do farmer of the Vale of Glamorgan—happy, contented, well-fed a large shareholder in our veritable flesh and blood. When he begins to speak, it is not the speech of the elegant scholar or the polished man of the world which strikes you; but a homely, broad, farm-like accent, with a dash of Americanism in the enunciation."

A great deal of excitement has been occasioned in New York by the arrival at quarantine of a steamship containing 750 poverty-stricken Italians, among whom small-pox broke out on the voyage, prostrating some and exposing all the others to contagion. Three physicians and their assistants were at once summoned upon the vessel's arrival, and the entire body of passengers, officers and crew, in all over 850 persons, were compelled to submit to vaccination. The vessel is now being thoroughly fumigated, and no one will be permitted to leave it until the effects of the vaccination are noticed.

There is a new danger to civil and religious liberty in Spain. The new penal code among the "Crimes of Infraction of the Constitutional Law in Reference to Public Worship and Religion," has this article: "He who practices ceremonies or public manifestations of worship which are not those of the Catholic Apostolic Romish religion shall be punished with imprisonment." There is little question that this is aimed at the Protestant Christians who are trying to give the pure Gospel to that priest-ridden country, or that the Jesuits, who have been expelled from France, are busily plotting to regain their power in Spain.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Montreal Weekly Witness is a paper that devotes especial attention to the Farmers' needs. The Agricultural Department is edited by W. F. Clarke, Esq., Lindenbank, Guelph, who is widely known as at one time the editor of the Canadian Farmer and more recently the "Witness" lecturer on agriculture. His editorial articles and "Agricultural Letter Box" are especially attractive. The Witness Markets are all perfectly reliable and very full. Hardly less valuable is the veterinary column conducted by D. McEachran, F. R. C. V. S., Principal of the Montreal Veterinary College, and the Dominion Inspector of live stock. His name stands in the front rank of veterinary surgeons on this continent, and the prompt replies given to correspondents are valuable. A "Poultry Column" has just been added, and promises to be of great assistance to poultry farmers, who are growing in number. In the cities and towns especially the raising of fowls is increasing in popularity. While these departments are of especial value to the farmers, the cultivators of the soil in a smaller way, and the gentlemen and ladies who are fond of gardening are not neglected. The Legal Department, in which all legal questions are answered by one competent to perform this work, is a valuable assistance to all men of business. And then the paper is full of information of especial interest to the family, even the little children have a column to themselves. An especial feature about this paper is that every department is carefully edited, not thrown together hap-hazard, so that those relying on any information given are not likely to be misled. Every subscriber of the Montreal Weekly Witness can tell of special offers whereby old and new subscribers are benefited.

Santa Claus himself could ask for no better gift-book for his pack than the Christmas WIDE AWAKE in its handsome new cover and new type. It is full from beginning to end with live stories about live boys and girls, and contains dozens of exquisite pictures.

Mr. McCormick, one of the Editors of the Christian Union, furnishes the opening story, "The Children of the Koppenberg," which is accompanied by a beautiful Frontispiece. Sophie May has never written a better story than "Flaxie Frizzle's Crazy Christmas;" and Mr. Hezekiah Butterworth's exquisite story of "How Dot Heard 'The Messiah,'" will take by storm the hearts of all music lovers—this story, with appropriate music, is admirably adapted for Christmas Eve reading. "Uncle Tom's Mince Pie Story," with its wonderful monkey Nick, will delight all the little boys and girls. Mr. G. B. Bartlett, the great Amusement Man, gives some hints for a good time in a story called "Christmas Eve at Grandpa Longlegs." Rev. Edward E. Hale opens a series of ringing talks with WIDE AWAKE readers, about the affairs of the world. Then there comes a wonderful Cipher, "A Flower Puzzle," for the first and second correct reading of which two money prizes of $10 and $5 are offered. The number is strong in serials, three beginning in this number: "Rocky Fork," "Polly Cologne," with ten illustrations, and "The Story of Honor Bright," by the author of "Royal Lowrie." This last named is illustrated by no less an artist than Mr. Walter Shirlow. "Polly Cologne" is by Mrs. A. M. Diaz, whose gay and brilliant pen has been long missed from the magazines.

But perhaps the most striking feature is the illustrated poems which appear in duos and trios all through the number, from such authors as J. T. Trowbridge, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Mrs. S. M. Piatt, Mr. J. J. Piatt, Nora Perry, Col. Paul H. Hayne, etc., etc., making the magazine a treasure long to be preserved. Only $2.00 a year. 20 cents a number. Ella Farman, Editor. D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, Mass.

