parties shall have given the other notice of its wish to terminate the same.

ARTICLE XIV. provides that Articles 22, 23, 24, and 25 of the treaty of 1871, shall become null and void when this treaty comes into operation.

ARTICLE XV. declares that this treaty shall be ratified by the Queen and by the President of the United States, and the ratifications exchanged at Washington at as early a date as possible.

That is all. Through the action of Parliament, some modifications may be made before it is finally accepted. The trade of Canada has rapidly increased since the abrogation of the former treaty; and though we would gladly enter again upon reciprocal free trade with the United States, we do not care to make any sacrifice to obtain it. Under a judicious and honest ministration of our public affairs, we may go on prospering, as in the past, without this arrangement, and become every year more self-reliant, enterprising, and successful. It is always best for the producer to deal directly with the consumer, and avoid the "middle men." In the matter of lumber, the United States, while consuming a portion themselves, have acted as intermediates between the Ontario manufacturer and the South American and West Indian consumer. Since the abrogation of the former treaty, Dominion trade with these places has been more direct and profitable, and it is doubtful if it ever fall back into its former channel. Where the treaty will be the most useful, is in the free exchange of articles produced in each country, and consumed in the other. Each nation will likely look after the import of the foreign produced goods it requires, and the export of its home products that are consumed abroad, and prevent them from passing through the proprietory of the other.

In one point we are not satisfied. The United States have not only the privilege of our coast fisheries on equal terms with ourselves, but our coasting trade is open to them also. We get in return but the freedom of the Atlantic coast fisheries of the United States, from Maine to New Jersey—something we never shall use, and that is comparatively of little worth any way. We should, at least, have had freedom to participate in the trade on that part of the coast of the United States, as well as to fish there. The freedom to enter and clear at the ports on this part of the coast, as at British ports, might be of some value to us; but the fisheries are of no value whatever: we will never use them while our own are better, which they are likely to always be.

The treaty is likely to strengthen friendly relations between the two countries, and to equalize to a great extent the prices of labor and products. We shall return to the consideration of it.

THINGS IN SHORT METRE.

[BY PEN AND SCISSORS.]

It is said that since the revival began in Great Britain the great publishing house of the Bagsters, London, has not been able to keep up with the increased demand for Bibles.

There are in the United States, at present about 65,000 clergymen belonging to the various denominations of the Protestant Church. Their average annual salaries are from $600 to $650 only; the highest average in any one denomination being in the Methodist Church, but $700.

The United Presbyterian Church of Scotland numbers only 183,000 members. Last year they raised $1250,000, besides $350,000 for missionary and benevolent purposes. They are supporting sixty-three missionaries and teaching in the foreign field, and have just raised nearly $50,000 for a mission in Japan.

Colored Churches in Augusta Ga.—A correspondent of the National Baptist writes that there are five colored Baptist churches in Augusta, one of which has a membership of 1,300. Rev. William J. White, pastor of one of these churches, is a man of remarkable characteristics and having a history. While yet a slave, he established in the Springfield church the first of the colored Baptist Sunday schools now existing in Augusta in a little while, his school was a great success. Soon the Methodists said they must have a Sunday school; then another Baptist church followed—then another and another, till in three months every colored church in Augusta had established one. This was in 1858. The instruction given in these schools was, of course, at that time, only oral. In addition to large business engagements, Mr. White has for the last few years, been preaching the Gospel.

Curious facts.—A prisoner, condemned to solitary confinement, obtained a copy of the Bible, and, by three years' careful study, obtained the following facts:

The Bible contains 3,586,489 letters, 773,692 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters, and 66 books. The word and occurs 46,277 times. The word Lord occurs 1,855 times. The word reverend occurs but once, which is in the 9th verse of the 111th Psalm. The 21st verse of the 7th chapter of Ezra contains all the letters in the alphabet except the letter J. The finest chapter to read is the 26th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. The 19th chapter of II Kings and the 37th chapter of Isaiah are alike. The longest verse is the 9th verse of the 8th chapter of Esther. The shortest verse is the 35th verse of the 11th chapter of St. John. The 8th, 15th, 21st and 31st verses of the 107th Psalm are alike. Each verse of the 136th Psalm end alike! There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

Mr. John C. Edgar, one of the "noble six hundred" who made the famous charge at Balaklava during the Crimean war, is studying at Andover Theological Seminary with a view to clerical orders.

