PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE. HOUSE OF LORDS, June 12.

TRAITOROUS PRACTICES. The Earl of LIVERPOOL, about o'Clock, laid on the table a green bag, containing farther information on the subject of traitorous practices. The papers' were referred to the secret committee.

REPORT OF THE SECRET COMMITTEE. The Earl of Liverpool presented the Report. " By the Lords' Committee appointed to take into consideration several papers, sealed up in a bag, &c. and to report to the house,

" The report begins by stating, that the Committee, after an examination of the papers referred to them, feel it their painful duty to declare, that they see but too many proofs of a traitorous conspiracy to overthrow the Government and the constitution, and to subvert the existing order of society. " The Report then praises the active exertions of the Government, and particularly of the Magistrates in the execution of the general laws, and of the special powers intrusted to them by the new Acts of Parliament : but the Committee assert, that though the plans of the conspirators have been thus frustrated, yet, in spite of all this, the same wicked and desperate designs are still pursued. The information on which this conclusion is founded is said to be collected from sources frequently unconnected and unknown to each other; but the result is said to be uniform, and is also corroborated by a striking coincidence in many minute particulars. " The Committee then observe, that their intelligence rests, in many of us parts, upon the testimony of persons who are either themselves implicated in these criminal transactions, or who have apparently engaged in them for the purpose of obtaining information, and imparting it to the Magistrates or the Secretary of State. " The Committee allow that such testimony must be very unquestionable; and state, that they have reason to apprehend, that the. language and conduct of some of the latter description of witnesses has had the effect of encouraging those designs which it was intended they should only be the means of detecting. But allowing for these circumstances, the Committee are still of opinion, that the statement which they proceed to give is by no means exaggerated, but perfectly warranted by the papers submitted to their inspection.

