houses still remain. Where the Imperial Buildings are now situated, stood a few years since, what was called "The old Coffee House." It was built in 1783, and up to within about twelve years ago, served as the headquarters of all that was gay and fashionable in St. John. From that corner up to Foster's corner, with the exception of the brick buildings intervening, we still have the original houses, now exactly in their pristine simplicity, but raised, enlarged and modernized. Another of these huts, built in 1783, may be seen in Duke street, next below the residence of Dr. Livingstone, where two of our oldest citizens, still alive, were born of Loyalist parents. It was then far out of town. In a few years more and the last vestige of those old homesteads will have disappeared altogether. The precise number of Loyalists, to whom lots were awarded at St. John, by the British Government, I have been unable to ascertain; but on reading the biographical sketches in Sabine's history, I find that there is scarcely a page in about 300, but what contains one or more names of Loyalists who were presented with town lots; and yet I suppose the author's list is far from being complete. Where there were so many persons, and the facts not easy to be obtained, the omissions must necessarily be large. We conclude, however, that there must have been at least 2,000 Loyalists settled in St. John within the first eighteen months—to say nothing of the thousands, if not tens of thousands who proceeded into the interior, up the St. John River, into King's County, and other parts of the Province.

Anti-Confederation Meeting.

The anti-Confederation meeting at the Institute on Tuesday evening, was very numerously attended. The great Hall was never more completely filled. Hon. Mr. Smith, the orator, commenced his address at 8 P. M., and continued his speech for some two hours, going over the usual arguments against Confederation, such as the rebellious and rabid temper of the Canadians, their extravagant and expensive habits, their financial embarrassments, and their political dishonesty, &c. He opposed Confederation on the ground that it was not required to strengthen our defences. No danger of war with the United States. Canada would receive the principal advantages accruing from the Intercolonial railroad. We would not be benefitted by free trade with the Canadas; could not compete with the manufacturing capabilities, &c. A uniformity of currency was of little importancce. The inception of the Quebec Conference was wrong from first to last, and the dissolution of the House of Assembly at this season of the year, a most uncalled for and arbitrary act on the part of the Government. The financial aspects of the case, according to Mr. Smith, were unfavorable to Confederation, and the smaller provinces would all be crushed by the overshadowing power of Canada. These several points were dwelt upon at length with Mr. Smith's usual tact and ability, and but few of our statesmen could do them equal justice. At the conclusion of his speech the Hon. Mr. Tilley arose to challenge Mr. Smith to a public debate on the question at issue; but the audience became noisy, some hissing, some screeching, some applauding, and some hooting, until the whole place became one perfect scene of the most disgraceful confusion. Such rowdyism is perfectly unpardonable. Mr. Smith declined the challenge, and then Mr. Tilley announced that he would reply to Mr. Smith in the Institute on Thursday evening.

☞ We understand, Providence permitting, that the Rev. W. V. GARNER, by special request, will redeliver his Institute Lecture on "Mind, its power and culture," in the Portland Temperance Hall, on Wednesday evening, the 8th instant, at 8 o'clock, P. M. Proceeds for the benefit of the Portland Baptist Sabbath School. This Lecture was much applauded at the Institute, and our Portland friends may expect a rich treat.

☞ Mr. Donald G. McKenzie, from Mr. John Hastings' establishment, left for England, via Halifax, on Tuesday morning.

UNITED STATES.

Peace rumours are in the ascendant in the Northern press. It is asserted that a great change has passed over the public mind since the re-election of Mr. Lincoln on the whole question of the conquest of the South and peace prospects are multiplying on every hand. It is reported that President Davis confessed to Mr. Blair, during his recent visit to Richmond on his peace mission, that the South must succumb. This requires confirmation. There is evidently great dissatisfaction in several of the Confederate States with the "Powers that be." Mr. Davis is held accountable for the recent fearful disasters which have befallen the Southern cause, and the people are calling loudly for the appointment of Gen. Lee, as Commander-in-Chief; for the dismissal of Hood, and for the re-instatement of Gen. Joe Johnston. The victorious march of Sherman, the destruction of Hood's forces, and the capture of Fort Fisher, are all sad omens for the Confederates: but still they boldly declare their unflinching determination to resist unto the death, and to push on the war until they shall have won their independence. The tendency to a re-union with the North is as yet too faint and feeble to promise a speedy return to the stars and stripes. It is cheering, however, to see, amid this awful war tempest, the glorious sun of freedom rising high above the angry clouds, and pouring his enlightening rays upon all the dark places of human bondage. Settled peace there cannot be so long as the grievous wrongs inflicted upon an unoffending people remain unredressed.

