SUMMARY.

The Royal Infant.—The young princess royal is a fine healthy child, with mild blue eyes, full beautifully formed lips, and as far as the features of an infant at such a tender age are capable of expression, hers are eminently so. She is very much beloved by those in immediate attendance upon her—holds out her arms to welcome her majesty, who, it is unnecessary to state, is fondly attached to her beautiful child.—[Court Gaz.

Her Majesty has appointed William Allen, Esq. president of the Royal Scottish Academy, her Majesty's limner for Scotland, vacant by the death of Sir David Wilkie.

Queen Adelaide completed her 49th year on Friday. Her Majesty is expected to visit the midland counties and Scotland in the course of next month. It is understood to be the intention of her Majesty to pass the winter in this country.

The Duke of Wellington arrived in town on Friday afternoon from Walmer Castle. The Duke has caused cards to be issued for a grand banquet, on the 23d instant, to his supporters in the House of Lords.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Robert Steuart, Esq., to be Her Majesty's Charge d'Affaires and Consul General to the republic of New Granada.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint William Pitt Adams, Esq., now Secretary to her Majesty's Legation at Bagota, to be Secretary to her Majesty's Legation to the Mexican Republic.

The Rev. George Augustus Selwyn, one of the assistant curates of New Windsor, has been named by Lord John Russell to the bishopric of New Zealand.

The Hindostan, 78 gun ship, thirteen years on the stocks, was launched at Plymouth on Monday week, in presence of an immense multitude.

The laying of the keel of a large war steamer of upwards of 1000 tons burden, to be named the Infernal, has been completed on the same slip whence the Devastation was launched at Woolwich, and a large quantity of timber is already prepared for constructing her at a short notice. This description of first class war steamers seem to be the greatest favourites at present, and when those now in progress are finished will add greatly to the strength of the British navy.

At this time there are building on the banks of the river Wear, Sunderland, 94 ships, and 35 more recently launched, lying in the river fitting out and for sale, making a total of 129, many of them of large tonnage.

Emigration is still going on to an immense extent from Greenock to South Australia. The majority of the emigrants are of the agricultural class, among whom are a pretty considerable number of decent looking young females. Two ships, the Alan Ker, with 259 passengers, and the Marquis of Bute, with 236 passengers, cleared out on Tuesday for Port Philip.

The Welsh coal fields extend over 1200 square miles, with 23 beds of workable coal, at an average thickness of 95 feet. Each acre will yield about 100,000 tons, being at the rate of 65,000,000 per mile. Allowing largely for waste, these would supply England with coal for 2000 years after all the English mines were exhausted.

A Veteran.—Died, on Wednesday last, at the advanced age of 89 years, Jonas Cawthray, of Horton, near Bradford. The deceased was a corporal in the 33d Regiment of Foot, under the command of Colonel Wallace. During the American war he was taken prisoner, and after three years confinement he contrived to make his escape, and again joined his regiment. He was discharged in 1803, and received, as a reward, for thirty-three years of servitude, a pension of 1s. 5½d. a day, amounting in the aggregate since his discharge to the sum of £1011 7s. 1d.—Hal. Guardian.

Law.—In one of the cases at Nisi Prius, only one counsel was engaged on the side of the plaintiff. Mr. Sergeant Ludlow, who was on the other side, objected on the part of the bar, as a point of privilege, that in every defended case there should be a junior counsel employed as well as a leader. This being coincided in by the bar generally, the cause was stopped for a moment till the attorney for the plaintiff handed a brief to a second counsel.—Hereford Journal.

At Shrewsburry Assizes, a gentleman of the name of Evans sued Mr. Pratt, a gentleman in the neighbourhood, for the recovery of a bet of £100. The parties had agreed to run two mares four miles across the country, play or pay, without going through a gate. It appears that the defendant's mare came in first, but she had gone through a gate, and the plaintiff, therefore claimed the bet. Verdict in his favour, with £100 damages.

