

arrived at Trieste, and flew themselves publicly. A British corvette lately debarked there, and proceeded hastily to Vienna. For some time very frequent communications have been made between Austria and England, by way of Trieste.

An Austrian train of artillery has arrived at Egra, in Bohemia.

We learn that an Austrian corps has shewn itself on the banks of the Inn, on the side of Passau. For this cause the Court of Munich has ordered its troops in Swabia and Franconia to join those in Bavaria, who are to concentrate on the Isar. The garrison of Ulm and Augsburg are already on their march.

NUREMBERG, MARCH 7.

All the Bavarian troops are marching to the Inn.

The famous intriguer Gentz, has arrived in Vienna; probably to draft the Austrian manifesto. M. Stein is also at Vienna.

BURGOS, (Spain) MARCH 5.

General Sebastiani pursues his success. Marshal Junot and St. Cyr are approaching Valencia, which it is expected will not make any defence.

Saragossa surrendered the 19th February to the Duke of Montebello (Lafuente). Such of the garrison as would not swear allegiance to Joseph I. were to be sent prisoners of war into France.

IMPERIAL DECREE, OF FEBRUARY 25.

Art. 1. American vessels which have been detained in the ports of the Empire, solely by the (French) Embargo, are permitted to return directly to the United States. This favour is not extended to such vessels as have been detained on account of irregular papers or from any other cause.

Art. 2. The vessels, the Embargo on which is thus raised, shall be placed in the disposition of Major-General Armstrong, Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States, to guarantee their direct return to that country.—The bonds given on their departure shall only be cancelled by certificates of our Consuls, &c. in America, that their cargoes were landed therein, and were composed only of the productions or industry of our empire and that no part of them was the produce of the soil, of the colonies, or of the commerce of England.

BRUSSELS, FEBRUARY 10.

The fleet at Flushing lies in the inner harbour, sufficiently protected by a numerous artillery. It consists of twelve sail of the line, and considerable number of cutters, brigs, goelieties, luggers, gun-boats, &c. It will get fresh reinforcements in the spring, as the six ships of 80 guns, will then be ready to join them from Antwerp, which they were building with great activity in 1808, so that the Flushing fleet will be a very formidable one.

Private letters from France continue to assure us that a great maritime coup de main is to be made by the French fleet in Flushing in the course of next spring, when, as these reports state, a junction, between the Russian and French marines, with the small armaments of Denmark, is to be effected for the purpose of executing a settled plan of operations of a naval and military campaign, the object of which, however secretly concealed, may, however, be guessed.

More than 5000 seamen from the Hans Towns, Denmark, the coasts of Pomerania and the Baltic, have been enlisted in the Flushing fleet of the French marine, to serve in this enterprize.

NAPOLEON having appointed MURAT King of Naples, the latter resigned the Duchy of Berg; which the Emperor has since given to his nephew the infant Napoleon Louis, son of the King of Holland—the Emperor to Govern it till the infant is of age.—NAPOLEON has given the Government of Tuscany to the Princes of Lucca and Piombino.

Extract of a letter from Havana, APRIL 10.

The ultimate intention of this government is unknown; but a duty of about eleven dollars a barrel on Flour will be imposed, and 50 per cent on all other American articles, which can or have been supplied from Vera Cruz or Campeachy.—They will grant a drawback, however, on all such articles, including Flour, which may be re-shipped, in any bottoms within sixty days—after sixty days, the drawback will still be allowed when re-shipped in Spanish vessels.

"We know not what to ask for flour; will not take less than 20 dollars. Produce has not risen much—white sugars 4 50 to 5 dollars; brown 2 50 to 3. Duty on wine and all dry goods, except cotton, 22 per cent (formerly 34 to 38).

"There are about 9 or 10,000 bbls. flour in the market.

IMPORTANT. HALIFAX, MAY 5.

Extract of a letter from Martinique, April 6.

