T. WETMORE, President.
4th August 1826.

HAT FACTORY.

THE subscriber returns his sincere thanks to his Friends and the Public, for the liberal encouragement he has received in his line of Business since his commencement, and takes the liberty to intimate that he still conducts the Manufactory at his old stand in King street, opposite Mr. D. Yerxa's stone building, where he Manufactures Hats, Bon-nets, &c. of every description. From the particular care the subscriber has taken to acquire the perfect knowledge of water proof Hats he ventures to offer (in any form) to suit purchasers that species of Hats in such a state of perfection as shall not sus-tain the least injury from being exposed to hot or cold water and hopes still by his assiduity in business to merit a share of Public Patronage.

the age of 14 or 16 years, at the above Factory

HALIFAX, 2d August.

SHELburne and LIVERPOOL.

(Communicated by one of the first Settlers.)

With respect to Shelburne it was settled in the month of May, 1783 (immediately after the peace with the Americans,) by persons mostly from New York friendly to the British Constitution. On their arrival they planned and laid out a large and elegant settlement. The monied, leading, and most zealous men amongst them, with much industry levelled the various hills and made it a plain, built many spacious and elegant houses, exhausted their cash and soon found they could not again realise it. Having neglected to fix plans for the continuance and support of that once promising settlement and becoming inattentive to the Morals and Industry of the people, the place soon dwindled.
There were a great many regular troops and disbanded soldiers amongst them, many of whom were removed; some returned to the States and other places, and some hundreds of Blacks settled at Birch Town. The Loyalists, as well as the Soldiers and Blacks received rations of provisions and farming utensils for about two years; but they must have been totally necessitated, or otherwise forgetful of their former zeal and loyalty for their gracious King and the best of Governments, for they returned in great numbers to the States. Had there been a few wealthy enterprising men amongst them to have branched out in the Fisheries and Trading line and cultivated their lands, the place now might have been next to Halifax; the harbour being large and fitting for first rate men-of-war with an extensive River, good lands well timbered, the town screened from the blighting sea winds, and the cultivated spots bringing forth good fruits, equal to many parts of B. N. America; at one time it was reported, there were 30,000 souls or 12,000 heads of families.

As respects the settlement of Liverpool in Queen's County, it was settled in the year 1760 by persons from Plymouth, Connecticut, and the States, then a wilderness.
The first male child born in it is now living in the place, and the first female is also living.
Their prospects of the country may then have been flattering, the harbour being safe and fitting for vessels of good size they repaired thither, but to the great and continual loss and disadvantage of that handsome settlement they are deprived of large vessels for the want of water over the Bar, there being but from 15 to 17 feet at high water. In other respects it is a fine settlement, peopled by industrious, active, and enterprising settlers, having a handsome River extending from the Town to Annapolis, which River formerly abounded with Salmon, Alewives, Herring and Mackarel nearly equal to any river in B. N. America; the settlers in the country have met the difficulties of War and Peace with fortitude and enterprize like true Britons, and by their industry and perseverance to the present keep up the credit of the settlement in spite of all discouragements. There are now near 30 sail of West India men and great numbers of fishermen are yearly fitted out by the merchants so that they keep up that trade, with vast quantities of lumber also, and they are now greatly improving in their lands in the interior of the country which adds to the improvement of the province. Their buildings in the town are neatly built, painted and kept, and may be considered the second to the Head Quarters of the Government in this portion of British North America.

LONDON, May 20.

Consols for Account look up, although there is little business doing, and the price for the Account is 80½.

The General Election may be regarded as just now at its highest point with respect to interest, though several of the contests have already termina-ted, some in the natural way, by exhaustion of the electors; others by extraordinary and unforseen causes. Among the former may be particularly noticed the Southwark Election, which ended on Wednesday, in the return of Mr. Calvert and Sir Robert Wilson; and the City of London Struggle, which will have been concluded before these lines can have been put in print, and of the result of which we shall, in the proper place, apprise our readers. The Yorkshire and Bristol Elections may be classed among those which have been unexpectedly cut short; in the former Mr.
Bethel, one of the Whig candidates, was compelled to retire without polling a man, though having, it is said, expended £15,000 in his canvass; in the other, Mr. Protheroe was driven to the same course while still exhibiting a majority on the poll.

At Cambridge the contest for the University has been unusually severe. Mr. Bankes, if he fail, as it is feared he will, will owe his defeat solely to the employment of an extremely discreditable intrigue against him by two Ministers of the Crown —Lord Palmerston and Mr.

Goulburn.

In Surry, the struggle promises to be extremely warm.

JUNE 13.

We understand that a commission is about to be appointed, under the sign manual, for the purpose of holding a Royal Visitation of the different Universities of Scotland, a measure which has been long wished for by the members of the different Colleges. With the exception of the University of Edinburgh, which has received large grants from the public purse, none of these seminaries, eminent as they are acknowledged to be, in all that relates to the character, learning, and talents of their Professors, possess either funds or accommodation adequate to the wants of an increased and improving population. It will, therefore, we understand, be no less the object of the proposed commission, to enquire into their situation in these respects, than to investigate the plan of study pursued at each respective College.

Leap Extraordinary.—Yesterday, Samuel Fletcher, a sailcloth weaver, at present in the employment of Messrs. Maberly & Co. leaped over the old Bridge of Don, into the River a height of about 50 feet. Within two seconds after his fall he rose to the water, and swam ashore amid the acclama-tions of all present.—Aberdeen Journal.
