The New York tug Astral, which arrived here yesterday, is one of the largest out of her home port. She is lying today at the new city wharf. She is only four years old and is built of steel and iron. Her engines are very powerful. She registers 410 tons net. Captain Phinney is her commander and he has a crew of 21 men. This is the tug that picked up the sailing ship Astral (the same name as herself) ninety miles off New York recently in a dismasted condition and towed her into that port. Captain Dunham, who is master of the dismasted ship, belongs to Yarmouth, N.S., speaks in the highest terms of Captain Phinney's good work in bringing her to safe anchorage.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning, the case of theft against George Jones, an Englishman, was resumed.

Fred Dunham, the aged city employe who lost his pay envelope on Friday containing $15, testified to that effect.

Sergt. Baxter stated under oath that he saw Jones smoking good cigars on Saturday and drinking.

Jones stated that he picked up the envelope on Saturday morning. He declared the $9.11 found in his possession was Dunham's. He had spent the remainder. The accused was remanded to jail.

Harry Shaw was fined $20, or two months, for assaulting his wife, and the charge of damaging the sanitary arrangements in the Brittain street lock-up was adjusted satisfactorily. As he is the sole support of a wife and six children, he was later liberated under suspended sentence. It transpired that he had not acted so harshly as reported.

William White and Terrence White were fined $20, or two months, for pummelling each other on Rockland Road.

MAN FOUND IN THE PARK

Early this morning John Henry, a park policeman, accompanied by Robert Chisholm and Alexander Taylor, were proceeding to one of the artificial lakes north of Lily Lake via an unfrequented footpath to resume their work, when lying prostrate on the ground the trio espied a man. He did not respond to shaking, and fearing that the man was beyond resuscitation, the trio hurriedly bore him to Mr. Henry's residence, where, after extreme difficulty, he was revived by means of application of restoratives and persistent chafing of his body and limbs.

At half-past eight he was able to walk, and was escorted to the Central police station by Mr. Henry, where his name was ascertained to be Gregory McDonald and his home at 20 Mansan street, Roxbury, Mass. In his possession was fround a ticket from Boston to Charlottetown and several dollars. He was placed on board the Atlantic express by Detective Killen this afternoon to resume his journey to the Island city. He has become demented through illness.

Estate of Ann Jane Henderson, unmarried woman. In this case the will was not signed at the foot. Both the witnesses are called and examined as to the execution and explained the irregularity. Estate of James Johnston. Return of citation calling upon the surviving executor to file an inventory and the accounts of the estate. C. N. Skinner, K. C., appears for the executor and states that he is informed that whether or not there is any estate is dependent upon the result of an action now pending, and, therefore, the executor could not file an inventory, and that the executor is out of town. The court states that even if there is no property that is no excuse for the executor not complying with the request of the legatee for information, such information having been twice sought without response until return of citation. Ordered that the executor file an inventory and an account if there is any estate, and if no estate, then an affidavit thereof, and further that the executor appear before the Probate Court on the 16th proximo to give evidence thereon, when the question whether the executor shall be ordered to pay personally the costs of this application shall be argued. Adjourned till 16th November. Bowyer S. Smith, proctor for petitioner.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Agnes Desmond

Hampton, N.B., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—About half-past nine o'clock last evening, Mrs. Agnes Bridget Desmond, widow of the late Timothy Desmond, died at her home at Midway, Hampton, after a trying ilness of complicated troubles result-in heart failure and death in the eighty-third year of her age. Mr. Desmond died about eight years ago.

They were natives of Ireland and came to New Brunswick when quite young. During the prevalence of cholera in St. John, in 1854, they removed to Hampton and purchased the farm on which their family was raised and on which they died. They were always held in deserved respect and have left a large family to bless their memory. There are still living three sons, John, Jeremiah and Daniel, the first and last in the employ of the G. & G. Flewelling Manufacturing Company, and the second, janitor of the Consolidated school, which stands on part of the old estate and six daughters, Mrs. J. W. Burns, Mrs. J. Downs and Miss Katie, of Newton, Mass., Mrs. William Edwards, of Dorchester, Mass., Mrs. Celia Byrne, of Nortan, and Mrs. F. A. McPherson, of Hampton. There are also twenty-two grandchildren.

The funeral will be held from the homestead on Thursday and interment made in the Roman Catholic cemetery, Lower Norton.

BOY THIEVES IN COURT TODAY

Before Magistrate Ritchie this morning the case against Verner Thorne and Leonard Kingston, accused of burglary, was resumed.

Amasa Stanton, a clerk in the employ of A. & I. Isaacs, corroborated Abraham Isaacs' testimony.

Alfred Webb, the second witness, stated that he properly secured the doors and windows on the night of the robbery and on the ensuing morning (Thursday) discovered that thieves had entered the premises.

At 2 o'clock a resumption was made and detective Killen gave evidence.

The detective's testimony should prove rather interesting, as it is understood the basis of the prosecution will rest upon his evidence. It is claimed that the accused confessed to the authorities and accompanied the detective to the rendezvous where they had concealed the booty.