" This atrocious conspiracy was detected | ten out of every twenty persons should proceed to London with a petition to the Prince and defeated by the magistrates, who seized Regent. The interval was employed in re- and confined some of the ringleaders before peated and numerous meetings, when the the period fixed for its execution. This designs of the leaders were developed in timely prevention appears to have checked speeches of designs of the most undisguised very considerably the proceedings of the disviolence. One man avowed himself a re- affected, and the subsequent intelligence publican and a leveller, and would never from that quarter is of a more favourable give up the cause till a republican form of kind. " During part of the month of April those very districts which are the chief scenes government was established; others stated, that if their petition was rejected, they must there appears to have been a general inter- of discontent and of threatened disturbance, force it; that the large towns in Yorkshire mission at least of the more open proceed- cannot refrain from declaring it as the result were acting on the same plan, and would ings. Owing to the regulations of the new of all the information which they have colmeet them on the road, or at least march to Act, public meetings have been less frequent, lected, that the time is not yet arrived when London at the same time: that the Scotch and societies have been less frequently con- the maintenance of public tranquillity, and were on their march, and that they should vened, even in public houses. Clubs have the protection of the lives and property of be one hundred thousand strong when joined been dissolved, meetings suspended or hold so privately and so remotely as to have escaped depend upon the ordinary powers of the by the people of the manufacturing districts on the road; and that it would be impossible observation. "They have sewer communications in for the army, or any thing else, to resist them. writing; the names of leading persons have of LIVERPOOL, ordered to be printed. The speakers were sometimes checked by some been recommended to be concealed : few. of their associates, but were generally receivpersons only are entrusted with the progress ed with strong marks of applause and conof their plans, and these men are to give nocurrence. Arrangements for the march were tice to different delegates to have their parpointed out, and the people were told to protifans ready to act when and as required. Habeas Corpus Act to-morrow, and move vide themselves with blankets, shoes and knap-These delagates have met in small numbers, the first reading on that day; and that it be sacks and with money and food. Those and have kept up a general, though verwho remained behind were to assist with bal, correspondence among the disaffectsubscriptions. Every ten men were to choose a leader, and one was to be placed ed. " Towards the end of April, and during over every hundred. Strong intimations the month of May, this correspondence has were also given of the propriety and necesbeen more active. On the 5th of May a sity of providing themselves with arms, but meeting was held in a town in the Westthose do not appear to have been acted upon Riding of Yorkshire, which was attended except in a few instances. by delegates from other principal towns of " On the 10th of March the meeting that district, and from Leicester, Birmingtook place, consisting of from 10 to 12,000 ham, and Nottingham. At this meeting repersons; and although some of the leaders ports were made by the delegates of the had been previously arrested, and some were numbers which could be collected from the seized on the spot, the purpose was not abandifferent districts : they were stated to be doned, and large numbers of the deluded very large; but the committee states itself to people marched off towards London. be aware of the exaggeration probable in such-" It goes on to state, that a considerable a matter. About this time it was proposed body was stopped on their way to Stockport, that there should be another general meeting, while great numbers passed through Leek, for as early a day as possible after the disand one party went as far as Ashbourne; cussion of the question of reform in the but the activity of the magistrates in disper-House of Commons. The insurgents were sing the meeting and stopping these parties, first to march to Nottingham, where they prevented the execution of a design which were expected to be joined by other bodies; probably would have disturbed the peace, and on their way to London by still more, not only of the counties through which they all armed either before, or to be armed by passed, but might have led to consequences the robbery of private houses or of different highly dangerous to the public tranquility. barracks and depots, which were to be at-" It observes, that the planners of the tacked. plot, instead of being discouraged by this " At several subsequent meetings it was discomfiture, pursued their measures uninreported, that the increase of members were terruptedly. Fresh meetings, though in so great, that it was said at one of them, that smaller numbers, were soon afterwards held, it was necessary to extend their divisions consisting chiefly of delegates from Mandaily, and enlarge their committee. chester, Derbyshire, and the manufacturing " Similar information from many quardistricts of Yorkshire. At some of those ters whence the delegates were deputed, conmeetings reports were made of the quantity firms the expectation of a general rising of pikes, firelocks, and bullets, which could about the time that has been mentioned ; and be procured for the intended rising. Comstates, that a postponement took place to the munications were kept up with Nottingham, 9th or 10th of June, for various, reasons. Sheffield, and Birmingham, in order to ex-By the latest intelligence from these quarcite the people of those districts to similar atters it appears, that these designs were frustempts, and to ascertain the progress of their trated by the same causes that formerly expreparations. In these meetings, it is staisted, namely-the vigilance of Governted that the pretence of Parliamentary reform ment, the activity and intelligence of the was almost entirely discarded, and nothing magistrates and the assistance lent them in the less than revolution meditated : and to; such exercise of their functions by the regular a dreadful degree were the minds of many troops and yeomanry acting under their diof the people at these meetings corrupted rection, the efficient arrangements of the ofand influmed, that in public speeches me neficers intrusted with the service, the knowcessity of doing away with, or disposing of ledge obtained of the plans of the disaffected, (this was the term) the persons most obnoxitogether with the arrest and imprisonment of ous to them was unreservedly announced; the leading agitators; and that by these cauand it is stated to have been once proposed ses a still farther postponement of their atroto make Manchester a Moscow, in order to cious plans would be occasioned. Subsestrengthen the cause by throwing great numquent intelligence leaves no doubt that the bers out of work. plan, in its full extent, has been frustrated ; " A general insurrection was to have combut the correctness of former information menced at Manchester on the 30th ; magishas been confirmed by the late appearance trates were to have been seized, prisoners liof bodies of armed men at the period previberated, soldiers either to be surprised at their ously fixed, and particularly in one of the barracks, or to be drawn out of them by the districts which had been described as deterburning of factories, to be set on fire, and mined to rise, without waiting for a general while they were thus diverted from their co-operation. posts, the barracks were to be occupied by a " The Committee think it important to party stationed for that purpose, and the mastate, that many of the most active magisgazine to be seized. The firing of a rocket, trates and persons whose civil and military or rockets, was to be the signal for this ri situations enabled them, upon the most extensing. The numbers sufficient for the imsive information, to form the most accurate mediate purpose were estimated at 2 or opinion, concur in attributing the disap-3,000 men, but it was expected that the pointment of the attempts already made, and insurgents would amount to 5,000 in the of the hopes of continued tranquillity, to the morning. exercise of the new powers which, Parliament " In some parts of these proceedings there intrusted to the executive Government, and are traces of an intention to issue proclamato the influence produced by the knowledge tions, absolving the King's subjects from that these powers would be called into action their allegiance, and denouncing death as soon as necessity should justify their emagainst their opponents. The committee ployment. They concur likewise in a rehowever allow, that they have not found any presentation of the danger with which the evidence of the actual preparation of these expiry of these powers, at the present moment, would threaten the country : and the have been an Algerine.

Committee feel, that they should ill discharge the high trust reposed in them if they did not declare their unreserved assent to this opinion. They, therefore, with the fullest. confidence in the loyalty and good dispositions, not only of those classes of the community and those portions of the kingdom which have generally hitherto remained free from disaffection, but of the greatest part of His Majesty's subjects, can be allowed to law."

