

and sheriff under penalty of 8 dollars for refusing to execute the law. The informer is to have the whole of the fine.

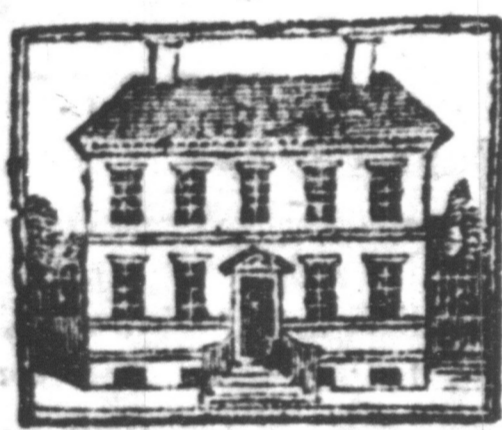

My wife, who had a Sabbath school for coloured children, which she taught gratis for 3 or 4 years past, has been compelled to give it up, although none were admitted but those who were free, and those who had written permits from their owners. She had more than a hundred scholars at a time; although the school was supported by some of the best men in town, and several of the magistrates, yet I was presented before the grand jury, and nothing saved me but the presentment being made before the law became in force. Before I consented for the school to be broke up, I consulted with the State's Attorney, who was much in favour of the school, and a pious man, who said it was so pointedly against the laws, that he himself, as the prosecutor, would be obliged to take notice of it.

"I am so disgusted with my native State, that if I could dispose of my property without too great sacrifice, old as I am, I would remove to a land of liberty!!"

A serious question occurs--whether our fifteen hundred thousand African slaves are less worthy of moral and religious instruction than the pagans of Hindoostan? The latter, though sunk in the depths of pagan darkness, are comparatively free and happy:--The former, deprived of personal, civil and religious liberty, are generally subjected to severe servitude, and often to hunger, cold and nakedness, ignorance, contempt and scourging, having no comfortable dwellings, and the females constantly exposed to the most brutal *****

"Behold the tears of the oppressed! On the side of their oppressors there is power--but they have no comforter!" no resource under heaven! Well may even a Jefferson "resemble for his country," under the terrible reflection that divine justice "cannot sleep forever."--Boston paper.

FREDERICTON, (N.B.)

13TH MARCH, 1821.

A peculiar case of distress.

The following distressing case is made known to the Inhabitants of Fredericton, in the hope that they may be led to commiserate and relieve the sufferings of a fellow creature:

GABRIEL DULBACK, a native of Sweden, resides on the Miramichi river, a distance of about sixty miles from Fredericton. Before May last, a gathering commenced in his leg, and from the want of proper care, a mortification took place. Thus suffering the greatest agony and pain, he was led to saw it off a little below the knee. In this state, he and his wife, with a child of six months old, left their place of residence, and travelled to Fredericton on a sled. A short time after his arrival, when he had gained sufficient strength, he had to undergo the severe operation of having his leg amputated above the knee, as the only likely means of saving his life; and he is doing well. As he is now rendered unable of supporting his large family, of a wife and nine children, and being but in poor circumstances and far from his home, his case is humbly laid before a benevolent public, in the hope of meeting with its compassion.

For the correctness of the above case, reference may be made to Dr. WOODFORD.

 Benefactions will be received by Sir ROBT. TRENCH.

Extract from the Massachusetts Agricultural Repository and Journal--No. 3, Vol. 6.

It gives us great pleasure to notice the several donations received by the Society within the past year. They are continually increasing, and demonstratively prove the great desire of improvement which prevails throughout our State. There is scarcely a citizen of intelligence of this State who is abroad, or placed in circumstances favourable to the acquisition of seeds or plants, which he thinks may be important, who remains forgetful of the interests of his native State. Many of the plants or seeds prove not to be adapted to our soil and climate--but this furnishes no reason for neglecting to send them. If one in a thousand shall prove useful, who can calculate its future value? If Sir Walter Raleigh, or whoever else was the introducer of the potatoe into Europe, had contented himself with saying, "This plant is very good in its native regions but cannot flourish in Europe," what would not the world have lost?

April 1st, 1820, Col. Dabney, of Fayal, presented to the Society some onion seed, of approved quality.

Israel Thorndike, Jr. Esq. some grass seeds, fionna and lupinella, from Italy.

May 13, 1820, Hon John Welles, a variety of garden seeds from France.

Mr. John Mackey presented a churn of a new construction

June 10, Edward A. Newton, Esq. presented some seeds and bulbs for the use of the Botanic Garden, imported by him from the Cape of Good Hope.

Paunkingua, a Chinese merchant of great distinction, presented two chests of tea.

Sept. 9, 1820, Captain Thomas Clements presented a barrel of lupinella seeds (the sain foin) and also melon, onion, and cauliflower seeds, all from Italy.

Jan 23d, 1821, Gen. John Coffin, of St. John, New-Brunswick, formerly of Massachusetts, presented to the Trustees a fine formed beautiful and powerful stud horse, of the light cast breed, imported by him from England--an animal admirably adapted to increase the bone and strength of our native breed of horses.

The Trustees expressed to General Coffin their grateful sense of his valuable donation, and of the motives which induced him to present the animal to the Agricultural Society of his native State. They engaged to take the greatest possible care of it, and to endeavour to carry into effect as far as possible the objects proposed by the donor.

They voted to him the Society's gold medal, and elected him an honorary member of the society for life.

Extract of a letter from Capt. Lamb, of the brig Nelson, (from Dublin) dated Diligence River, Parrsborough, 17th Feb. 1821.

"I am sorry to inform you that the brig Nelson, is frozen up in the River Diligence. After drifting up and down the Bay for several days among the ice, got on a bank in this river--received considerable damage, and see no prospect of getting to St. John before the spring opens."

Brig Bee, Spoke, lat. 26, 30, N. long. 51 W. brig, Hero, Robinson, of and from Portland, bound to Cayanne, 15 days out--all well.

The brig John's, from Trinidad bound here, is cast away on the Tusket Ball Rock,--crew and part of the materials saved.

The schooner Jefferson, Howard, of Deer Island, bound here, with flour, pork, &c. drifted out of Head Harbour in the severe gale of Tuesday last, having on board at the time only a black man and two of Captain Howard's children--part of the jib and foresail were hoisted and the vessel proceeded towards the Nova Scotia shore, where she now is cast away about 15 miles from Digby Gut, and will be totally lost. We are sorry to add to this account, that Capt. Howard, and his wife, with two men belonging to the schooner were on shore at the time of the vessel's driving to sea, and that they set out in order to overtake the vessel, and have not since been heard of: it is much feared they have perished.--Reports further add, that one of the children on board the schooner was drowned when she went ashore.