In the Prerogative Court, London, last week, Dr. Bayford moved for probate of the will of Mr. Hough, the steward of the steam-ship President, which left New-York on the 11th of March last, and was seen on the 13th, during a heavy gale of wind, in a very distressed state, but has not since been heard of; by the will in question, which is dated the 17th of August, 1839, Mr. Hough has bequeathed all his property to his widow. Sir H. Jenner thought the application was too early, and ordered it to stand over until next month.

At the meeting of the commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, on Wednesday, it was, after much discussion, by an overwhelming majority, resolved to proceed judicially, in their several presbyteries against all those members of the moderate party who, in conformity with their protest delivered to the last Assembly, had not only sympathised with, but ministerially assisted in sacramental dispensations, their suspended brethren of Strathbogie.

Some shocks of earthquake have been felt in various parts of Scotland.

The accounts of the herring fishery from all the ports of the north whence boats are sent out are unusually favourable. All of them appear to have met with the greatest success.

A sailor, last week, who was in want of money, his stock being reduced to six pence, went to a pawn office in Berry street, pledged his six pence for three pence, and got it truly described in the duplicate ticket, a "piece of silver plate of beautiful workmanship." He then took his ticket to a public house, and sold it very readily to a pedlar for 2s. 6d., pocketing 2s. 3d. by his ingenuity.—Belfast Vindicator.

At the Clonmel Assizes, a wretch of the name of Lysaght, was admitted approver in a case of setting fire to a cottage while the inmates were asleep, and in the annals of all informers it would be difficult to find a parallel for this same wretch. In his cross-examination he admitted he had been guilty of 1 abduction, 5 murders, and 1 arson.

A correspondent states that a letter was received yesterday from an officer of the 25th Regiment, stationed at the Cape of Good Hope, dated 22d June, and mentioning that a vessel had just arrived at that colony, bringing the intelligence that Canton had been taken possession of. We presume that this statement is founded on the fact already known, that Canton was at the mercy of the British forces.—Observer of Sunday.

The navigability of the Euphrates is by every succeeding expedition discovered to be more and more practicable. The two iron steam boats which, about eighteen months ago, left Liverpool, have traversed the stream 1100 miles from its mouth, an achievement never before accomplished.

The government has just been informed by the Belgian Consul at Lima, that the ports and landing places in the south of Peru, comprehended between Cabayas and Iquique, and Costa de Tarapoca to the point of Carapacho included, the closing of which was announced on the 11th of July, have been re-opened by a new order of the President of the Republic. It seems that this result is owing principally to the protests against the closing of those ports made by the several foreign agents accredited to that government.

The Archbishop of Paris has forbidden his priests to permit comedians to be married.

The trial of Madam Laffarge is over—she has been found guilty—the diamonds are to be restored, and the Leotaud family, as partie civile, have been condemned to pay all costs, having their remedy against Madame Laffarge.

Advices from Candia, of the 16th July, represent the insurgents as still making head in the mountains.

The Prussian government intends, in case the rainy weather should continue, to restrict the exportation of corn and the distilling of brandy from potatoes, that there may be no want of those necessary articles.

On the 18th ult., the heavy rains had so loosened the earth somewhere amid the mountains of Switzerland, that a whole grove of trees became detached, and, slowly sliding down, completely planted itself on a field of oats, which it entirely covered. The perplexity of the owner of the oat field, on coming to view his crop next day, may be more easily conceived than described.

FROM THE WEST INDIES.

Files of the Barbadian to the 1st August have been received at New York.

The season for the crops had been favourable, and the planters' prospects were good.

The papers contain late advices from Demerara. The extensive firm of Troughton, Brothers & Co. had become insolvent, and great excitement among the planters had been produced. At a meeting of the creditors, the liabilities of the insolvents were stated to be £160,000, sterling, and the assets £82 000. They had sold bills on England to the amount of £120,000, all of which had been or would be returned protested.

