a time, is much to be regretted.

The Russians have not shown themselves in any force in front of Balaklava.

I have, &c.,

RAGLAN.

The Lord Panmure, &c.

The London Gazette contains the following despatches from Lord Raglan:—

BEFORE SEBASTOPOL, April 14.

My Lord,—Since I wrote to your Lordship on the 11th, a steady and heavy fire has been maintained from all the batteries of the allies. The fire of the British artillery, chiefly directed against the Garden Batteries, the Barrack Battery, he Redan, the Malakoff Tower, and the Mamelon, has been most effective, and the enemy's works have suffered very considerably, although they have, as usual, made a... ...of the night to repair damages, not... ...that the vertical fire has been con... ...d throughout the 24 hours.

The practice both of the Naval Brigade and the Artillery has been excellent.

The casualties have not been very numerous, but the loss has fallen heavily upon the sailors, as your Lordship will see by the accompanying return; and the Royal Navy has to deplore the death of Lieut. Douglas, who had served with great ability and zeal from the commencement of the siege. Lieuts. Urmston and D. Ach, Royal Navy, and Steel, Royal Marine Artillery, all valuable offi... have been wounded. The Royal Artillery ... to lament the death of Lieut. Luce, who was an officer of great promise, and Lieuts. Sinclair and L'Estrange are among the wounded. The former has sustained several severe injuries; I am happy to add that there is every ...e of his recovery. They are both very ...torious officers. Captain Crofton, of the ... Engineers, who had, in the course of ...ted operations before Sebastopol, rendered essential service, has also received a wound, which will, I fear, detain him from duty for a very considerable time.

Our batteries continue to stand admirably, notwithstanding the very unfavourable state of the weather.

The enemy's fire has been comparatively slack, but the practice is good; and owing to their having ascertained the range of our batteries with great nicety, several gun... ...e been disabled in both the right and left attack. Towards the Tchernaya nothing important has been observed, but small bodies of men from 150 to 500 have been seen with a heavy gun and some ordnance carriages, moving along the Inkerman heights towards Mackenzie's Farm Road, near which it has been placed in position.

Although the duties have been unusually severe and arduous both by day and by night during the week, they have been carried on with the utmost cheerfulness, and reflecting much credit both on officers and men.

The submarine telegraph has been safely brought to the monastry from Cape Kelegra, and as soon as it is established at the former place, the engineers will proceed to convey it from the latter to the immediate neighbourhood of Varna, when I hope it may be it a state to act in a week or ten days from this day.

The first division of the 10th Hussars arriv... this day at Balaklava.

(Signed) RAGLAN.

...om Special Correspondent of Times.)

FOURTH DIVISION CAMP,
Friday Evening, April 13.

Up to the present moment our batteries ...e succeeded in establishing a superiority ...fire over the Russians, but it is not very ...ided, and the silence of the enemy's guns ... arise, in some measure, from want of ...munition, or from confidence in the strength ...r earthworks. The whole of the para... ...e Redan and Round Tower are jag... ...tted with holes several feet deep, ...hot have sunk, the sharp angles of ...sures are knocked away, and the ...s in front is considerably damaged here and there, but the real strength of the place is unimpaired; and, as long as the Russians can find new guns, fresh supplies of ammunition, and men to fight the batteries, we are not one inch nearer to the town than we were in last October, so long as we rely alone on the fire of our artillery to make us masters of it. There are great differences of opinion among ...se officers to whom I have spoken respecting the chances of an assault, but there can be little doubt but that an attack on the Round Tower, the Mamelon, and the two earthworks ... the south side of Inkerman, which are called by the French the batteries 1 Avril and 2 Avril, would be attended with success, if made with sufficient force, although the loss of life would be very considerable, until guns could be got up to reply to the fire of the north forts, the shipping, and the bastion face of the Radan. The men—brave, noble fellows—are all actuated by the best spirit and by the most entire devotion, and any work they may be called upon to do will be done if man can do it.

There have been frequent close and long conferences between the allied Generals, in which Omar Pasha has taken a part. His Excellency dined with Lord Raglan on Tuesday. On Monday and Tuesday there were lengthy councils at our head-quarters, at which Omar Pasha, General Canrobert, and General Bosquet were present. I am not aware whether or not Sir George Brown attends these councils; but it is pretty certain that neither Sir Colin Campbell, General Pennefather, Sir Richard England, or Sir John Campbell are much in Lord Raglan's secrets, and that he keeps his counsels as close as it has been his wont to do from the time he assumed the command of the army. Hitherto our army has scarcely been in a position to undertake any offensive operation against an enemy outside, but the efficient reinforcement it has received of 20,000 of Omar Pasha's best troops should render our chiefs able to direct a reconnoissance against Baidar, unless an assault is imminent.

