THE NEWS and THE PRESS.

SAINT JOHN, APRIL 8, 1870.

THE SCHOOL BILL has been withdrawn. Though this was frequently prophesied, there were many who hoped differently. Those who all along asserted the insincerity of the Government in the matter, are jubilant because their predictions have proved true; while those who were and are opposed to an improved system of education, are making merry over their triumph which they have gained through the vacillations of the body of men who for a time have "played" Government. We have watched the course of the administration, and our charity has led us to refrain from any severe condemnation, principally because we cherished the hope that they would give the country a good School System, which would be sufficient to atone for the whole catalogue of blunders with which they have been repeatedly charged; but they have failed, miserably failed, and have crushed for a time, at least, the fondest hopes of the most ardent friends of popular education. For some members of the Government, personally, we have much respect, but as an Executive body, they have shown themselves utterly incompetent. For Mr. King we feel sorry. He devoted himself most assiduously to the School Bill, and seemed to look upon it with the foundness of a father for his child. When he introduced the measure, he made an able speech full of the broadest and most enlightened views, and his explanation of the provisions and defence of the grand principle, evidenced a thorough acquaintance with the subject. He doubtless thought the Government would sustain him; but he was disappointed, as was evident from his painful agitation when he announced their intention to withdraw the bill. We only regret that, when he saw their policy (?) he did not promptly tender his resignation. For three years the Government have been promising legislation in school matters, but instead of fulfilling their oft-repeated promises, they have left the matter worse than when they assumed power. They have spent the time in trying to excuse themselves, first on this ground and then on that, until by their final act they have made themselves simply intolerable. Why have they pursued such a course? Well, we do not know, we never have seen anybody that did; in fact we do not believe they know themselves. The idea is quite prevalent that they did not know one day what they would do the next, and to this opinion we strongly incline. It is not hard to believe that they could not agree more than twenty four hours at a time, and it is quite as easy to believe that the Roman Catholic element was one of the chief causes of the discord. The Roman Catholic member, with a priest ever at his elbow, could not be expected to consent to the free school system. The principle that is at work undermining the school system of the United States, and that has brought about the dismissal of Chief Superintendent Rand, in Nova Scotia, because he presumed, in obedience to the law, order an examination of a school, in which the pupils were taught to worship the Virgin Mary, was at work in the Executive Council of New Brunswick; and, aided by other influences, it has triumphed. However much this may be denied, there is more truth in it than is pleasant to know.

The Government, however, do not stand alone, for the opposition (so called) are far from being guiltless. One is heard to declare that he will treat the measure as a party question. It is enough to say, that men of that stamp are unfortunately possessed of no inconsiderable narrowness of mind. Those members who made such splendid professions of love for the principle of the bill, and then turned round, and by the use of all sorts of little weak arguments, sought to thwart it, placed themselves in no enviable position. Men who cannot sink a factious spirit, or be be bold enough to stake their political existence—even though $2,400 per annum goes with it—when opportunity offers, to aid in carrying so grand a principle as that of free schools, are not the men to sit in any legislative hall. We think there are few who will regret that the present House is about ceasing to exist. We do not pretend to say that there are no good men among the present legislators; for there is a number of "good men and true;" but then there are others that are manifestly not in their proper place, and we hope their constituencies will have sufficient discernment to see their unfitness, and send more worthy representatives in their stead. With reference to the future of the school bill, we scarcely dare venture an opinion. We shall carefully watch further developments, and be as hopeful as possible.

The Telegraph says:—We learn from a telegram received by Messrs. Charles McLauchlan & Co., that the barque Agnes M. Lovitt, owned by Messrs Thos. Hillyard, Joseph P. Lovett, of Yarmouth, and George Clark, of Carleton, was driven ashore and waterlogged at Instrabull, Ireland. Mrs Churchill, wife of the Captain, and her child, besides two of the crew, were lost. The Agnes M. Lovett was a vessel of 680 tons, and was built at Indiantown in 1866. She was laden with a cargo of lumber with which she cleared from St. John on the 18th Feb. last.

The Freeman of Tuesday says that about 6 o'clock on Monday a boy, aged 14 years, named James Gleeson, son of Mr. William Gleeson, who resides in Main street, Portland, was found drowned in Messrs. Kirk & Worall's pond. From the position of the body when discovered it is supposed that in attempting to pass from the booms to the saw mill—a very dangerous pastime too frequetly indulged in by boys of his age—he fell between the logs, which immediately closed over him, prevented all chance of escape. Coroner Rigby held an Inquest on the body last evening, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

MAN KILLED ON THE NEW BRUNSWICK AND CANADA RAILWAY.—Yesterday evening a St. Stephen correspondent sent us the following telegram:—"Last night (Saturday) a special from Canterbury, with a load of lumber, ran over a section man named Cook, about 17½ miles above Lawrence Station, killing him instantly. Cook and another section man named Drinkall had been down to Watt Junction with a lorry. They were intoxicated when they left there. Drinkall got out at his house. Cook went on and was killed a few steps from his own house. They knew the train was coming. Coroner Rose went up with a special train, and held an inquest this morning. The jury will give their verdict to morrow afternoon. Cook leaves a wife and family."—Telegraph.

