

LONDON, NOVEMBER 18.

Mr. Maurice Margat, one of the Delegates from the London Corresponding Society to the British Convention, held in Edinburgh in the year 1794, arrived in Sheffield, on Tuesday last. He has suffered the sentence of the High Court of Justiciary, viz. fourteen years banishment to New South Wales, for sedition, and returned to this country only a few weeks ago.—About the same year, Messrs. Skirving, Gerald, Palmer, and Muir, received similar sentences; and Mr. Margat is the only survivor, the other four having long since died. He left Sheffield on Thursday evening, for London. Mr. Margat, his wife, and a favorite cat, which they took along with them, are now the only living objects of all those who sailed in the vessel from this country. The cat is blind, grown grey in the service of his master, and is permitted to repose itself on a bed of wool.

On the first day of this Term the gaoler of Enniskillen appeared in the Four Courts, Dublin, with fourteen insolvent debtors, whom he brought up from prison for the determination of their respective cases.—Such has been this worthy gaoler's humanity and meritorious conduct to all the unhappy prisoners whose misfortunes had thrown them into confinement, and such a feeling of grateful honesty it did excite in their bosoms, that the whole fourteen accompanied him to Dublin without any other guard than their own honor. They were seen attending him closely in the Hall, and not one among them would quit him for a moment in a crowded place, where escape could not have been prevented.

The annual average importation of sugar from all the Colonies, the produce of which is admitted to the home consumption of Great-Britain, was proved by the official returns laid before the Distillery Committee of the House of Commons, in 1807, to be 270,000 hhd. The same authority shews the regular consumption of these kingdoms to be 200,000 hhd. and the Distilleries now consume 50,000 more, leaving a disposable surplus of only 20,000 hhd. per annum. The quantity is so inadequate to supply the demand for exportation, that since the substitution of sugar for grain in the Distilleries, the glut then on hand has completely disappeared; for the returns of the West-India Dock Company prove that the quantity in their warehouses, on the 16th June last, including Foreign as well as British plantation sugar, was only 18,430 casks, equal but to five weeks consumption. This plain statement proves that the British planters are rendered completely independent of the decrees of Bonaparte.

The bankruptcies that have lately taken place are owing, not to the decay, but to the exuberance of our commerce. The rage for speculation induces men to adventure beyond all due proportion to their capital; and then, in case of any disappointment in their remittances, or any check to that system of paper accommodation on which they depend, they become incapable of fulfilling their engagements.

We understand, the sum of 600L. has been given to Jeffery, by Lord Lake, as a compensation for the hardships he suffered in being put on shore on the desolate Island of Sombrero.

Commissioners have been appointed to inquire into the various branches of the revenue in the West-Indies, and will very soon proceed thither for that purpose.

Spanish wool has fallen so much in price, that the same quality which a short time since was worth 18s. per lb. is now sold with great difficulty for 4s. 9d.

Mr. Walter Scott, it is reported, is to receive 2000L. for the copy-right of his Poem of 'The Lady of the Lake.'

Packets.—The packets from Plymouth are appointed to sail in the following order:—For America, on Sunday after the first Wednesday in every month; Barbadoes and Jamaica, the same; Surinam, Demerara, and Berbice, on Sunday week after the preceding; Madeira and Brazil, on the Friday after the first Thursday in every month; Gibraltar, Malta, and Sicily, on Friday the 23d November, and every third week after; Lisbon, every Saturday; Cadiz, on Friday the 9th November, and every second week after.

Yesterday Mr. Pierrepont left town for Yarmouth, for the purpose of doing the honors of the Country to the King of Sweden. His Majesty is not to come to town directly. He is to take up his residence for a time in the country; and every possible attention is to be paid to his illustrious character.

The Countess De Lisle, her Most Christian Majesty, died at Hartwell, on Tuesday of a dropsy, after having lingered several years in a very bad state of health.—She displayed, in her last moments, that firmness, piety, and resignation, which are the characteristics of the House of Bourbon. Her Majesty's death bed was attended by the Count De Lisle and all the Princes and Princesses of the Royal Blood, of whom she took the most affectionate leave.

NOVEMBER 24.

It is confidently stated, that an attempt was lately made on the life of Bonaparte, as he was passing the Bois de Boulogne, by a Priest, who was seized and carried to prison. Great precautions were taken to prevent any account of the circumstance from transpiring, and the circulation of the report has since been checked by the interference of the police.

By a letter from Varel, received yesterday, dated the 12th, it is said that 39 waggons loaded with English manufacture, have been publicly burnt.

A singular circumstance took place at a fashionable supper party at Brighton last week. A gentleman, during the entertainment, in shaking the water which adhered to a root of celery, he had taken from the salad-bowl, accidentally sprinkled the face of a beauty in the decline of life, whose cheeks were immoderately painted, which circumstance prohibiting the use of her handkerchief, aroused her resentment to such a degree, that a glass of wine was instantly dashed into the unfortunate offender's face, to the no trifling astonishment and discomposure of the party!

And whereas a suitable Form of Prayer has been composed by the Right Reverend BISHOP of Nova-Scotia, I do hereby authorise and appoint the same to be used on this solemn occasion, in all Churches, Chapels and Places of Public Worship throughout this Province.
