

a Million !), than any other corporate or united class of people in his Majesty's dominions. There cannot be a question that the introduction and establishment of Methodism has not only constituted a new and happy era in the history of Christianity in these inlands, but an era of genuine reform and unprecedented melioration of the state of society itself among the middling and lower ranks throughout this realm. So far then as the glory of God and happiness of men are promoted by the efforts of this denomination, we must wish them continued success. There is room enough for the labours of all good teachers of pure and undefiled religion in every part even of this Christian land, while 99 parts out of 100 of the world (if we measure by population) yet want the light of the Gospel. Upwards of 10,000 Members were added to the West-Indian Methodist Societies in the past year, and upwards of thirty additional preachers are appointed by this Conference to labour among them.—Bath Gazette.

At the above Annual Conference, the Rev. Jabez Bunting proposed a motion, "that all the Congregations in the kingdoms should be obliged to use the Church Liturgy, in their Chapels." This motion was rejected by a Majority of 70.—Manchester Guardian.

LONDON, AUGUST 27.

Letters have been received from Marceilles, stating that the whole of the Turkish fleet had been destroyed by the Greeks, with the exception of ten sail, and these escaped in a wretched condition. The same letters state that the Greeks have been successful beyond their hopes in Candia—that by stratagem they induced the Turks to make a sortie in great numbers from Retimo, where their retreat was cut off. In all 16,000 Turks are said to have lately met their fate in that Island. In Thessaly, Macedonia, and the Peloponnesus, success has also attended the exertions of the Greeks.

AUGUST 30.
DREADFUL VOLCANIC ERUPTION.
Batavia, March 22.—The Government has received a detailed account of the eruption of the volcano Galoengoen, in October last. In this terrible visitation, (one of the greatest that has befallen Java, within the memory of man) 400 perished, and 114 campings were destroyed; 298 rice plantations destroyed, and 586 injured. The number of coffee trees destroyed amounts to 775,793; that of those which have suffered more or less, to 3,871,742.

Port St. Mary, Aug. 23.—Nothing is talked of throughout the whole army, but the expedition which is preparing against the Isle of Leon. Twelve battalions, 5 of the guard, are at this moment assembled at Rota. Two ships are to convey them southward to the Isle, there to protect the landing of the troops, by silencing the enemy's batteries. If God protect this enterprise, and the two first battalions can form upon the Platform, the expedition will be certain, and the positions of the Isle of Leon once carried, Cadiz would not hold out 34 hours.

SEPTEMBER 4.

Our readers will not be surprised at the tardiness with which news is received direct from Spain, when they recollect that all the usual channels of correspondence are cut off, and the principal ports near the theatre of war, blockaded. No one now risks a political letter through France; although mercantile letters were received last week, for the purpose of being forwarded to Gibraltar.

SEPTEMBER 6.

Madrid, Aug. 25.—The troops of the second division of the first corps d'armee, took possession of Coruña on the morning of the 21st. General Bourch announces that he found in the place a numerous artillery, a great quantity of warlike stores, and provisions of all kinds. Gen. Novella, the Governor; Campillo, Commandant of Militia; Pastor, Chief of the Partisans, are amongst the most noted officers of the garrison.

The following letter appeared in an Evening Paper last night:

"Paris, Monday Evening."

"The reply of Ferdinand to the communication of the Duke d'Angouleme, has been looked for here with great anxiety.

It appears that this answer destroys all hope of arrangement. It was given on the 23d, the last day of the term granted by His Royal Highness, and, it is said, is conducted in very strong language. The King, who wrote it with his own hand, declares, if we are accurately informed,

"That he has never ceased to enjoy personal liberty, until the period of the entrance of the French troops into Spain."

"That the blood which has been shed in this unjust war, will recoil upon the head of Louis XVII, and all Frenchmen."

"That they are responsible before God for all the evils that may happen either to Ferdinand or his family."

"That the King relies, confidently, upon the intervention of England."

"This answer was to be communicated to all the Ambassadors."

"Sir Robert Wilson having by the medium of printed letters and proclamations, some of them addressed to the Portuguese, endeavoured to give the greatest publicity to his zeal in the defence of the cause of the Revolutionists of all countries, placing himself by such notorious facts in the class of the disturbers of the public tranquillity, I think fit to deprive him of the rank of Commander of the Order of the Tower and Sword, which I had conferred upon him. Joaquim Pedro Gomez de Oliveira, of my Council of State, Minister and Secretary of State of the Affairs of the Kingdom, will take care to execute this decree.

(With His Majesty's Signature.)

"Palace of Bemposta, the 11th of Aug. 1823."

SEPTEMBER 3.

PORTUGAL.—So the legitimate Government of Portugal, has, we find, made common cause with the Bourbons, and is forthwith (according to the French papers) to join in the blockade of Cadiz. Now, supposing that the Portuguese Ultras, should retain their power long enough to realize this virtuous project, how must the English Cabinet feel? it will be recollect, that it was the Ministers of England who prevented the Constitutional Government of Portugal from forming an alliance with the Spaniards. England throws away the game. France lays hold of the cards which her rival abandoned. Mr. Canning thwarts and disappoints the Spanish Cortes: he indirectly helps to overrun those of Portugal. The French Bourbons come and seize the reins of Government in both Kingdoms—thus effecting, with the concurrence of an English Cabinet, that entire overthrow of the influence and policy of Great-Britain, to maintain which against Bonaparte, he expended above 100,000 men, and 200 millions of money.—Times.

Gibraltar, Aug. 18.—Sir R. Wilson arrived here on the 16th inst. Lord Nugent has been some days here.

EXPRESS FROM PARIS.

(From the Pilote de Monday.)

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Telegraph despatch, transmitted from Bayonne.

Head-Quarters, Santa Marie, Aug. 31. The Major-General to the Minister of War:

At 3-4 past 2 o'clock, the Tracadero was carried with great vigor, in sight of the Duke d'Angouleme. The enemy had about 150 men killed and 250 wounded, and we made 900 prisoners and took more than 50 pieces of cannon in the batteries.—Moniteur.

Advices from Zante and Corfu, contained in letters from Trieste of the 21st ult., mention that the Turkish fleet in that neighbourhood was in a state of great insubordination, and that the plague prevailed on board many of the ships. That of the Greeks maintained a position favourable for an attack, but their naval commander had determined to delay it, until disease and the mutinous spirit of the sailors had weakened the Turkish fleet in a still greater degree.

THE NAVY.—According to a new regulation, the Masters of ships of war are in future to have the charge of the warrant officers' stores, with an increase of their pay for such additional responsibility.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—The Lighthouse on Libbey's Island, which was blown down some time since, has been rebuilt and will be relighted this evening.—Sept. 20, Eastport Sentinel.