THE SEAT OF WAR

furnishes news of some importance. The New York Herald, of recent date, reports thus editorially upon "the situation:"

The famous Richmond squadron, consisting of four iron clad vessels, came down the James River on Tuesday morning, and succeeded in running by Fort Brady—the high water, caused by the freshet, and a dense fog enabling them to pass the obstructions, intending to destroy the Union works and depot at City Point. One of the rebel vessels was blown up and entirely destroyed by one of our batteries, and another disabled. The two remaining ones appeared to be aground at the date of our last despatches, and the shot from Fort Parsons were striking them fairly at every discharge. The probability was that all of the rebel vessels would be destroyed. Admiral Farragut left Washington night before last for the James river, it is supposed to at once assume command of the naval forces there.

We have very important intelligence from Richmond. The revolution in the rebel confederacy has commenced. The rebel Congress, in secret session, has virtually deposed Jeff. Davis, by creating the office of General-in-Chief of their armies. The rebel President's cabinet has been dissolved by act of Congress, and he has become but a cypher in the confederacy.

Washington is filled with peace rumors. Our correspondent there states that a member of Jeff. Davis' Cabinet had made a direct proposition to an inquiry of Mr. Blair, while he was in Richmond, to the effect that, if they (the rebel government) were willing to give up the contest, would the United States government forego emancipation, confiscation, &c., and permit them to dispose of cotton, then leave the country for Mexico, with the understanding that no obstacle should be placed in the way of the private soldiers of the Southern army, at least all who may desire, to follow the leaders into that country? If that would be consented to they would bind themselves to drive the French under Maximilian out of Mexico, secure the full controul of the government there, and, if necessary, pledge its ultimate annexation to the United States. Mr. Blair stated, in reply, that the North would not, in any contingency, abandon the idea of emancipation, but that our government was willing to be merciful as far as confiscation was concerned.

We have news from Savannah to the 18th instant. General Sherman's army was still resting upon its well earned laurels. The work of reorganization and refitment was, however, actively going on in preparation for more victories. A number of promotions have been made. The news of the capture of Fort Fisher had been received, and occasioned much rejoicing throughout the army.

Our dates from Fort Fisher are to the 20th. A reconnoissance was made on the 19th, which found the enemy in force about two miles from our extreme line. A severe skirmish ensued, in which fifty prisoners were taken. The object of the reconnoissance having been accomplished, our forces returned.

The Anglo-rebel blockade runners of Bermuda have learned of the fall of Fort Fisher, the steamer Owl having succeeded in reaching Fort Caswell the night it was evacuated. She immediately returned, arriving at Bermuda on the 21st, stopping quite a fleet of blockade runners that were all ready to sail. A number of vessels that left Bermuda for Wilmington between the 13th and 20th inst, however, had not been heard from.

The proposition of the rebels to substitute St. Marks, Fla., for the purpose of blockade running, in place of Wilmington, is certainly not tenable at present. An extract from a private letter, dated December 31, from Lieutenant Rockwell, commanding the blockading squadron off that port states that he has three vessels under his orders, one of which is a very fine one, carrying seven guns, and as fast as most others. The Lieutenant states that he shall be very busy for some time in conducting operations against the enemy.

Captain Gavit, master of the bark Clifton, which arrived at Fortress Monroe on Sunday, from Pernambuco, reports that the rebel pirate Shenandoah has destroyed several American merchantmen on the coast of Brazil. Vessels bound for the United States were obtaining British registers in consequence.

The "Powers" at Washington have decided that there shall be no recognition by the United States of an Empire in Mexico. The Herald says:—

Not a single American Power has recognized the empire of Mexico, nor is it likely that any of them will act otherwise than to follow the lead of the United States in this matter. It has been only the Powers of Europe that have been swift to express their congratulations on the supposed downfall of a republic. It remains, therefore, simply to be seen, whether they or we are to control on this continent. We shall soon be ready to test the question.