THE RUINS OF UXMAL.—Honduras papers to the 24th ult. have been received at New York.—They contain no news of importance, if we except the following paragraph from the Gazette:—

"The Baron Friedrickstal leaves to-morrow morning in the Pensacola, via New York to Europe, having performed his arduous travel, and completed his interesting researches in Yucatan, where he visited the newly-discovered ruins of Uxmal, 18 leagues S. S. E. of Merida, and explored the extensive and beautiful remains of Chictun Itza, 11 leagues W. S. W. of Valadolid; from both of those places he has taken numerous drawings, plans and elevations. The latter, till visited by the Baron, was entirely unknown to European travellers, and of which therefore, he may claim the honor of discoverer."

Imprisonment of an American Consul.—By an arrival at this port, on Saturday, we learn that the Government of Cuba had imprisoned Mr. Cross, the American Consul. The "Arthur Patton" arrived yesterday, bringing later dates, and confirming the report previously brought of the Consul's arrest. It appears that some months since a female from Maine, died without a will, leaving considerable property. The Consul received authority to take it into his custody, but in the meantime some of it was plundered, and the plunderers were arrested. The Spanish authorities then took possession of the residue, and now refuse to surrender it. How the Consul should have got into "limbo" in consequence of this collision about property, is not yet clearly demonstrated.—Philadelphia North American.

Wholesale application of Lynch Law.—The New Orleans Picayune contains a detailed account, on the authority of a friend from Arkansas, of the capture, on the Mississippi, by one hundred volunteers, headed by a Capt. Bradford, of twenty-seven counterfeiters—twenty three of whom were drowned in the river. The stratagem used to decoy the forgers was by engaging a trading boat, in the store room of which about fifty of the volunteers were hid; thus prepared they commenced descending the river stopping at several places on their way, while some of the gang of the forgers would go on board with the intention of purchasing produce, and paying for it in counterfeit money, and were at once secured by their pursuers. Those of the gang who had not been taken were said to be making the best of their way down the river, hotly pursued by the volunteers, who were increasing in number as they proceeded. The names of the reputed forgers are given, but we know not what reliance can be placed in the story.

MIRAMICHI, Aug. 31.—THE WEATHER.—There has been no alteration in the weather, which continues very hot. Our readers at a distance will be able to form some idea of the drought when we inform them, that for the last six weeks, there have been only three showers, the largest of which did not continue more than an hour. We are glad, to learn, however, that this excessive drought has been confined to the settlements immediately on our river, and that copious showers have fallen in the interior and neighbouring counties.

Our town is still enveloped in smoke, which is now becoming painful to the eyes, and large fires still rage in the woods near us. We are concerned to say, that the losses sustained by this destructive element have been very great, particularly in Napan, the settlements in rear of Chatham, and on the Bartibogue, Tabisintac, and Black Rivers, where considerable fencing have been destroyed, together with large portions of the crop. We trust ere another Session of the Legislature passes over, that some effective Law will be passed forbidding the clearing of land during the summer months, under heavy penalties.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor being desirous of collecting correct information with respect to the Indians, has ordered Moses H. Perley, Esq. Commissioner for Indian Affairs, to visit the various Indian settlements throughout the Province, examine the Reserves, and report generally on all matters connected with the welfare of the aborigines.

Mr. Perley arrived at Newcastle on Friday last, on a mission to the Micmacs, and has proceeded up the North West, accompanied by Capt. O'Halloran and Lieut. Rolland, of the 69th Regiment, for the purpose of making the necessary enquiries in that quarter. These gentlemen expect to return to Newcastle on Thursday evening, and it is proposed to have Indian Canoe Races in front of that town, shortly after two o'clock on Friday next.

We rejoice to learn that it is His Excellency's intention to break up the Indian Reserves in this quarter, and throw them open to public improvement; but the precise mode of doing this we hear is not determined upon. Mr. P. intends visiting the Indians in the Restigouche.—Miramichi Glea.
