

The opposition papers in England having made a great hue and cry about certain plate which the Queen had demanded as her property, the London Courier has come out in defence of the conduct of ministers on this occasion. The Courier makes the Earl of Liverpool, to say, in answer to the Queen's request, that "it was not intended to refuse the Queen either a proper residence of furniture becoming her station, and that when a place of residence was fixed on, the question of plate and furniture would be considered at the same time." In the House of Commons Lord Castlereagh concluded his speech on the subject of the application for the plate in the following terms:

"I am sure," said the noble Lord, "the feelings and good sense of the country will bear me out, when I say that if her Majesty had conducted herself with that feeling which became her sex, and that dignity which belongs to her station, his Majesty's ministers would be most anxious to afford every consolation, which a Queen under such circumstances, can expect. But when her Majesty condescends to listen to the meanest advisers, when she suffers herself to become an instrument in the hands of the basest populace of the country, who have presumed to insult the palace of her sovereign and husband, as I had personally an opportunity of witnessing, I have not hesitated to declare, in defiance of every taunt that the honourable and learned gentleman may throw out in this house, that I should abandon the duty which I owe to the dignity and honour of the crown, were I to advise the sovereign to become the dupe of such artifices. If her Majesty's present residence in town is not suitable, I am persuaded that no difficulty will be thrown in the way of an arrangement by which her Majesty may find herself a suitable residence."

A letter from Liverpool, dated 20th July states, that New-York flour was selling at 25 shillings.

William Wilson, and William McIntire, have been convicted of the crime of High-Treason, at Glasgow, and sentenced to be hanged and beheaded. Several others are also under the same offence.

The House of Lords adjourned on the 26th of July, to meet again on the 15th of August. The House of Commons meet on the 21st.

BOSTON, AUGUST 30.

We have heard it mentioned, that the Astronomers employed in running the boundary line by the United States, have come to the conclusion that Rose's Point is more than half a mile within the British dominions, which will give them both the fort at the point, and the new works at the south of it. We have also heard it intimated, that a report of this fact had been made to our Government some time since; and that a Cabinet Council was called in consequence. It was further stated to us, that the business was referred to the Secretary of War, who has authorized Col. —, to treat with the British for the Works.—Commercial Advertiser.

Extract of a Letter to the Editor of the Charleston City Gazette, dated.

"HAVANA, Aug. 14 1820.

"Yesterday evening the Fiscal insulted the public greatly, by saying, before four months after this date, he would have the constitution abolished, and the citizens chained up, in consequence of a piece printed against him in one of the public papers. Had it not been for the interference of the police, the public would undoubtedly have killed him. The Captain General has ordered him to the Moro-Castle to be tried, as a traitor, and an enemy to the Constitution.

"The citizens are determined to maintain their constitutional rights even at their peril: they have now 6000 National Guards at their disposal, and likewise all regular, composing the garrison."

The French papers contain an account of Quiroga's triumphal entry into Madrid on the 24th ult. An immense multitude was assembled on the occasion, and the procession was preceded by bands of music, playing inspiring and patriot airs. The municipal bodies and deputations from the patriotic societies met him at the gate of the city. He was in an open carriage—the streets were strewed with flowers and tapestries—the national colours were hoisted on all the public crosses, and crowns of oak and laurel were thrown from the windows as Quiroga passed. The heroic citizen is said to have been quite overpowered with feelings of gratitude. He proceeded to the Hall, where the Municipal Bodies were assembled, and was received with tumults of applause, after which, the first Syndic, Don Cartejon, addressed him on the occasion. He then waited upon the King, and met with the most gracious reception from his Majesty. In the evening the Society of the friends of the people give him a splendid entertainment, and the whole city was spontaneously illuminated.

The Journal of the Eastern-Pyrenees, contains some account of the state of the Plague at Majorca. It is said to be the same Plague of the Levant.—News from Palma, mentions that the French Consul has brought from Tangiers, four persons who have been inoculated with pestilential virus, and who, thus shielded from danger, are to attend the sick and inter the dead. A celebrated Physician, of the name of Pascual, is said to have died of the Plague.

Letters from Barcelona, of the 3d inst. say that the plague continues its ravages; the number of those who fall a sacrifice to it daily increasing.—The strictest precautions are taken to prevent its being communicated to the South of France.

ST. JOHN, SEPT. 16.

A Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Gaol Delivery, commenced at the City-Hall, in this City, on Tuesday last, at which His Honor Judge CHIPMAN, presided. The Court has been more than ordinarily engaged in business since that time. We are sorry indeed to see the Sheriff's Calendar swelled to such an unprecedented degree, which we can only attribute to the late great influx of emigrants from different quarters of the globe, who have found their way amongst us. This morning His Honor pronounced the sentence of the Law on the following persons:

Jefferson Bonaparte Fisher, convicted of petit larceny, was sentenced to be publicly whipped, 39 lashes, on Monday next.

Thomas Perry, convicted of grand larceny, and sentenced to be publicly whipped three times—first on Monday next—secondly, on the first Monday in November—thirdly, on the last Monday preceding the expiration of his imprisonment in the House of Correction, which is six months.

William Peters, was also convicted of grand larceny, and was sentenced the same as the last mentioned prisoner.

Robert Bellamy and Edward Clancey, were also convicted of the same crime—Bellamy was sentenced to be whipped three times on the same days as above mentioned, with six months imprisonment; and Clancey to be whipped next Monday and imprisoned three months in the House of Correction.