On Tuesday, the enemy received a large convoy of stores. To-day, they have received fresh supplies, apparently of ammunition, but there is no appearance of any increase to the army encamped between the Belbek and the Tchernaya.

The arrival of the Turks puts an end to all fear for Balaklava, and the lines may now be held against as many Russians as can be deployed to attack them without the smallest fear of the result. The railway brings up 28 waggons-full of shot, shell, and ammunition daily more than half-way to the terminus, and its services have been invaluable, though they may not have realised the extravagant expectations which had been formed of them.

10.50 P. M.

I have just now come back from Cathcart's Hill with the painful impression that our noble allies have sustained a serious check. The effect of the desperate work which has been going on between the French and the Russians can be compared to nothing that I can think of save a broad street, as seen from a distance, brightly illuminated for some festive occasion, with the wind playing fiercely and irregularly along the fretted gas-pipes.

SATURDAY MORNING, 12.30 A. M.

There is now a profound silence—not a gun can be heard, and the horrid din of shot and shell screaming and whistling through the air, the bursts of cannon and bombs, the cheers and rolling volleys, have all died away, the deadly lights have died out and left all the black waste in darkness. While the fight lasted, the quantities of shell thrown by both sides were prodigious.

SATURDAY, 3 o'clock, A. M.

There is a tremendous cannonade on our left. The Light Division bugles are sounding close at hand.

3.15.—There is an awful crashing roar from the Russian batteries. The Light Divisi... are on the alert. I must close my despatch for the present.

Classical, Mathematical and Philosophical Department
OF THE
Theological Seminary
IN CONNECTION WITH THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF NOVA SCOTIA.

Greek, Logic, Moral Philosophy, and Chemistry, REV. PROFESSOR ROSS.
Latin, Mathematics, Algebra, & Nat'rl Philosophy, PROFESSOR MCCULLOCH.

THE Committee of Superintendence having secured the services of Mr. THOMAS McCULLOCH as second Professor, and having completed their arrangements and tested the efficiency of the Institution, beg leave to submit to its friends and the public the following outline of the course of instruction which it affords:—

First Year—Logic, Greek, Latin, & Mathematics,
Second Year—Moral Philosophy, Greek, Latin, and Mathematics.
Third Year—Natural Philosophy, Greek, &c., &c.
Fourth Year—Chemistry, Greek, &c., &c.

The LOGIC course embraces an analysis of the intellectual powers and their mode of operation, giving particular prominence to the nature and different kinds of evidence, and of prejudices, to the different modes of reasoning, and to fallacies,—Æsthetics,—Universal Grammar,—Composition,—and Elocution.

In the MORAL PHILOSOPHY Class, the following subjects are discussed: The origin of Action and the nature of Power; the freedom of the Will; the Mec... ...al, Animal, and Rational principles of Ac... the nature and standard of Virtue; the existence of the Deity; the immortality of the Soul; Duty, as indicated by the light of nature; Man in a state of nature; the origin and progress of the Arts and Sciences; Law; Government; and Political Economy.

The course in NATURAL PHILOSOPHY treats of Matter, its properties, necessary and contingent; Motion, its laws; Acoustics; Mechanics; Hydrodynamics; Pneumatics; Heat; Optics; Magnetism and Electricity, including Galvanism, Electro-Galvanism, Magneto-Electricity, and Thermo-Electricity.

In CHEMISTRY, after some preliminary remarks on Affinity and the laws of Combination, the course is divided into the following parts:—Part 1st. Inorganic Chemistry; Part 2nd, Organic Chemistry; Part 3rd. Application of Chemical principles to the purposes of life.

In the PHILOSOPHICAL and CHEMICAL classes no particular text-books are employed. The Professors furnish the students with a syllabus of the course.

The ELEMENTARY works used in the Classical Department are Bullion's Latin and Greek Gram... ...ew's or Riddle's Latin Dictionary, a... ...and Scott's Greek Lexicon.—The ... ...ave, in Latin, Virgil, Horace, ...nitilian, and Tacitus; and in ... ...lectanea Græca Majora.

Revelenta Arabica Food.

