

It has been hitherto found impracticable, in dying certain colours, to obtain at will a regular gradation of shades. M. Chevreul has been reading to the Academy of sciences, at Paris, a paper on the subject, in which he states, that he has triumphed over this difficulty by a happy application of the principles of chymistry. He presented the academy with a specimen of his blue dyes, exhibiting all the shades of that colour, from the slightest to the deepest tint. A comparative specimen of the results obtained by the old process, sufficiently proved the benefit which the useful arts will derive from this discovery. M. Chevreul is pursuing his experiments on other colours.

The Russian Government has ordered that navigable canals shall be commenced, to unite, first, the Moskwa and the Volga; second the Scheksma and the northern Dwina, by which there will be a direct communication between the port of Archangle and that of St. Petersburg, and a road will be opened to the Baltic for native merchandise; third, the Niemen and Vistula across the kingdom of Poland.

From the French papers.

The frigate Hebe had arrived at Havre, with five millions of francs, the first instalment from the Haytien government, accompanied by an agent to see the funds duly delivered.

The Diario de Rome of the 26th July, on the authority of a letter from Libourde of the 11th same month, states that the squadron of Lord Cochrane was before that port.

A French provincial paper states that France is about to send 40,000 men into Spain, to overturn the Portuguese charter. This is contradicted by the Drapeau Blanc, which states that only 14,000 Spaniards are to march to the frontiers of Portugal.

General Roche, who had been sent to Greece by the Greek Committee of Paris, has returned to France. The Comte d'Harcourt has been sent in his place with instructions.

The Emperor Nicholas set out for Moscow from Petersburg on the 28th July.

The organization of Greek Committees are rapidly spreading.

French Fund, Aug. 10.—Five per cent, 100f 70c; 8 per cent 66f 40c. Bank actions, 2015f.

American Stocks in London, Aug. 10. Bank shares £23 6s. 6d.; 6 per cents 18 1/2, 88; 8 1/4 88 1/2; 90 91.

Paris Aug. 9.—We have news from Greece to the 29th July—it is of a very unsatisfactory nature, for that country. The Greeks are less united than ever. The new government has less energy than the old. It has just removed to a small island, Bougy, opposite Napoli which is still occupied by the Sulios and Romelios, who are not willing to deliver up the fort until they receive their arrearsages.

Several villages of Attica have surrendered to the Turks.

Ibrahim is directing his attention to the Mainotes, who having never left their mountains to relieve the other Greeks have never received any succor from them.

The latest intelligence from Constantinople is to the 10th July, at which time every thing was quiet in that capital, and the enthusiasm in favor of the new order of things generally prevalent, particularly among the Ulemas.

NEW-YORK, SEPTEMBER 23.

Portugal.—The brig Sea Gull, Captain Blydenburgh, in 35 days from Oporto, arrived Thursday evening. The following is from a paper of the 9th of August:—

PROCLAMATION.

Portuguese!—By the constitutional charter which you have just now sworn to,

I have been called to the regency of these kingdoms, during the minority of my august niece, and our legitimate queen, Maria da Gloria. As the first vassal of the empire, it is my immediate duty to put into a prompt and vigorous execution, the wise Constitutional Chart which my august brother, Don Pedro the 4th, whose glorious name resounds with admiration and deference throughout America, Europe, and the whole world—has from his elevated throne bestowed upon his Portuguese subjects. This immediate code I shall fulfil, and cause it to be fulfilled. It is the bulwark of our political safety. Unhappy he, who dares to oppose it; the law will punish him, and I shall be as inexorable as the law itself.

Portuguese!—What I am at, is to revive our former prosperity and glory; to encourage the arts; to improve sciences; to promote commerce, agriculture, and industry; in a word, to employ every means within my power to make happy a nation worthy of being so: Such is my subordinate duty—such my ambition:—I grudge no other. Portuguese! if I sacrifice, as I have hitherto done, my health for the welfare of the country, be sure that I will hereafter sacrifice my own life, if it be necessary, to the good of the country. And who will be the Portuguese, worthy of the name, that would not join us in such noble sentiments?

Portuguese! let us imitate our superiors, and we shall be as they have been, the admiration of Europe, and of the whole world. Union, and obedience to the laws, will render us happy: and when I surrender the government of this kingdom to our legitimate sovereign, Dona Maria da Gloria, I will be enabled to tell her with truth, and with the effusions of the heartiest joy—Madam! you are about to take the reins to govern a nation, great, faithful, and true to its legitimate sovereigns: that nation has been unfortunate, because the genius of evil had found among the Portuguese a fatal and long asylum—but the wise political institutions which your father, our late august king, has kindly given us, has consolidated the hopes of our happiness and glory. I have reared this edifice of our felicity, as much as I could, by the assistance of the nation at large; but the consummation of it is reserved for your Majesty! You will find great and worthy models in the catalogues of Portuguese Monarchs. Read and ponder well on the history of Portugal; a wise and useful lesson it will be to your Majesty; it will instruct you in the difficult art of reigning. If you but adhere to these lessons, Madame, you will be hailed as the friend of the Portuguese, and the Portuguese will ever repeat with respect, love and gratitude, the name, the adored name of your late august father, and yours.

Portuguese!—Union and obedience to the laws; let us imitate the virtue of our superiors, then we shall be as they have been, subjects of admiration and respect of the whole universe.

INFANT REGENT.
