

SALEM, NOVEMBER 8.

Arrived—Privateer schooner Revenge (formerly the John & George) from a cruise of eight days. Extract from her Journal.—November 1, off Grand Manan captured schooner Robbin King, from Yarmouth, N. S. for St. Andrews, with a cargo of plaster and fish. A ship and brig were in sight at the time, but our boat having upset in boarding the schooner after she was captured we lost sight of the ship and brig in consequence of our detention in saving the men. Nov. 2, in sight of Grand Manan, saw a ship; after a chase of five hours came up with her; she fired a gun to windward, hoisted English colours, and hauled up her courses.—At 1, P. M. bore up and got under her wake astern, hoisted our colours and gave her a gun. She commenced firing her stern guns—we continued firing our large gun with round and grape—finding we did no essential damage we hauled along side to windward within musket shot—we still kept up a brisk fire with our large gun and muskets, during which time she gave us her whole broadside. At 4, P. M. our shot being nearly expended, and no prospect of the enemy striking, bore up under his stern within half pistol shot and kept up a constant fire.—Our boarders in the mean time preparing to board.—At $\frac{1}{2}$ past 4, got close along side under her lee; she gave us her lee broad side, cut away our lee fore rigging and damaged our sails very much; we gave three cheers, and Mr. Upton with eleven men, immediately boarded with pistols and swords—at the same time she struck her colours. During this engagement, which continued three hours and a quarter we had only one man slightly wounded in the leg.—The ship proved to be the Ned, of Glasgow Capt. Nicol, copper bottomed, from St. John, bound home, with a full cargo of timber. She mounted ten 9 pounders, was manned by 16 men, and is about 400 tons burthen. The mate and carpenter of the ship were slightly wounded, and her sails, rigging, &c. cut to pieces. The Revenge mounts one long twelve, and two three pounders, and had at the time 38 men including officers. The Ned is the same ship which engaged the Teazer on her last cruise, and beat her off.

CHARLESTON, October 27.

Arrived—Privateer schooner Saucy Jack, Jervey, from a cruise of 8 weeks, having made 5 captures.—Sept. 27, off Demerara, the fort bearing S. 3 miles, captured a pilot-boat, which was immediately fitted for a cruise in the harbor: same evening took a timber-loaded schooner. Saw a brig to Windward, at anchor in 5 fathoms water; made all sail for the pilot-boat and schooner and taking what men could be spared from them, stood for the brig; at 6 P. M. 28th, hailed her, and ordered the Capt. on board with his papers, who taking the Saucy Jack for one of his Majesty's schooners, readily obeyed. We then manned our cutter and the brig's boat, and boarded her with 16 men, she having then on board 24, exclusive of 4 on board the privateer—they made no resistance. She proved to be the British brig William-Rathbone, Capt. Damoult, of Liverpool, from London for Demerara, with a full cargo of dry goods, and mounting 14 18 pounders (four of them long) and 2 6's. Put on board 28 men and ordered her for Charleston. Next day took a schooner loaded with sugar, put all the prisoners on board the timber schooner and pilot-boat, which were given up to them and they went on shore. 30th saw an armed brig and two schooners coming out of port, supposed to have been fitted out for the purpose of taking us; the brig sailing faster than her consorts, lay too for them to come up, when we made sail and escaped.

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 27.

Extract of a Letter from Upper-Canada, dated Brown's Point, Niagara, 15th October, 1812.

I little expected when I last wrote to you that I should now be able to give you an account of an Engagement which though it terminated in our favor we shall ever have to lament. Our loss, though small in point of numbers, is of the most important kind. We have to deplore the loss of our beloved General and his gallant Aid-de-Camp Col. M'Donell. General Brock, to whom no language is capable of giving the merited praise, fell in the beginning of the action, having received a shot in his breast. The York volunteers to whom he was particularly partial have the honor of claiming his last words, immediately before he received his death wound he cried out, to some person near him, to push on the York volunteers, which were the last words, he uttered. Having said so much on a subject which cannot fail to call forth the regret of every individual in the Canadas, I think it is now time to give you some account of the engagement. At four o'clock, in the morning of the 13th inst. the Americans were seen attempting to cross the river at Queenstown, and immediately the fire commenced upon them from our batteries which did great execution. The Americans however pushed forward and succeeding in making a landing though their loss was immense. In several boats all were killed but two or three men. In the mean time while this party was so warmly opposed by the grenadiers of the 49th and some companies of militia, a large body of Americans landed immediately under the face of the Mountain without being discovered and 4 boats having pushed off from Lewis Town with troops, the 49th light company who were advantageously posted on the Mountain to oppose the Americans in case they attempted to take possession of it, were called down by the bugle to oppose the landing of those in the boats. When the Americans discovered the 49th going down the hill they immediately ascended the cliffs and took one of our batteries which, fortunately for us, they found could not be turned against the town.—They then took possession of the top of the Mountain, and a part of the 49th flankers and part of the Yorkers were ordered to go up the Mountain and attack the enemy in flank if possible. Capt. Cameron, J. Roomson, Stanton and myself immediately proceeded under a most galling fire, with part of our men to the top of the Mountain where we found Capt. Williams of the 49th with some of his men. We immediately formed (about seventy in number) to charge the enemy, exposed at the same time to a sharp fire from them, after forming and advancing a little distance we found that the enemy had posted themselves behind trees so that a charge would have very little effect upon them, we then separated and each man posting himself behind a tree we kept up a smart fire upon them for some time. Col. M'Donell, who had joined us on horse back when forming for the charge, while in the act of encouraging the men, was shot from his horse and not long after Capt. Williams received a wound in the head. I was at that time within about ten yards of them, and I supposed they were both killed. I was glad however to see them get up in a short time and discovered that they were wounded.

Col. M'Donell's horse was first wounded and in his pain he wheeled and his gallant rider was shot in the back. When he was wounded and could be of no further service he of course thought it prudent to retire to a place of safety. Capt. Cameron assisted him along for some distance and while helping him a ball grazed his arm and gave him so much pain he supposed himself wounded. Mr. M'Donell then let go Mr. Cameron and ran alone to where I was, he then called out to me help me, I immediately gave him my arm and after proceeding a few paces, while thousands of balls whistled around us, I received one in the thigh. Mr. Cameron who found that it was only a bruise which he had received, just then came up and assisted Col. M'Donell down the mountain. He lived till yesterday morning in the most excruciating pain. His remains are to be interred to-morrow in the same grave with Gen. Brock.—If ever honor belonged to mortals these valiant, these gallant heroes have it in abundance. They died fighting gloriously in an honorable cause, but still, to Canada their deaths are an irreparable loss. The Americans now got possession of the Mountain and remained quietly there for some time, but Gen. Sheaffe arriving from Niagara with a detachment of the 41st of about three hundred men, some militia, and about two hundred and fifty Indians, and being joined by all that we could collect of the troops who were previously engaged, in all not exceeding 800, they ascended the mountain, some distance to the right of the Americans, who were now in great numbers on the top.

The Indians being most active in climbing up, first came in contact with the enemy and drove him before them for some distance. The Americans, however, soon rallied out and drove the Indians in their turn. Our troops coming up at the same time, opened so good a fire upon the enemy, that they were obliged to retire. They were immediately pursued by the Indians, and our force, shouting and hallowing as loud as they could. The Americans now gave way on all sides, some attempted to swim across the river, who were drowned, or killed by our shot. A white flag was immediately hoisted by the Americans and they surrendered prisoners of war.