EUROPEAN AND NORTH AMERICAN RAILWAY.—The comparative statement of traffic receipts for the last month shows a marked increase for 1870. Month ending 31st day of March:

	1868.	1869.	1870.
Passengers,	$3,776.06	$4,459.92	$4,524.72
Freight,	6,591.42	7,867.74	10,179.38
Mails and Sundries,	504.34	727.12	760.53
Totals,	$10,871.82	$13,054.78	$15,464.63

DROWNED.—A correspondent writes, that "on Thursday, the 24th ult., a man was seen crossing the river, at the mouth of Aroostook; and at the point between the two rivers, he dropped through the ice, and was drowned. His body has not been found."

RIVALLING BOSTON.—We hear that the Fredericton Choral Society intend to issue a circular to all the leading choirs, bands and musical organizations of the Province, as well as to individual vocalists and instrumentalists desiring them to co-operate with the Society in getting up a Grand Provincial Concert to be given in the Exhibition Building at the Triennial Provincial Exhibition, which is to be held in Fredericton the coming fall. The work is a gigantic one and will tax all the wisdom, finesse and ability of the movers to bring it about. But could such a Concert be successfully carried out, it would do much to promote that harmony between lovers of the divine art, which, unfortunately, is at the present wanting, and at the same time do more perhaps than anything else to improve the taste and musical knowledge of the people generally.—News.

SENTENCED.—Thomas L. White, the Nova Scotian who shot and killed Mrs. Katie A. Robbs, in Boston, in August last, has been tried. He pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and was sentenced to the State prison for fifteen years. He is a confirmed consumptive, and is not expected to live but a very short time.—News.

DESERTERS CAPTURED.—On Monday morning, two soldiers, named Bennett and Stewart, servants of two officers of the 78th Highlanders, now stationed in St. John, stole their respective officers' clothes, and hastily started for Fairville, where they took the train for St. Stephen. During the day, W. T. Rose, Esq., received a telegram, stating the facts, and orders to arrest them. Messrs. Nisbett and Robinson were summoned and informed of the case, and on arrival of the Train Mr. Nesbitt stepped aboard, and instantly detected his prey. He quickly withdrew to inform his colleague, when the two brawny Scots were seen to leave the cars and go to Mr. McVay's boarding house, where they were closely followed by the two detectives. They were finally arrested and to safe quarters. A telegram was received on Tuesday to have them conveyed to the nearest gaol to await further orders.—St. Croix Courier.

THE BAY VERTE CANAL project is looking up. Mr. Burpee and others have kept the ball moving by bringing the matter before the House, and canvassing it privately. It has become now acknowledged on all hands as one of the Public Works that is to be undertaken as soon as the Intercolonial Railway is completed. Messrs. Galt and Mackenzie, both hitherto hostile or silent, have this year spoken strongly in its favor, and the Premier, in announcing that Government would appoint a commission to report upon the Inland navigation of the Dominion, spoke of the proposed and existing Canals foom Bay Verte to Sault Ste Marie.—Ottawa Cor. Tel.

OTTAWA April, 2.—Governor Smith arrived from Fort Garry, states Scott tried by six Riel's insurgent Council as being troublesome and unsafe man sentenced to be shot at 12 next day. Execution delayed one hour while Smith interceded with Riel. Six men fired but failing to kill him he was despatched by one placing a revolver at his head. Reported Bishop Tache would be there next day. Smith wished delay until his arrival, but could not succeed, fearing his influence might prevent murder.

APRIL 4.—The shooting of Scott at Fort Garry, was mercilessly inhuman. He fell at the first fire, but not dead. One of the party then put a pistol to his ear and fired but the bullet glanced, and not striking a vital part, Scott was placed in a coffin alive, where he writhed in agony an hour before dying.

In the House of Commons on the 4th Mackenzie asked the Premier whether the Government had direct positive information respecting the matter. Sir John replied that, while there was no direct written evidence of eye witnesses, there was no doubt of the atrocious murder having been committed. Commissioner Smith would return from Montreal to-night, and place the facts before the Government in writing. Such portion as might be safe to be made public would be laid before the House forthwith.

LATER.—A letter dated Fort Garry, 5th Feb., received in Ottawa, confirm, with particulars, the shooting of Scott. The writer was an eye witness of the scene. Scott's last words were, "My God, I'm murdered." This was after the shooting.

The schooners accepted for marine police service by Department of Marine are "Sweepstakes," of Lunenburg, "Ida E." of Halifax, "Ella G. McLean" and "Water Lily," of St. John, "England," of Miramichi, and one from Quebec.

OTTAWA, April 5.—Colonel Johnston, Chief of the Six Nation Indians, has offered eight hundred of his braves to serve in the Red River country. Government will decide in a few days whether or not the offer will be accepted.

OTTAWA, April 6.—Government has received information of threatened Fenien movement on frontier, and talk of calling out the volunteers.

It is reported that seven thousand regulars and three hundred volunteers will be sent at once to Red River.

Several battalions of volunteers have offered their services to go out there.

Nearly four hundred tenders for Railway contracts arrived, Commissioners now opening and arranging them. No decision will be arrived at for some days.

The Dominion Government have received information from official sources in United States of Fenian movements, and will be prepared to meet any attempt of a raid on the border.

A monster indignation meeting will be held in Toronto to night respecting the Scott murder at Red River. The opinion in official circles here is that this act of Riel's puts an end to all negociations, and it only remains to put down the rebellion with a strong hand.

A force sufficiently formidable to prevent resistance will be sent there at earliest practicable date in the Spring.

Leave to bring in the Bill was refused by a majority of 187.

For Asthma, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, &c., there is no medicine that can be used with so good an effect. In fact, in the worst form of these diseases this Balsam is irresistible.
