

many will derive benefit from the establishment; and we hope the enterprising proprietors will be amply remunerated. These works are considered a great curiosity, and have been honoured with the presence of many persons of distinction. The great length of the works, the manner in which they are covered to keep the rain from the salt water, the great distance the water is conveyed by means of logs, and the water taken into the works by mills, which operate by the wind, are worth viewing.

TO THE EDITORS OF NEWSPAPERS, ALL OVER THE GLOBE.

About four years ago, two destitute orphan boys, WILLIAM DONOVAN and JAMES DONOVAN, the former about 21, and the latter about 18 years of age, sons of William Donovan, then of Trinity-place, in the city of Dublin, Ireland, Goldsmith, and their father's residence, and went to the United States of N. America, and the latter to the East-Indies. They took no property whatever with them—and if alive, it is apprehended they may be enduring great hardships and privations in foreign lands. These boys together with their sisters Mary-Anne and Margaret Donovan; have been lately bequeathed a considerable personal property, amounting as at present ascertained, to about fourteen or fifteen hundred pounds each, by the will of their late uncle, Kingsmill Davan, Esq. This money is at present in the hands of these young ladies—and this public notice is now given in the expectation, that the Editors of Newspapers in the East-Indies, America, and other parts of the world, may, by transcribing the same, give notice to those poor destitute boys, of the competency that awaits them upon their return.—Any information respecting them will be thankfully received by their solicitor, Mr. Wm. Hope, No. 50, Dawson-Street, Dublin. N. B. These two boys were born in the city of Philadelphia.

"Trade is remarkably dull here since the departure of the British Troops—all deplore their loss.—Very little business is carried on here except Recruiting for the American Army.—During the last week, at least, Thirty men have been enlisted, and more still (to use a Yankee phrase) are coming in. Strange to tell, not two out of the Thirty are Americans, but all English and Irish.—Fourteen of them, to my knowledge, (and young good looking men) have been lately discharged from the 98th, or Prince of Wales' Tipperary's.—Promises are held out of great reward from a Spanish War, which, according to the late step of the United States, in giving up Pensacola, &c. is a mere trap to catch our old Soldiers!"

CIRCULAR.

Of the Ministers of the four Courts which had signed the Treaty of Paris of the 20th of November, 1815, expedited by order of their Sovereigns to the Ministers Plenipotentiary accredited to the different Foreign Courts, in the course of May 1818.

"SIR—The Allied Sovereigns who have signed with France the Treaty of the 20th of November, 1815, being resolved to meet in the approaching autumn, for the purpose, in conformity with the 5th Article of the said Treaty, to take into consideration in concert with his Most Christian Majesty, the internal state of France; and subsequently to determine, whether the military occupation of the frontier provinces of that kingdom might cease, or if it ought to be continued; my colleagues and myself have received the orders of our respective Cabinets, to apprise you immediately of the motives of this meeting. There exists no doubt but that the under-mentioned articles reserves to the Allied Sovereign the exclusive right of alone deciding the important question which is the subject of it. However, their Imperial and Royal Majesties, willing to avoid every unfounded interpretation that might tend to give to their meeting the character of a Congress, and to remove at the same time the intervention of other Princes and Cabinets in the discussions, the decisions of which is expressly reserved for themselves: have given their commands to the conference of Paris to make known, by the organ of the Ministers and Envoys accredited at other Courts and States, the resolution they have taken of declining every overture contrary thereto, which might be addressed to them with regard to it, and of not admitting any Plenipotentiary who might be sent to the place destined for their meeting.

"In exercising a right which is exclusively reserved to them by the Treaty of 1815, the Allied Sovereigns by no means desire to draw towards them the negotiations proceeding in Paris, London, and Frankfort, which ought to be determined in the places where the conference had been established, and under the intervention of all the affairs, have been invited to take a part in them.

"In consequence, Sir, I have the honour of informing you of this unanimous determination of the allied Sovereigns, that you should express yourself to the same effect every time the Government to which you are accredited should express a desire to send some person, or to take part, directly or indirectly, in the deliberations reserved exclusively for the decision of the allied Courts.

"In case circumstances should afford you an opportunity of entering into these explanations, you are requested to add to the motives of right and convenience which justify the measures now adopted, all the delicacy and respect proper for representing it in the same views and the same sentiments which have dictated it.

"Accept, Sir," &c.

MISS FARLEY respectfully informs the Ladies, that she purposes leaving town on Thursday, and solicits their patronage.