Generous and Just.—Some people have queer notions. The Washington Government compelled the Japanese Government to pay $800,000 for a damage of $20,000 to the steamer "Wyoming." It is now proposed that the excess of the fine over the damage shall be spent in founding an American college in Japan. The New York Tribune thinks such an action would be a standing memoritor to the Japanese of both the justice and the generosity of the United States. Where either justice or generosity lies in this, or even common honesty, it is quite impossible for ordinary mortals to discover.

At last the native town of the author of "The Pilgrim's Progress" has raised a monument to his memory. It may be very fine, as no doubt it is, but the one he raised in his life time is better and more enduring.

LITERARY NOTICES.

"Meridians, or Adventures in South Africa," translated from the French of Jules Verne, is published by Scribner & Armstrong, Broadway, New York. It is profusely illustrated, and written in the happiest style of the now famous author of "From the Earth to the Moon direct;" "A journey to the centre of the earth," &c. The subject of the book is the expedition of three Englishmen and three Russians to South Africa, to measure the arc of Meridian, in order to obtain an exact and absolute unit of measurement. As usual with this author, he groups a vast deal of scientific information about his characters, and tells it in his own inimitable way. The beautiful and unmatched scenery of the Orange river and adjacent plains of South Africa, the wealth of Flora and Fauna found therein, the evil adventures of life among the Bushmen, and the finest personation of character sustained by the six scientific gentlemen, render this book intensely interesting to every thoughtful reader. Its price, extremely low for an illustrated and large book, is only 75 cents, and it is sold by Mr. S. Hall, Fredericton.

"The Son of the Organ Grinder" a translation from the Swedish of Marie Sophie Schwartz, is published by Porter & Coates, Philadelphia. The success which has attended the translation of the works of this really gifted authoress is the best guarantee of her power as a writer. She possesses a wonderful power to touch the heart of the reader in an artless, simple way; and, if she has any decided tendency it is against aristocratic prejudice and class distinction, and for the honest merit of the poor. How fairly she pictures the pure unselfish love of brothers in dear Paul and little Conny, two children of a debased organ-grinder, who committed suicide to escape the murderer's doom; how nobly she makes them fight down and live down the terrible prejudice excited against them on this account; how, at last, the most subtly woven meshes of crafty wickedness are unravelled before the force of honest truth. 'Tis this hearty honesty and love for the good, and sympathy for the tempted which makes her so popular at home and abroad. She neither ignores the power of love or hate, but, somehow, she makes one admire the good and have faith in its ultimate triumph. The Organ-grinder is a book full of inspiration and sentiment, though perhaps not with so strong a cast of character as the "Children of Work."

"Bic's Bed-time," also published by Porter & Coates, Philadelphia, is a collection of interesting stories from the Christian Union, by Mrs. Joshua L. Hallowell. It is written in an easy style, especially adapted for children, and its twelve stories aim at teaching, each its separate lesson of good. "The Little Crippens," and the "Cuckoo Clock," are especially directing, and teach a good moral besides. Read at the bedsides of little boys and girls just before sweet sleep comes, they are better than any medicine to clear away the little worries of the day, and bring on a quiet mind for rest. We think Mrs. Hallowell deserves the thanks of mothers for her careful thought in preserving these newspaper articles, and giving them in book form, into their hands.

"How Marjory Helped," a prize story, written by M. Carroll, is published by Lee & Shephard, Boston & New York. The opening of the book is rather disappointing, but we forget all this in the fine interest soon developed and which increases to the end. It is a beautiful lesson on making one's self useful, and by forgetting exclusive self-enjoyment, contributing to the happiness of all around one. There is a world of quiet philosophy in little Marjory's talks with appreciative puss, who purs and rubs assent to her every word; there is more still in the actions of the dear girl at home and in her uncle's city mansion. How an honorable, active, helpful soul inspires all about her with the like spirit, and counteracts the cold selfishness of her companions, Marjory's city sojourn of only a few days shows. Annie Strong's quiet patience, Frank's open, honest, manliness; quaint Grandma Gerard's love; Willie Nickerson's talent; Crief's extreme bashfulness, and how the girls conquered it; Isabell's crafty haughtiness, and Lilian's fine, but at first nerveless character, are all good in their way, and form an admirable setting to the central Marjory. It is a good book for girls or boys.

