Interesting from Spain.—The ship Canton, Capt. M'Cauley, arrived at this port on Saturday afternoon from Cadiz. By this conveyance we have been favored with various files of Cadiz papers to the 10th ult. inclusive, from which we have translated such articles as were considered of the most importance. A reference to the subjoined summary and extracts, will show that the Constitutional Spaniards are confident of success and making exertion to resist the invaders. One fact is particularly deserving of attention, which is that small vessels continue to arrive and depart with as much safety as before the blockading squadron made its appearance. We noticed that in two days fifty five small vessels arrived at Cadiz, all loaded with provisions of various kinds; and as there were several months' provisions in the town, we do not think that there is any reasonable prospect of the Spaniards being starved into submission.

The Cortes met daily, and was principally employed in discussing such subjects as had any connexion with, or might tend to aid, the constitutional cause.

Mr. Wyer, a passenger in the Canton, and bearer of despatches for Government, has furnished us with some verbal intelligence. He states that the French forces in Spain amounts to 76,000 men.

The King of Spain had taken up his quarters with the Cortes, and was said to be very reserved.

The French blockading squadron was at anchor off Cadiz when the Canton came out. It consists of two ships of the line, three frigates, two sloops of war, one sloop and one gun boat. The Canton was boarded by them and after a short detention permitted to proceed. She was also fired at by the land forces.

An English brig, which attempted to enter the harbor after having been ordered off, was boarded, and her cargo of rye nearly all thrown overboard. A brig belonging to Wm. Gray, of Boston, had also been ordered off, and arrived at Malaga.

Prices Current at Cadiz, July 10.—Flour, 13 to 14 dls. per bbl.; Pork, 20 dls. Beef, 14 dls.; Rice, 8 to 8½ dls.

Admiral Hamlin, Commander of the blockading squadron opposite Cadiz, gave notice to the fishermen on the 8th, that according to instructions from his government, he was under the "painful necessity" of preventing them from continuing their business, in order to prevent the introduction of provisions into Cadiz.

Three fishing boats belonging to Rota, and captured by the French, had surprised three other fishing boats coming from the Levant, which were captured.

A Sardinian merchantman with a cargo of 500 quintals codfish from Gibraltar for Lisbon, was detained by one of the French blockading squadron about three leagues from Cadiz, and compelled to throw her cargo overboard, when she was permitted to proceed.

The papers state that Madrid was suffering for the want of every thing except houses and water—provisions of every kind were scarce and dear.

A number of private letters were received in Cadiz on the 5th ult. from Corunna, which stated that a French Division of 6000 men, had made a precipitate retreat across the Pyrenees.

In the sitting of the Cortes on the 3d of July, a proposition was laid on the table, for future discussion, authorising the importation into Spain of the products of Cuba in foreign vessels, by paying an additional duty of four per cent.

The accounts from Lisbon are to the 4th ult. which state that the King was desirous of re-appointing the same diplomatic agents to Foreign Courts, who held those situations on the 15th Sept. 1820. A Courier was to sail from Lisbon on the 5th, for Bahia, with instructions to suspend hostilities against the disaffected in that province.

The Royal George steam packer arrived at Cadiz on the 1st July, from London, Corunna and Lisbon.

The National Tribunal of Commerce, issued a decree on the 5th ult. exempting the above mentioned steam vessel from port charges, on condition that she should carry all government communications from Cadiz to Lisbon, Corunna and London, and that they should be taken as much care of as those of the British government.

CADIZ, July 1.

A column of 1500 infantry and some cavalry set out this morning from Santa Maria for Puerto Real.

JULY 2.—We have received Lisbon papers to the 25th of June, the contents of which are confined to felicitations breathing the vilest flattery and pompous details of the operations of Count Amarante, which must possess the greatest interest to the adherents to an absolute Government.

A letter from Santa Maria, dated yesterday, says that 20,000 men are destined for the siege of Cadiz.

July 4.—By an official despatch from his Excellency D. Juan Jabar, Minister Plenipotentiary at London, addressed to the Secretary of War, we learn that on the 11th of June, a fast sailing English merchant ship sailed from London, laden with provisions and arms for Santona, under charge of the Patriot Don Miguel Butron. He also states that in the following week the English corvette Fanny would sail for Vigo, with 6000 muskets, and as many cartridge boxes to be placed at the disposal of Gen. Morillo, to arm his recruits, which exceed 7000. He also offers to remit to Galicia, all the warlike implements necessary for the equipment of a respectable army in that province.

At two o'clock this morning a column of 2000 men started from San Fernando for Chiclana, in order to destroy some houses which might serve to shelter works of the enemy. Our troops offered battle, which the French declined. The houses were destroyed by our pioneers, who, having obtained their object, returned tranquilly to their quarters.

JULY 5.—An officer of the third army of operation, arrived here this evening with despatches for government, from Gen. Zayas. We cannot inform our readers of their contents, but can assure them that they are favourable; that this army is rapidly increasing, and that the presence of this valiant chief, who destroyed Bessieres and zwed Vallin, has inspired fresh vigor in the troops, which we expect in a very short time to see crowned with success.

JULY 10.—The French army was in Puente la Higuera, on the 20th of June.

Letters from Malaga of the 1st inst. state that the troops of the division of Gen. Zayas had set out for Grenada.

Ramirez, with 200 men, and the authorities of Huelva, is in Castillejos. The French made a levy yesterday of 1000 rations in Gibraltar.

The Courier from the Levant, has brought letters from Malaga of the 2d instant, and Grenada of the 9th. The former state,
