LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

The ship Robert Edwards, Sherburne, has arrived at New-York, from London, bringing dates to the 22d Jan. it does not appear that she is the bearer of any news of importance. Russia and Turkey, had not measured swords as yet; nor does it appear that their differences had been adjusted. The New-York Advocate furnishes the following Summary of the contents of the papers, brought by this arrival.

GREEK WAR.

The Greeks continued every where successful, and it would seem, from the backwardness of the Turks to renew their attacks, that the Divan is apprehensive of the former being able to maintain their Independence.

An article in the Gazette de France, of Jan. 18, states, that a letter had been received from Odessa, bearing date Dec. 22d in which it was said, "since the arrival of the last news from Constantinople, which reached to December 13, that on the 3d Nov, the Divan demanded, through the medium of the Ambassador of Austria and England, a delay of thirty days to decide definitively as to the Russian ultimatum. This news had inspired people here with new hopes of peace."

The Nuremberg correspondent repeats the report that the Persians had gained an important victory over the Pacha of Bagdad.

The news from the Morea confirms the accounts previously received of the success of the Greeks and the retreat of the Turks into their fortresses which are vigorously besieged. Prince Demotrius Ypsilanti had been nominated Chief of the Greek States; twenty-five Senators have been elected to represent the principal towns. The seat of government will be at Tripolizza.

Smyrna, which has been the theatre of such scenes of blood, is now tranquil, and commerce has resumed its activity.

A body of Greeks, amounting to 1500 or 2000, are said to have embarked on board merchant vessels at Samos, with the intention of attacking Scio, and delivering it from the oppression of the Turks.

Letters have been received from Corfu, which state that all the towns of the Peloponnesus, except Corin, are in the hands of the Greeks; even Arta has yielded to their arms, which now triumph, not only in the Peloponnesus, but in Thessaly, and in all Epirus, as well as Cassandria.

Paris, Jan. 9.

It has been rumoured for several days past, that Viscount Chateaubriand will succeed M. Decazes, as Ambassador at the Court of England.—Quotidienne.

Odessa, Dec. 16.

We have received letters from Constantinople which come down to the 9th inst. After having received the memorial of Lord Strangford, which took place after several conferences with the Reis Effendi, the Turkish Ministers suddenly changed their tone and sentiments, which are of a more conciliatory nature than they had been at the commencement of November. It is thus that we must rectify the pretended Declaration of the Divan, to all the Foreign Ministers, which it was said here, had been distributed at Pera, and in which the Porte announced that it would not accept the ultimatum of Russia.

Lord Strangford now exercises much greater influence than heretofore, and negotiations have, for the second time, been deferred to a very limited interval. A pacific arrangement, however, is viewed by a large majority as a very difficult thing; the change in the tone of the Ministers is attributed to different motives, which are publicly circulated.—Universal Gazette.

Liverpool, Jan. 29.—The celebrated Sir Humphrey Davy, is at present on a visit to Sir Michael Shaw Stewart, at Ardgowan, near Greenock.

A superb cloak of the Highland costume is at present preparing in Edinburgh, for the King of Persia, by direct orders from that Monarch.

HALIFAX.

By the arrival of the Irene from Pernambuco, we learn that from 150 to 200,000 barrels of MEXICAN CHARBABLE FISH are required for the Brazils alone. The American, (U.S.) Fish, has got quite into disrepute, being of a worse quality the last year than heretofore. The Nova-Scotia Fish are preferred even to Newfoundland, particularly those from Cape Breton.

LONDON, JAN. 20.

The Paris Journals of Thursday reached town yesterday, by express. In the Chamber of Deputies on the preceding day, the discussions were vehement, and marked by the intemperate conduct towards the Ministry which is prevalent; but they are of little interest out of France. The Chevalier Mascagnas, in quality of Charge d'Affaires for Portugal, has been presented to His Majesty. From the east of Europe, it is stated that the Greeks of Cassandria, who lately were defeated there, have resumed offensive measures on the arrival of a reinforcement in the Gulf of Contessa, and have advanced to Panomi, a place about 15 leagues distant from Salonica. Measures seem to be taking for the evacuation of Wallachia and Moldavia by the Turkish troops but some letters assert that this is not with pacific intentions, but for the sake of taking up a stronger position on the Danube.

The sun of yesterday asserts, as from undoubted authority, that the British Government has abandoned all hope of preserving peace between Russia and Turkey.

We are happy to learn, that the Lords of the Treasury have it in contemplation to suspend all Exchequer or other process for the collection of any arrears of taxes due and unpaid by individuals, at 7 o'clock, previously to the 1st April 1821.—Continued.
