

Extract from a Private Letter, dated Calcutta, February 16.—"There is no news from the seat of war; the army is still stationed at Rangoon, and it is generally believed will not be able to march for the interior this monsoon; if so, they must either be withdrawn, or be sacrificed to the ravages of one of the most unhealthy places in the world, for at least seven months."

"The invading army on the north side has advanced a short distance, and the enemy's troops that appeared retreated as fast as they advanced, without either side firing a shot. This is a system of warfare they have been known for years past to adopt, by which they inveigle an army into their almost impenetrable country, entirely unknown to any European nation, and, when least expected, their enemies are attacked by thousands, that appear to rise from the earth. From their numbers, they are enabled to keep up a constant bush-fighting, by which they would harass and wear out the finest army in the world. Such are the prospects of this expensive war, with but little chance, if we ever succeed, of being in the slightest manner remunerated. The Burmese have no trade that could compensate us; and as for wealth they have not sufficient to clothe their nakedness."

"We are all enraged to find so little said in England about this war; it makes good the sayings of Lord Hastings,—that the people of England know nothing about the East-Indies, or its affairs."

Extract of a Letter from an Officer on board H. M. S. Nieman, dated

PICTOU, July 14 1825.

"His Excellency Sir HOWARD DOUGLAS, embarked on board of us, at this place, last Sunday week. On Monday we arrived at Charlotte Town, on Thursday morning His Excellency landed under salutes from the batteries and Nieman, and visited different parts of the Island. On Thursday, His Excellency re-embarked, and on the following morning, we sailed for Miramichi. On nearing the entrance of that River, we were boarded by a Pilot, who took charge of the ship. In half an hour afterwards, while running at the rate of seven, knots at least, and rounding as we thought, the reef of Point Escuminac, the ship struck with great force upon the reef—fortunately it was low water at the time, and the wind off shore, when, by getting our guns and shot out, and starting the water, in about two hours and a half the ship was floated off, without having sustained any other injury, except rubbing off, one or two sheets of copper."

The Chebucto was in company with the Nieman.—Hal. Journal.

From Bermuda, June 7.—The public works at Ireland Island are prosecuted with great exertion. The building and grounds intended for the residence of the Commissioner of the Dock Yard, will, it is supposed, cost Government upwards of £300,000 sterl. when finished. Between three and four hundred convicts are kept in daily employ. Swarms of idle negroes infest the Island; their masters having little for them to do, and are not allowed to sell or send them from it, though it is really shameful to see such large quantities of soil left destitute & uncultivated, while almost every article of provision is imported or smuggled from the United States.—Hal. Journal.

A serious insurrection of the Negroes took place lately, in the Island of Cuba. A letter dated Mantanza, the 18th ultimo, states that, on the night of the 15th of June; the Negroes on nearly all the estates in the vicinity rose simultaneously, dealing death to every white person they could find, and spreading fire and devastation in every direction. By 7 o'clock in the morning, a body of the inhabitants assembled, and the struggle on either side now became apparently desperate; but in little more than an hour, more than half of the Negroes were slain, and the rest dispersed, followed by the Whites, who gave them no quarter. Many of the ladies had fled for refuge to the town. Fourteen whites were killed, amongst them one white family. All was again quiet June 19.—ib.

DEAR SIR,—The accompanying Chart which I have the pleasure to transmit to you, (as President of the Chamber of Commerce) is the sketch of the situation of the dangerous Rock I had the good fortune to discover last year; and which I suppose is that known by the name of Durell's Ledge—the Rock itself is of small compass, with about ten feet water, and consequently generally breaks; but the Ledge on which it is situate, is of considerable extent, with deep water, which in heavy gales from the Eastward, breaks most terrifically—it is now correctly laid down with respect to the adjacent Lands, and I shall be most happy should it prove useful to any individual of this community.

Its bearings and distance from two or three headlands, hereunto subjoined, is sufficient to warn those who navigate this dangerous part of the Coast.

I have much pleasure in subscribing myself,

Your most obedient Servant,
CHARLES BULLOCK.

SUMMARY.

An Evening Paper says.—"We are informed that a very extensive coinage has taken place for export to the English Colonies, to supersede the dollars and other circulating medium in all the English possessions. The measure will facilitate the exchange of all articles, and greatly promote commerce."

Mr. Huskisson's Customs Consolidation Bill, now in progress through the House of Commons, will repeal no less than 465 Acts of Parliament!

The French papers state, that the Ministers of all the European Powers have assembled at Milan.

Major Denham and Lieut. Clapperton, the survivors of the expedition which left England in 1821, under the directions of Earl Bathurst, for the purpose of penetrating into the interior of Africa, by way of Tripoli and Fezzan, arrived in Paris on the 21st May, on their return to England. The results of their perilous attempt are said to be of the highest importance, both with regard to settling many interesting points in the geography of that hitherto imperfectly known continent, and the state of civilization in which they found the natives of several populous kingdoms, inhabiting walled towns and cities actually situated where the present maps of Africa represent immense deserts.

Four hundred Roman Catholics in the small town of Gallenkirchin, Austria, have lately embraced the Reformed Religion.

Within a short period there has been exported to the Continent, from the port of Dover, gold and silver exceeding £700,000. Upwards of £600,000 of this were in gold of British coinage.

£20,000 has been voted as a compensation to the Americans, for slaves carried off in the war.

The Crown of France, which will be placed on the head of Charles the Tenth at the approaching Coronation, is valued at eighteen millions and a half of francs, or seven hundred and forty thousand pounds sterling.

The Duke of Northumberland, it is said, will soon go to Brussels, to attend the festivities of the Netherlands, on the occasion of the marriage of Prince Frederick with the daughter of the King of Prussia.

The large timber ship Baron of Renfrew, was safely launched at Quebec on the 25th ult. at one o'clock in the afternoon. She had in the attempt on the Saturday previous stopped on her way, owing to the grease being consumed by the fire. She went majestically into the water, and afterwards drove up with the flowing tide near to the town. On the tide ebbing, the Hercules tow-boat, took her down the channel of the St. Lawrence, north of the Island of Orleans, where she was anchored at the north-west of the anchorage ground of the Columbus. The Baron of Renfrew looks much better in the water than the Columbus did, her breadth being ten feet greater. She exactly corresponds in shape with the Columbus, but is upon the whole superior in many respects to her. It is understood that she will not sail before the end of July.—Measurement of the Baron of Renfrew:—Length, 309 feet; breadth, 60 feet; depth, 38 feet internally, 57 ditto externally; anchor, 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ tons; tonnage, 5888 tons; from taffrail rail to keel, 50 feet; mainmast above deck, 75 feet, whole length 104 feet; main yard, 73 feet; bowsprit, 60 feet; draught of water, loaded, 24 feet; length of riller, 28 feet—14 inches diameter; hemp cable, 27 inch, 100 fathoms, and weight 126 cwt.; chain cable, 120 fathoms, links 14 inches long, 7 inches over, of 7 inches bar iron; cargo on board when launched, 4000 tons of timber; cargo from 8,500 to 9,000 tons; thirty times round the Capstern make a mile; nine times round the vessel make a mile: four times the surface of the deck equal to one acre; 3000 tons timber to build her; 12 tons oakum; 125 tons iron; is ten feet wider and five feet deeper than the Columbus.—Quebec, Gazette.

To be sold by public auction on the first day of February next, be tween the hours of 12 & 5 in the afternoon, at Baristers Inn in the Parish of Frederickton, and County of York.