Good Company, $3.00 a year, Springfield, Mass.). Number Sixteen has a characteristic paper by Mr. John Burroughs entitled an Idyl of the Honey-bee, which initiates one into the methods and delights of bee-hunting as pursed by an ardent lover of exhilarating tramps through fields and woods. Another contribution characteristic of its writer, and timely as well, is Mrs. Lizzie W. Champney's story The Secrets of the Obelisks, which takes us back to the earlier days, or centuries rather, of the venerable "Needle" about to be set up in the New York Central Park. Under the form of a colloquy Octave Thanet gives us an insight into the wretched condition both as to buildings and management that characterizes most of the jails throughout the country, adding suggestions as to their reform. The Remnant of a Lost Nation tells of the present status of the few survivors of a tribe that Pizarro failed of subduing.

There are also The Cochers of Paris, an account of the Parisian cabmen by Jno. Joline Ross; an account from Ballyhack Camp in the wilds of Wyoming of experiences incident to cattle-driving; The Chinese in Boston; suggestions as to securing native American domestics; an account of the British Museum autographs; Miss Mehetabele's Romance, a story; a long installment of Rose and the Doctor, Ellen W. Olney's serial; a group of Christmas poems by Missee Elaine and Dora Read Goodale and Mrs. D. H. R. Goodale; and under "Discussion and Suggestion" articles about Ireland. School-house shortcomings and other topics.

INSTRUCTIVE AMUSEMENT.—We have pleasure in calling the notice of our readers to the advertisement of the interesting exhibition of eastern views and scenes, by the Rev. W. F. Armstrong, a returned missionary, and trust he will be greeted with full houses.

☞ A good many subscribers should read again the notices in the Publishers' Department on the third page.

The fines collected in the City Police Court in December were smaller than for any other month in the year, but one. They amounted to $73.10 for the East side and $4 for the West side.

The Maple Leaf says that Mr. Gideon Pearson, of Harvey, A. Co., has found a coal mine, apparently of an excellent quality and in large quantities on his farm. The facilities for shipping are good, the mines being about a mile from the bay.

The Fredericton Capital says there seems to be a good foundation for the rumor that a man residing on the Rainsford Road, Mr. William Cotts, has suddenly fallen heir to some eleven or twelve hundred pounds, by the death of his sister, a certain Mrs. Doherty, lately residing in St. John.

A number of N. B. Railway tickets have been stolen and Assistant Superintendent Seely gives notice that conductors will not accept tickets from Florenceville to Gibson bearing numbers under 750; to Hartland and Woodstock under 500; to other stations under 200.

Within the space of four days the mother and four children died of diphtheria. The remaining two children are suffering from the disease, but are likely to recover. Mr. Ray is at Colorado.

The branch connects with the main line about a mile below the station and will be about half a mile itself, to lead into the proposed tanning establishment of the Shaw Bros.

John McGinley and Peters V. Laskey, two of the first jury in the first coroner's inquest in the case of Wm. Malone charged with shooting John McFarlane and afterwards acquitted, have renewed action in their suits against Coroner John R. Rigby, of Portland, for false imprisonment. The causes will probably come up for trial at the next session of the Circuit Court.—Sun.

Of the Coldbrook Works, the Sun says: We are glad to know that these works have been running steadily since re-opening on Nov. 1, under E. G. Scovil, Esq. About thirty-five hands are employed at the rolling mill—making nail plate, mine rails, etc.—and at the nail factory. Mr. Scovil has just filled an order for rails for the Drummond coal mine, Pictou, and will commence immediately on a similar order for the Springhill mine. He has made a large quantity of cut nails since starting, and anticipates a large and satisfactory business in 1881.

The Chatham Star says a few days ago that Mr. Thomas Williston went to New York, and appeared in the smelt market there, as well as other foreign outmarkets incognito, his object being to ascertain if fair play were given to the smelt shippers from here. He saw one car load go at five cents per lb., but the best figures in the returns are three cents per lb., for the same shipments, expenses to be paid out of the latter figures. The shippers here are justly indignant.

Word was brought to the city, late Friday afternoon, of a horrible death of a man on the previous night near Beaver Lake, he having perished from the extremely cold weather. The victim was Peter O'Hare, Jr., who was about twenty-five years of age, and lived on the McKenzie farm, so called, the scene of the Slaven-Breen tragedy. His father was Peter O'Hare, Sr., who is well known to many citizens, and especially to the devotees of Isaak Walton. O'Hare, the younger, it appears, was on his way home, and being probably under the influence of liquor (as it is known he was drinking heavily of late), he lay down and was soon frozen to death. The remains of the unfortunate man were discovered yesterday by his brother on the road shortly after he had started for the city to take out a number of persons intending to fish in that neighborhood on New Year.—Telegraph.

