BOSTON, FEB. 20.

The Patriot General Sir Gregor M'Gregor and family have arrived at Baltimore from Port-au-Prince.

Dispatches, said to be immensely important, have been received by the Minerva, from England, and forwarded yesterday to the seat of government.

March 2.

We have London Accounts to Dec. 28. Prince Talleyrand had gone to Vienna.

By referring to the price of Stocks, it will be seen, that the English funds had advanced one per cent. between the 10th and 24th of December.

Lord Castlereagh arrived at London on the 6th of December from Ireland.

The Duke of Wellington arrived in London Dec. 27, accompanied by Lord Arthur Hill.

Earl Stanhope died about the middle of December, at his seat in Kent.

Lord Cochrane has been fined £100 for escaping from the King's Bench prison—which he refused to pay—The fine was then collected by subscription of one penny only from each person and paid; 24,000 pence, were then converted into £85 bank notes £5 silver, and £10 copper.

Parliament will assemble on the 28th Jan. The Prince Regent had directed a donation of Five Thousand Pounds for the relief of the Poor of Spafelds and its vicinity.

A violent storm from the S. W. on the 14th of December, did great damage to the buildings and shipping in Plymouth, and in and about Exeter trees were rooted up and chimnies and hay-stacks were blown down.

Paris, Nov. 26.

M. de Talleyrand hands about a letter which he wrote to the King after he had received the letter from M. de la Chatre. In this letter he says, "that he had a right to expect that his Majesty would not in any circumstance relating to him, listen to the reports of the police; that he, Talleyrand, had committed no offence against his Majesty, beyond that of having made him acquainted with persons whom he had not thoroughly known himself till afterwards." (M. M. Pasquier and de Cazes.) He concludes by saying, "that he does not make an apology for his bad writing, because his Majesty is accustomed to it, and can read it easily."

Jan. 2.

According to letters from Marseilles, it appears that the Dey of Algiers labors diligently in refitting his fleet, and re-establishing the marine. He has lately bought, for about 50,000 piastres, a two-decked ship, which had come from Sweden, with all its cargo, consisting of wood and iron.

Dutch papers to the 7th of December arrived here this morning. The increase of discontent and disturbances on the French frontier provinces has induced government to adopt extraordinary measures of precaution. They are said to have been excited not more by distress than by inflammatory and seditious publications. All seditious persons are in consequence, strictly watched, and several have been sent out of the country. Among the latter is Gen. Vandamme, whose conduct in the defence of Hamburgh was marked with so much barbarity.

Gen. Savary has been condemned to death.

LONDON, DECEMBER 30.

The Duke of Wellington sailed yesterday in the Ant packet, on his return to Paris.

The sudden arrival and speedy departure of the Duke of Wellington appear to have excited universal speculation on the probabecause of such unexpected occurrences.

The French Government, we understand, has given orders for the purchase of 40,000 barrels of flour, in America, for the supply of the city of Paris.

JAN. 1.

It is complained of that a great many of our countrymen are withdrawing their capitals from the uses of their own country, to purchase into the American Funds, in consequence of the attractive interest of Six per Cent. which they yield; but the precariousness of the security ought to be well considered.

A new and dreadful instrument of war was tried on Wednesday last at Chatham, and the experiment completely succeeded. It is designed for the purpose of annoying an enemy entrenched before a fortified town. It consists of a box or barrel, filled with grenades, and charged with powder sufficient to burst the barrel, and scatter its other contents. The fuse of this machine being lighted, it was rolled down the slope of the parapet into the trenches, where it exploded, and threw the grenades in every direction. The invention is said to be Colonel Pasley's of the corps of sappers and miners.

January 3.

The Paris papers of Tuesday arrived this morning.

The King, in order to give the Duke of Reggio (Oudinot) a particular and personal mark of his satisfaction, has appointed him Inspector of the National Guards of the Department of the Seine, and Commander in Chief of the National Guards of Paris, Inspector General and Member of the Committee, of which Monsieur, the Col. General of the National Guards, is President.

His Majesty's commission was then read, and the Lord Chancellor prorogued the Parliament until Tuesday the 28th day of January instant, to be then holden for the dispatch of business.

January 4.

Two Hamburgh mails arrived this morning. We have extracted from the papers brought by them the following melancholy article, by which it will be seen how much greater the distress is upon the Continent:

VIENNA, Dec. 18.

"Alarming accounts are received from various parts of the Austrian monarchy respecting the daily increase of the dearth of provisions. In some parts of Tyrol, the Saltzburgh mountains, Upper Carinthia, and the greatest part of Illyria there is such a scarcity that the people have recourse to bread made of bran and powdered bark of trees. In the environs of Agram the country people farmed the woods in order that they may catch the rats in them, which are smoked and considered a delicacy. The accounts from Bohemia are also far from consolatory, and it is feared that the mountainous parts may be distressed by famine in Spring, which would have the most fatal consequences for the numerous manufactories in those parts.

January 6.

The Queen.—The indisposition of the Queen was a sudden and violent attack of inflammation in the bowels; it caused the close confinement of her Majesty on Wednesday morning and prevented her from meeting a great part of her family on that day at a private house at Frogmore, where every arrangement had been made for their reception. The Queen continuing very ill during the night, the Duke of York left Windsor early on Thursday morning for Brighton to communicate to the Prince Regent the state of their Royal Mother. On Friday her Majesty's disorder, we are happy to say, took a favourable turn. The account we have received, states, that the Queen had a good night on Saturday, and was better yesterday.

The Navy.—The Prince Regent has directed, by an Order in Council, that all the vessels in the Navy shall in future be distin-
