MONTREAL, Oct. 4.

COMMERCE OF THE UPPER LAKES.

It is with lively satisfaction we notice, that an active and greatly extended commerce has succeeded the din of war on the Lakes of Upper Canada, from Prescott and Ogdensburgh to the fall of St. Mary. The ports of Kingston, York and Niagara have their Marine Lists, which from the number of arrivals and departures announced weekly, indicate much wealth and great activity; and on lake Erie, a corresponding industry is observed. On the American shores the progress has been still more rapid. Ogdensburgh, Sackett's harbor, Oswego, Sodus and Niagara, present the bustle and activity of considerable maritime ports. In the marine lists of some of those ports, we have seen as many as twenty arrivals in one week, of boats carrying from 150 to 250 barrels, and sloops and schooners from 55 to 150 tons burthen, all fully loaded. This is the more extraordinary, for only twenty years ago the adjoining country was almost without population, and is a noble illustration of what the hand of man is capable of accomplishing by steady perseverance. Including the countries on both sides of the lakes, we may with safety assert, that in 1785, a population of 15,000 could not be numbered, at present we may with equal safety affirm, that they contain at least 500,000. We include the countries whose rivers run into the lakes, from Prescott and Ogdensburgh to lake Huron. This is a fertile subject for consideration, particularly by the Legislature of Lower Canada and the British government.

What we have all bitterly to complain of, is the want of improvement of our internal communications, by means of navigation. Should the House of Assembly have public spirit enough to support such laudable projects by granting the rights to corporate bodies to effectuate the ends proposed, the Governor is obliged to declare that he has no authority to give the royal assent; this puts an end to all public spirit in this land of promise which the Americans justly call our "chief colony"; they well may say so, for by promoting its prosperity, it may be rendered one of the brightest jewels in the British diadem. If the Government would give our Governor authority to sanction the benign views of the other two branches of the provincial legislature, we should be able to manage our affairs with our own internal resources and would require nothing more than military protection; this we are entitled to by our allegiance; allegiance and protection are reciprocal.—With the freedom of action in our inland improvements we should gain all the advantages resulting from the upper countries just alluded to, which would soon render Montreal one of the greatest commercial depots in North America. If these be the dreams of fancy, or aberrations from plain reasoning, we shall be happy to see it proved; but till then we shall occasionally continue our observations, fully convinced of their correctness. These will forcibly lead us to some remarks on the disposal of the £55,000 voted last session for the purpose of internal communications.

Extraordinary Production.—We have seen twelve potatoes, the production of the farm of Mr. John Ferguson, on the river Saint Charles, weighing fifteen pounds. They are English whites, three years from the seed. The produce is thirty-six bushels from one.

German Settlers.—On Saturday, arrived in the ship Zephyr, 189 German settlers, men, women and children. They found immediate shelter in a house belonging to Mr. George Pozer, in an airy situation near the gaol. Mr. P. means to settle them on
