

North and sail against ship building at Sackett's Harbour—Governor Tompkins to the contrary notwithstanding. What? No more money pass through his hands?

ALEXANDRIA, JAN. 28.

The agony begun.—It is at length ascertained beyond doubt, that the enemy have possessed of Cumberland Island, and St. Mary's. At the former place they will have found a vast quantity of Live Oak, which our government have been collecting off the Island for ten years past, and which is by this time in prime order for shipping to England. The town of St. Mary's, abandoned as Alexandria was, to the mercy of the enemy, has followed its example, and surrendered. The Georgians throughout the State, as well as in the vicinity of St. Mary's, are in the utmost alarm, and well they may be—for never did a blacker cloud impend over the destinies of a people, than that which rises in the South.—Gazette.

NEW-YORK, FEB. 1.

The enemy in Georgia.—Extract of a letter from Savannah, of the 18th ultimo, to a gentleman in this city.—“I wrote you last evening, since when we have learned, that the enemy are approaching, and that Darien is probably in their possession by this time, which is 65 miles from this place.—We shall probably be attacked by land and water in a few days. I hope we shall be prepared to give them a warm reception.”—ib.

Extract of a letter from Savannah, dated Jan. 18.—“I suppose ere you receive this you will have heard of the British having landed at St. Mary's, and of that place having been taken possession of by them. We this moment have had a dispatch from Darien, stating that the British have landed there also, but with what force we have not ascertained. We are making every effort to put our city in a state of defence, but I am afraid too late. If they have landed at Darien, which I have no doubt, we shall have a visit very soon from them; as it is only 60 miles from us. God grant we may be safe.”—ib.

BOSTON, FEB. 4.

We have intelligence of a week later from New-Orleans, but the fate of that city is not yet decided. Our former accounts left that place on the morning after the landing of the enemy from the creek that enters lake Borgne. The particulars of the battle on the evening of their landing, were not then known, and are not even now minutely. The best account received, says “Gen. Jackson commenced the attack at about 8 o'clock, and the engagement lasted about an hour. We lost in killed and wounded, and prisoners, about 200 men. The enemy's loss is supposed to be much greater; but I presume it is about the same. Several of our citizens are missing; whether killed or prisoners is not known.” Gen. Coffee's division distinguished themselves; they lost Col. Lauderdale and Maj. Gibson killed, and Cols. Dyer & Gibson wounded.

Dec. 24th, both armies began to entrench from the river to the swamp, at the distance of two miles from each other. The British landed their artillery, which it had been supposed they would not be able to do. Among them they are said to have 18 pdrs. Their numbers landed are stated at 5000. They are said to be commanded by Gen. Pakenham, but this is doubtful. General Keane is likewise said to be there, which is much more probable. They are accompanied by Admirals Cochrane and Malcomb.

On the 25th and 26th it appears that both parties were principally occupied in entrenching. On the 27th, the enemy opened upon the armed schooner Columbe, which lay in the river opposite their camp, obliged the crew to desert her with the loss of two killed and five wounded, after which she blew up.

Dec. 28, the enemy made an attack with 2000 men upon our line, but were repulsed with loss, stated in some letters at 140.—Among the killed, is said to be Sir Beverly Eranson, of the 85th, but the army list of October, gives no such officer in that regiment. The loss on our side is stated at 70 killed and wounded. Among the former was Col. Henderson of the Tennessee Rifle Corps.

This is the last fighting of which we have any particular account, although it is said that the cannonading was kept up, with little effect on either side, daily. In our camp several cannon, 32, 24, 12, and 6 pounders are mounted. Our troops may number in all (including less than 1000 regulars) from 6 to 8,000, besides 2,500 Kentucky militia under Gen. Adair, who passed Natchez, on their way down the Mississippi, Dec. 29. In addition to these the militia exempts kept guard in the city, where all business is suspended, the collection of debts is suspended for 4 months by the Legislature, and martial law prevails.

The above is a summary of the different accounts in the papers received, a part of which may be found in the preceding columns.

SAINT JOHN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1815.

By the late arrivals from Castine, we have received Boston papers to the 8th inst.—they contain a variety of statements relative to the New-Orleans Expedition, from which we have selected, what appears to us, the most important.

We have also received Halifax papers to the 6th inst. and from them have copied the PRINCE REGENT'S Speech, with other interesting articles.

Accounts from Canada mention, that the British are at present sending an immense quantity of ordnance from Montreal to Kingston—no doubt intended for their new ships in the Spring. A contract for 100,000 dollars had been entered into for the transportation.

Grand Canal—The Canadian Papers say, a Grand Canal of 80 miles is contemplated to be cut between Montreal and Kingston, to avoid the rapids and currents of the river.

ARRIVED:

Tuesday, sch. Snop-Dragon, Reed; sch. Johanna, Ray; and sloop Shelburne, Milby, from Castine

Also, sch. Camperdown, Stanton, from Bermuda, via Halifax.

MARRIED] At Fredericton, on the 8th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Mountain, Capt. GEORGE SHORE, 104th Regt. to MARGARET, eldest daughter of the Hon. JUDGE SAUNDERS.

At Kingston, on Saturday last, Capt. GEORGE RAYMOND, of this City, to FRANCES, eldest daughter of Mr. THOMAS FAYERWEATHER.

DIED] On Monday night, very suddenly, ANDREW CROOKSHANK, Esq, Alderman of King's Ward, &c. in the 50th year of his age, universally lamented by all who knew him.

HALIFAX, February 3.

Arrived, Sunday, H. M. S. Niobe, Capt. Deacon, 38 days from Portsmouth.

Passengers in the Niobe, on their way to Canada:—Commodore OWEN, appointed to succeed Sir JAMES YEO, in his command on the Lakes; Major-General Sir GEORGE MURRAY, K. B. Capt. PAYNE, R. N. and Mr. VIDEL, Secretary to Commodore Owen;—also, Lieut. Col. ADDISON, 100th regt. Major JONES, Lieuts. GRANT, TOURNAINE, and GRIFFITHS, Assistant-Surgeon BLOXHAM, and 150 non-commissioned officers and privates, Royal Artillery; a number of officers and 140 seamen for the ships on this station.

The Niobe brought London papers to the 20th of December, inclusive.

Though the intelligence thus received, is forty-seven days later than was brought by our last Packet; yet no event of importance appears to have taken place in Europe; nor has any thing transpired which can lead to a fair conclusion as to the result of the American negotiation.

Various reports appear to have been circulated relative to the proceedings of the Grand Congress at Vienna; but, the latest advices from thence sufficiently prove, that no general arrangement had been agreed upon; and the adjournment of Parliament to the 9th of February, does not seem to indicate that Government were in immediate expectation of that desirable event being effected.—In the mean time, France is said to be keeping a sharp look-out, with strong bodies of men, ready to support her claims, should they be disputed.

The Montreal Gazette of Jan. 7, says, The Americans made an attempt to storm fort Niagara; but were repulsed with great loss.

ALL MERCHANTS and SHIP OWNERS, now in Town—whether Subscribers to the News-Room, or not, are requested to call there this Evening at five o'clock, when the Memorial to be sent to England on the subject of convoys will be read, and to secure the object of forwarding it by the Mail this Evening; the Committee hope every person intending to sign it will punctually attend for that purpose, at the above Hour. Thursday Morning.