Captain McCallum, of the barque W. T. Harward, was washed overboard and drowned on the 14th Nov., while on the passage from Calais (France) to New York. The barque has since been wreckad at Lewes, Del. She belongs in Yarmouth, N. S.

The Annapolis Journal learns that some very good deal contracts have been secured for 1881. It mentions two, viz., 2,000,000 by C. H. Chase, of Bridgewater, at $10 all sizes; 3 to 4,000,000 by McLeod, Smith and Gates, Musquodoboit Harbor, at $10 (all sizes) net cash

R. M. Rand, Upper Canard, is loading two vessels with potatoes for Demerara. F. Eaton, Lower Canard, is loading two, and C. E. Borden, Canning, is also loading one at Kingsport for New York; besides several others loading on the Bay shore and other ports. The potato trade appears to be improving, there being rumors that the price is going up in New York.

A Londonderry, N. S., despatch to the Globe on Friday says: At an early hour this morning, while some workmen were proceeding to work they discovered the mangled remains of a man on the track of the Steel Company's Railway near the blast furnace. The body was fearfully cut up and hardly recognizable. His name was Albert Crowe, and he has been in the employ of the Steel Company for some time. The unfortunate man was married and left a widow and four children.

A Yarmouth despatch to the Globe of the 4th says; The barque Happy Home of Hantsport, N S., struck Trinity Ledge last night, and capsized. The captain's wife and daughter and one man perished. This morning a boat went off and rescued the captain, officers and crew, and landed them seven miles above Yarmouth. All were frozen—The captain and mate seriously.

"The Happy Home was a barque of 884 tons, built at Hantsport in 1874, and owned by E. Churchill & Sons, of Hantsport."

On Friday, the riskiness of the telephonist trade was exemplified. A man was on the roof of the Western Union Office with a ladder erected against the Club House, which he was mounting with a telepone wire, when those on the street below saw the ladder with the man on it slip, and a moment later the ladder was hurled into the street. The man in his fall seized a skylight on the incline roof and saved himself. He then climbed to a place of greater safety and soon resumed his work.—Hx. Chronicle.

Application is to be made to the Nova Scotia Legislature for an act of incorporation for a Company which intends to put up a floating and repairing dock in Halifax harbor. Also application is to be made to incorporate the Halifax Electric Lighting Company for the purpose of manufacturing and working machinery for the generation and distribution of Electric or Galvanic currents, either for use for lighting, heating or otherwise, and to lay down pipes or other machinery, in or under the public streets and elsewhere, for the distribution of such currents.

The prospects of Halifax as a grain shipping port are looking up. The ship Chili is to load wheat there for Europe, and yesterday's Herald says:—"A firm here have received a letter from a Liverpool firm, asking if it is not possible for them to bring sugar to Halifax from South America, and carry grain hence to Liverpool, or London. They say their vessels are all the time picking up freights of sugar in South American ports, and would rather come to Halifax and deliver up their sugar, and take grain from Halifax to Europe, than go to either New York or Boston. Of course, now that it has been demonstrated by the case of the Chili that vessels can come here with sugar and procure a freight of grain, other vessels will soon follow."

Last week the schr. Etta was lying at Wolfville taking in a cargo of potatoes, having just discharged a cargo of coal. One evening the three sailors, who were in charge, put on a good fire before going to sleep. During the night the wind changed, blowing the smoke and gas which was issuing from the chimney down the pipe, filling the hold of the vessel. When the day laborers came to work they noticed the smoke, and not seeing the sailors, instituted a search, and found them lying insensible in the forecastle. They were carried out and carefully attended and in a few days entirely recovered from the effects of their smothering.—Windsor Mail.

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—The military authorities are adopting extraordinary precautions of an extensive character. The arrangements indicate that grave apprehensions exist of imminent danger. All the troops are confined to their barracks. The guard pickets have been augmented. Entrenching tools and lanterns have been served out for patrols in the event of gas being cut off from any of the barracks. There are now 250 officers, 6,000 men, 1,000 horses and 16 guns, the flower of the British army, besides strong bodies of constabulary in Ireland.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—The Times says: A new Irish bill has we believe been framed with a view to supplementing or repairing certain defects which experience has shown to exist in the Land Act of 1870, and not with a view to introducing new principles reversing it. The bill is little likely to satisfy those friends of Ireland who are engaged in the midnight drilling of deluded peasants. The proposed movements of the flying columns will exercise more persuasion with the malcontents who may be Fenians under a new name, than any legislative measure.