Beaten Paths, or a Woman's Vacation, is published by Lee & Shepard, Boston and New York, and written by Mrs. Ella M. Thompson. It is written in a spirited and original style, and abounds in little cullings of literature, and striking turns of thought. It vindicates the right and possibility of seven from "The rose-bud garden of girls," American girls of course, to make a tour of continental lands, and return again safe happy and wiser. She introduces us first to quaint old Chester, a half hour distant from Liverpool, the doorstep of Europe; and takes us thence through the fairer parts of Scotland and England, then away over the continent, with a good look at Germany, the blue Rhine, snow-capped Switzerland, fair France, and Paris, of course. A deal of landscape, a good dash of fable and legand, seasoned with some history, and peppered with all sorts of original comments on countries, men and things, give interest to the book. It is very readable, chock full of information, and far superior to ordinary town books.

The above noticed books may be had of Mr. S. Hall, Fredericton.

☞ Professor Foster's Enœnia Oration is unavoidably held over till next week.

ITEMS.—Salmon are now plentiful and sell at 12 to 15 cents per pound.....The Western trains and International S. S. Company's boats are now bringing the usual crowds of travellers, seeking relief from the heat and hydrophobia of New York and Boston.....The first instalment of wild strawberries appeared in the country market a few days ago—pale and sickly looking enough....The Mayor offers two prizes of $200 and $100 for a country market. The designs must be sent in before September first.... The market is now well supplied with lamb and butter, the latter selling for 20 cents per pound.....The only son of Rev. G. M. W. Carey died of scarlet fever on Monday, aged nine years. Mr. Carey is now absent in Europe.....And now the Episcopalians want Sectarian Education in the day schools.....Mr. George Sharp was kicked by a horse at the camp of instruction, Shediac, causing a compound fracture of the leg.....A shark about twelve feet long was caught in Mr. Handcock's fish wier on Tuesday evening.... Twenty-two hundred dollars were raised on Sunday last at the Cathedral, for the support of Catholic Schools in this city.... The public school examinations and exhibitions this week were highly successful and gratifying.....An adjourned meeting of the Dominion Board of Trade will be held in this city on the 16th inst. Delegates from the principal cities of the Dominion and United States are expected to be present.....The steamer City of St. John, until now running between this port and St. Stephen, has been hired by the Local Government for the North Shore trade.....Geo. Brown of Halifax, defeated Scharf of Pittsburgh, in a single-scull race at Springfield on Wednesday.....Isaac L. Barnhill, senior postal clerk on the Nova Scotia section of the Intercolonial Railway, has been arrested at Halifax, charged with robbing the mails. ... The comet has been visible to the naked eye during the evenings this week (when the fog was not too thick) and has been the theme of many newspaper paragraphs and much small talk..... A correspondent of the Telegraph writes:—"There is family at Grand Lake; Parish of Cambridge, Q. C., whose weights are: Father, 278; mother, 220; oldest son, 215; second son, 235; third, 228; fourth, 206; fifth, 218—making in all 1584 lbs. I will not say there cannot be found a family in the Province that can beat this, but such are few. I should like to hear from the family that can beat it."

THE DUFFERIN GOLD MEDAL.—Miss Maggie Underhill has won the gold medal awarded by Lord Dufferin to the Young Ladies' High School. Her standing was 990, Miss Mary Hartt's 982 and Miss Mary Humphrey's 936.—Tribune.

KING'S COUNTY COURT.—Judge Waters has easy work presiding at his Court. King's County people are so happy and contented that they wont bother going to law. Two assessment cases, the only civil causes entered, were decided in a few minutes. Two criminal cases came before the court.

The Queen vs. Higgins, a bastardy charge, was the first. The information was quashed and the defendant discharged on motion of Wm. Pugsley, Esq., his counsel.

The other case was that of Queen vs. Joel Collin (not Tom), the defendant being charged with feloniously setting fire to the barn of Thos. Coggan of Sussex. The case occupied some time, F. Morton, Esq., appearing for the crown and Wm. Pugsley, Esq for the prisoner. The jury, after an hour's absence, returned a verdict of "Not guilty." The Court then adjourned.—Tribune.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.—When the blood is well supplied with its iron element, we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vital element that makes us feel weak and low-spirited; in such cases the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) can supply this deficiency, and its use will invigorate us wonderfully.