OF all discoveries, none has conferred greater benefit upon mankind than that made by Du Barry some years back. We allude to a plant grown upon that gentleman's estates in America, called Du Barry's Revelenta Arabica. Its superiority over Pills and other medicines in subduing disease and keeping off the enemy is manifested in a marked degree in the metropolis, where the public health has latterly acquired a tone it never attained before; thus, besides a great falling off in disease, there is a decrease in deaths of from 10 to 15 per centum, whilst the births exceed the deaths by 40 per cent. Testimonials from parties of unquestionable respectability, have attested that it supersedes medicine of every description in the effectual removal of indigestion (dispepsia), constipation, and diarrhœa, nervousness, biliousness, liver complaint, flatulency, distension, palpitation of the heart, nervous headache, deafness, noises in the head and ears, pains in almost every part of the body, chronic inflamation and ulceration of the stomachs, angina pectoris, erysipelas, eruption skin, incipient consumption, dropsy, ... gout, heartburn, nausea and sickness ... nancy, after eating or at sea, low spirits, spasms, cramps, spleen, general debility, paralysis, asthma, cough, inquietude, sleeplessness, involuntary blushing, tremors, dislike to society, unfitness for study, loss of memory, delusions, vertigo, blood to the head, exhaustion, melancholy, groundless fear, indecision, wretchedness, thoughts of self-destruction, and many other complaints. It is, moreover, admitted by those who have used it to be the best food for infants and invalids generally, as it never turns acid on the weakest stomach, but imparts a healthy relish for lunch and dinner, and restores the faculty of digestion and muscular and nervous energy to the most enfeebled. For the benefit of our readers a synoposis of a few of 50,000 testimonials received by Mr. Du Barry upon the invaluable efficacy of his Revelenta Arabica Food—Case No 75—from the Right Hon. the Lord Stuart de Decies:—"I have derived much benefit from Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food.—Stuart de Decies, Dromana, Cappoquin, county of Waterford." Case no 180.—"25 years' nervousness, constipation, indigestion, and debility, from which I had suffered great misery, and which no medicine could remove or relieve, I have been effectually cured by Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food in a very short time.—W. R. Reeves, Pool Antony, Tiverton.' Case No 461.—"60 years partial paralysis, affecting one half of my frame, and which had resisted all other remedies, has yielded to Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food, and I now consider myself a stranger to all complaints, excepting a nearty old age.—Wm. Hunt, barrister at-law, King's College, Cambridge." Case No. 1,609:—"Three years' excessive nervousness, with pains in my neck and left arm, and general debility, which rendered my life very miserable, has been radically removed by Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food.—Alex. The Infallible Remedy!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

NEPELAS OF EIGHT YEARS DURATION CURED!

Copy of a Letter from Geo. Sinclair, Esq., of Paris, Canada, dated the 18th July, 1854.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—I feel a pleasure and a pride in bearing witness to the wonderful benefit I have derived by the use of your inestimable Ointment and Pills. For eight years I suffered unceasingly from attacks of erysipelas; large purple blotches came all over my body; in addition to the unpleasant feeling of itching and burning, which affected me both night and day, rendering life a misery to me, as well as to all around,—so severe was the attack. I used several reputed remedies without deriving the least cessation to my misery. At last, I determined to try your Ointment and Pills; after taking them for a few weeks, a visible improvement took place, and I feel considerably better;—in three months, by continuing your medicines, I was completely cured, and now enjoy the best of health. The truth of this statement is well known here, hence there is no necessity for me to request secrecy.

I am, Sir, yours respectfully,
(Signed) GEO. SINCLAIR.

ULCERS IN THE LEG,—REMARKABLE CURE!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkinson, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, dated the 4th May, 1854.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—My sister, Miss Jane Tomkinson, suffered for a great number of years from a bad leg; in which there were several deeply seated and old wounds, defying the skill of some of the most eminent of the medical faculty, a variety of remedies were also used unsuccessfully; and it seemed to me that there was not any thing capable of mitigating the agonies she endured. At length, she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks, she was completely cured, after all other means had failed to afford her the slighest relief. I have no objection to these facts being published, if you feel disposed to make them known.

I remain, Sir, your most obedient servant,
EDWD. TOMKINSON.

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR!!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Malden, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—My wife suffered severely after the birth of our last child with a bad breast. There were several holes in it, one as large as a hand; all the devices and stratagems I tried would not heal them, but assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your Ointment and Pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks, at the expiration of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies for two more weeks, she was entirely cured, and we offer you our united thanks for the cure effected.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
(Signed) HENRY MALDEN.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:
