Berlin and Milan Decrees.

We yesterday received Paris papers to the 18th, containing the following most extraordinary document, which has just been also communicated to our Government. It is dated April 28, 1811, that is two months after the United States had enforced their Non-Importation Law against us exclusively!—There has been some deep juggling either at Paris or in America, or in both.—But as this long secreted decree only goes to repeal the “decrees of Berlin and Milan as far as regards American vessels,” we are not pledged in consequence to repeal our Orders in Council, as has been stated in some of the (late) opposition papers. We have stated to the world, that whenever there shall have been a full and unconditional repeal of the French Decrees promulgated by proper authority, that then our Orders in Council should be immediately revoked. This document is very far from containing such a repeal. What measures the new administration will take in consequence remains to be seen.—Courier.

The “Star” says, “Although there is an evident juggle in this affair we cannot see how our government can refuse to rescind the Orders in Council, to which they stand solemnly pledged. The French will continue to “burn, sink and destroy” American vessels, as they have since the 18th April, and the Americans must seek redress in the best way they can.

MAY 28.

This morning an Anholt mail arrived, by which we received advices from Gottenburg to the 19th inst. That nothing was to be wanting to complete the humiliation of the unfortunate King of Prussia, his Majesty has been obliged to appoint a French General Governor of Berlin. The whole Administration of the Prussian capital is vested in his hands, so that if Frederick William appears there, it can only be in the character of a private individual. It is probable that he will not be suffered long to enjoy even a nominal Sovereignty. The accounts received from Turkey, by way of Vienna and Presburg, state, that the Russians were making preparations for their departure from Belgrade. Two divisions are said to have quitted Moldavia, and passed the Dniester. The fortress of Pokow and Smolinsk were being provisioned in the greatest haste, and two thousand peasants were daily employed in repairing the fortifications, which had been neglected since the peace of Tilsit. Accounts from Orebro state, that the Crown Prince had been attacked with a fit of the ague. He was not, however, considered in any danger. A Proclamation has been issued by the King, prohibiting all distillation of spirits from grain in Sweden, under severe penalties. The Cressy, with a convoy of 80 sail, had arrived at Gottenburg.

A Dublin Paper gives the following particulars relative to Henry the Spy:—“Capt. Henry, the Agent of the late Sir J. Craig, is a native of Ireland, having been born in the county of Dublin. His father was a master-bricklayer, and an eminent builder, having been, in consequence of his high character in the trade, employed to build the present goal of Kilmainham. He also built the goal of Maryborough, where he became acquainted with the late Sir J. Parnell, who honoured him with his esteem, and under the patronage of whose family, a younger son, who at present resides in the Queen's County, set up his father's business. The eldest son John, who now attracts so much notice, was designed for his father's business, and was accordingly apprenticed to an eminent architect in this city. He was also placed under the care of Messrs. Baker and Waldron. He commenced business in partnership, but shortly after, becoming greatly embarrassed in his circumstances, and being unable to discharge his engagements, he was obliged to abandon his native country, and to seek an asylum in America. In America, after experiencing the vicissitudes of fortune, he entered into the military service, and rapidly obtained promotion, having, without any interest, arrived to the rank of Captain of Artillery. Henry is a tall, handsome man, of polished manners and insinuating address; he is at present about 40 years of age.”

POST-OFFICE, SAINT JOHN,
27th July, 1812.

The Mail for London, to be sent by His Majesty's Ship Indian, will be closed to-morrow evening at 6 o'Clock.

Wm. CAMPBELL, Postmaster.

On Thursday last, the following Address was presented to the Hon. Lieut. General HUNTER. We understand the General will embark in a few days for England.

To the Honorable MARTIN HUNTER, Esquire, Lieutenant General of His MAJESTY'S Forces, late President of His MAJESTY'S Council and Commander in Chief of the Province of New-Brunswick, &c. &c.

SIR,
WHEN upon a late occasion there was reason to apprehend your removal from the Administration of the Government of this Province, without a prospect of your return, the Addresses which were presented to you, expressed those sentiments which were felt by all His MAJESTY'S subjects within the limits of your command, and had not a repetition of them been repressed upon an intimation of your wishes to that effect, would on the present occasion have been reiterated with increased ardor, from the renowned experience we have had of your zeal for the honor of His MAJESTY'S service and for the safety and prosperity of the Province.

We shall not therefore trespass upon your delicacy by a public repetition of those sentiments respecting your Administration of the Government, which you will nevertheless permit us inwardly to cherish; but the Magistrates, Clergy and principal inhabitants of the City, which, since your return to your command, you have honored with your residence, cannot witness your final departure with your family from the Province without expressing in their individual capacities the esteem, respect and affection, which the urbanity of your manners, your condescending politeness and uniform benevolence could not fail to inspire; but above all, permit us to express the gratitude we feel for the distinguished manner in which you have emulated the conduct of our most gracious and beloved Sovereign, among other instances, in the example you have set of a uniform attention to the discharge of the duties of our holy religion, the surest foundation and the best security for the permanent welfare and happiness of any people. To such examples as we have witnessed in yourself and Mrs. HUNTER, we must at all times be eminently indebted for their tendency to preserve the best interests, and every thing we hold dear, in society.

Be pleased then, Sir, to accept our fervent wishes for a safe and pleasant voyage to yourself, Mrs. HUNTER, and your family and for your and their continued health and prosperity, and that success and happiness may attend you wherever the interests of your KING and COUNTRY may hereafter call for the exertions of that zeal in their service, for which you have hitherto been so eminently conspicuous.

Signed by the Members of His MAJESTY'S Council in this City and its vicinity, and by the Magistrates, Clergy and Principal Inhabitants.

Saint John, 23d July, 1812.

To which Lieutenant General HUNTER was pleased to make the following reply.
To the Magistrates, Clergy, and Principal Inhabitants of the City of Saint John.

GENTLEMEN,

I RECEIVE with peculiar and grateful satisfaction your very affectionate Address;—if any exertions of mine have been beneficial to the Province, it must be attributed to the aid and encouragement I have received from all classes of its Loyal Inhabitants.—The very flattering tribute of esteem and regard from so respectable a portion of them, which your kind partiality has dictated, and the benevolent wishes you have so feelingly expressed towards Mrs. HUNTER, my family, and myself, will never be effaced from our recollection. Nothing but the express orders which I am under an indispensable necessity of obeying, could reconcile me to the renouncing of a participation in your fortunes at this very interesting and eventful period, but you may be assured that in whatever situation I may hereafter be placed, it will ever contribute most essentially to my happiness to have it in my power to render any services to this Province, and particularly to the inhabitants of the City of Saint John, or in any manner to promote their welfare and prosperity.
