BY DESIRE.

From the City Gazette, 11th March.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Fredericton, February 14.

The House being informed that owing to the present state of the roads. William Durant, Publisher of the City Gazette, was prevented from appearing on Thursday the 12th inst. in obedience to the order of this House of the 5th inst. and that he now attended, in obedience thereto.

He was called in—And the Printed Paper, intitled "The City Gazette" dated Wednesday, 28th January, 1818, being shown to him at the Bar, he confessed that he printed the same—and that the Publication contained therein under the Saint John head, was printed with his knowledge and consent: that he received the same from Stephen Humbert, Esq. and inserted it at the request of the said Stephen Humbert: and that at that time he was not aware of any offence to this House.

He then was directed to withdraw.

On motion, Resolved, that the said William Durant, Publisher of the City Gazette in inserting the said Publication therein, is guilty of a breach of the privilege of this House.

FEBRUARY 16.

It appearing on the examination of William Durant, publisher of the City Gazette, that a publication in that Paper of the 28th ultimo, containing offensive observations relating to the proceedings of this House, was handed to the Printer for Publication, by Stephen Humbert, Esquire, a Member of this House,

Resolved, that the said Stephen Humbert, Esquire, do attend in his place forthwith, to answer for said publication; and that the Sergeant at Arms do, as speedily as may be, furnish him with a copy of this resolve.

FEBRUARY 24.

The House, according to order, went into consideration of a Letter received from Stephen Humbert, Esquire, a Member of this House, addressed to the Speaker.

And the said Letter being read, was as follows:—

"Saint John, February, 18th, 1818.
"Honorable WILLIAM BOTSFORD, Esq.
"Speaker of the House of Assembly of New-Brunswick,
"SIR,

"The Resolve of the Honourable House of Assembly of 16th instant, respecting my attending in my place forthwith, to answer for a Publication which appeared in the City Gazette, was handed to me by Mr. Charles Hatheway, deputized by the Sergeant at Arms, late last evening.

"The indisposition of Mrs. Humbert, which has increased in an alarming degree, within these last ten days, will, I trust, suffice with the Honourable House, to dispense with my personal attendance for the present.

"Respecting the Publication alluded to in the Resolve of the Honourable House, I beg leave, with great submission to answer: That the Manuscript from which that publication was made, was handed and read to Mr. Chubb, by me, in the Printing-Office of the Courier and City Gazette,—That I did not at any time, nor in any manner request Mr. Durant to publish the piece: That shortly after leaving the Manuscript, Mr. Durant called on me, and requested me to call at the Office, which I did, and he read to me from a Proof-sheet (as I suppose) the publication, after making such alterations as he thought proper: That while reading, several other alterations were made, some from his own, and some from my suggestions: That Mr. Durant said, while making those alterations, words to this effect, "No offence must be given!" The Sergeant at Arms must be kept away."—To which I answered, "That, you know, is your own look out."

"As the publication had no signature, neither real nor fictitious, was adopted by the Editor of the City Gazette, and printed as such, under the Saint John Head, I presumed it would be considered as an Editorial article, which, being so considered, would render the Printer alone, accountable for its publication.

"I beg leave to state to the Honourable House, that on my part, I solemnly declare, that not the slightest offence to the Honourable House was intended; nor did the least word or expression pass between the Printer and myself with such intention as I yet discover any observations in the publication "relating to the proceedings of the Honourable House" as calculated to occasion offence. If however, the Honourable House do consider the publication as meriting their censure, I submit to their superior judgement, and am sorry to have been, in the least degree, the occasion.

"I trust the Honourable House will condescend to consider the foregoing answer for said publication as sufficient apology for my part in the transaction. If, however, it should be deemed unsatisfactory, I shall, with humble submission