"About ten days ago, three French ships of the line and three frigates, arrived and are now at the Saintes; and our fleet anchored near them. Yesterday Admiral Cochrane arrived at Fort Royal, and sails to-morrow with troops for the Saintes."—This can be no other than the Squadron which lately escaped from L'Orient; and our next accounts will probably be of its capture.

HIGHLY PLEASING.

The following is extracted from an Antigua paper, with which we were politely favored last evening:

Saint John's, Antigua, April 11.—"Admiral Cochrane, we understand, is determined upon an attempt to obtain possession, not only of the French men of war, which have taken shelter in the Saintes but of the Islands themselves. He has accordingly made application to General Beckwith, for the assistance of a body of troops; and when the last accounts left Martinique the General, with nearly 8000 men, was embarking on this enterprize. All the frigates and most of the small vessels on this station have already according to orders, repaired to the Admiral, and we shall, no doubt, very shortly learn the complete success of the undertaking."

The Saintes are a cluster of small Islands within a few miles of Guadaloupe. One of the French ships of the line is said to be the Gemappe. A Grenada paper of the 8th ult. says, "Admiral COCHRANE has sailed, and General MAITLAND was to sail yesterday, with about 2000 men, to attack them."

WILLIAM WHITLOCK.

Saint John, 15th May, 1809.

BY AUTHORITY.

The following Tribute to the Memory of Sir JOHN MOORE, K. B. late Commander of the Forces in Spain, has been paid by His Royal Highness the Commander in Chief in General Orders to the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS.

HORSE-GUARDS, FEBRUARY 1, 1809.

The benefits derived to an army from the example of a distinguished Commander do not terminate at his death; his virtues live in the recollection of his associates, and his fame remains the strongest incentive to great and glorious actions.

In this view, the Commander in Chief, amidst the deep and universal regret, which the death of Lieut. General Sir JOHN MOORE has occasioned, recalls to the Troops the military career of that illustrious Officer for their instruction and imitation.

Sir JOHN MOORE, from his youth, embraced the profession with the feelings and sentiments of a soldier, he felt, that a perfect knowledge, and an exact performance of the humble, but important duties of a subaltern officer, are the best foundations for subsequent military fame, and his ardent mind, while it looked forward to those brilliant achievements, for which it was formed applied itself with energy and exemplary assiduity, to the duties of that station.

In the school of Regimental duty he obtained that correct knowledge of his profession so essential to the proper direction of the gallant spirit of the soldier; and he was enabled to establish a characteristic order, and regularity of conduct, because the troops found in their leader a striking example of the discipline, which he enforced on others.

Having risen to command, he signalized his name in the West-Indies, in Holland and in Egypt. The unremitting attention with which he devoted himself to the duties of every branch of his profession, obtained him the confidence of Sir RALPH ABERCROMBY and he became the companion in arms of that illustrious officer, who fell at the head of his victorious troops in an action which maintained our national superiority over the arms of France.

Thus Sir JOHN MOORE at an early period obtained, with general approbation that conspicuous station in which he gloriously terminated his useful and honorable life.

In a Military character, obtained amidst the dangers of climate, the privations incident to service, and the sufferings of repeated wounds, it is difficult to select any one point as a preferable subject for praise, it exhibits, however one feature so particularly characteristic of the man, and so important to the best interest of the service, that the Commander in Chief is pleased to mark it with his peculiar approbation.

The life of Sir J. MOORE was spent among the troops.

During the season of repose, his time was devoted to the care and instruction of the officer and soldier, in war he courted service in every quarter of the globe. Regardless of personal considerations, he esteemed that to which, his country called him, the post of honor, and by his undaunted spirit and unconquerable perseverance, he pointed the way to victory.

His Country, the object of his latest solicitude, will rear a monument to his lamented memory, and the Commander in Chief feels he is paying the best tribute to his fame by thus holding him forth as an example to the Army.

(Signed) HARRY CALVERT.

Adj. Gen. to the Forces.