The Smithsonian Institution, at Washington, was partially destroyed by fire on Tuesday afternoon. The picture gallery, with its valuable collection, with the exception of five or six pictures, was totaly destroyed. The lecture room and the philosophical instrument department, with the most of the valuable instruments was also burned. The original archives and records of the instution were destroyed—more, however, by water than fire. The full extent of the loss is not yet known. The government, by the terms of the bequest of Mr. Smithson, was made the trustee of the building destroyed. If not protected by insurance, of course the government will rebuild the portion destroyed at its own cost.

General George B. McClellan, lady and child, sailed for Europe on Wednesday in the steamship China. Mr. Aug. Belmont, the well known banker, and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, accompanies the distinguished party, the intention being an extended tour throughout Europe, principally for the benefit of Mrs. McClellan's health.

BOSTON, Jan. 31.

It is rumored from Philadelphia that three rebel Peace Commissioners have arrived at City Point en route to Washington.

Some of the rebel press continue to denounce Jeff. Davis and admit that it was to humiliate him that Lee was made General in Chief. They also say that Gen. Kirby Smith has repeatedly refused to obey orders to transfer his troops to the East side of the Mississippi River.

Advices from Army of Potomac state that the weather is bitter cold, and it is feared that the James River will be closed with ice.

Paraguay has formally declared war against Brazil.

Dedication Service.

The Committee of the new Baptist Church in Germain Street, have much pleasure in announcing that the vestry of said house will be opened (D. V.) for divine service on Sabbath next, at 11 o'clock A. M.: when a sermon, appropriate to the character and death of our late pastor, Rev. H. Vaughan, will be preached by Rev. I. E. Bill. The vestry, though not fully completed, will be made comfortable. The public generally are hereby respectfully invited to attend.

HOW TO SAVE THE HAIR.—It must be admitted that the great majority of young folks are posssessed of hair enough and to spare; the question then should be, having the hair how to keep it; but I would talk to those as well who have none to spare, or to those whose has become grey. We say, from experience, procure MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S World's Hair Restorer and World's Hair-Dressing and use them, and if our word is not sufficient read the testimony of one of the numerous certificates sent Mrs. Allen, the free will offerings for benefits received. Rev. Daniel T. Wood, Middletown, Orange Co., N. Y., writes, "by the use of Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Hair Dressing the hair has greatly thickened upon my head, and put on a very healthy appearance. The same is true of my daughter; her hair had become thin and came out constantly, until we thought the head would be almost bare; her hair has handsomely thickened up, and also has a healthful appearance." These preparations are sold by all Druggists, Manufactory and Sales Office, 198 and 200 Greenwich St., New York.

THANKS TO MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, we have been relieved from sleepless nights of painful watching with poor, suffering, teething children. It gives not only rest, but vigor and health,—the little fellow will wake up bright, cheerful, and refreshed, softens the gums, cures wind colic, and regulates the bowels.—Christian Cabinet.—25 cents a bottle.

HIGH APPROVAL.—Mrs. S. A. Allen lately received a letter from a lady, stating that at the suggestion of numerous friends she purchased a bottle of Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer and Zylobalsamum, or Hair Dressing, and after using a few times, her hair, which was quite grey, was restored to its youthful color, and new hair was fast appearing. No lady's toilet is complete without these preparations. Every Druggist sells them.

PROCLAMATION!

GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 90, PRINCE WILLIAM STREET!

WHEREAS—General JOHN FROST, aided by his irresistible Warriors, BOREAS, HAIL, RAIN, SNOW and SLEET, are about to invade the homes of the good and loyal people of the city of St. John and vicinity with unusual severity, and to enforce a DRAFT that spares neither age nor sex, employing Provost Marshals that bid defiance to Locks and Bolts, and Agents whose siren whispers through the shrinkage of a Door or Window cause countless miseries to the loyal people aforesaid.

Now, therefore, this Proclamation is issued for the purpose of emancipating the people from the tyranny of these Elemental Intruders, by fortifying their shrunken Doors and Windows with Gabel's Vulcanized Rubber Weather Strips.

They exclude Wind, Rain, Snow, Dust, and Noise; they more than pay their own cost the first year in Coal and Doctor's Bills; they can be applied to the Tops, Bottoms, Sides and Centres of Single and Double or Sliding Doors, Windows and Skylights of every description; they will last for numbers of years; are easily put on by any handy person; at the same time one one who perfectly understands it is always on hand to do it, at

No. 90 Prince William Street.

☞ The Wood part either Oak or Walnut, as desired.