At all seasons of the year the rate of mortality from diseases of the lungs is very great. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam will arrest all such mischief. This remarkable curative Balsam exercises the most salutary effect over the entire contents of the pectoral cavity. Air tubercles, blood-vessels, and all other tissues feel its potent power, more particularly by relieving the overcharged lungs, and thereby promoting the free circulation of air. It soothes the weary chest and kindly subdues the inflammatory cough, till all is well once more.

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN.

LONDON, July 2.—Don Alphonso was wounded in the arm in a recent engagement with the Republicans. The funeral of Gen. Concha takes place at Madrid to-day. His heirs will be pensioned by the Government. The Capt. Gen. of Cuba has officially informed the army of the death of his brother, Gen. Concha, in Spain.

The Pope told the Generals of religious orders who called upon him yesterday that he deplored the suppression of their houses, and exhorted them to remain united and they would assemble hereafter.

Advices from France state that the sub-committee have drawn up a constitutional bill which provides for a personal Septennate and a second Chamber. No provision is made for a successor to the President, and it is thought that the object of his omission is to leave an opportunity for the restoration of the Monarchy, which may be possible when the Septennate ceases.

Despatches from Spain report the Republican troops greatly excited over the reports of the murder and mutilation of the wounded by the Carlists, and it is feared they will make sanguinary reprisals. Several accounts represent the Carlists at Muro were on the point of retreating when Gen. Concha was killed.

LONDON, July 3.—In the House of Commons last night the resolve in favor of Home Rule for Ireland was rejected.

Leicester square was formally opened to the public yesterday. Great crowds were present, and business in the neighborhood was entirely suspended. The houses were decorated with flags, and in the evening were illuminated.

The Carlist force at Estella is given at 38,000 men.

It is stated that a German squadron is soon to be despatched to the Spanish ports.

Advices from France state that Paul De Cassagnac, editor of Le Pays, has been acquitted of the charge of inciting the citizens to mutual hatred.

LONDON, July 4.—The Count De Chambord has issued a manifesto to the French people urging his claims to the throne.

The coming Intercolonial Congress at Brussels was under consideration in the British House of Lords yesterday.

CALCUTTA, July 3.—Reports from the famine districts are of the most favourable nature. The number of persons employed at the relief works has increased to 850,000, and only 400,000 are now being fed by Government.

LONDON, July 6.—The French political situation in threatening. An interpellation in the matter of the suspension of L'Union for the publication of Compte de Chambord's manifesto, is to be entered in the Assembly. An effort will be made by the Legitimists, in conjunction with the Left, to unseat the present Ministry. The French and English press generally consider that the manifesto of Chambord makes it impossible for him to become King of France.

General Echague and Martinez Campos, of the Spanish Army, have resigned.

Carlists have again invested Bilbao, Spain, on all sides, except towards the sea.

The Pope has telegraphed his benediction to the Spanish national army, in response to congratulations to Rome on the anniversary of his ascension to the See of Peter.

An attack upon the Portuguese possessions in Senegambia, was made by native chiefs who are said to have captured 300 prisoners.

The town of Tenedos, on the island of Tenedos, in the Levant, has been destroyed by fire. Only ten houses left.

MADRID, July 6.—Santander is threatened by the Carlists, and the authorities have telegraphed for reinforcements. Several Republican war ships have moved up, and are in a position to shell the approaches to the city on the appearance of the Insurgents.

PARIS, July 6.—Excitement runs high at Versailles. Ligitimist Deputies, to the number of 100, have decided to vote against the ministry to-morrow. They have drawn up an order of the day censuring the Government for its misuse of powers conferred by the state of siege, avoiding any mention of the manifesto of Count de Chambord or of the suppression of L'Union, so as to secure the support of the Left. The position of the Ministry is critical. It is thought some changes will be unavoidable, even if the counter-coalition in favor of Perier's bill should succeed. The sitting of the Assembly to-morrow may possibly result is a dissolution, unless the fear of such a step should restrain the opponents of the Government.

Advices from Spain state that the Carlist forces are threatening Santander, Castro, Urdiales and Laredo.

LONDON July 7.—The Earl of Dalhousie died yesterday, aged seventy-three.

By collision on the Lancashire railway this morning, five persons were killed and several wounded.

