

POETS' CORNER.

FROM THE BOSTON CENTINEL.

WHERE IS FRIENDSHIP?

ANSWER:

'TIS where two hearts together join, Which nought below can sever; 'Tis where concordant souls combine In virtuous endeavour: Or rather 'tis where but one heart To persons two pertaining, Congenial sympathies impart From clashing views refraining. 'Tis where the voice of chiding truth In honey'd tone is blended; 'Tis where the unprotected youth The Guardian hand's extended. 'Tis where two minds together glow, With mutual joys expanding; 'Tis where two breasts, one pang shall know, Each other's griefs commanding. HILARIO.

VALUABLE REMEDY.

Reading an account of a wen extracted, a friend of mine, (Mr. Wm. G. Forbes) mentioned a case wherein he had witnessed an entire cure for one of the largest wens, by the most simple means. His son was unfortunately afflicted for many years by one of those tumors, when a very respectable neighbor (Mr. Samuel Hillock) told the circumstance of a young school girl effecting a cure of one by rubbing it every day, as she passed to and from school, with the juice of milk or wild cotton weeds, which finally destroyed the wen.

This remedy was then resorted to by the young man, and in the course of the summer the tumor disappeared. The juice must be applied several times a day for a length of time, and it will give a happy result to all who may choose to adopt it for a remedy.

FAME.

It is a noble maxim, that contempt of Fame begets contempt of virtue; and to this may be added, that to be out of the reach of Fame, is to be in the way of vice.

TRIFLES.

The neglect of trifles, as they are called, is suffering a moth to eat holes in your purse, and let out all the profits of your business.
