LONDON, April 13.

The Right Hon. George Canning, H. M. Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received His Majesty's commands to signify to the Ministers of Friendly and Neutral powers residing at this Court, that the necessary measures have been taken by command of His Majesty, for the blockade of the port of Algiers, and that from this time all measures authorized by the Law of Nations will be adopted and executed with respect to all vessels which may attempt to violate the said blockade.

Tenth Hussars.—A Petition has been signed by most of the resident Gentry in Dublin and presented to his Royal Highness the Duke of York, praying the removal of the Tenth Hussars from that City.

Letters from Missolonghi, bearing dated 11th, 18th, and 19th February, were received yesterday morning. They state the complete arrangement of the military laboratory furnished by the Greek Committee, which will be of the greatest importance to the success to the war. Two spies had just arrived from Lepanto; they stated that the Albanians had seized the citadel, and were determined to surrender it to the Sultans, who were marching thither.—Albania was disturbed by a civil war. Arta was left with only 500 men, and Previsa with 80; and the latter says, "all the prospects of the Greeks are brightening." At the instance of Lord Byron, 24 Turkish prisoners, women and children have had the offer of being released; nine of them refuse it and remained—the rest were sent to Previsa; four others were sent back to Usuff Pacha at Patras. A Turkish brig had been run on shore at Missolonghi, and been set on fire by the crew when they found that she could not escape capture; another was blown up at Lepanto on the same day. These, with the one lost at Ithica, had greatly weakened the Turkish naval force. A Polyglot newspaper had been established, called the Greek Telegraph, the prospectus of which was to be sent in a few days to England.

The town and fortress of Lepanto have been taken by the Greeks, in a very handsome style.

BLOCKADE OF ALGIERS.—An Official paper, dated Legation of the United States, April 14, and addressed to T. Aspinwall, Esq. Consul of the United States, London stating the receipt of an Official Note from Mr. Secretary Canning, of the blockade of the port of Algiers; and that it was the intention of Government to maintain the same in the strictest manner respecting any vessels that may attempt to violate it.

CAIRO, Feb. 15.

The Pasha has gone to Upper Egypt to inspect his new raised corps, accompanied by Mr. Salt, the British Consul, and Monsieur Drovenil. He has raised and disciplined about 25,000 men, and is about forming a regiment of Cavalry, with European officers.

So far from the Pasha having any idea of making himself independent he has just received instructions from the Porte to take the entire direction of the conduct of the war against the Greeks in the Morea. It is not known what these instructions are, but it is certain that the Pasha has great influence in the Divan at Constantinople.

Some speculations has been excited by the report that the Allied Powers have resolved to recognize the independence of Greece, and that they are merely undecided as to the choice of a Sovereign. In Paris, the gossips, who pretend to be well informed on the subject, say that the French Government in its anxiety to get rid of the Duke of Orleans, has proposed that Personage, whilst the Emperor of Austria has an eye to young Napoleon, and the Emperor of Russia proposes to place Bernadotte upon the throne of Greece, and to replace the Ex King of Sweden upon that of his ancestors.

We regret to learn that the Cork-coach by Cashel which left Dublin on Saturday, was stopped by an armed banditti, in the county of Tipperary, and robbed of the Mail. The guard was badly wounded, and two of the horses were shot. The robbery occurred nearly at the same place where a former robbery of the Cork-coach had been committed.

MAY 1.

FRENCH PAPERS.—The King, upon proposition of the Minister of the Marine, decided that the 120 gun ship Le Formidable recently launched at Toulon, shall be called Le Trocadero, in memory of the capture of that fort by the army under the command of the Duke of Angoulême.

(From the Journal du Commerce.)

The letters and papers from Madrid, arrived by the regular post, are up to the 15th inst. On the evening of the 14th, a conflagration had broken out at the same time in four quarters of the city; but the activity of the French troops prevented its making any great progress. Two children, however, perished.

It is said that the Empecinado and some other Constitutionals, who were prisoners at Roa, in old Castile, have been massacred.

DEATH OF THE MARQUIS OF LOTHIAN.—His Lordship departed this life on Tuesday at the villa of the Duches Buccleuch, Richmond. He is succeeded in his title by his eldest son, the Earl of Ancrum, now Marquis of Lothian.

We understand that Mr. Planta is appointed Secretary of the Treasury in the room of Mr. Lushington. We have not heard who is to succeed Mr. Planta in the Foreign office.

A new Romance, by the "Great Known Unknown" of the North, was announced to the London booksellers at a trade sale at the Albion Tavern, on Friday. The story is Scottish, and the incidents it includes are supposed to have happened about the year 1760, fifteen years after the rebellion. Four thousand copies of the work were bespoke, on this occasion.—One great house alone, in Paternoster-row, subscribed for 900. Two volumes of his Romance are actually printed off.

The Pope has made an additional grant of 24,000 dollars annually to the congregation de propaganda fide for the special purpose of encouraging the progress of the Catholic religion in the United States of America.—German Paper.

Letters of the 31st ult. have been received from Odessa. They confirm the previous accounts of the pacific aspect of affairs at Constantinople, as far as regarded the negotiation with Russia. It is said that the Turkish fleet, which had sailed for the Dardanelles with 2 Algerine vessels under its protection, was fallen in with by two English ships of war. The English demanded that the Algerine vessels should be delivered up to them, and upon a refusal of compliance, attacked and carried off the objects of dispute.

LONDON, MAY 11.

The Courier of the 11th contains a letter from a person who was engaged in the expedition against the Ashantees, the defeat of which has been some time since announced, dated Accra Jan. 31. The letter says that Sir Charles M.Carthy arrived at Cape Coast Castle about two months before to commence offensive operations. Sir Charles acted in co-operation with the Accra troops, who turned out in much less force than was expected. Sir Charles was at the head of a small party in pursuit of some Ashantees, when on the 21st of Jan he unexpectedly fell in with a large body of them who suddenly attacked him. The Ashantees suffered severely, but the other party was dreadfully cut up. Out of 11 British officers, one was dead, eight was missing and two returned wounded. Sir Charles was among the missing, and was known to have received two wounds. Major Chisholm, who was at the head of another party, not hearing of Sir Charles, had returned to Cape Coast, from whence Capt. Laing, at the head of 3 or 4000 men had been dispatched to look after the missing, but had not returned. It was expected by the writer that the Ashantees would attack the English Forts. He did not fear for themselves, but was afraid the natives, to whom they were unable to afford protection, would suffer greatly.—The London Morning Chronicle of the 13th says,

The Thetis frigate, Sir John Phillimore, is expected to arrive here on Tuesday to embark a rocket Brigade, for service on the western coast of Africa. The Thetis, it is understood, will proceed direct to Cape Coast.
