

Fredericton, 2d June, 1826.

HIS Excellency the Lieutenant Governor and His Majesty's Council having nominated the undersigned Committee for removing the nuisances so extensively existing in Fredericton; and also for endeavouring to ornament and render it more commodious with a view to the Public comfort and gratification, and having appointed you to carry into effect such instructions on these heads as you may from time to time receive from us, we have to desire that you will forthwith carefully explain to the Inhabitants the motives and intentions of His Excellency and the Council.

You will state to them that it is the request of the Committee that they lose no time in individually removing the obstructions, and heaps of dirt, wood &c. from before their doors, remaining there to the inconvenience of the Inhabitants and great disfigurement of what might otherwise be a very beautiful Town, and that they will altogether refrain from throwing ashes &c. into the road as heretofore.

It is purposed among other points in contemplation, to make a Public Walk along the bank of the River and in front of the Province Hall, planting it with Trees, so as to afford a place of general resort.

In order to attain to these desirable ends, no more wood will be suffered to be piled up as has been the case on the margin of the River, and you are hereby instructed to have a constant supervision over the Town so as to prevent the renewal of past negligence, and the want of neatness which has characterised the seat of Government.

These improvements and amendments, will commence around the Public Offices, and the gentlemen of the Committee hope that the measure will meet with that degree of cordial support in a common object which shall render unnecessary the exercise of the powers which are vested in them. As soon as a regular plan shall have been digested, it will be promulgated.