. the

sp we sel

Ri hai ler

- (SA)

by mi iw a j sor sev D per

hav

rea the

val

ton

on

by

15

is n

arm

Th

соп

was

who

în ł

trat

hav

the

.

una

VOC

Bri

Ma

ligh

info

will

new

curr

and

latio

weig

The report was, on the motion of the Earl The Earl of LIVERPOOL then stated, that in case the report should be printed in time, a noble friend of his would bring in the bill for continuing the suspension of the read a 2d time on Monday.

" It proceeds to state, that the papers re-

PETITIONS.

Lord Holland presented a petition from freeholders of Berkshire against the farther suspension of the Habeas Corpus Act. This petition, his lordship stated, was very respectably signed, and would have been much more numerously signed had it not been apprehended that the Ministers intended to hurry through both houses the bill for continuing the suspension, and that the petition might come too late.

DISTURBANCES IN NOTTINGHAM-SHIRE AND DERBYSHIRE. JUNE 13 .--- We have great satisfaction in being able to state, that the insurrection in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire has been checked Forty-eight of the insurgents have been made prisoners, 20 of whom have been sent to Nottingham, the remaining 28 to the goal of the county of Derby. A number of muskets, pistols, and pikes have been taken. from the prisoners.

ALCIERS. Letters from Gibraltar, received yesterday morning, of the 22d ult, mention the arrival of his Majesty's Ship Erin on the 10th, of May, in six days from Algiers, and on the 25th the American frigate United States, in eight days, besides the arrival of different merchantmen, and that there was no news. Letters dated Leghorn, 24th of May, Marseilles the 31st, and Geneva, the 31st of May, are totally silent on the subject of the massacre. At the latter port a vessel had arrived from Tunis, bringing no intelligence of any importance. THE ARMY .--- The effective strength of the British Army at home' and abroad, exclusive of artillery, on the 25th April, 1817, was as follows :--- late, almost without exception, to the manufacturing districts in the midland and northern counties; and although the disaffected still look to the metropolis with the hope of assistance and direction, yet to the districts thus referred to the more recent projects of insurrection were to have been confined.

"The Committee then state, that although in many of these districts distress has operated to expose the minds of the labouring classes to irritation and perversion, yet this distress in their opinion, has been rather the instrument than the cause of the disaffection. In some of the disaffected districts they believed that distress had been less feit than in many other parts of the kingdom; while in other places, where the distress has been most grievous, it has been sustained with such patience, loyalty, and good conduct, as cannot be too highly commended ; and the Committee think that it is chiefly by the means mentioned in the report of the former Committee, namely, by the extensive circulation of sedicious and blasphemous publications, and by the continual repitition of inflammatory discourses, that this spirit of disaffection has been excited and diffused. These have gradually weakened among the lower order the attachment to our Government and constitution, and the respect for law, morality, and religion; and their minds have thus been prepared for the adoption of measures no less injurious to their interests and happiness, than to those of every other class of His Majesty's subjects. " Since the former report, Manchester and its neighbourhood are stated to be the only places where meetings have been held in such numbers as to excite alarm. At a meeting there on the 3d of March, for the purpose of petitioning against the suspension of the Habeas Corpus Act, on which occasion several thousand persons were assembled, it was resolved, that another meeting was to te held on the a oth, with the intention that proclamations.

Officers Serjeants . Trumpeters or Drummers Farriers Rank and File 1-34,699

7,623

8,811

3,561

1 55,032

338

11,833,1

Lotal The total of the artillery, as given in a recent number of our paper, was

Making the grand total of the Army 166,865 In the above statement the Cape of Good Hope regiment, the Ceylonese regiments, and black pioneers, are not included, as they are paid by the colonies in which they are serving. These troops consist of 201 officers, 229 serjeants, 86 drummers, and 3,834 rank and file.

Saturday June 14.

Evening. Paris papers just received, state that disturbances still continue in various parts of France--- the ostensible cause is scarcity of provisions. On the 2d inst. the States General of Wurtemberg formally rejected the Constitution, as presented by the King, 97 10 42. . The British trade in the Mediterranean is now sadly annoyed by pirates. An English vessel is said to have been sunk, with all her crew, in an engagement in the Gulf of Manfredonia. The pirate is reported to

GRI B P la ed fr CO So June of th On t by no advar Ferna media very everla dom and g which essent man. venm the ho first p cause, noble free th and of you to rels in be trap first w

gions,

the op

The cl

your

deeds

general

your la

wreath

open be

themsel