Flying columns were found necessary in consequence of the night drilling of the armed men, the police patrols in many cases having to avoid the parties drilling.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—A despatch from Dublin to the Standard says that it is rumored in official circles that Attorney General Law will announce, on Friday, that, in consequence of an intimation in the Queen's speech that an amelioration message is to be immediately submitted in the House of Commons, the prosecution of the traversers will be abandoned.

DURBAN, Jan. 3.—It is reported that if troops are sent from England to fight the Boers the Dutchmen in the free states will side with the Boers.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Daily News remarks that beyond a few beleagured parties, the Transvaal has passed out of our hands, and if the Union Jack is flying at Pretoria by April we shall not be able to accuse the troops of sloth.

A member of the Government states that England will first put down the disorder in the Transvaal, and then take the sense of Parliament on the fate of the territory.

SOUTH AMERICA.

PANAMA, via NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Early on the morning of the 4th of December the Peruvian launch Urcos, while on guard duty in the Bay, was attacked by three Chilian torpedo launches. The Urcos made a desperate resistance, but finally worked within range of the shore batteries. Then the Huascar, Anganios and Chacabuco, with three more launches came over from the island and the engagement became general. The Urcos succeeded in striking one of the torpedo launches and the combat terminated, the Chilians returning with it to the island to effect repairs. Three men were killed and two wounded on the Urcos.

A telegram from Peru states that the Chilians had arrived within twenty miles of Lima, on Dec. 23rd.

Every Free Baptist Minister in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia is authorized to act as agent for the INTELLIGENCER, and will receive and forward subscriptions, old and new.

They will confer a great favour on the paper if they will take a little extra interest in it just now.

Several weeks ago statements were sent to subscribers in arrears. From some of them we have heard. We thank them for their prompt response. From the others we want to hear at once.

Business generally has so improved during the past year that there is a much freer circulation of money than for three or four years before, and we think our friends, on whom we have waited so long and so patiently, will not find it very difficult to pay now. Regard for the golden rule will move each one to resolve to immediately pay his bill. We expect to hear from every one in arrears immediately. Let no one be so unkind as to neglect this matter.

We are confidently expecting that each subscriber will do his part towards carrying out the Advance Payment System.

SPECIMEN COPIES.

We will gladly send specimen copies to any persons who would be likely to subscribe for the INTELLIGENCER on being made acquainted with its character. If ministers or others will furnish us with such names they may do a double good.

NOT THE SLIGHTEST AFFINITY exists between the numberless cough mixtures with which the market is flooded and that successful preparation—Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. It stands alone, distinct, is like itself, and nothing else. It embodies the best results of advanced pharmaceutical science. It accomplishes positive, decisive results, effectually relieving coughs (when the lungs are not tuberculous or hopelessly effected), colds, laryngitis, and diseases of a scrofulous origin. While it does not cure Consumption, it is the most reliable means of defense against that dreaded scourge. The invigorating properties of the hypophosphites reimburse the system debilitated by the constant tear and wear of a cough, while the paroxysms rapidly diminish in violence, in consequence of the soothing emollient action of the cod liver oil upon the inflamed lung membrane. The phosphorus, lime and soda, in combination with it, are all natural components in the construction of the bodily edifice, which, in a state of decay, lacks a sufficiency of those elements. These the hypophosphites supply, increasing the nutritive properties of the blood, and building up and rehabilitating the tottering human structure with a degree of promptitude as astonishing as it is gratifying to the invalid. A perceptible gain in flesh as well as in strength is one of the consequences of using this standard preparation, which both time and experience have demonstrated to be fully worthy of the confidence reposed in it. Prepared by NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

ENGLISHMAN'S COUGH MIXTURE,

The great remedy for curing Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Soreness of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, and all other diseases leading to Consumption. It will not make new lungs, but will prevent the disease from spreading throughout the whole substance of the lungs, therefore facilitating recovery. Don't fail to try it. We will give a large reward for a better remedy than ENGLISHMAN'S COUGH MIXTURE.

RINGBONE CURED.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 8th, 1880.—Dear Sirs,—I have had occasion to use FELLOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE on a horse so lame from Ringbone that I could not use him. I have been using it about three weeks, and find it does all you claim for it, as the lameness has gone and the enlargement has almost disappeared. I firmly believe a few days more will make an entire cure. Respectfully yours, JAMES T. PARKER.

An extensive merchant at the North writes to the agent of Clark's Derby Condition Powders, "we have sold all kinds of Condition Powders, but have never supplied our customers with any that gives as much satisfaction as the Derby Condition Powders. You will do well to replenish our stock immediately." Our readers will bear in mind that as a remedy these powders are not confined to horses alone: they are equally beneficial in diseases common to cattle and sheep.