Dispatches from Spain report that 4,000 Carlists attacked Temel last Saturday. After the engagement lasting twelve hours they were obliged to retire, with a loss of 40 killed, 60 seriously wounded and 200 prisoners. The Republicans lost 9 killed and 15 wounded.

LONDON, July 8.—It is understood that Raoual Duval, monarchist, intends to move to-day that the French National Assembly be dissolved.

The position of the French ministry becomes critical, as the Moderate and Extreme Left, with 120 legitimists, are now united against it.

The French Assembly yesterday passed the Municipal Electoral Bill.

The Committee of parliamentary initiative has rejected La Rochefoucald's monarchical proposition.

The Judge who investigated the proceedings of the central Bonapartist Committee is reported to have applied to the French Assembly for an authorization to prosecute M. Rouher.

The Morning Standard, reviewing the proposed Reciprocity Treaty between the United States and Canada, says: If adopted it will establish a separate North American Zollverein in regard to all essential articles of trade between the United States and the Dominion, excluding England from the Canadian markets, like a foreign and less favored nation. The Canadian frontier will be virtually obliterated, and the absorbtion of the British North American Provinces by the United States becomes only a matter of time.

UNITED STATES.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Shamrocks of Montreal beat the Torontos of Toronto in a game of lacrosse, yesterday, for the championship of the world.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The trial of William E. Sturtevant in Plymouth, Mass., for murder, closed yesterday with a verdict of murder in the first degree.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the Mill River disaster censures the legislature for inadequate and defective legislation on the subject of reservoirs, the mill owners for their parsimonious disregard of life and property, the engineers for ambiguous and inefficient specifications, the contractors for manifest delinquencies and want of thoroughness in their work, and, finally, the County Commissioners for accepting a dam so shabbily built when they had power to order its entire reconstruction.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Two men and two women were drowned in Lake Erie on Saturday by the upsetting of a boat.

The Local Train running between New London and New Haven, was thrown from the track to-day by a misplaced switch. William Wilcox, superintendent of the road was killed, and 52 passengers injured, one lady, probably fatally, none of the others dangerously.

Additional reports fully confirm the destruction caused by the tornado which passed over Washington Saturday night. It extended south into Virginia, and north into Maryland, and New Jersey. On Chesapeake Bay it was very disastrous, many excursion steamers and boats being caught in it. Many lives reported lost, and destruction of property will exceed one million dollars.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The total casualties on the Shore Line Railroad, Connecticut, were one killed and 105 more or less injured.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The convicted New York police commissioners have resigned, and new appointments have been made by the Mayor.

The Erie Railway Company is preparing a suit against Jay Gould to recover $2,292,000.

Serious Indian outrages are reported from Kansas. A number of persons have been killed, and the supplies at the Government agencies are seriously endangered. The Government has been called upon for more troops.

The 6th regiment of cavalry has been ordered to the scene of the Indian depredations. The War Department do not conceal their apprehensions that this outbreak may prove of a most serious character unless speedily checked.

Havana dates 4th, report business very dull. Public vaccination has been established owing to the prevalence of small-pox. Yellow fever is also prevalent.

The cathartics used and approved by the physicians comprising the various medical associations of this State are now compounded and sold under the name of Parson's Purgative Pill.

We copy the following from an exchange, which is important, if true:—Chronic diarrhœa of long standing, also dysentery, and all similar complaints common at this season of the year, can be cured by the use (internally) of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We know whereof we affirm.

Dr. Wilson's Anti-Bilious and Preserving Pills are adapted to all ages and conditions, in all climates. Containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. They remove obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

If you require to use any Liniment or counter-irritant, Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment should be applied, as it contains the best ingredients of all other kinds in combination with healing medicines peculiar to itself, and it is without doubt the safest, surest, and best remedy that ever has been invented for external use. It is equally beneficial for man or beast.

Farmers, lumbermen, and others who have used them say the inventor of Clark's Derby Condition Powders is a true benefactor. Try them, and you will say they are right.

No organ of thought or action can be employed without the assistance of the blood, and no organ can be employed safely or with impunity without a supply of healthy blood. With healthy blood the exercised organs become well developed, whether they be muscular or intellectual. By the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites the blood is speedily vitalized and purified, and so made capable of producing a sound mind and a sound body.

"Persons suffering from impure blood, or whose health is giving way, either as ministers or those who study closely, will find the Syrup the material to build them up, and the tonic to keep them there." DR. CLAY.
